The Editor's column

by STUART R. PADDOCK

Residents of new subdivisions will have the opportunity to get their names upon the voting lists March 13, which will be general precinct registration day.

The predicted voting strength of some of those areas may upset more than one apple cart being pushed by legislative candidates.

Hanover township cast only 450 votes at the last primary. We are told that the new subdivisions have increased the possible vote to 2500. Some Rolling Meadows residents think that city has the balance of power in senatorial district No. 3.

We suggest that it will be foolhardy for any of the 6 senatorial candidates or the 12 candidates for the legislature whose names will appear in the Republican column, to order a new auto on the strength of their salaries as a legislator.

Campaign rumors are so startling that we hesitate to repeat them in this column. We do know that party endorsement never meant less than it will at the April primary.

An old time politician told us Tuesday that the winning senator in district 3 would have to get 1500 votes.

Cook county zoning board holds 3 rezoning hearings Friday. The first is at Des Plaines city hall at 5 p.m. covering an acre of land at Devon ave. and River rd.

Hearing No. 2 and the most important of that evening's sessions is at 7 p.m. at Mt. Prospect village hall. The applicant asks for a 74-acre heavy industry district on both sides of Higgins rd., west of Mt. Prospect rd.

We do not know how many objections will be entered, but if the project becomes a reality, School District 59 will be collecting taxes from that area in place of providing additional school rooms to serve residents of a possible subdivision.

The third hearing is at Arlington Heights village hall at 8 p.m. to consider business zoning at Hintz and Elmhurst rd. and at Elmhurst and Vera lane.

A group of newspaper men recently omitted the United States from the list of countries enjoying press freedom.

We note that Circuit Judge Russell A. Keeney of DuPage county recently issued an injunction which places a curb on the free discussion of the toll road project.

We agree with a Chicago editorial writer who said Sunday, "It is a sad state of affairs when citizens are forbidden from joining together and publishing their grievances against a branch of their own government."

If such injunctions are not questioned in the courts, we can see some disgruntled reader of Paddock Publications getting an injunction against the Fence Post, God forbid.

President Eisenhower recently voiced his opinion of the articles being written by retired generals and admirals. It is our guess that a lot of municipal officials feel the same way about some of the criticism that is thrown their way by the man on the street who thinks he knows how the village board should operate.

Illinois Supreme Court has killed that part of HB 257 which would have removed justices of the peace from the town board. Such an elimination would only be the entering wedge to eliminate that office altogether.

The next "victims" slated to get the ax are the assessors, township collectors and township road commissioners.

All except three counties in the state lost their collectors several years ago. If the efforts of the "do gooders" succeed, home township rule will be a thing of the past.

It was a pleasure Tuesday noon to listen to the heads of 3 elementary schools of this area discuss their problems in general, with particular emphasis upon the need for parental guidance if the juvenile delinquency problem is to be licked.

We kept silent, but here is our suggeston: Require every parent to take a course in parental guidance before her child will be accepted in the kindergarten or primary grade.

A mother tells us that such a suggestion is not realistic. The parents should start their studies before the baby arrives. A father says, "The best remedy is the use of the rod from the time that the child is able to walk."

We can hear mothers say, "No, never." If the parents can't agree on childhood discipline what chance has the child?

As we write this, the boys of a fifth grade class in Arlington Heights are presenting a petition to their teacher asking for longer recess.

We were asked this week how soon spring weather would arrive. Referring the inquiry to Dr. Best, who has kept a weather temperature chart many years, we learn that in 1955 the first 8 days the temperature ranged from a low of 13 degrees to a high of 34.

Then the bottom of fine weather fell out. On Feb. 9 and 10 there was a drop of 54 degrees, from 44 above zero to 10 below. So, folks, spring is not very near.

This week's "Way Back When" quotes Dr. Best on weather conditions 20, 48 and 52 years ago.

Teacher-Parent Council To Elect New Officers

A second meeting of the Teacher-Parent council was held at Arlington Heights high school January 26. About 500 parents were in attendance.

C. H. Baker, president of the council, opened the meeting. The reaction to the council's request for sponsors for outside activities for juniors and seniors has been very gratifying.

At the next meeting of the Parent-Teacher council an election of officers for the coming year will be held. A president, 2 vice presidents, a secretary and chairman for each class, freshman, sophomore, junior and senior, will be elected. A nominating committee has been appointed and will present a slate of officers. Nominations will also be welcomed from the floor if the nominee has consented beforehand.

Mr. Slichenmyer spoke briefly informing the group that the new addition was progressing on schedule. There being no further business, Mr. Baker closed the meeting and the parents separated into 3 groups and adjourned to different rooms for their panel meetings.

MRS. A. P. Fellingham, chairman, opened the sophomore meeting. V. H. Beisler introduced the members of the panel; teachers Mrs. Stewart and Mr. Kemman; parents, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Kurtz, Mr. Thomas and Mr. Hutchinson.

Mrs. Stewart spoke about student activities, Mr. Kemman about social activities, Mrs. Smith, problems of girl students, Mrs. Kurtz, problems of boy students, Mr. Hutchinson about automobiles and Mr. Thomas about the courage parents and students must have to be sure that high standards are maintained. The meeting was very interesting and informative.

After the panel discussion questions from the parents were discussed. The meeting closed and all parents and teachers met in the cafeteria for donuts and coffee.

February Is Navy Sign-Up Month

February has been proclaimed "Navy Sign-Up Month" in Arlington Heights. In proclaiming the month, Mayor Albert W. Goedke urged all citizens to assist in stimulating interest and focusing public attention upon the patriotic purpose of "this campaign to provide adequate manpower for the largest and finest Navy in the world."

The proclamation notes that "It is important to the welfare of our nation that we ensure that the Navy is adequately manned at all times and ready to meet any emergency requiring its services" and notes that many additional volunteers are now urgently needed to bring the Navy up to authorized strength.

The headquarters for the chief of Naval Air Reserve Training is at Glenview and the Navy's largest recruit training center is at Great Lakes, Ill.

String Trio At Arlington High

University of Illinois faculty string trio presented a program for Arlington Heights high school orchestra Tuesday, with other students and 63 junior high school string instrument students as listeners.

The university musicians then conducted clinics on each instrument used. Trio included Prof. Stan Fletcher on piano, Prof. Paul Rolland on violin, and Prof. Peter Farrell on cello.

Full Hospital Board Elected; Pick Site Next

The erection of the Northwest Community hospital became a step nearer realization Monday evening when a full board was elected by the members. Participating were those who have made individual contributions to the project.

A definite decision on the site of the hospital is expected in order that the application for federal funds can be filed in Springfield by that date.

The agenda for the evening included approval of changes in the by-laws, a report on the site committee, financial statement by the treasurer, report of the nominating committee, election of board trustees who met after the adjournment of the membership meeting.

While subscriptions to the building fund near $100,000, actual payment of pledges are not sufficient to purchase a site. The Financial Development committee and Building and Grounds committees are meeting this week to prepare a report for presentation to the executive committee February 9.

The by-laws of the hospital association provide for a board of 33 members, (11 for each year). Elected for the 3-year term are:

Barrington—Martin H. Schreiber, Nicholas Lattof, Esther Larson.

Mt. Prospect—L. George O'Day, Louis G. Langpop, Walter Kirchhoff.

Joseph Brandt and Edward Haseman who were among the original incorporators, were elected honorary trustees for a term of 3 years.

Charles J. Walters was elected president. Vice chairmen named are: Stuart R. Paddock, Palatine; George O'Day, Elk Grove; Fred Lockwood, Barrington; Ted C. Seiler, Wheeling.

Other officers are: Carl Hammerl, treasurer; Kenneth Hartman, acting secretary.

Chairmen of committees are: Nicholas Lattof, financial development; Carl Hammerl, finance; Donald D. Florence, building and grounds; Leroy Garr, legal.

Robert Griffith, public education; Jack Hughes, nominating; Charles J. Walters, executive committee; Hugh Nichols, joint committee on accreditation, Dorothy Wagner, Womans auxiliary.

Added to present 2-year members are L. B. Andersen, Wheeling; Earl K. Riley, Arlington Heights; Fred S. Lockwood, Barrington; Robert L. Chyrchel, Prospect Heights.

Holdover 2-year members are William Gerbosi, Maurice Pendleton, Richard Bronwell, Stuart Paddock, Carl Hammerl, Charles J. Walters and Ted Seiler.

Three additions were made to board members whose terms expire in January 1957. They are Tom H. Hildebrand, vice president, International Harvester, Arlington Heights; Raymond E. Salzman, member of firm of Milburn Bros., Mt. Prospect, and Charles M. Newgent, treasurer Ekco-Alcoa Containers, Inc., Barrington.

One year holdover members are Leroy Garr, Robert Griffith, M. Russell Bramwell, Lillian J. Peters, Dorothy Wagner, Elizabeth Johnston, Robert Balfour and Marjorie Boswell.

Two Traffic Injuries Last Month Blamed On Icy Streets

Arlington Heights almost got through the month of January without a traffic injury.

As it is, only 2 persons received assorted bumps, bruises and cuts in traffic mishaps caused by icy streets in the last days of the month.

Giles G. Manhart, 24, of Box 205, Rt. 1, Arlington Heights, received cuts and bruises in an accident Thursday evening. Police said that his car apparently ran into a car driven by John E. Hahn, 40, of 1336 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights. The Hahn car was parked on State rd. south of Rockwell, police said.

The other injury was to Edward H. Wolfe, 47, of 1505 N. Vail, Arlington Heights, who got bumped on the head following a collision on north State rd. The other driver was Adamick J. Friedrick, 31, of Rand rd., Palatine. According to police, Wolfe's car went out of control on an icy stretch while he was going north on State Saturday morning and the 2 cars collided in the southbound lane.

SLIPPERY streets were apparently the cause of 3 more minor accidents Saturday. Cars driven by Arthur P. Johnson, 41, of Rt. 1, Arlington Heights, and Charles W. Dawson, 49, of 319 E. Orchard, both of Arlington Heights, collided at State and Orchard in the morning.

In the afternoon a 2-car accident involved Richard W. Meland, 25, of 401 S. Emerson, Mt. Prospect and Fred Blome, 21, of 261 N. Fremont, Palatine. The accident happened in the afternoon as Meland's car was apparently attempting to pull onto U. S. 14 from Walnut st. Blome was driving west on the highway.

Later in the afternoon 1 car was damaged in an accident on south Vail st. The 2 cars were driven by Jean P. Pellegrinetti, of 634 S. Dunton, and Louis Angeloff, 44, of 212 N. Reuter, both of Arlington Heights.

The Arlington Heights police department was host to the northern section of the Illinois Police association at a dinner Thursday evening at the VFW lodge. Several hundred members attended.

The inhalator squad was called to 1002 N. Mayfair Monday and took Mrs. W. T. Lonergan to St. Francis. A worker at Kimball Hill school in Rolling Meadows was taken ill while working on the roof and taken to Resurrection hospital by a private ambulance after the inhalator squad answered the call.

New Federation To Fight For Civic Welfare

At a recent meeting, attended by officers from each of the 9 active property owners' associations in Arlington Heights, steps were taken to inaugurate a Federation of Property Owners, concerned with the welfare of the village as a whole.

Membership will be composed of one representative from each property owners' association.

Primary purposes of the Federation are to serve as a channel of communication between property-owners and the village government, and as a clearing house for information and ideas from either direction.

It will also provide a convenient liaison unit between the various owner associations.

PLANS call for the federation to meet monthly to discuss one or more matters of village-wide interest, usually inviting to the discussion that member of the village government who is most concerned and best informed on that matter.

Representatives will then report to their local associatons on facts ascertained and ideas under consideration.

It is hoped better understanding concerning various civic matters will be secured among a large number of villagers. Members of the village government will be availed of a sounding board to obtain general public opinion on various metters. Pending formal organization, L. H. Ploetz is serving as temporary chairman.

Junior High Bond Issue Is Swept To Victory In Election

A light turnout of voters Saturday approved by wide margins the $1 million bond issue to finance construction of new junior high and grade schools and administrative offices in Arlington Heights.

There were 1743 votes cast, less than half (41 per cent) of the voter turnout in the hotly-contested municipal election of 1955. All 4 proposals on the ballot passed overwhelmingly as no precinct showed more than a handful of "no" votes.

The "yes" votes ranged from 1643 to 1616 and the "no" votes from 65 to 80. A canvas of the votes by precincts shows:

New Junior High School
Precinct	Yes	No
Ridge	334	9

Details concerning the sale of bonds and the beginning of construction will be available next week, according to board president V. L. Bedingfield.

St. James Guild To Observe Scout Month

The Mothers club of the St. James Catholic Womens guild, Arlington Heights will observe scout month by showing films of boy scout and girl scout activities at its February 9 meeting.

Room mothers, Mrs. John Foerster, Mrs. Donald Munk and Mrs. George Konchar, will supervise third grade mothers in serving refreshments to members.

Businessmen Back Sherman H. Canty

Sherman H. Canty, Mt. Prospect's candidate for republican nomination as state representative from the newly-created sixth district, is receiving solid backing from voters in his own community.

Organization of a "Businessmen for Canty" movement is proceeding and promises to be climaxed by a testimonial dinner in behalf of the candidate on March 10 at the Mt. Prospect country club.

ONE OR MORE prominent speakers will be secured for the occasion and this dinner wil give the candidate an opportunity to address the many working in behalf of his candidacy.

Herbert Van Driel is chairman of the "Businessmen for Canty" finance drive and William J. Busse is treasurer.

They have a number of lieutenants in the movement who met Tuesday night of this week to perfect plans for the dinner. Ticket information will be announced next week.

Story Of Manufacture Of Furniture To Be Told St. James Women

Members of St. James Woman's club of Arlington Heights will learn about the manufacture of furniture Wednesday at a special program in Schneller Furniture Co., Prospect Heights.

Films on the construction of furniture, carpeting, bedding, etc., will be shown, refreshments served, and gifts presented. A gift will also be presented to the club to dispose of as they wish.

One group will attend the program from 2 to 3 p.m., and the second group will go at 7 p.m. Those persons interested in attending may contact Mrs. Garth Heisig, president.

Other clubs may schedule similar programs by contacting Joe Schneller at Schneller Furniture.

Arlington, Mt. Prospect Are Included In Cheap Supply Plan

Officials of 105 suburbs were told Friday that the cheapest way for most villages to get Lake Michigan water is to let Chicago build the lines to their reservoirs.

Louis R. Howson, an engineer who helped prepare a water report on the Chicago area, spoke before the Suburban Water Supply council in Oak Park. He said:

"The city has the basic facilities and can borrow money cheaper than small groups of suburbs. It has launched a $154,000,000 improvement program which will provide filtered water in plentiful supply for the needs of the city and its suburbs up to 1980."

HOWSON told the suburban representatives legislation is necessary to permit Chicago to enter into contracts with suburbs.

He said suburbs should ask for such legislation.

One of several proposals for serving suburbs with lake water, the Howson plan would eventually supply 85 suburbs plus the 51 now drawing from the lake supply.

With a supply system extending as far west as Elgin and Aurora, the water would be carried by 4 principal express mains to La Grange, Elmhurst, Chicago Heights, and Des Plaines. The Des Plaines outlet would be equipped with a booster pump to extend its supply as far northwest as Arlington Heights.

THE PLAN would include improvement of Chicago's water system and involve a $295,892,945 expenditure.

Legislative changes are necessary for implementing the plan because the city's system now provides for construction of mains only to the city limits and suburban buyers use their own mains to that line.

Thus, Chicago water is delivered to customers at the city limits for a charge no greater than that in the city.

James Jardine, head of the Chicago water department, explained that as long as the water supply continues to hold out, the problem will be an economic one of transporting the water to the consumers.

OK Alternate Plan

Among other water proposals under consideration is the purchase of water from a utility which would construct pumping stations and water mains for the transporting of Lake Michigan water.

The supply would come from a crib to be built in the lake near Highland Park. The plan calls for a maximum wholesale water rate that is less than the present water supply costs in Arlington Heights.

Arlington Heights and Palatine village boards have already voiced their approval of the plan. Other towns which would join in the scheme are Park Ridge, Des Plaines, and Mt. Prospect.

The plan presented at Oak Park called for a 54-inch feeder main to be constructed to O'Hare field and Des Plaines, where a booster station would elevate the water sufficiently for Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights.

IT WAS ESTIMATED that there will be a 110 per cent growth in suburban water use between now and 1980.

The plan, along with other proposals, was referred to a technical advisory committee of the council.

Representing Arlington Heights at the meeting were Hugo J. Thal, village attorney, and Trustee Robert Bishop, chairman of the water committee.

Bishop said Arlington Heights on an average day now uses 1.2 million gallons of water. By 1960 it will be 3.5 million gallons. Current capacity is 4,428,000 with all wells working at maximum rate 24 hours.

Local March Of Dimes Passes $10,000 Mark

The March of Dimes campaign for funds to fight polio collected $10,167.53 in Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Muriel Rosene, village chairman of the March of Dimes, announced Wednesday that the 1956 campaign collections were the largest in the history of the fund drive locally and that approximately 25 per cent more was donated this year than in the 1955 campaign. A total of $7,965.64 was raised for the 1955 campaign.

Mrs. Carl Mees, treasurer, said that the Mothers' March on Polio Tuesday night was highly successful, with contributions amounting to $5,493.66. Mrs. Jerome B. Hoopes, chairman of the mothers' march, had high praise for the nearly 400 mothers who braved the chilly winds and low temperatures Tuesday night and rang doorbells wherever porch lights were turned on.

LARGER AMOUNTS were donated to all divisions of the campaign. Mrs. Rosene credited this to the hard work of members of the Arlington Women and the Arlington Heights Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Jaycees solicited donations from local businessmen as a part of the state-wide Jaycee project.

Mail receipts to Tuesday inclusive were $1,522.49, more than double those of 1955. The mothers' march passed last year's figure by $500 and elementary and high school pupils contributed $2,118.12 as against $1,763.11 last year. The Jaycees collected $561 and $422.26 was contained in coin cards and containers placed in retail establishments. The Arlington Heights Lions club donated $50 to the campaign.

The total realized was $10,167.53; last year it was $7,965.64.

Wheeling Twp. Dems To Sponsor Dance

A 21-inch television set, table lamp and toaster will be featured gifts Saturday, Feb. 4, when the Regular Democratic organization of Wheeling township holds a dance at Buffalo house in Buffalo Grove.

Music for dancing will be by the Glo-Notes. Tickets may be obtained at the door or by contacting Jack Clark, committeeman, CL 3-4784.

MORE THAN $5,400 was collected Tuesday night in the mother's march on polio in Arlington Heights. Counting money are (left to right) Mrs. Anne Hoopes, march chairman; John W. Carroll, chairman of county suburbs; Mrs. Arleen Mees, treasurer of Arlington Heights drive; Mrs. Muriel Rosene, poilo chairman; and Mrs. Mary Anderson shown turning in her collections.

Two Traffic Injuries Last Month Blamed On Icy Streets

Arlington Heights almost got through the month of January without a traffic injury.

As it is, only 2 persons received assorted bumps, bruises and cuts in traffic mishaps caused by icy streets in the last days of the month.

Giles G. Manhart, 24, of Box 205, Rt. 1, Arlington Heights, received cuts and bruises in an accident Thursday evening. Police said that his car apparently ran into a car driven by John E. Hahn, 40, of 1336 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights. The Hahn car was parked on State rd. south of Rockwell, police said.

The other injury was to Edward H. Wolfe, 47, of 1505 N. Vail, Arlington Heights, who got bumped on the head following a collision on north State rd. The other driver was Adamick J. Friedrick, 31, of Rand rd., Palatine. According to police, Wolfe's car went out of control on an icy stretch while he was going north on State Saturday morning and the 2 cars collided in the southbound lane.

SLIPPERY streets were apparently the cause of 3 more minor accidents Saturday. Cars driven by Arthur P. Johnson, 41, of Rt. 1, Arlington Heights, and Charles W. Dawson, 49, of 319 E. Orchard, both of Arlington Heights, collided at State and Orchard in the morning.

In the afternoon a 2-car accident involved Richard W. Meland, 25, of 401 S. Emerson, Mt. Prospect and Fred Blome, 21, of 261 N. Fremont, Palatine. The accident happened in the afternoon as Meland's car was apparently attempting to pull onto U. S. 14 from Walnut st. Blome was driving west on the highway.

Later in the afternoon 1 car was damaged in an accident on south Vail st. The 2 cars were driven by Jean P. Pellegrinetti, of 634 S. Dunton, and Louis Angeloff, 44, of 212 N. Reuter, both of Arlington Heights.

The Arlington Heights police department was host to the northern section of the Illinois Police association at a dinner Thursday evening at the VFW lodge. Several hundred members attended.

The inhalator squad was called to 1002 N. Mayfair Monday and took Mrs. W. T. Lonergan to St. Francis. A worker at Kimball Hill school in Rolling Meadows was taken ill while working on the roof and taken to Resurrection hospital by a private ambulance after the inhalator squad answered the call.

New Federation To Fight For Civic Welfare

At a recent meeting, attended by officers from each of the 9 active property owners' associations in Arlington Heights, steps were taken to inaugurate a Federation of Property Owners, concerned with the welfare of the village as a whole.

Membership will be composed of one representative from each property owners' association.

Primary purposes of the Federation are to serve as a channel of communication between property-owners and the village government, and as a clearing house for information and ideas from either direction.

It will also provide a convenient liaison unit between the various owner associations.

PLANS call for the federation to meet monthly to discuss one or more matters of village-wide interest, usually inviting to the discussion that member of the village government who is most concerned and best informed on that matter.

Representatives will then report to their local associatons on facts ascertained and ideas under consideration.

It is hoped better understanding concerning various civic matters will be secured among a large number of villagers. Members of the village government will be availed of a sounding board to obtain general public opinion on various metters. Pending formal organization, L. H. Ploetz is serving as temporary chairman.

Junior High Bond Issue Is Swept To Victory In Election

A light turnout of voters Saturday approved by wide margins the $1 million bond issue to finance construction of new junior high and grade schools and administrative offices in Arlington Heights.

There were 1743 votes cast, less than half (41 per cent) of the voter turnout in the hotly-contested municipal election of 1955. All 4 proposals on the ballot passed overwhelmingly as no precinct showed more than a handful of "no" votes.

The "yes" votes ranged from 1643 to 1616 and the "no" votes from 65 to 80. A canvas of the votes by precincts shows:

Details concerning the sale of bonds and the beginning of construction will be available next week, according to board president V. L. Bedingfield.

St. James Guild To Observe Scout Month

The Mothers club of the St. James Catholic Womens guild, Arlington Heights will observe scout month by showing films of boy scout and girl scout activities at its February 9 meeting.

Room mothers, Mrs. John Foerster, Mrs. Donald Munk and Mrs. George Konchar, will supervise third grade mothers in serving refreshments to members.

Businessmen Back Sherman H. Canty

Sherman H. Canty, Mt. Prospect's candidate for republican nomination as state representative from the newly-created sixth district, is receiving solid backing from voters in his own community.

Organization of a "Businessmen for Canty" movement is proceeding and promises to be climaxed by a testimonial dinner in behalf of the candidate on March 10 at the Mt. Prospect country club.

ONE OR MORE prominent speakers will be secured for the occasion and this dinner wil give the candidate an opportunity to address the many working in behalf of his candidacy.

Herbert Van Driel is chairman of the "Businessmen for Canty" finance drive and William J. Busse is treasurer.

They have a number of lieutenants in the movement who met Tuesday night of this week to perfect plans for the dinner. Ticket information will be announced next week. (B7

Story Of Manufacture Of Furniture To Be Told St. James Women

Members of St. James Woman's club of Arlington Heights will learn about the manufacture of furniture Wednesday at a special program in Schneller Furniture Co., Prospect Heights.

Films on the construction of furniture, carpeting, bedding, etc., will be shown, refreshments served, and gifts presented. A gift will also be presented to the club to dispose of as they wish.

One group will attend the program from 2 to 3 p.m., and the second group will go at 7 p.m. Those persons interested in attending may contact Mrs. Garth Heisig, president.

Other clubs may schedule similar programs by contacting Joe Schneller at Schneller Furniture.

Arlington, Mt. Prospect Are Included In Cheap Supply Plan

Officials of 105 suburbs were told Friday that the cheapest way for most villages to get Lake Michigan water is to let Chicago build the lines to their reservoirs.

Louis R. Howson, an engineer who helped prepare a water report on the Chicago area, spoke before the Suburban Water Supply council in Oak Park. He said:

"The city has the basic facilities and can borrow money cheaper than small groups of suburbs. It has launched a $154,000,000 improvement program which will provide filtered water in plentiful supply for the needs of the city and its suburbs up to 1980."

HOWSON told the suburban representatives legislation is necessary to permit Chicago to enter into contracts with suburbs.

He said suburbs should ask for such legislation.

One of several proposals for serving suburbs with lake water, the Howson plan would eventually supply 85 suburbs plus the 51 now drawing from the lake supply.

With a supply system extending as far west as Elgin and Aurora, the water would be carried by 4 principal express mains to La Grange, Elmhurst, Chicago Heights, and Des Plaines. The Des Plaines outlet would be equipped with a booster pump to extend its supply as far northwest as Arlington Heights.

THE PLAN would include improvement of Chicago's water system and involve a $295,892,945 expenditure.

Legislative changes are necessary for implementing the plan because the city's system now provides for construction of mains only to the city limits and suburban buyers use their own mains to that line.

Thus, Chicago water is delivered to customers at the city limits for a charge no greater than that in the city.

James Jardine, head of the Chicago water department, explained that as long as the water supply continues to hold out, the problem will be an economic one of transporting the water to the consumers.

OK Alternate Plan

Among other water proposals under consideration is the purchase of water from a utility which would construct pumping stations and water mains for the transporting of Lake Michigan water.

The supply would come from a crib to be built in the lake near Highland Park. The plan calls for a maximum wholesale water rate that is less than the present water supply costs in Arlington Heights.

Arlington Heights and Palatine village boards have already voiced their approval of the plan. Other towns which would join in the scheme are Park Ridge, Des Plaines, and Mt. Prospect.

The plan presented at Oak Park called for a 54-inch feeder main to be constructed to O'Hare field and Des Plaines, where a booster station would elevate the water sufficiently for Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights.

IT WAS ESTIMATED that there will be a 110 per cent growth in suburban water use between now and 1980.

The plan, along with other proposals, was referred to a technical advisory committee of the council-

Representing Arlington Heights at the meeting were Hugo J. Thal, village attorney, and Trustee Robert Bishop, chairman of the water committee.

Bishop said Arlington Heights on an average day now uses 1.2 million gallons of water. By 1960 it will be 3.5 million gallons. Current capacity is 4,428,000 with all wells working at maximum rate 24 hours.

Local March Of Dimes Passes $10,000 Mark

The March of Dimes campaign for funds to fight polio collected $10,167.53 in Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Muriel Rosene, village chairman of the March of Dimes, announced Wednesday that the 1956 campaign collections were the largest in the history of the fund drive locally and that approximately 25 per cent more was donated this year than in the 1955 campaign. A total of $7,965.64 was raised for the 1955 campaign.

Mrs. Carl Mees, treasurer, said that the Mothers' March on Polio Tuesday night was highly successful, with contributions amounting to $5,493.66. Mrs. Jerome B. Hoopes, chairman of the mothers' march, had high praise for the nearly 400 mothers who braved the chilly winds and low temperatures Tuesday night and rang doorbells wherever porch lights were turned on.

LARGER AMOUNTS were donated to all divisions of the campaign. Mrs. Rosene credited this to the hard work of members of the Arlington Women and the Arlington Heights Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Jaycees solicited donations from local businessmen as a part of the state-wide Jaycee project.

Mail receipts to Tuesday inclusive were $1,522.49, more than double those of 1955. The mothers' march passed last year's figure by $500 and elementary and high school pupils contributed $2,118.12 as against $1,763.11 last year. The Jaycees collected $561 and $422.26 was contained in coin cards and containers placed in retail establishments. The Arlington Heights Lions club donated $50 to the campaign.

The total realized was $10,167.53; last year it was $7,965.64.

Wheeling Twp. Dems To Sponsor Dance

A 21-inch television set, table lamp and toaster will be featured gifts Saturday, Feb. 4, when the Regular Democratic organization of Wheeling township holds a dance at Buffalo house in Buffalo Grove.

Music for dancing will be by the Glo-Notes. Tickets may be obtained at the door or by contacting Jack Clark, committeeman, CL 3-4784.

Girl Scout Fathers to Help With Camp Maintenance

Fathers of intermediate scouts and brownies of Arlington Heights have received requests for help at Camp Pine. A need for a variety of talents is necessary for camp maintenance. Fathers were asked to check if they had an equipment purchasing contact, an inclination to paint, or any carpentry ability.

A few parents have already volunteered, including former boy scouts. The help is needed to maintain the out-of-door program. Arlington Heights is particularly concerned as its cabin has been condemned.

A date will be set in the spring for Saturday when fathers of scouts can help with the repairs and enjoy the companionship of other dads.

Scouts are to return signed slips to their troop leader or to Mrs. John Crawford, 922 N. Princeton, or Mrs. Melvin Born, 1007 E. Olive. (A

Plant And Bulb Clinic For Arlington Women

The conservation and garden study group of Arlington Heights Womans club will meet Thursday, Feb. 9, at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Otto Lisec, 1100 N. Mitchel ave.

This meeting will be a plant and bulb clinic and anyone with an interesting plant she has grown or one with which she is having difficulty. is asked to bring the plant to the meeting for discussion. There will be a speaker to talk on house plants, and answer questions on growing indoor plants.

Anyone planning to attend is asked to call either of the cohostesses Mrs. Frank N. Precilio Jr. Cl. 3-5847, or Mrs. H. L. Berthold Jr. Cl. 3-5143.

With The Blue Birds

Friendly Bluebirds

Friendly Bluebirds enjoyed a session of "Bow Bow Oh Balinda" and various other games and songs. Ellen Laughrin was pinned by her mother with the usual ceremony. The girls greeted with enthusiasm the tissue tyke doll, which they named "Mr. Brown." Mr. Brown's family will make its appearance in the near future.

Two visitors, Susan Hardin and Alice Shaller, were present at the meeting. Diane Lorenzen served as hostess.

Honeybears

After electing new officers to serve for the next 3 weeks, the Honeybears worked on their puppets. They made the faces on the puppets and started on the costumes. After enjoying refreshments served by Jean Ann Stedry, the girls discussed a Valentine day party for their mothers.

Helping Pixies

Helping Pixies spent a busy hour working on cigar boxes. They are decorating them with pictures and then will shellac them. Gail Klingenmaier was hostess for the day.

Bluebird Wings

The last 2 meetings of Bluebird Wings has given the group a great deal of fun. They made tissue paper dolls and designed, cut and sewed clothes for them. A treat was served by Gina Leimert.

Blue Angels

At their last meeting the Blue Angels made kitchen furniture for their homemade doll house. They used cardboard for the furniture and stapled the pieces together. Refreshments were served by Jean Swanson.

Surprise

Neighbors of Marge Santelli of Yale ave. surprised her with a miscellaneous baby shower last Tuesday. Since the girls could not figure out a way of getting Marge over to one of their houses, they arrived at the Santelli house laden with gifts, ice cream, cake and coffee. Guests included Loretta Kleim, Ellen Schnur, Dorothy Moos, Ann Wilson, Peggy Le Starge, Violet Downing, Jay Vork and Shirley Hannaford.

Home Owners Association

The board members of the home owners association have been busy via the telephone and door bell methods, seeking the $3 dues for the newly formed association. They're hoping to have all dues in by the next meeting, February 29th. Get membership dues in to your board member and don't forget the date of the next meeting.

This 'n That

A coffee was given Monday, by Caroline Herigodt, 1513 W. Fremont, for all the girls who are working for her in the Mother's March on polio.

Fourteen girls are now active in the bluebird troop here in Westgate. Mary Flodin, Yale ave., is leader of the troop and Carol Lorenzen, Reuter ave., is co-leader. Ice skating headed events for the troop this week.

Tim Comeford, Fremont st., who contacted polio during last summer, is now well enough to be at home and just goes back to the hospital 2 or 3 times a week for physical therapy. Let's hope and pray that Tim's stay at home will be a permanent one and that his improvements are many.

Attend Wedding

Louise and Ken Smith, 1515 W. Euclid, went home to Detroit for the wedding of Ken's sister, Joyce Ann Smith, to John D. Fox. The young couple was married in a candlelight service at Mt. Zion Lutheran church, with Ken serving as best man and Louise as bridesmaid. Following the wedding rehearsal, the Smiths were entertained at a party which included 11 other couples. Saturday evening Louise and Ken entertained with 2 tables of bridge for old friends of theirs from the Detroit area.

Lois and Bill Henn had their new son, Thomas William, christened Sunday at Our Lady of the Wayside church. Godparents are Irene Henn and Robert Geimer of Gaston, Ind. After the christening the Henns entertained their immediate families at a dinner. Lois and Bill live at 228 N. Yale.

Parties

A progressive dinner was held Saturday by 12 couples in Westgate. Participants were Bob and Caroline Herigodt, Joyce and Ski Akerlund, Mary Margaret and Ernie Snoyer, Bert and Andy Graczyk, Jeanne and Ed Huster, Tina and Dan Hegyan, Maryan and Don Granis, Phyllis and Clarence Wrobel, Carol and Bill Franck, Arlene and Fred Hauth, Caroline and Dick Burkett and Ginny and Jim Blocki. Cocktails were served at the Akerlunds, dinner at the Hegyans and the evening was spent at the Snoyers.

Eleanor Huff, 1411 W. Euclid, had the Round Robin bridge club for the newcomers at her home January 24. Two tables of bridge were on the agenda for the afternoon.

Today, Thursday, is the fourth birthday of Patrick Barry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen G. Barry, 1511 St. James place. Patrick is celebrating with a luncheon party for 8 guests, Bobby Mongraine, Danny and Jimmy Chailifoux, Douglas Hochstetler, Lynn and John Keefer and Jimmy Diguilio all of Westgate and Suzanne Roto of Northfield Woods.

And So

As your reporter writes "finish" to this week's news, and notices how short the column, she can only say that most of the news coming this way has been bad news. Flu, virus infections and penicillin reactions are in the majority, with all news taking last place. It is hoped next week finds everyone feeling better and all kinds of news available.

Newcomers To Meet At Supper Club February 8

Newcomers club of Arlington Heights will hold its regular monthly luncheon and card party at Paul Petersons Supper club at 12:30 p.m. February 8. All newcomers to Arlington Heights are invited. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Robert Sielken at CLearbrook 5-2796 or Mrs. William Guilfoil at CLearbrook 5-2177 by noon February 7.

A few tickets are still available for the Valentine dance at Chevy Chase February 11. Mrs. E J. Dominque, CLearbrook 3-2814 requests a report on all outstanding tickets by February 8 so she may complete arrangements.

New golf chairman is Mrs. Robert Meyers. Announcements concerning this activity will be made later.

St. James To Sponsor St. Patrick Party

Cards, dancing, refreshments, entertainment and prizes will feature the annual St. Patrick's day party given by St. James parish March 17. The only parish affair to be sponsored during Lent, the party will be held at 8 p.m. in St. James recreation hall.

Chairman of the affair is Mrs. Roy King and co-chairman is Mrs. A. Loos.

Eastwood Events

With the start of a new month thoughts should turn to the Eastwood meeting which is held the first Tuesday of each month. February 7 the association will meet at the field house at 8 p.m., in the basement. Entertainment for the evening will be decided on at a directors meeting this week. Flyers will be delivered to all homes over the weekend notifying residents of the program planned for that night. For the March meeting the program committee has lined up O. P. Fox of Edison Park who is associated with Swift and Co. Mr. Fox will speak on the care of lawns, shrubs and trees. His association with Swift's is along that line, so he is qualified to answer questions on gardening problems.

A wish for a speedy recovery is extended to John Roth who is confined to St. Anne hospital in the city. Mr. Roth received a brain concussion last week in a 15 foot fall from a ladder while doing some electrical work in a church. Latest reports are that he is coming along nicely, but will have to remain quiet for some time.

Denny Fitz-Patrick was honored last Friday evening at the cub pack 232 meeting at the North School with the presentation of his Webelos badge. Then, in an impressive ceremony, he took his boy scout oath and was made an official member of scout troop 7.

The Robert Burrows had Mr. Burrow's brother as a guest for a short time last week en route from his home in San Diego to the east coast.

Brian Anderson's ninth birthday was a happy ocassion when 10 boy friends enjoyed lunch with him followed by a Saturday matinee at the Mt. Prospect theater. The celebration was held January 28.

The bridge tournament is just about at the halfway mark with the fourth month of play coming up. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wingquist, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dougan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert House, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Patton and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace will entertain groups during February.

Welcome to new neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Stephan P. Coha who moved into their new home at 704 N. Beverly lane in December. Their children are Marny, 3½, Danny, 2½, and Larry, 10 months old. Mr. Coha is a public relations representative with Conway and Associates.

It's frightening to hear the number of families plagued by the various types of flu bugs. Persons too numerous to mention are confined to their homes with illness. A hurry and get well wish is sent their way.

Which is your wife on washdays?

Let an ELECTRIC Dryer do the work on washdays—

Electric heat's the cleanest, fastest, dryest heat there is . . . and electric dryers cost less!

Hanging up heavy wet wash is one of your wife's most tiresome jobs.

The quick easy way to dry clothes is with an electric dryer. Just put a load in the dryer, set the controls and the wash is dry in about 30 minutes, automatically.

The clothes dry in pure, clean, electrically heated air. Come out soft and fluffy, sweet and fresh. Everything dries the way you want it: damp dry for ironing or bone dry for storing. And even the most delicate fabrics are perfectly safe.

An electric dryer is ready any time you are—day or night, good weather or bad. And you can dry an average home's laundry for about 36¢ worth of electricity a week!

You can own an electric dryer for less than $2 a week. Installation is little in any home with good wiring.

Electric Dryers Cost Less—no outside vent needed. Automatic—no igniting devices necessary.

Save important money with new share-the-cost installation plan.

If you need new wiring to install an electric dryer, we share the cost with you. Qualified home owners can cut this expense by about half. And you get more than a money saving! The modern wiring that goes with your dryer installation helps improve your TV picture, brightens lights, makes everything electrical work better. And you can install an electric range, water heater or air conditioner (that requires a 240-volt 'circuit) quickly and cheaply. The Plan is now available on terms of up to 2 years. Your appliance dealer has details.

Two visitors, Susan Hardin and Alice Shaller, were present at the meeting. Diane Lorenzen served as hostess.

Honeybears

After electing new officers to serve for the next 3 weeks, the Honeybears worked on their puppets. They made the faces on the puppets and started on the costumes. After enjoying refreshments served by Jean Ann Stedry, the girls discussed a Valentine day party for their mothers.

Helping Pixies

Helping Pixies spent a busy hour working on cigar boxes. They are decorating them with pictures and then will shellac them. Gail Klingenmaier was hostess for the day.

Bluebird Wings

The last 2 meetings of Bluebird Wings has given the group a great deal of fun. They made tissue paper dolls and designed, cut and sewed clothes for them. A treat was served by Gina Leimert.

Blue Angels

At their last meeting the Blue Angels made kitchen furniture for their homemade doll house. They used cardboard for the furniture and stapled the pieces together. Refreshments were served by Jean Swanson.

Round 'n About Westgate

Surprise

Neighbors of Marge Santelli of Yale ave. surprised her with a miscellaneous baby shower last Tuesday. Since the girls could not figure out a way of getting Marge over to one of their houses, they arrived at the Santelli house laden with gifts, ice cream, cake and coffee. Guests included Loretta Kleim, Ellen Schnur, Dorothy Moos, Ann Wilson, Peggy Le Starge, Violet Downing, Jay Vork and Shirley Hannaford.

Home Owners Association

The board members of the home owners association have been busy via the telephone and door bell methods, seeking the $3 dues for the newly formed association. They're hoping to have all dues in by the next meeting, February 29th. Get membership dues in to your board member and don't forget the date of the next meeting.

This 'n That

A coffee was given Monday, by Caroline Herigodt, 1513 W. Fremont, for all the girls who are working for her in the Mother's March on polio.

Fourteen girls are now active in the bluebird troop here in Westgate. Mary Flodin, Yale ave., is leader of the troop and Carol Lorenzen, Reuter ave., is co-leader. Ice skating headed events for the troop this week.

Tim Comeford, Fremont st., who contacted polio during last summer, is now well enough to be at home and just goes back to the hospital 2 or 3 times a week for physical therapy. Let's hope and pray that Tim's stay at home will be a permanent one and that his improvements are many.

Attend Wedding

Louise and Ken Smith, 1515 W. Euclid, went home to Detroit for the wedding of Ken's sister, Joyce Ann Smith, to John D. Fox. The young couple was married in a candlelight service at Mt. Zion Lutheran church, with Ken serving as best man and Louise as bridesmaid. Following the wedding rehearsal, the Smiths were entertained at a party which included 11 other couples. Saturday evening Louise and Ken entertained with 2 tables of bridge for old friends of theirs from the Detroit area.

Lois and Bill Henn had their new son, Thomas William, christened Sunday at Our Lady of the Wayside church. Godparents are Irene Henn and Robert Geimer of Gaston, Ind. After the christening the Henns entertained their immediate families at a dinner. Lois and Bill live at 228 N. Yale.

Parties

A progressive dinner was held Saturday by 12 couples in Westgate. Participants were Bob and Caroline Herigodt, Joyce and Ski Akerlund, Mary Margaret and Ernie Snoyer, Bert and Andy Graczyk, Jeanne and Ed Huster, Tina and Dan Hegyan, Maryan and Don Granis, Phyllis and Clarence Wrobel, Carol and Bill Franck, Arlene and Fred Hauth, Caroline and Dick Burkett and Ginny and Jim Blocki. Cocktails were served at the Akerlunds, dinner at the Hegyans and the evening was spent at the Snoyers.

Eleanor Huff, 1411 W. Euclid, had the Round Robin bridge club for the newcomers at her home January 24. Two tables of bridge were on the agenda for the afternoon.

Today, Thursday, is the fourth birthday of Patrick Barry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen G. Barry, 1511 St. James place. Patrick is celebrating with a luncheon party for 8 guests, Bobby Mongraine, Danny and Jimmy Chailifoux, Douglas Hochstetler, Lynn and John Keefer and Jimmy Diguilio all of Westgate and Suzanne Roto of Northfield Woods.

And So

As your reporter writes "finish" to this week's news, and notices how short the column, she can only say that most of the news coming this way has been bad news. Flu, virus infections and penicillin reactions are in the majority, with all news taking last place. It is hoped next week finds everyone feeling better and all kinds of news available.

Newcomers To Meet At Supper Club February 8

Newcomers club of Arlington Heights will hold its regular monthly luncheon and card party at Paul Petersons Supper club at 12:30 p.m. February 8. All newcomers to Arlington Heights are invited. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Robert Sielken at CLearbrook 5-2796 or Mrs. William Guilfoil at CLearbrook 5-2177 by noon February 7.

A few tickets are still available for the Valentine dance at Chevy Chase February 11. Mrs. E J. Dominque, CLearbrook 3-2814 requests a report on all outstanding tickets by February 8 so she may complete arrangements.

New golf chairman is Mrs. Robert Meyers. Announcements concerning this activity will be made later.

St. James To Sponsor St. Patrick Party

Cards, dancing, refreshments, entertainment and prizes will feature the annual St. Patrick's day party given by St. James parish March 17. The only parish affair to be sponsored during Lent, the party will be held at 8 p.m. in St. James recreation hall.

Chairman of the affair is Mrs. Roy King and co-chairman is Mrs. A. Loos.

Eastwood Events

With the start of a new month thoughts should turn to the Eastwood meeting which is held the first Tuesday of each month. February 7 the association will meet at the field house at 8 p.m., in the basement. Entertainment for the evening will be decided on at a directors meeting this week. Flyers will be delivered to all homes over the weekend notifying residents of the program planned for that night. For the March meeting the program committee has lined up O. P. Fox of Edison Park who is associated with Swift and Co. Mr. Fox will speak on the care of lawns, shrubs and trees. His association with Swift's is along that line, so he is qualified to answer questions on gardening problems.

A wish for a speedy recovery is extended to John Roth who is confined to St. Anne hospital in the city. Mr. Roth received a brain concussion last week in a 15 foot fall from a ladder while doing some electrical work in a church. Latest reports are that he is coming along nicely, but will have to remain quiet for some time.

Denny Fitz-Patrick was honored last Friday evening at the cub pack 232 meeting at the North School with the presentation of his Webelos badge. Then, in an impressive ceremony, he took his boy scout oath and was made an official member of scout troop 7.

The Robert Burrows had Mr. Burrow's brother as a guest for a short time last week en route from his home in San Diego to the east coast.

Brian Anderson's ninth birthday was a happy ocassion when 10 boy friends enjoyed lunch with him followed by a Saturday matinee at the Mt. Prospect theater. The celebration was held January 28.

The bridge tournament is just about at the halfway mark with the fourth month of play coming up. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wingquist, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dougan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert House, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Patton and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace will entertain groups during February.

Welcome to new neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Stephan P. Coha who moved into their new home at 704 N. Beverly lane in December. Their children are Marny, 3½, Danny, 2½, and Larry, 10 months old. Mr. Coha is a public relations representative with Conway and Associates.

It's frightening to hear the number of families plagued by the various types of flu bugs. Persons too numerous to mention are confined to their homes with illness. A hurry and get well wish is sent their way.

Which is your wife on washdays?

Let an ELECTRIC Dryer do the work on washdays—

Electric heat's the cleanest, fastest, dryest heat there is . . . and electric dryers cost less!

Hanging up heavy wet wash is one of your wife's most tiresome jobs.

The quick easy way to dry clothes is with an electric dryer. Just put a load in the dryer, set the controls and the wash is dry in about 30 minutes, automatically.

The clothes dry in pure, clean, electrically heated air. Come out soft and fluffy, sweet and fresh. Everything dries the way you want it: damp dry for ironing or bone dry for storing. And even the most delicate fabrics are perfectly safe.

An electric dryer is ready any time you are—day or night, good weather or bad. And you can dry an average home's laundry for about 36¢ worth of electricity a week!

You can own an electric dryer for less than $2 a week. Installation is little in any home with good wiring.

Electric Dryers Cost Less—no outside vent needed. Automatic—no igniting devices necessary.

Save important money with new share-the-cost installation plan.

If you need new wiring to install an electric dryer, we share the cost with you. Qualified home owners can cut this expense by about half. And you get more than a money saving! The modern wiring that goes with your dryer installation helps improve your TV picture, brightens lights, makes everything electrical work better. And you can install an electric range, water heater or air conditioner (that requires a 240-volt circuit) quickly and cheaply. The Plan is now available on terms of up to 2 years. Your appliance dealer has details.

Village Theatre Lists 'Angel Street' Crew

The suspenseful Victorian thriller "Angel Street" sometimes known as "Gas Light," under the direction of Marian Malcolmson, will be presented by Village Theatre, Inc., Arlington Heights, at the Junior high school February 9 and 11 at 8:30 p.m. Arlington Heights Nurses club is sponsoring the production and the proceeds will be used for its many philantropies. Tickets may be obtained from members of Village Theatre, Inc. or the Nurses club or may be purchased at the door.

"Angel Street" a 3-act play by Patrick Hamilton, tells the demoniac story of the Manninghams of Angel st. Under the guise of kindliness the handsome Mr. Manningham is torturing his wife into insanity.

While the actual cast of "Angel Street" only comprises 7 persons, it takes many more people working behind the scenes to produce the professional performance which will ultimately result. The technical staff comprises Maurice Geye, set design; Mary Tindall, production manager and Anita Wilkins, stage manager.

Costumes are headed by Carol Spray, assisted by Edna Edelblute and Charlotte Shaughnessy. The task of rounding up victorian furniture needed for authenticity is being handled by Alta Hutchinson, assisted by Isabelle Burke, Bob Hawley, Jeanne Novatny, Barbara Schneider and Harriet Smith.

Ruth Raasch is head of hand props, with Helen Baka, Barbara Belle, Randy Moses and Helen Siler as assistants. Dennis Malcolmson is house manager.

Lighting for "Angel Street" is a tricky business, but Jim Smith is an expert technician on lights. He will have the assistance of Roger Burke, Tom Grisell, Dave Shaughnessy and Ron Cole.

Makeup is in the expert hands of Pauly Jenness, Phyl Maxwell, Anne Nygren and Alice Scheske.

Music and sound will be by Jeanette Jenkins. Sally Opela is in charge of set props and will be helped by Ginny Bishop, Muriel Hanor and Bobbie Spilman.

Marshall Moses is in charge of the stage crew, with the assistance of Bill Foote, Charlotte Revkin, Joan Shriner, Bill Siler, Jim Turner, Joe Crittenden and Dave Crittenden. Charlotte Shaughnessy is handling publicity and is also acting as assistant stage manager.

Tobogganing Party For Twosome Club

A tobagganing and skating party will feature the Saturday night party of Faith Lutheran church Twosome club. Members will meet at the church at 7:30 p.m. and then will go to Lake Lawn lodge at Delavan.

The committee in charge of the evening is headed by Mr. and Mrs. John Hillebrand.

School Bus Driver Threatens Crackdown On Careless Motorists

Lives of kindergarten children and $100 bills were placed in jeopardy this week by announcement of a school bus driver that he was going to report all autoists illegally passing his bus stopped for school children.

State law requires every motorist to stop while a school bus is either loading or unloading children.

More and more Arlington motorists are passing the buses, particularly those involving kindergarten children. Youngsters that age are especially likely to dart around the bus and across the street in the path of passing automobiles.

If bus drivers take action, they send in a report of license number to state office. Motorists are then called into Chicago and, if judged guilty, fined $100 for each offense.

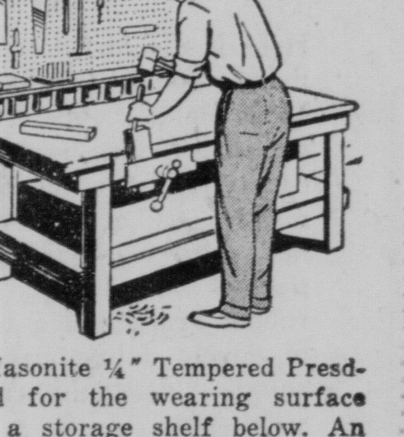
30-Minute Workbench

NOWADAYS, with do-it-yourself projects a "must" in nearly every household, a workbench is essential. It needn't be pretentious or large. Give the man a vise, hammer, saw and chisel, and he'll soon be in business at his workbench fixing up his home the way he (and the missus) want it!

A simple, strong workbench can be assembled in 30 minutes, using pre-cut lumber and panels of Masonite ¼" Tempered Presdwood for the wearing surface and a storage shelf below. An easy-to-follow plan showing how it's done and listing the materials needed from your lumber yard may be obtained by writing the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and requesting free plan No. AE-312.



Instructions are given, too, for framing and hanging a Masonite "Peg-Board" panel above the workbench for tools.

In most communities, the materials needed for the 30-minute workbench will cost under $15. The bench may be fastened together with nails or screws. The top surface is Tempered Presdwood, popular for this use because it has been found so satisfactory in industry.

Village Theatre Lists 'Angel Street' Crew

The suspenseful Victorian thriller "Angel Street" sometimes known as "Gas Light," under the direction of Marian Malcolmson, will be presented by Village Theatre, Inc., Arlington Heights, at the Junior high school February 9 and 11 at 8:30 p.m. Arlington Heights Nurses club is sponsoring the production and the proceeds will be used for its many philantropies. Tickets may be obtained from members of Village Theatre, Inc. or the Nurses club or may be purchased at the door.

"Angel Street" a 3-act play by Patrick Hamilton, tells the demoniac story of the Manninghams of Angel st. Under the guise of kindliness the handsome Mr. Manningham is torturing his wife into insanity.

While the actual cast of "Angel Street" only comprises 7 persons, it takes many more people working behind the scenes to produce the professional performance which will ultimately result. The technical staff comprises Maurice Geye, set design; Mary Tindall, production manager and Anita Wilkins, stage manager.

Costumes are headed by Carol Spray, assisted by Edna Edelblute and Charlotte Shaughnessy. The task of rounding up victorian furniture needed for authenticity is being handled by Alta Hutchinson, assisted by Isabelle Burke, Bob Hawley, Jeanne Novatny, Barbara Schneider and Harriet Smith.

Ruth Raasch is head of hand props, with Helen Baka, Barbara Belle, Randy Moses and Helen Siler as assistants. Dennis Malcolmson is house manager.

Lighting for "Angel Street" is a tricky business, but Jim Smith is an expert technician on lights. He will have the assistance of Roger Burke, Tom Grisell, Dave Shaughnessy and Ron Cole.

Makeup is in the expert hands of Pauly Jenness, Phyl Maxwell, Anne Nygren and Alice Scheske.

Music and sound will be by Jeanette Jenkins. Sally Opela is in charge of set props and will be helped by Ginny Bishop, Muriel Hanor and Bobbie Spilman.

Marshall Moses is in charge of the stage crew, with the assistance of Bill Foote, Charlotte Revkin, Joan Shriner, Bill Siler, Jim Turner, Joe Crittenden and Dave Crittenden. Charlotte Shaughnessy is handling publicity and is also acting as assistant stage manager.

Tobogganing Party For Twosome Club

School Bus Driver Threatens Crackdown On Careless Motorists

Lives of kindergarten children and $100 bills were placed in jeopardy this week by announcement of a school bus driver that he was going to report all autoists illegally passing his bus stopped for school children.

State law requires every motorist to stop while a school bus is either loading or unloading children.

More and more Arlington motorists are passing the buses, particularly those involving kindergarten children. Youngsters that age are especially likely to dart around the bus and across the street in the path of passing automobiles.

If bus drivers take action, they send in a report of license number to state office. Motorists are then called into Chicago and, if judged guilty, fined $100 for each offense.

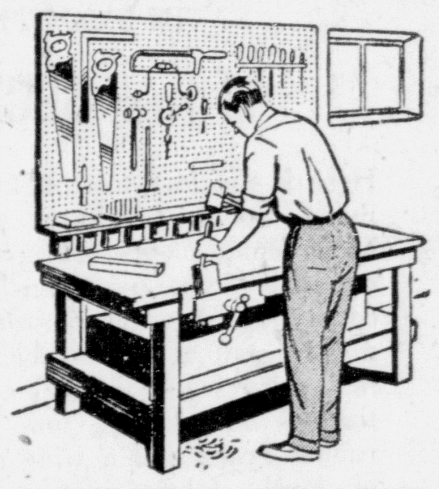
Handy Jim's FIXIN'-UP TIPS For the Home

30-Minute Workbench

NOWADAYS, with do-it-yourself projects a "must" in nearly every household, a workbench is essential. It needn't be pretentious or large. Give the man a vise, hammer, saw and chisel, and he'll soon be in business at his workbench fixing up his home the way he (and the missus) want it!

A simple, strong workbench can be assembled in 30 minutes, using pre-cut lumber and panels of Masonite ¼" Tempered Presdwood for the wearing surface and a storage shelf below. An easy-to-follow plan showing how it's done and listing the materials needed from your lumber yard may be obtained by writing the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and requesting free plan No. AE-312.



Instructions are given, too, for framing and hanging a Masonite "Peg-Board" panel above the workbench for tools.

In most communities, the materials needed for the 30-minute workbench will cost under $15. The bench may be fastened together with nails or screws. The top surface is Tempered Presdwood, popular for this use because it has been found so satisfactory in industry.

First Baptist Celebrates Signing Of Church Charter

The signing of the church charter was celebrated by the First Baptist church of Arlington Heights January 29, closing its charter membership with 57 persons.

Immediately upon close of the morning worship hour, members with invited friends and relatives, assembled for the first annual banquet of the church history. Chorus time was led by R. J. Truelsen, with Mrs. Truelsen, minister of music, at the piano. "Go Not Far From Me, O God" was sung by a mixed quartet. The congregation also enjoyed a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fanstill, musical director and soprano soloist of the Elmhurst Methodist church.

REV. GEORGE I. Beckstrom, pastor, read Matthew Chapter 21, and offered the dedicatory prayer.

Signing of the charter ceremony was then conducted by the pastor, who at the same time welcomed each member with the right hand of official membership. He was assisted by Mr. Truelsen and J. W. Berchmans who presented each person with a membership kit. More then 100 were in attendance at this occasion.

Following the candle-lighting with "Blest Be The Tie," the Rev. Beckstrom gave the benediction. The day's activities closed with a short business meeting and presentation of the proposed constitution.

"INAUGURAL service was held July 10, 1955," recalled Rev. Beckstrom, "after arrangements were made to meet in the Arlington Heights High school. It had long been studied as a possibility, and July 2, a small group of humble, sincere Christians met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Truelsen for the purpose of establishing this church and electing temporary officers of chairman, clerk and treasurer. Now, we have signed our charter, proposed our constitution for study, and are ready to put administrative affairs in order with the election of proper officers. It is our prayer that God will continue to bless the spirit of love so manifest in our church."

The entire program was tape recorded for posterity by Mr. T. J. Rosenthal.

Xmas Seal Sale

North Cook county suburbs are expected to surpass its 1954 Christmas Seal contributions according to indications at the campaign headquarters.

Christmas Seal funds from the city and suburbs are $25,735.00 ahead of the previous Seal Sale, but $44,000.00 is still needed to make the goal of $735,000.00, The Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county said. (G

Palatine, Wheeling Alone In Home Permit Value Hikes

Wheeling experienced the greatest growth in home construction in 1955 among 5 northwest suburban towns. The value of home permits issued in Wheeling jumped 20-fold from 1954 to 1955.

Palatine and Wheeling were the only 2 communities which had increases in home construction over the previous year. Mt. Prospect showed a drop in valuation of nearly $2 million and Arlington Heights had a drop in valuation of more than $1½ million.

Rolling Meadows was incorporated in the first half of 1955 but the new city did not issue building permits until July. Before the permits could be issued, building code had to be adopted. Kimball Hill, the developer of Rolling Meadows, has purchased permits for some but not all homes on which construction began before permits were legally required.

DUE TO THE spectacular growth of both Wheeling and Palatine and the incorporation of Rolling Meadows, the number of permits issued showed a healthy increase over 1954 figures. The 5-town total jumped from 1,466 in 1954 to 2,336 in 1955.

Although a total of 627 homes were begun in Rolling Meadows during 1955, permits were issued on only 323.

Arlington Heights replaced Mt. Prospect in 1955 as the leader in home construction. In 1954 Mt. Prospect was out in front, 648 homes to 641. In 1955 the margin was again narrow, Arlington Heights issuing 529 permits to 515 for Mt. Prospect.

Palatine came close to tripling the value of home builidng over 1954. In that year the value of 158 permits was estimated at $1,966,582; in 1955 427 homes had an estimated value of $5,742,149.

With 19 home permits sold in 1954, Wheeling had, percentage-wise, what is probably one of the top increases in the suburban towns. The number for 1955 was 542 with a valuation of $5,097,018.

Comparative figures for 1954 and 1955 for number of home permits are as follows:

Towns	1955	1954
Arlington Heights	529	641
Wheeling	542	19
Mt. Prospect	515	648
Palatine	427	158
Rolling Meadows	323	—
Total	2,336	1,466

The figures were revealed in the annual review of new building in the Chicago area issued by the Bell Savings and Loan association of Chicago.

First Baptist Celebrates Signing Of Church Charter

The signing of the church charter was celebrated by the First Baptist church of Arlington Heights January 29, closing its charter membership with 57 persons.

Immediately upon close of the morning worship hour, members with invited friends and relatives, assembled for the first annual banquet of the church history. Chorus time was led by R. J. Truelsen, with Mrs. Truelsen, minister of music, at the piano. "Go Not Far From Me, O God" was sung by a mixed quartet. The congregation also enjoyed a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fanstill, musical director and soprano soloist of the Elmhurst Methodist church.

REV. GEORGE I. Beckstrom, pastor, read Matthew Chapter 21, and offered the dedicatory prayer.

Signing of the charter ceremony was then conducted by the pastor, who at the same time welcomed each member with the right hand of official membership. He was assisted by Mr. Truelsen and J. W. Berchmans who presented each person with a membership kit. More then 100 were in attendance at this occasion.

Following the candle-lighting with "Blest Be The Tie," the Rev. Beckstrom gave the benediction. The day's activities closed with a short business meeting and presentation of the proposed constitution.

"INAUGURAL service was held July 10, 1955," recalled Rev. Beckstrom, "after arrangements were made to meet in the Arlington Heights High school. It had long been studied as a possibility, and July 2, a small group of humble, sincere Christians met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Truelsen for the purpose of establishing this church and electing temporary officers of chairman, clerk and treasurer. Now, we have signed our charter, proposed our constitution for study, and are ready to put administrative affairs in order with the election of proper officers. It is our prayer that God will continue to bless the spirit of love so manifest in our church."

The entire program was tape recorded for posterity by Mr. T. J. Rosenthal.

Palatine, Wheeling Alone In Home Permit Value Hikes

Wheeling experienced the greatest growth in home construction in 1955 among 5 northwest suburban towns. The value of home permits issued in Wheeling jumped 20-fold from 1954 to 1955.

Palatine and Wheeling were the only 2 communities which had increases in home construction over the previous year. Mt. Prospect showed a drop in valuation of nearly $2 million and Arlington Heights had a drop in valuation of more than $½ million.

Rolling Meadows was incorporated in the first half of 1955 but the new city did not issue building permits until July. Before the permits could be issued, building code had to be adopted. Kimball Hill, the developer of Rolling Meadows, has purchased permits for some but not all homes on which construction began before permits were legally required.

DUE TO THE spectacular growth of both Wheeling and Palatine and the incorporation of Rolling Meadows, the number of permits issued showed a healthy increase over 1954 figures. The 5-town total jumped from 1,466 in 1954 to 2,336 in 1955.

Although a total of 627 homes were begun in Rolling Meadows during 1955, permits were issued on only 323.

Arlington Heights replaced Mt. Prospect in 1955 as the leader in home construction. In 1954 Mt. Prospect was out in front, 648 homes to 641. In 1955 the margin was again narrow, Arlington Heights issuing 529 permits to 515 for Mt. Prospect.

Palatine came close to tripling the value of home builidng over 1954. In that year the value of 158 permits was estimated at $1,966,582; in 1955 427 homes had an estimated value of $5,742,149.

With 19 home permits sold in 1954, Wheeling had, percentagewise, what is probably one of the top increases in the suburban towns. The number for 1955 was 542 with a valuation of $5,097,018.

Comparative figures for 1954 and 1955 for number of home permits are as follows:

Towns	1955	1954
Arlington Heights	529	641
Wheeling	542	19
Mt. Prospect	515	648
Palatine	427	158
Rolling Meadows	323	—
Total	2,336	1,466

Lohman Crusades For Area Police

by CHARLES HAYES

Are suburbs getting the kind of modern, professional police protection they deserve?

That's a question currently being raised by Cook County Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman.

He thinks suburban departments are doing a good job—as far as they can go.

"Within the county are 350 separate police departments confined to definite jurisdictions. They are dealing with crime as if it begins and ends within the city limits," declared the sheriff.

LOHMAN, who's convinced suburban police are hampered by small staffs, small budgets, and jurisdictional limitations, is trying to abolish his office!

He wants the county sheriff's office taken out of politics. To replace it and all other police units in the county, Lohman is crusading for a single police system for all Cook county.

Such a force would have at its disposal some 11,500 policemen as well as those specialized functions and skills now available only to large departments.

"It takes more than a star, a club, and a uniform to make a professional policeman," explained Lohman. "Crime doesn't stop at village boundaries. At present, suburbs haven't the manpower, facilities, or liasion available in most cases to properly control crime, juvenile delinquency, and local patrol."

HE THINKS a metropolitan police force would free police to enforce the law—and remove local political pressures and favoritism.

To organize such a force, Lohman said the state legislature must pass enabling legislation—and he will request such a bill in the next session.

It would be organized on as non-political basis as possible.

Nine commissioners would be elected to supervise the force, which would be wholly civil service.

Although the city of Chicago would be included in the district, Lohman said that periphery areas of the city and suburbs combined could hold the balance of political control and assure "good government."

THE SHERIFF, a nationally-known criminologist and former university professor, admitted there was strong opposition to his proposal from suburbs.

"People are fearful home rule will be hampered. At stake, however, are local, provincial attitudes — not better policing," he said.

"Organized crime in the form of the syndicate is no respector of jurisdiction. The time has come for all towns to unite in thwarting any attempt of large scale criminal interests to expand their operations outside the city" (B7

Aged Home Residents Recognize Pictures Of Earlier Days

Residents of the Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, Arlington Heights, enjoyed views of early Chicago Wednesday night when S. P. Mulley, 308 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, presented colored slides of Chicago.

Some of the scenes were reminiscent of early days in this century; others are the same today as yesterday.

It has been a long time since these elder people have visited the scenes shown by Mulley. Their revisit by proxy that evening gave them a lot of pleasure.

Mr. Mulley's next showing will be scenes of the Columbian Exposition, the world's fair of 1893. The exact date has not been announced.

NW Scouts Elect Buehler President

Carl Buehler of Palatine was elected president of the Northwest Suburban council of the Boy Scouts of America at a recent dinner meeting of the council attended by 700 adult scouters and their wives.

Elected vice presidents of the council were Edward J. Emery and William P. Utermohlen of Arlington Heights, Carl W. Lewin of Palatine, Alvin H. Roeder of Des Plaines, George W. Benton of Park Ridge and Frank J. Packee of Skokie. Fred E. Welsh of Mt. Prospect was named treasurer and Raymond B. Woodruff commissioner.

Chosen as national council representatives were Erich Schalk of Des Plaines, Kenneth C. MacKay and Wilfred G. Pilgrim of Park Ridge and L. T. McAuliffe and Albert A. Rose Sr. of Arlington Heights.

PRINCIPAL SPEAKER of the evening was William H. Fetridge, chairman of the region seven committee, the body controlling Scouting policies in Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Indiana. The theme of the meeting was the introduction of the new 4-year program which is entitled "Onward for God and My Country."

During the program, a number of awards were given for outstanding leadership. The Silver Beaver award, highest a Council can bestow upon a volunteer scouter, was given to Overton B. Parrish, of Park Ridge, Russell Young, of Palatine and Raymond B. Woodruff of Arlington Heights. Ten special awards were given to outstanding scouters in the Council. Receiving these awards were: Dr. Francis J. Saunders of Skokie, Gerald Schultz of Lincolnwood, Walter T. Craigle of Niles, Richard H. Zorn of Park Ridge, Roy L. Peirce and Dale Hendee of Barrington, William P. Utermohen of Arlington Heights, Allan R. Armstrong of Prospect Heights, Alvin H. Roeder and Jerome Mohr of Des Plaines. (B7

During the program, a number of awards were given for outstanding leadership. The Silver Beaver award, highest a Council can bestow upon a volunteer scouter, was given to Overton B. Parrish, of Park Ridge, Russell Young, of Palatine and Raymond B. Woodruff of Arlington Heights. Ten special awards were given to outstanding scouters in the Council. Receiving these awards were: Dr. Francis J. Saunders of Skokie, Gerald Schultz of Lincolnwood, Walter T. Craigle of Niles, Richard H. Zorn of Park Ridge, Roy L. Peirce and Dale Hendee of Barrington, William P. Utermohen of Arlington Heights, Allan R. Armstrong of Prospect Heights, Alvin H. Roeder and Jerome Mohr of Des Plaines. (B7

Virginia Terrace News

Association Meeting Tomorrow Night

The general meeting of the Virginia Terrace Improvement association will be held this Friday evening at 8:30 p.m. at the VFW hall, the corner of Yale and Northwest highway. Guest speaker will be E. E. Olmstead, president of the plan commission in Arlington Heights. Mr. Olmstead will speak on the functions and authority of the commission and the correlation of the commission with other local government bodies. Refreshments will be served after the meeting. All members should make an effort to attend the open meeting.

Jeannine and John Kearney, 1413 N. Wilke rd., returned last Friday after spending 5 days in Cincinnati. They were attending a convention of the American Society of Heating and Air Conditioning Engineers.

Birthdays

Bradley Trowe, 1240 W. Chicago, celebrated his third birthday last Saturday. Guests at his party were Henry Silver, Jimmy Nelli, Johnny Hoover, Bobby Koenig, Johnny Rosenthal and 2 cousins, Chris and Scotty Anderson from Skokie.

Tuesday Susan Lynne Weinacht, 1221 N. Chicago, celebrated her third birthday. Her party had a Valentine motif and guests were Mary Ann Crouch, Kathy Ladney, Sue Ann and Georgie Herbert, Jon Freeburg, Jean, Susan and Jimmy Nelli, Henry Silver, Patricia, Joanne and Marty Cavanaugh and Catherine Plummer.

New Arrivals

John "Matthew" Johnstone was born January 25 at Sherman hospital, Elgin. He is the son of Joan and John Johnstone, 1345 N. Wilke. The baby has 2 older brothers, Eric and Douglas, and a sister, Aletha.

Theresa Marie Miller was born at St. Francis hospital January 13. She is the daughter of Anne and Fred Miller, 1256 Illinois, and has an older sister, Mary Anthony. The baby was christened at St. James church last Sunday. Godparents were an aunt, Terry Schrup, and William Moore.

Mother Singers

The new choral group, Mother Singers, mentioned in the column last week, will meet on the first, third and fourth Tuesday of the month at 8:30 p.m. at Wilson school. The next meeting will be February 7. The group is under the directorship of Mrs. Lorraine Dean of Palatine, and its main purpose is for the enjoyment of singing. For further information call Gloria Kalous, CL 3-8841.

Newcomers Valentine Dance

The Newcomers Valentine dance will be held Saturday evening, Feb. 11, at the Chevy Chase country club. Dorothy Domingue, 1706 W. Oakton, is chairman in charge of the dance. Tickets may be obtained by calling Dorothy Domingue, CL 3-2814, Isabel Nottali, CL 5-0769, or Jeannine Kearney, CL 3-8255.

Blind Workers Gives Handicapped Financial Independence, Respect

The Blind Workers is a sales organization which distributes products made by the blind or those otherwise handicapped. It is not a charitable institution. Donations are not accepted.

Products made by these people include leather goods, rugs, aprons, door mats, brooms, ironing board covers and other such household articles. Solicitation is done by phone.

People who buy products from representatives have made it possible for hundreds of blind and handicapped to become self-supporting. (B7

Druggist To Display Cancer Aid

Newest weapon in the American Cancer Society's fight against cancer is an exhibit emphasizing the curability of skin cancer. Designed and built by Edward J. Fischer, art director at Arlington High school, the exhibit will be on display at the Arlington Heights pharmacy, 25 W. Davis street, for the next 2 weeks.

"Over 8,000 men, women and children died of cancer in Cook county last year," said Charles J. Walters, area ACS chairman. "At least one-third of them could have been saved if they had gone to their doctors in time. It's a matter of earlier detection and prompt medical treatment. For every cancer patient now being cured, another dies needlessly because treatment was begun too late.

"METHODS OF treatment of cancer have improved to the point where it is now possible to cure many forms of cancer if treatment is begun early enough. This is particularly true of skin cancer. The medical profession is presently curing 85% of all skin cancers, yet a 95% cure rate is possible provided the patient seeks medical care. Nationwide 3,000 persons died of skin cancer last year yet at tleast 2,000 of them could have been saved.

"This demonstrates that early detection is essential to a high rate of cancer cure," Walters said.

He urged that residents of Arlington Heights see the exhibit and that they call or visit the Northwest Suburban Chapter's Information Center at 121 S. Emerson ave. in Mt. Prospect for educational literature providing answers to the life-saving questions of how best to protect your-Euclid, Arlington Heights, was

Exciting Greece Next Stop For Travel Series

CLIFFORD KAMEN

"Greece"—an exciting blend of classic, historic, and upheaval—will be topic Tuesday for Arlington Heights travel and adventure lecture.

Featured will be Clifford Kamen, a newcomer to the series.

Kamen has journeyed in 32 foreign countries and has personally visited every spot described in his films.

He has a background of many years of art training at the Chicago Art institute and the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts which has helped place him in the forefront in excellence of photography and preparation of travel films.

THE TINY island of Greece encompasses a wide variety of people, costumes, geography and architecture. The sites of significant historical events are visited, as are the great monuments and works of art of the "Golden Age" of Greece.

The marble quarries of the ancient Athenians are still in use; the white marble Marathon Dam, Stadium and other public buildings will be shown. You will visit barracks of the Evzone warriors, now the royal guard; observe commerce and industry in post-war Greece; visit homes of not only modest income groups, but also the seaside villas of the wealthy Greeks.

Southern Greece is a fertile green farmland. You visit remote mountain villages; the ruins of ancient Corinth; and the spectacular Corinth Canal, a sea level route through a high table land.

The rugged slopes of Mount Parnassus provide some of the finest scenery in Greece. You visit farms and olive groves, and the great temple at Delphi; farther north we visit the highland pastures on the slopes of Mount Olympus.

FEW VISITORS reach northern Greece. Here language and customs bear' little resemblance to those of the rest of Greece. Modern tractors work around watch towers built by Philip of Macedon 300 years before Christ.

To know Greece at her loveliest, you must know the Greek islands. Clifford Kamen has selected 4 which are individualistic:

Crete, offering scenery, unique dress, and the ruins of Europe's first great civilization

Delos, displays some of the best preserved of ancient Greek monuments, yet today is almost uninhabited

Skyros, gives an insight into the intimate life and homes of Greek islanders.

SACRED MOUNT ATHOS is an independent republic of monasteries which has resisted change since the middle ages. To visit and photograph these monasteries is a privilege rarely granted by the Greek and monastic governments. Clifford Kamen lived in the monastery of San Gregorio in order to secure this part of his travelogue.

In this monastery over 100 recluses live without electricity, telephones or any normal contact with our world. No females are allowed on the peninsula, not even female livestock.

The Mount Athos story is one of the most remarkable Clifford Kamen has even reported in his many years of seeking the unusual of our world. (ACM

Just A Dummy

There she stands, so chic and perfectly groomed. You've probably noticed her nose never needs powdering; there's never a hair out of place on her aloof little head. But don't envy the way she wears her clothes, because she's just a dummy. She's the fashion mannequin in your department store window.

Announce $2,000 Amvets Scholarships For Students

Amvets will award a $2,000 four-year college scholarship to a student in this national district of Amvets.

The students father must be deceased or totally disabled as a result of his military service during World War II or the Korean Conflict, Earl Hamren, commander of Amvets Post No. 66 of Wheeling announced today.

The scholarship to be awarded in this region is one of a group which will be given for the fifth consecutive year by the Amvets National Service foundation of Washington, Commander Hamren explained. Each scholarship will provide the winner with $500 per year for four years of undergraduate college study at any accredited college.

In addition, the Amvets will award, on behalf of the Burmese government, a special $1,000 four year college scholarship to a high school senior whose father was killed or totally disabled in the Burma campaigns of World War II. Amvets was one of three organizations selected by President Eisenhower to administer a $5,000 gift presented by Prime Minister U Nu of Burma when he visited the United States last summer.

The gift was given to assist children of Americans who lost their lives or were totally disabled in Burma fighting. The Amvets National Service foundation has supplemented the portion of the Burmese gift entrusted to Amvets in order to award two $1,000 scholarships, one this year and one next year.

High school students may apply for the Amvets Memorial Scholarship or the special Burmese scholship by submitting applications forms obtained from Rudolph E. Horcher, 210 E. Dundee, Wheeling. The applications must be submitted to the Amvets National Service Foundation in Washington, D. C., no later than February 20.

Eligible applicants will be given a national competitive college aptitude examination in their high schools on March 20. The National Association of Secondary School Principals will provide and grade the examinations and recommend the scholarship winners, on the basis of examination results, high school records and financial need. Exciting Greece Next Stop For Travel Series

CLIFFORD KAMEN

"Greece"— an exciting blend of classic, historic, and upheaval— will be topic Tuesday for Arlington Heights travel and adventure lecture.

Featured will be Clifford Kamen, a newcomer to the series.

Kamen has journeyed in 32 foreign countries and has personally visited every spot described in his films.

He has a background of many years of art training at the Chicago Art institute and the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts which has helped place him in the forefront in excellence of photography and preparation of travel films.

THE TINY island of Greece encompasses a wide variety of people, costumes, geography and architecture. The sites of significant historical events are visited, as are the great monuments and works of art of the "Golden Age" of Greece.

The marble quarries of the ancient Athenians are still in use; the white marble Marathon Dam, Stadium and other public buildings will be shown. You will visit barracks of the Evzone warriors, now the royal guard; observe commerce and industry in post-war Greece; visit homes of not only modest income groups, but also the seaside villas of the wealthy Greeks.

Southern Greece is a fertile green farmland. You visit remote mountain villages; the ruins of ancient Corinth; and the spectacular Corinth Canal, a sea level route through a high table land.

The rugged slopes of Mount Parnassus provide some of the finest scenery in Greece. You visit farms and olive groves, and the great temple at Delphi; farther north we visit the highland pastures on the slopes of Mount Olympus.

FEW VISITORS reach northern Greece. Here language and customs bear' little resemblance to those of the rest of Greece. Modern tractors work around watch towers built by Philip of Macedon 300 years before Christ.

To know Greece at her loveliest, you must know the Greek islands. Clifford Kamen has selected 4 which are individualistic:

Crete, offering scenery, unique dress, and the ruins of Europe's first great civilization

Delos, displays some of the best preserved of ancient Greek monuments, yet today is almost uninhabited

Skyros, gives an insight into the intimate life and homes of Greek islanders.

SACRED MOUNT ATHOS is an independent republic of monasteries which has resisted change since the middle ages. To visit and photograph these monasteries is a privilege rarely granted by the Greek and monastic governments. Clifford Kamen lived in the monastery of San Gregorio in order to secure this part of his travelogue.

In this monastery over 100 recluses live without electricity, telephones or any normal contact with our world. No females are allowed on the peninsula, not even female livestock.

The Mount Athos story is one of the most remarkable Clifford Kamen has even reported in his many years of seeking the unusual of our world. (ACM

WATCH FOR OUR GRAND OPENING FEB. 17 & 18

THE HOLBROOK HOUSE PROGRAM will be presented at Our Lady of the Wayside parish hall, Arlington Heights, February 9 at 8 p. m. at the regular meeting of the Catholic Womans club.

This Week with PTA

Sex Education For Pre-Schoolers Topic Feb. 7

A man who never fails to draw a capacity audience in Arlington Heights will speak Tuesday evening to the pre-school study group at 8:15 in the Junior high cafeteria. He is Franklin R. Fitch, M.D., executive director of the Illinois Social Hygiene league, member of the faculty of Northwestern university's school of medicine, and vice-president of the department of health and home service of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Dr. Fitch's advocacy of "teaching 'em young" is well known to anyone who has heard him in previous appearances here. His ease and sincerity as a speaker are equalled only by his frankness and honesty in replying to questions from his listeners.

Those who attend this third meeting of the pre-school study group are assured a highly interesting and educational evening.

Jr. High PTA

A 6-member panel of Junior high faculty members, with Superintendent of Schools Ralph E. Clabaugh as moderator, discussed at the January meeting "Are Our Students Prepared for High School?"

Through discussion, the panelists described and clarified certain aims of education: In teaching English, for example, the instructor attempts to develop a functional use of the language through practice in communication by both writing and speaking.

In mathematics, students are drilled in basic number skills and in logical thinking through the use of numbers. With work in reading and literature, the teacher tries to augment basic reading skills learned in the elementary grades, and develop reading tastes.

In the field of sports, it was brought out, the junior high years are a period of discovery, with a program in which every boy and girl fits. No more stress is given to school teams than to the intramural contests. Athletes cannot be picked out at this age level because of rapid growth and physical change, 2 factors requiring caution in the type of program offered.

The art program is designed to be all-incusive, since for most children these years afford their last formal education in the subject. Last, but not least, citizenship is taught not only in the classroom but through practical application with the student council, whereby students learn to discipline themselves, work with others on committees, and to lead others in group activities.

In answer to the basic question of preparedness, the panelists agreed that Junior high graduates enter high school in all degrees of preparedness, a situation that prevails at any grade or age level. Much depends on the inspiration, encouragement and guidance the child receives in the home.

Panel members were Donald V. Grote, principal; Miss Vivian Miles, seventh grade home room teacher; Robert Spinks, physical education supervisor; Miss Lois Heimlich, mathematics teachers; Louis Rubidoux, sixth grade home room teacher; and Joseph Tomlinson ,assistant principal.

Local TOPS Club To Enter Contestants In National Contest

The annual convention of the national TOPS "Take Off Pounds Sensibly" organization will be held in Milwaukee April 25, 26 and 27. Mt. Prospect Diet Dears club, affiliated with the national organization of TOPS, will enter some of its winners in competition with other divisional winners.

Mt. Prospect Diet Dears will be celebrating its first anniversary in April. The group of 20 women meet once a week to weigh-in and spend a social evening. Rewards are made to high weekly losers together with a special award to the high monthly loser. A fine is levied against a member for any weight gained. One member has had a loss of 38 pounds in months and another a loss of pounds in 2 months.

Group discussion of sensible diets and how these losses were attained are given at each meeting together with suggestions of low calorie menus and recipes. Once a month the club has a low calorie dinner.

Since starting the club 2 members have attained their goals and are now labelled "KOPS," Keep Off Pounds Sensibly.

Mrs. W. Zapel, CL 3-1516, is the club leader and Mrs. E. Hauptly CL 3-0937, is treasurer. These officers, together with a co-leader, secretary, weight recorder and assistant weight recorder, handle the business end of the club. (B7

Sex Education For Pre-Schoolers Topic Feb. 7

A man who never fails to draw a capacity audience in Arlington Heights will speak Tuesday evening to the pre-school study group at 8:15 in the Junior high cafeteria. He is Franklin R. Fitch, M.D., executive director of the Illinois Social Hygiene league, member of the faculty of Northwestern university's school of medicine, and vice-president of the department of health and home service of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Dr. Fitch's advocacy of "teaching 'em young" is well known to anyone who has heard him in previous appearances here. His ease and sincerity as a speaker are equalled only by his frankness and honesty in replying to questions from his listeners.

Those who attend this third meeting of the pre-school study group are assured a highly interesting and educational evening.

Jr. High PTA

A 6-member panel of Junior high faculty members, with Superintendent of Schools Ralph E. Clabaugh as moderator, discussed at the January meeting "Are Our Students Prepared for High School?"

Through discussion, the panelists described and clarified certain aims of education: In teaching English, for example, the instructor attempts to develop a functional use of the language through practice in communication by both writing and speaking.

In mathematics, students are drilled in basic number skills and in logical thinking through the use of numbers. With work in reading and literature, the teacher tries to augment basic reading skills learned in the elementary grades, and develop reading tastes.

In the field of sports, it was brought out, the junior high years are a period of discovery, with a program in which every boy and girl fits. No more stress is given to school teams than to the intramural contests. Athletes cannot be picked out at this age level because of rapid growth and physical change, 2 factors requiring caution in the type of program offered.

The art program is designed to be all-incusive, since for most children these years afford their last formal education in the subject. Last, but not least, citizenship is taught not only in the classroom but through practical application with the student council, whereby students learn to discipline themselves, work with others on committees, and to lead others in group activities.

In answer to the basic question of preparedness, the panelists agreed that Junior high graduates enter high school in all degrees of preparedness, a situation that prevails at any grade or age level. Much depends on the inspiration, encouragement and guidance the child receives in the home.

Panel members were Donald V. Grote, principal; Miss Vivian Miles, seventh grade home room teacher; Robert Spinks, physical education supervisor; Miss Lois Heimlich, mathematics teachers; Louis Rubidoux, sixth grade home room teacher; and Joseph Tomlinson ,assistant principal.

Local TOPS Club To Enter Contestants In National Contest

The annual convention of the national TOPS "Take Off Pounds Sensibly" organization will be held in Milwaukee April 25, 26 and 27. Mt. Prospect Diet Dears club, affiliated with the national organization of TOPS, will enter some of its winners in competition with other divisional winners.

Mt. Prospect Diet Dears will be celebrating its first anniversary in April. The group of 20 women meet once a week to weigh-in and spend a social evening. Rewards are made to high weekly losers together with a special award to the high monthly loser. A fine is levied against a member for any weight gained. One member has had a loss of 38 pounds in months and another a loss of pounds in 2 months.

Group discussion of sensible diets and how these losses were attained are given at each meeting together with suggestions of low calorie menus and recipes. Once a month the club has a low calorie dinner.

Since starting the club 2 members have attained their goals and are now labelled "KOPS," Keep Off Pounds Sensibly.

Mrs. W. Zapel, CL 3-1516, is the club leader and Mrs. E. Hauptly CL 3-0937, is treasurer. These officers, together with a co-leader, secretary, weight recorder and assistant weight recorder, handle the business end of the club. (B7

Nancy Weir Adds Glamor To Miami Beach High School

Nancy Weir, daughter of the Clarence T. Weirs, 425 S. Pine, Arlington Heights, who is teaching this year at Miami Beach high school, Miami Beach, Fla., has been "confounding" southern parents and pupils because she looks so much like a senior student herself. Actually, petite and brunette Miss Weir is the new debate coach and speech teacher in this Dade county high school.

NANCY WEIR

During the fall the Miami Herald took a look at some of the newer school ma'ams and decided that they looked more like glamor girls than teachers of the finer arts. In deference to this new crop of potential pin-up girls, the Herald ran a Sunday feature on "Glamor Invades the Classroom" and included a large photo and story about Miss Weir.

Taught in Rockford

Actually Miss Weir is not new at this teaching busniess, for she spent last year in Illinois as a speech teacher at Rockford high school. During the past 2 summers she has taught at National High School institute at Northwestern university, Evanston. She is a 1949 graduate of Arlington high school and she majored in speech at Northwestern, from which univdrsity she received her degree in 1953.

Being only 5 feet 2 inches tall and of slight build, it is no wonder that she is often taken for one of the students. In fact the remark she hears quite often from the parents goes like this. "Why, you look young enough to be a high school student yourself." But if they could see her in her apartment at 1756 NE Fourth ave., Miami, pouring over magazines and books to get "ideas for my debaters," they'd know better.

The Herald wisely sums up the "newest" school situation by saying, "with teachers like these in the classrooms, nobody is going to mind staying after school." In some instances this is already true, but perhaps we should add, all local school boards please take note!

Planning a party? The dessert we are featuring this week Is perfect for serving a group of 12.

The recipe is being shared with us by Mrs. Kenneth B. Waindle, whose sister received it from a Chicago chef.

Called Pineapple Graham Cracker Pudding, it is in reality a refrigerator dessert which is cut in squares when served.

Composed of layers of whole graham crackers and a pineapple mixture, it is topped with whipped cream.

The pineapple mixture contains sugar, butter, eggs, crushed pineapple, chopped nuts and whipped cream.

Rich and delicious, this dessert is truly party fare. It is prepared 8 to 12 hours before it is served, and Mrs. Waindle recommends that it be served the same day that it is made.

Although this is not a Pope recipe, Mrs. Waindle did attend the fancy cookery class at the Pope Cooking school.

The Waindles moved from Chicago to their home at 922 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, three years ago.

They have one daughter, Barbara Ann, who is 7 years old.

Pineapple Graham Cracker Pudding

¼ pound butter
¾ cup granulated sugar
2 eggs, well-beaten
2 cups crushed pineapple, well-drained
1 cup coarsely chopped nuts
¾ pint whipping' cream
Large box graham crackers

Cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Then add well-beaten eggs.

Add well-drained pineapple and chopped nuts. Lightly fold in whipped cream.

Place in refrigerator until cake pan is prepared.

Line bottom of 8 by 12 by 2 inch cake pan with whole graham crackers. Then spread filling about one-half inch thick over entire cracker area.

Repeat process until pan depth is filled, ending with a layer of graham crackers on top. (Should be two layers of pineapple filling).

Set in refrigerator about 8 to 12 hours.

When ready to serve, cut into squares and top with whipped cream. Serves 12.

Unique Fashion Show

Fifteen youngsters will pop out of a life-sized valentine onto the runway for a unique fashion show February 7 featuring grandmothers and grandchildren of prominent Chicago families. The show will take place at 11 a.m. in the Grand Ballroom of the Lake Shore club and is presented by Bramson.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. What are the required tips a train traveler must be prepared to give?

A. The tip to the porter who carries your bags and conducts you to the train. On the train there is the Pullman porter. In the dining car, there is the tip to the waiter, and if you order any kind of drink, tip the boy who brings it. Upon arrival at destination, tip the station porter who carries your luggage to your taxi or car.

Q. When I am conducting my wife and a woman friend of hers to a dance at our country club, with which one should I dance the first dance?

A. With your woman guest. It would be exceedingly rude to her if you left her alone at the start of the evening while you danced with your wife.

Q. What should one write on the card enclosed with flowers sent to a funeral?

A. "With Sympathy," or, "With deepest sympathy" is sufficient.

Q. Where should a couple stop dancing if they wish to leave the floor during a dance?

A. They should dance to the edge of the circle of dancers. They should not stop in the middle of the floor and try to walk between the dancers, where they are almost certain to be in the way.

Q I have received wedding gifts from out-of-town relatives of my husband, whom I've never met. What salutation should I make to each of these in my thank-you notes?

A. Address each relative of your husband as he does — as "Aunt Mary," "Uncle John," or "Cousin Bill."

Q. When eating a soft-fried egg, is it all right to put a small bit of bread on the end of the fork and use this to dip up the yolk?

A. This is quite all right.

Q. Is it necessary always to give the reason for declining an invitation?

A. When writing a formal refusal to a third-person formal invitation, no explanation is needed. But when you decline an informal invitation received from a good friend, then it is always better to explain.

Q. If a bride's father is not living, should the mother give her away?

A. This is seldom done, the rite usually being performed by a man. The bride may choose her brother, an uncle, cousin, or even a very close friend of the family.

Maternity Center To Launch Enrollment Drive

Continuing a tradition started 12 years ago, Mrs. John A. King of Lake Forest, chairman of the Chicago Maternity center's board of directors, will entertain 400 women volunteers February 2 at the Casino club, with a luncheon to mark the opening of the center's 1956 enrollment drive.

Local women taking part in the drive are Mrs. Ellen Crofoot, 630 N. Haddow ave., Arlington Heights, team chairman, and members of her team, Mrs. John L. Baker, Mrs. Edwin Bragdon, Mrs. Charles B. Add well-drained pineapple and chopped nuts. Lightly fold in whipped cream.

Place in refrigerator until cake pan is prepared.

Line bottom of 8 by 12 by 2 inch cake pan with whole graham crackers. Then spread filling about one-half inch thick over entire cracker area.

Repeat process until pan depth is filled, ending with a layer of graham crackers on top. (Should be two layers of pineapple filling).

Set in refrigerator about 8 to 12 hours.

When ready to serve, cut into squares and top with whipped cream. Serves 12.

Unique Fashion Show

Fifteen youngsters will pop out of a life-sized valentine onto the runway for a unique fashion show February 7 featuring grandmothers and grandchildren of prominent Chicago families. The show will take place at 11 a.m. in the Grand Ballroom of the Lake Shore club and is presented by Bramson.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. What are the required tips a train traveler must be prepared to give?

A. The tip to the porter who carries your bags and conducts you to the train. On the train there is the Pullman porter. In the dining car, there is the tip to the waiter, and if you order any kind of drink, tip the boy who brings it. Upon arrival at destination, tip the station porter who carries your luggage to your taxi or car.

Q. When I am conducting my wife and a woman friend of hers to a dance at our country club, with which one should I dance the first dance?

A. With your woman guest. It would be exceedingly rude to her if you left her alone at the start of the evening while you danced with your wife.

Q. What should one write on the card enclosed with flowers sent to a funeral?

A. "With Sympathy," or, "With deepest sympathy" is sufficient.

Q. Where should a couple stop dancing if they wish to leave the floor during a dance?

A. They should dance to the edge of the circle of dancers. They should not stop in the middle of the floor and try to walk between the dancers, where they are almost certain to be in the way.

Q I have received wedding gifts from out-of-town relatives of my husband, whom I've never met. What salutation should I make to each of these in my thank-you notes?

A. Address each relative of your husband as he does — as "Aunt Mary," "Uncle John," or "Cousin Bill."

Q. When eating a soft-fried egg, is it all right to put a small bit of bread on the end of the fork and use this to dip up the yolk?

A. This is quite all right.

Q. Is it necessary always to give the reason for declining an invitation?

A. When writing a formal refusal to a third-person formal invitation, no explanation is needed. But when you decline an informal invitation received from a good friend, then it is always better to explain.

Q. If a bride's father is not living, should the mother give her away?

A. This is seldom done, the rite usually being performed by a man. The bride may choose her brother, an uncle, cousin, or even a very close friend of the family.

Maternity Center To Launch Enrollment Drive

Continuing a tradition started 12 years ago, Mrs. John A. King of Lake Forest, chairman of the Chicago Maternity center's board of directors, will entertain 400 women volunteers February 2 at the Casino club, with a luncheon to mark the opening of the center's 1956 enrollment drive.

Local women taking part in the drive are Mrs. Ellen Crofoot, 630 N. Haddow ave., Arlington Heights, team chairman , and members of her team, Mrs. John L. Baker, Mrs. Edwin Bragdon, Mrs. Charles B. Cronin, Mrs. L. Norman Hawkey, Mrs. John A. Lindstrom, Mrs. Robert L. McFadin, Mrs. John M. Otzen and Mrs. Weir Swanson, all of Arlington Heights. Members of the team from other communities are Mrs. Herbert A. Herrmann of Mt. Prospect, Mrs. Bill Sheets of Prospect Heights and Mrs. Frederick C. Rueckert of Inverness Countryside.

Principal speaker at the luncheon will be John W. Evers, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry and president of Commonwealth Edison Co.

The Maternity Center is now in its 61st year. Each year the center delivers over 3500 babies to Chicago mothers and trains doctors and medical students in obstretrics. Goal of the drive is to enroll 1000 new contributors.

Health Films For 7th District Meet

Feehanville School

Mrs. Hazel C. Cavett's room won the book award for parent attendance at the last PTA meeting.

Report cards have been issued and on the honor roll this period are: third grade, Robert Christiansen; fourth grade, Joseph Wehlacz; fifth grade, Jennifer Williams and Robert Broberg; sixth grade, Larry Bischof, Donna Jean Murphy, John Ramsey and Patricia Zschach; seventh grade, Sylvia Durso, Betty Sue Henk, Catherine Kirste and Bruce Murdock; eighth grade, Elaine Hanson and Frank Sullivan.

J. W. Alstrin, principal, said the school wishes to express thanks to Louis Bartucci for his gift of a ping pong table, complete with equipment. The children are getting much enjoyment and exercise from its use. He said they also wish to express thanks to the PTA for the colorful new couch cover purchased for the studio couch in the teachers' lounge.

The Feehanville basketball team played 2 home games this past week. Tuesday they won their game with Lady of the Wayside, 46-14, and Thursday they lost the game to St. Peter school in Arlington. Today they are playing Wheeling, also a home game. Spectators welcome.

The Kindergarten association is having a meeting at 7:30 p.m., February 8, at the Feehanville school. Registration for the next year will be taken that night, and all planning to send children to kindergarten next year are asked to attend this meeting.

Forest River Church

Exciting plans for the TFC box social are being made, and the ladies are asked to use boxes the size and shape of shoe boxes wrapped in white tissue paper and tied with a red ribbon, in order to make recognition of the boxes more difficult.

The Boys Brigade won its basketball game with Madison St. Bible church, 45-35. The boys are playing the brigade of the Judson Park Baptist church this Saturday.

Community

Roman Anderson, trustee of the Forest River volunteer fire department, when commenting on the sign "condemned as firetrap" which has been placed on a house on Lee st., said: "It has not been condemned by the Forest River fire department, and the fire district did not condemn it. At this time we do not know who condemned it or why."

The women's auxiliary in cooperation with the Civic association is planning a games party for February 13, for the benefit of the Polio foundation. Donations of gifts and cakes will be needed to make this a success. The public is invited.

At the last Civic association meeting it was announced that vehicle stickers are now available to all members and can be obtained from the secretary, Mrs. Richard Kozel. A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Paul Kleeman for her outstanding work as treasurer of the association for the last several years. Mrs. Kleeman is already at work on her new job as co-chairman of the ways and means committee and mentioned several ideas she is developing. Refreshments were served after the business meeting, with Frank Wilbacher and Louis Young on the refreshment committee. Dues for the coming year were collected after the meeting.

Scout News

Intermediate scout troop 233 held its troop birthday party last Thursday afternoon. The party started with the flag ceremony and candlelighting ceremony, with the girls standing in horseshoe formation. Bonnie Sim was flag bearer, with Jackie Sim and Charlotte Mius color guard. Mrs. Elmer Carlson, leader, was invested by Mrs. Laurenz Hauser, neighborhood chairman, after which Mrs. Carlson invested Charlotte Mius and Jackie Sim. Year stars were presented to Sharon Anderson, Mary Jane Arkell, Elaine Hanson, Mary Alice Hauser, Mary Edgeworth, Betty Broberg, Donna Jean Murphy, Emma Mae West, Sue Ellen Steward and Bonnie Sim. Second class badges were presented to Donna Jean Murphy, Betty Broberg, Mary Edgeworth, Bonnie Sim and Mary Alice Hauser. Mary Alice also received the homemaker and cooking badges. Sharon Anderson received the camp craft, adventure, child care, skater, cooking and cat and dog badges. After the badges were awarded, Mrs. Marguerite Broberg and Mrs. I. A. Hanson gave each girl a small memento from the leaders of last year, Mrs. Broberg, Mrs. Hanson and Mrs. Dorothy Karnuth. Mary Jane Arkell made a speech of appreciation to Mrs. Hanson for her 3 year's leadership and Sharon Anderson presented Mrs. Hanson with a gift from the troop. The girls sang several songs before they closed the ceremony with the traditional wish ring.

Refreshments were served by the girls after the ceremony, cakes and fudge in most cases made by the girls themselves. Included among the guests were Mrs. Mius, Mrs. Hjalmar Sandquist, Mrs. Harold Broberg, Mrs. Fred Sim, Mrs. Arthur Hanson, Mrs. Mundy of Maryville, Mrs. Roman Anderson, Mrs. Kenneth Zschach and Mrs. Laurenz Hauser.

Batters' Ball

A group of ladies working with the Little League committee, met at the school last week Wednesday to make plans for the Batters' ball, scheduled for February 4. Doris Milz and Rita Badalamenti, who have been working toward organizing a ladies' auxiliary to the Little League committee, opened the meeting. Discussion was held on donations from interested people, to be used the evening of the ball. Officers of the group were elected, with Mrs. Joseph Murdock elected president and Mrs. Pauline Bartucci the secretary-treasurer. Among those who attended this meeting were Mrs. Leonard Castre. Mrs. Charles Badalamenti, Mrs. Sterbenz, Mrs. William Steiner, Mrs. John Nowicki, Mrs. Elmer Milz, Mrs. Walter Swiatowy, Mrs. Joseph Murdock, Mrs. C. W. Flink, Mrs. Irwin Phar, Mrs. Louis Bartucci and Mrs. A. R. Hanson.

Sympathy

Friends and neighbors are offering sympathy to Roman Anderson on the death of his father, Martin Anderson, who died of a heart attack January 19. The funeral was held Saturday at 4 p.m. at Saginaw, Minn. Tom and Ramona Marcotte and Cleo Richards and Mr. and Mrs. Roman Anderson were among those from out of town who attended the funeral, and they are all former residents of Forest River. Roman Anderson wishes to thank the fire department for sending flowers, and the neighbors for cards expressing sympathy.

Stork Shower

A pink and blue shower was held at the Community hall last Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Paul Reynolds, nee Wehlacz, as guest of honor. There were 86 guests present. Mrs. Reynolds received a teeter-babe, high chair, bassinette and everything a new baby would need, from friends, relatives and neighbors who attended. The huge centerpiece for the table was a bassinet filled with colorful fresh flowers. Ham, potato salad, salad molds and cake were served with coffee and punch. Mrs. Stanley Warren helped with the serving, and Mrs. Hartzog made all the favors, which were little cups in the shape of diapers. The guests danced and played cards after the gifts were opened. Friends and relatives came from LaPorte, Ind., Thorpe, Wis., Lombard, Chicago, North Lake, Northbrook, Lake Villa, Des Plaines and Barrington. The Reynolds are now living in their trailer in a mobile park in Wood Dale, Ill.

Mrs. Henry Schmitz on Anita st. was the lucky lady at Pesches last week. Mel Bellair, master of ceremonies, was interviewing Mrs. Schmitz when the alarm rang, which meant she received the Naxon Beanery plus a pound of J. Webo's Wake-up coffee. Mr. Bellair said he was attracted by the feathery lapel ornament she was wearing. The program was taped, and will be heard this Thursday at 1 p.m. over WBBM.

Birthday celebrants this week are Betty Brewer, who was 11 January 27, and Terry Bischof, who is 4 today, Thursday.

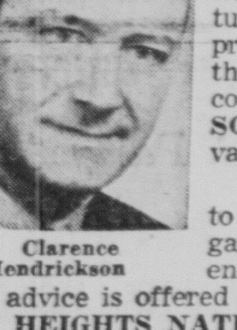
Hi Folks! We'll be visiting with you from this space every other week. Hope you'll enjoy reading news of your friends and neighbors and will find the various bits of information helpful to your better living as members of this community.

BILL SIEGAL, owner of the new ARLINGTON HOUSE restaurant formerly known as Simson's, is a young man who has made a career of the restaurant business. He holds a degree from Michigan State University in Hotel and Restaurant Administration and before opening up ARLINGTON HOUSE served stints as manager of the famous Schulers restaurant in Marshall, Michigan and as an executive with the Fred Harvey chain. We can count on BILL SIEGAL to make ARLINGTON HOUSE, located on the northwest corner of Rand rd. and Euclid just outside of Arlington Heights, one of the finest eating places in Chicago's Northwest suburbs.

CLARENCE HENDRICKSON of WILLSON and FLORENCE Realtors, Arlington Heights, tells me 1955 was the biggest year in the over 25-year history of the office. However, CLARENCE expects this year to be even bigger because the mortgage market has loosened up again and more people will be able to buy houses with smaller down payments. To make the picture even brighter for home buyers, he predicts prices on existing houses will remain firm although new construction will probably increase in cost . . . If you're looking for a new house, WILLSON and FLORENCE have many fine homes available in all price ranges.



Clarence Hendrickson

When you're ready to buy a home it'll be to your advantage to apply for an FHA mortgage. It is particularly desirable in that it will enable you to get a maximum loan from your bank. This advice is offered by ROLLIE FRANZEN, Veep of the ARLINGTON HEIGHTS NATIONAL BANK. And, according to ROLLIE, it normally takes only 2 to 3 weeks to process an FHA home mortgage loan. For those of you who are already home owners and wish to improve and modernize your property, you can get a convenient FHA home improvement loan set up in 24 to 48 hours. Why not go in and discuss these FHA loans with one of the loan officers of the ARLINGTON HEIGHTS NATIONAL BANK.

By now most of you have probably noticed the unusual electric clock atop FURNITURE TOWN at Vail and Campbell Aves. in Arlington Heights. This attractive, highly accurate timepiece which keeps revolving and stays lit 24 hours a day can be seen from a three-block radius. MOREY LERMAN, boss-man of FURNITURE TOWN, got the idea to install the timepiece because so many people were constantly coming into his store asking for the time in connection with avoiding parking meter violations and meeting train schedules . . . MOREY hopes the presence of the big clock in the center of town proves to be a great convenience to the community.

Nine years ago DICK MICHALSKI and BOB PETERSEN started the ARLINGTON MILK company as a modest, two-man operation with 1 route and 1 truck. Today their organization employs 42 people and has 24 routes with as many trucks. Covering an estimated 960 miles per day, ARLINGTON MILK serves thousands of satisfied customers all the way from Palatine's city limits west to Chicago's city limits east between the wide expanse of Touhy Ave. and Dundee Rd. And each driver, incidentally, is a resident of the area in which he works. The reason for the enviable success story of ARLINGTON MILK? Outstanding quality and service!

HARRY KNAACK of HARRY H. KNAACK MOTOR SALES, located next to the Village Hall in Arlington Heights, was telling me the other day there are a lot of people who would give anything to own a luxurious new Buick, but kinda feel it's out of their price class. The fact of the matter is that if you can afford one of the three so-called low-priced automobiles you can afford a Buick. HARRY explains that your old car is worth so much more when traded in at his Buick agency the actual cash difference is comparatively slight. Those of you who have been hoping for the day when you can move into the Buick class would do well to drop over right quick to HARRY H. KNAACK MOTOR SALES show-room and look into the matter.

Wonder how many of you know that the LORRAINE-ANNE SHOP of Arlington Heights which specializes in ladies', children's and infants' wear also carries apparel for small boys. TILLIE MENSCHING and JERRY SHEAHEN, mgr. of LORRAINE-ANNE, showed me some other examples of the store's unusually wide range of fine merchandise which includes, in addition to women's dresses, suits and coats, separate departments for millinery, bras and girdles, sweaters, handbags, sportswear and costume jewelry. As JERRY pointed out to me, LORRAINE ANNE carries just about everything in wearing apparel for "girls" between 6 and 60.

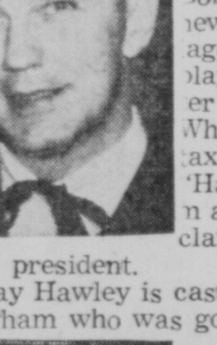
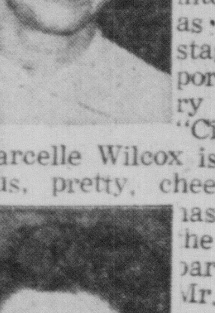
Thumbnail sketches of the cast and crew of "Angel Street" a 3-act Victorian thriller produced by Village Theatre, Inc., of Arlington Heights, sponsored by the Nurses Club and presented at the Arlington Heights Junior High school auditorium February 9 and 11 at 8:30 p.m.



Bob Tindall appears as the tall, good looking Mr. Manningham. His manner is suave and authoritative with a touch of mystery and bitterness. Bob is a relative newcomer to Village Theatre. He played the minister in "Silver Whistle," and the taxi driver in 'Harvey." Toastmasters club claims him as vice president.

Kay Hawley is cast as Mrs. Manningham who was good looking, almost a beauty, but who now has a wan, haggard air with rings under her eyes which tell of sleepless nights and worse. Kay is a charter member of Village Theatre and former vice president and talent bank chairman, and has played major roles in several productions, including "Blithe Spirit," "You Can't Take it With You," "George Washington Slept Here," "Life With Father." She has directed several children's plays and written and directed historical plays for the Arlington Heights Woman's club and First Presbyterian church.



Barbara Houskeeper is cast as Elizabeth, an amiable, subservient housekeeper (type casting). Barbara first appeared as Cleota, the Negro maid in "Male Animal." Her major interest is design as applied to the stage. She also portrayed the fairy godmother in "Cinderella."

Marcelle Wilcox is the self-conscious, pretty, cheeky maid who has an eye for the boys, and particularly for Mr. Manningham. Marcelle is this year's Village Theatre treasurer, is a native of Quebec and has been active in the group for 4 years. She has played in 'George Washington Slept Here," "Ladies in Retirement" and 'Silver Whistle" and is a perennial favorite in the annual children's plays.

Al Wilcox appears as Rough the detective, who is middle-aged, greying, short, brusque, friendly, overbearing, with a low, warm chuckle. Al has played a variety of roles since becoming interested in amateur theatrics. He appeared in "Male Animal," "Silver Whistle" and "Harvey." He is a member of Toastmasters Club and in "real life" is a chemical engineer.

Alta Hutchinson heads the furniture crew for "Angel Street." It is her job to round up all the heavy drapes and dingy profusion of furniture of the 1880's. Alta is one of the most responsible crew heads of Village Theatre and on several occasions has been business manager responsible for selling more than 1000 tickets to children's plays. She appeared in an important role in "Cinderella" and as Mrs. Kirby in "You Can't Take it With You."

Where'd The Road Go?

The lawn that has been called "the most beautiful in Rolling Meadows" by many residents doesn't look that way anymore.

Last Saturday evening, a car drove across the lawn and walks of Joe and Sina McGovern, at the corner of Wilke rd. and Grove st. Police theorize the damage was probably done by someone while intoxicated. The route taken by the car in rutting the lawn indicated a deliberate attempt rather than an accidental wandering from the road.

While Mr. McGovern was at home at the time the damage must have occurred, he did not hear anything. Police are hoping someone saw the damage attempt and will report to them.

They Splash Their Way To Fun, Frolic

Splashing their way to fun, members of the Guys and Dolls teen club last Saturday held a swimming party.

The New Lawrence hotel pool in Chicago was the site for the splash party of the club. The group met at the Barn and traveled to Chicago for the swimming period which lasted from 6:30 to 9:30 p. m. Acting as chaperones for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wasko.

The HUNGRY SPORTSMAN

Wild Rice O'Neill

On the border of Upper Michigan and Wisconsin is a very fine walleye lake, Lac Vieux Desert, and it was while fishing there almost 20 years ago that we got this wild rice dish from our guide, "Pepper" O'Neill, who drew his nickname from his fondness for the black spice. Hardly anything he ate escaped a generous dusting, including his breakfast eggs, which received a coating that almost buried them from view!

"Pepper" was quite proud of his baked wild rice. . . which you will like, too, but without the supercharging he imparted!

While 1 cup of wild rice was cooking in the double boiler, "Peper" was busy preparing the other ingredients for his pride and joy. He would start out with 1 pound of pork sausage, which he would "zipup" by adding pepper until it was at least a shade darker. The sausage was formed into patties which were fried out, after which he would slice and fry 2 small onions to a golden brown in a little of the sausage fat. Finally, 2 eggs (well peppered) were scrambled. Into a bowl went these three ingredients to be broken with a fork, then added to the cooked rice. When all were well mixed, they were transferred to a large, shallow baking dish and moistened with 1 can condensed tomato soup (undiluted). Into the oven went the dish for 15 or 20 minutes, then strips of cheese were laid across the top and the baking continued until the cheese was melted. (Sp

February Meeting Place For Bible Class Is Changed

Members of the Roling Meadows Women's Bible class will change the meeting place for their first monthly meeting. Meeting place for the month of February will be the home of Mrs. Lee Hultgren, 2308 South st. Meetings are held each Monday at 7:30 p.m.

The first meeting of each month is followed by a brief social period at which the hostess for the month serves refreshments to her guests. This makes the first monthly meeting an especially opportune time for new members to join the group. The first meeting this month will be February 6.

Feehanville School

Mrs. Hazel C. Cavett's room won the book award for parent attendance at the last PTA meeting.

Report cards have been issued and on the honor roll this period are: third grade, Robert Christiansen; fourth grade, Joseph Wehlacz; fifth grade, Jennifer Williams and Robert Broberg; sixth grade, Larry Bischof, Donna Jean Murphy, John Ramsey and Patricia Zschach; seventh grade, Sylvia Durso, Betty Sue Henk, Catherine Kirste and Bruce Murdock; eighth grade, Elaine Hanson and Frank Sullivan.

J. W. Alstrin, principal, said the school wishes to express thanks to Louis Bartucci for his gift of a ping pong table, complete with equipment. The children are getting much enjoyment and exercise from its use. He said they also wish to express thanks to the PTA for the colorful new couch cover purchased for the studio couch in the teachers' lounge.

The Feehanville basketball team played 2 home games this past week. Tuesday they won their game with Lady of the Wayside, 46-14, and Thursday they lost the game to St. Peter school in Arlington. Today they are playing Wheeling, also a home game. Spectators welcome.

The Kindergarten association is having a meeting at 7:30 p.m., February 8, at the Feehanville school. Registration for the next year will be taken that night, and all planning to send children to kindergarten next year are asked to attend this meeting.

Forest River Church

Exciting plans for the TFC box social are being made, and the ladies are asked to use boxes the size and shape of shoe boxes wrapped in white tissue paper and tied with a red ribbon, in order to make recognition of the boxes more difficult.

The Boys Brigade won its basketball game with Madison St. Bible church, 45-35. The boys are playing the brigade of the Judson Park Baptist church this Saturday.

Community

Roman Anderson, trustee of the Forest River volunteer fire department, when commenting on the sign "condemned as firetrap" which has been placed on a house on Lee st., said: "It has not been condemned by the Forest River fire department, and the fire district did not condemn it. At this time we do not know who condemned it or why."

The women's auxiliary in cooperation with the Civic association is planning a games party for February 13, for the benefit of the Polio foundation. Donations of gifts and cakes will be needed to make this a success. The public is invited.

At the last Civic association meeting it was announced that vehicle stickers are now available to all members and can be obtained from the secretary, Mrs. Richard Kozel. A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Paul Kleeman for her outstanding work as treasurer of the association for the last several years. Mrs. Kleeman is already at work on her new job as co-chairman of the ways and means committee and mentioned several ideas she is developing. Refreshments were served after the business meeting, with Frank Wilbacher and Louis Young on the refreshment committee. Dues for the coming year were collected after the meeting.

Scout News

Intermediate scout troop 233 held its troop birthday party last Thursday afternoon. The party started with the flag ceremony and candlelighting ceremony, with the girls standing in horseshoe formation. Bonnie Sim was flag bearer, with Jackie Sim and Charlotte Mius color guard. Mrs. Elmer Carlson, leader, was invested by Mrs. Laurenz Hauser, neighborhood chairman, after which Mrs. Carlson invested Charlotte Mius and Jackie Sim. Year stars were presented to Sharon Anderson, Mary Jane Arkell, Elaine Hanson, Mary Alice Hauser, Mary Edgeworth, Betty Broberg, Donna Jean Murphy, Emma Mae West, Sue Ellen Steward and Bonnie Sim. Second class badges were presented to Donna Jean Murphy, Betty Broberg, Mary Edgeworth, Bonnie Sim and Mary Alice Hauser. Mary Alice also received the homemaker and cooking badges. Sharon Anderson received the camp craft, adventure, child care, skater, cooking and cat and dog badges. After the badges were awarded, Mrs. Marguerite Broberg and Mrs. I. A. Hanson gave each girl a small memento from the leaders of last year, Mrs. Broberg, Mrs. Hanson and Mrs. Dorothy Karnuth. Mary Jane Arkell made a speech of appreciation to Mrs. Hanson for her 3 year's leadership and Sharon Anderson presented Mrs. Hanson with a gift from the troop. The girls sang several songs before they closed the ceremony with the traditional wish ring.

Refreshments were served by the girls after the ceremony, cakes and fudge in most cases made by the girls themselves. Included among the guests were Mrs. Mius, Mrs. Hjalmar Sandquist, Mrs. Harold Broberg, Mrs. Fred Sim, Mrs. Arthur Hanson, Mrs. Mundy of Maryville, Mrs. Roman Anderson, Mrs. Kenneth Zschach and Mrs. Laurenz Hauser.

Batters' Ball

A group of ladies working with the Little League committee, met at the school last week Wednesday to make plans for the Batters' ball, scheduled for February 4. Doris Milz and Rita Badalamenti, who have been working toward organizing a ladies' auxiliary to the Little League committee, opened the meeting. Discussion was held on donations from interested people, to be used the evening of the ball. Officers of the group were elected, with Mrs. Joseph Murdock elected president and Mrs. Pauline Bartucci the secretary-treasurer. Among those who attended this meeting were Mrs. Leonard Castre, Mrs. Charles Badalamenti, Mrs. Sterbenz, Mrs. William Steiner, Mrs. John Nowicki, Mrs. Elmer Milz, Mrs. Walter Swiatowy, Mrs. Joseph Murdock, Mrs. C. W. Flink, Mrs. Irwin Phar, Mrs. Louis Bartucci and Mrs. A. R. Hanson.

Sympathy

Friends and neighbors are offering sympathy to Roman Anderson on the death of his father, Martin Anderson, who died of a heart attack January 19. The funeral was held Saturday at 4 p.m. at Saginaw, Minn. Tom and Ramona Marcotte and Cleo Richards and Mr. and Mrs. Roman Anderson were among those from out of town who attended the funeral, and they are all former residents of Forest River. Roman Anderson wishes to thank the fire department for sending flowers, and the neighbors for cards expressing sympathy.

Stork Shower

A pink and blue shower was held at the Community hall last Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Paul Reynolds, nee Wehlacz, as guest of honor. There were 86 guests present. Mrs. Reynolds received a teeter-babe, high chair, bassinette and everything a new baby would need, from friends, relatives and neighbors who attended. The huge centerpiece for the table was a bassinet filled with colorful fresh flowers. Ham, potato salad, salad molds and cake were served with coffee and punch. Mrs. Stanley Warren helped with the serving, and Mrs. Hartzog made all the favors, which were little cups in the shape of diapers. The guests danced and played cards after the gifts were opened. Friends and relatives came from LaPorte, Ind., Thorpe, Wis., Lombard, Chicago, North Lake, Northbrook, Lake Villa, Des Plaines and Barrington. The Reynolds are now living in their trailer in a mobile park in Wood Dale, Ill.

Mrs. Henry Schmitz on Anita st. was the lucky lady at Pesches last week. Mel Bellair, master of ceremonies, was interviewing Mrs. Schmitz when the alarm rang, which meant she received the Naxon Beanery plus a pound of J. Webo's Wake-up coffee. Mr. Bellair said he was attracted by the feathery lapel ornament she was wearing. The program was taped, and will be heard this Thursday at 1 p.m. over WBBM.

Birthday celebrants this week are Betty Brewer, who was 11 January 27, and Terry Bischof, who is 4 today, Thursday.

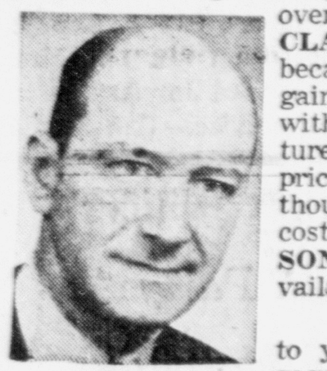
Hi Folks! We'll be visiting with you from this space every other week. Hope you'll enjoy reading news of your friends and neighbors and will find the various bits of information helpful to your better living as members of this community.

BILL SIEGAL, owner of the new ARLINGTON HOUSE restaurant formerly known as Simson's, is a young man who has made a career of the restaurant business. He holds a degree from Michigan State University in Hotel and Restaurant Administration and before opening up ARLINGTON HOUSE served stints as manager of the famous Schulers restaurant in Marshall, Michigan and as an executive with the Fred Harvey chain. We can count on BILL SIEGAL to make ARLINGTON HOUSE, located on the northwest corner of Rand rd. and Euclid just outside of Arlington Heights, one of the finest eating places in Chicago's Northwest suburbs.



Clarence Hendrickson

CLARENCE HENDRICKSON of WILLSON and FLORENCE Realtors, Arlington Heights, tells me 1955 was the biggest year in the over 25-year history of the office. However, CLARENCE expects this year to be even bigger because the mortgage market has loosened up again and more people will be able to buy houses with smaller down payments. To make the picture even brighter for home buyers, he predicts prices on existing houses will remain firm although new construction will probably increase in cost . . . If you're looking for a new house, WILLSON and FLORENCE have many fine homes available in all price ranges.

When you're ready to buy a home it'll be to your advantage to apply for an FHA mortgage. It is particularly desirable in that it will enable you to get a maximum loan from your bank. This advice is offered by ROLLIE FRANZEN, Veep of the ARLINGTON HEIGHTS NATIONAL BANK. And, according to ROLLIE, it normally takes only 2 to 3 weeks to process an FHA home mortgage loan. For those of you who are already home owners and wish to improve and modernize your property, you can get a convenient FHA home improvement loan set up in 24 to 48 hours. Why not go in and discuss these FHA loans with one of the loan officers of the ARLINGTON HEIGHTS NATIONAL BANK.

By now most of you have probably noticed the unusual electric clock atop FURNITURE TOWN at Vail and Campbell Aves. in Arlington Heights. This attractive, highly accurate timepiece which keeps revolving and stays lit 24 hours a day can be seen from a three-block radius. MOREY LERMAN, boss-man of FURNITURE TOWN, got the idea to install the timepiece because so many people were constantly coming into his store asking for the time in connection with avoiding parking meter violations and meeting train schedules . . . MOREY hopes the presence of the big clock in the center of town proves to be a great convenience to the community.

Nine years ago DICK MICHALSKI and BOB PETERSEN started the ARLINGTON MILK company as a modest, two-man operation with 1 route and 1 truck. Today their organization employs 42 people and has 24 routes with as many trucks. Covering an estimated 960 miles per day, ARLINGTON MILK serves thousands of satisfied customers all the way from Palatine's city limits west to Chicago's city limits east between the wide expanse of Touhy Ave. and Dundee Rd. And each driver, incidentally, is a resident of the area in which he works. The reason for the enviable success story of ARLINGTON MILK? Outstanding quality and service!

HARRY KNAACK of HARRY H. KNAACK MOTOR SALES, located next to the Village Hall in Arlington Heights, was telling me the other day there are a lot of people who would give anything to own a luxurious new Buick, but kinda feel it's out of their price class. The fact of the matter is that if you can afford one of the three so-called low-priced automobiles you can afford a Buick. HARRY explains that your old car is worth so much more when traded in at his Buick agency the actual cash difference is comparatively slight. Those of you who have been hoping for the day when you can move into the Buick class would do well to drop over right quick to HARRY H. KNAACK MOTOR SALES show-room and look into the matter.

Wonder how many of you know that the LORRAINE-ANNE SHOP of Arlington Heights which specializes in ladies', children's and infants' wear also carries apparel for small boys. TILLIE MENSCHING and JERRY SHEAHEN, mgr. of LORRAINE-ANNE, showed me some other examples of the store's unusually wide range of fine merchandise which includes, in addition to women's dresses, suits and coats, separate departments for millinery, bras and girdles, sweaters, handbags, sportswear and costume jewelry. As JERRY pointed out to me, LORRAINE ANNE carries just about everything in wearing apparel for "girls" between 6 and 60.

BACKSTAGE

Thumbnail sketches of the cast and crew of "Angel Street" a 3-act Victorian thriller produced by Village Theatre, Inc., of Arlington Heights, sponsored by the Nurses Club and presented at the Arlington Heights Junior High school auditorium February 9 and 11 at 8:30 p.m.

Bob Tindall appears as the tall, good looking Mr. Manningham. His manner is suave and authoritative with a touch of mystery and bitterness. Bob is a relative newcomer to Village Theatre. He played the minister in "Silver Whistle," and the taxi driver in "Harvey." Toastmasters club claims him as vice president.

Kay Hawley is cast as Mrs. Manningham who was good looking, almost a beauty, but who now has a wan, haggard air with rings under her eyes which tell of sleepless nights and worse. Kay is a charter member of Village Theatre and former vice president and talent bank chairman, and has played major roles in several productions, including "Blithe Spirit," "You Can't Take it With You," "George Washington Slept Here," "Life With Father." She has directed several children's plays and written and directed historical plays for the Arlington Heights Woman's club and First Presbyterian church.

Barbara Houskeeper is cast as Elizabeth, an amiable, subservient housekeeper (type casting). Barbara first appeared as Cleota, the Negro maid in "Male Animal." Her major interest is design as applied to the stage. She also portrayed the fairy godmother in "Cinderella."

Marcelle Wilcox is the self-conscious, pretty, cheeky maid who has an eye for the boys, and particularly for Mr. Manningham. Marcelle is this year's Village Theatre treasurer, is a native of Quebec and has been active in the group for 4 years. She has played in "George Washington Slept Here," "Ladies in Retirement" and 'Silver Whistle" and is a perennial favorite in the annual children's plays.

Al Wilcox appears as Rough the detective, who is middle-aged, greying, short, brusque, friendly, overbearing, with a low, warm chuckle. Al has played a variety of roles since becoming interested in amateur theatrics. He appeared in "Male Animal," "Silver Whistle" and "Harvey." He is a member of Toastmasters Club and in "real life" is a chemical engineer.

Alta Hutchinson heads the furniture crew for "Angel Street." It is her job to round up all the heavy drapes and dingy profusion of furniture of the 1880's. Alta is one of the most responsible crew heads of Village Theatre and on several occasions has been business manager responsible for selling more than 1000 tickets to children's plays. She appeared in an important role in "Cinderella" and as Mrs. Kirby in "You Can't Take it With You."

Where'd The Road Go?

The lawn that has been called "the most beautiful in Rolling Meadows" by many residents doesn't look that way anymore.

Last Saturday evening, a car drove across the lawn and walks of Joe and Sina McGovern, at the corner of Wilke rd. and Grove st. Police theorize the damage was probably done by someone while intoxicated. The route taken by the car in rutting the lawn indicated a deliberate attempt rather than an accidental wandering from the road.

While Mr. McGovern was at home at the time the damage must have occurred, he did not hear anything. Police are hoping someone saw the damage attempt and will report to them.

They Splash Their Way To Fun, Frolic

Splashing their way to fun, members of the Guys and Dolls teen club last Saturday held a swimming party.

The New Lawrence hotel pool in Chicago was the site for the splash party of the club. The group met at the Barn and traveled to Chicago for the swimming period which lasted from 6:30 to 9:30 p. m. Acting as chaperones for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wasko.

February Meeting Place For Bible Class Is Changed

Members of the Roling Meadows Women's Bible class will change the meeting place for their first monthly meeting. Meeting place for the month of February will be the home of Mrs. Lee Hultgren, 2308 South st. Meetings are held each Monday at 7:30 p.m.

The first meeting of each month is followed by a brief social period at which the hostess for the month serves refreshments to her guests. This makes the first monthly meeting an especially opportune time for new members to join the group. The first meeting this month will be February 6.

The HUNGRY SPORTSMAN

By Eddie Meier

Wild Rice O'Neill

On the border of Upper Michigan and Wisconsin is a very fine walleye lake, Lac Vieux Desert, and it was while fishing there almost 20 years ago that we got this wild rice dish from our guide, "Pepper" O'Neill, who drew his nickname from his fondness for the black spice. Hardly anything he ate escaped a generous dusting, including his breakfast eggs, which received a coating that almost buried them from view!

"Pepper" was quite proud of his baked wild rice. . . which you will like, too, but without the supercharging he imparted!

While 1 cup of wild rice was cooking in the double boiler, "Peper" was busy preparing the other ingredients for his pride and joy. He would start out with 1 pound of pork sausage, which he would "zipup" by adding pepper until it was at least a shade darker. The sausage was formed into patties which were fried out, after which he would slice and fry 2 small onions to a golden brown in a little of the sausage fat. Finally, 2 eggs (well peppered) were scrambled. Into a bowl went these three ingredients to be broken with a fork, then added to the cooked rice. When all were well mixed, they were transferred to a large, shallow baking dish and moistened with 1 can condensed tomato soup (undiluted). Into the oven went the dish for 15 or 20 minutes, then strips of cheese were laid across the top and the baking continued until the cheese was melted. (Sp

Crazy, Mixed-Up Robin Excites Area; Is He The First One?

N. L. Kleman of Palatine is the first person to report to Paddock Publications that he has seen a robin in the year 1956 A.D.

Did this robin decide (for one reason or another) to forego his southern vacation in the land of sunshine or whether, already down there, he'd had enough of 15-inch snows, etc.?

ROBIN "authorities" in this area are inclined to believe the former; however, they disagree as to the red-chested bird's reasons for remaining north. Some maintain the robin was "just plain lazy and decided to take a chance on the Farmers' Almanac being wrong. Others maintain he was probably a greedy little robin and was out eating worms when his mother told his brothers and sisters about the birds and the bees and about going on a southern sojourn for the winter months.

Anyway, N. L. Kleman DID report a robin in his back yard at 149 S. Plum Grove ave. January 21, 1956 A.D.

And if you bird watchers will watch closely, this robin might visit YOUR backyard.

Disability Freeze Applications Can Protect Worker If On Time

Dual protection can result from the filing of a disability freeze application, but only if that application is filed at the right time, according to a reminder issued by the social security administration.

"When a worker becomes totally disabled a number of years before he reaches 65," explains district manager Julius Berman, "he may lose his insured standing under Social Security. If this happens, he cannot receive any cash benefits at age 65 and his widow and children will not be eligible for payments if he should die."

IN SOME CASES, Berman added, insured standing would not be lost but, because of the years of no earnings, as a result of the disability, payments to the worker or to his family would be substantially reduced.

Protection against these two types of loss can be gained by the filing of a disability freeze application. Berman said, but only if that application is filed before the worker recovers from his disability or before he dies. Full protection, he added, can be had only if the application is filed no later than June of 1957 or one year after the onset of the disabling illness or accident.

THE DISABILITY must be considered "total and permanent." It may have been caused by injury, bodily illness, mental illness or blindness - anything that can be proven by medical evidence. The worker must have been in employment or self-employed under social security at least 5 years out of the 10 years before he became disabled, and 1½ years of his employment must have been in the 3 years preceding his disability. The prompt filing of an application by the disabled person will permit payment of survivors' benefits or of retirement benefits at age 65, figured only on his actual working years.

Any social security office will assist in the filing of an application or furnish additional information. The northwest district office is located at 4255 Milwaukee ave.

Trinity Lutheran Women Organize

Committee organization for the coming year highlighted the January meeting of the Trinity Lutheran Womens guild. The meeting, held on Tuesday, January 24, was the first one presided over by new guild officers headed by Mrs. Edward Westphal, president.

Committee chairmen announced by Mrs. Westphal were: Membership, Malita Wieder; Altar, Marion Birt; Program, Rose Roesler; Social, Shirley Kruser; Welfare, Ruth Derezotes; Publicity, Shirley Hahn; and Nursery, Linda Tyl. Youth Council representative of the Guild will be Nessie Bartels.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Hudak, 3105 Dove ct. Acting as co-hostess was Mrs. Alfred Milo. Refreshments were served by the hostesses to the overflow attendance. More than 30 women attended the meeting, the largest attendance to date, giving the guild an added spur to their new-year activities.

News Of Prospect Meadows

Womens Auxiliary Meeting

January 26 members of the women's auxiliary of Prospect Meadows Home Owners association held their first monthly meeting of 1956. It was voted to have another spring dance and Kay Sepke again offered her services as dance committee chairmen. Working with Kay on this committee will be Rita Durec, Millie Webber, Marge Murdock and Connie Heurlin. Dollie McGivney, chairman of the fair committee, gave a report on plans for the annual Prospect Meadows fair to be held July 7 and 8. Tentative plans were also made for a talent show to be held in August in the community park.

After the business meeting the women were entertained with games and were served coffee and cake. Gift winners in the games were Ruby Polly, Jean Seeber, Mrs. Maisel and Rita Durec. Special gift for the evening was received by Irma Ehlke.

Welcome New Neighbors

Last Wednesday the welcoming committee greeted 2 new home owners in Prospect Meadows. Now living at 428 Oriole lane are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seifert. Mr. and Mrs. Seifert are originally from the northwest side of Chicago but have lived in California for the past 5 years. Mr. Seifert is employed as service manager by Lincoln Park Buick in Chicago. The Seiferts have one daughter who is married and living in Florida. Sharing their new home with them is their collie. Bonnie.

New residents of 401 Larkdale are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ottengheime and their children, Mary Beth, 10, Jo Ellen, 7 and Johnny, 2. here from Lowell, Ind. Mr. and Mrs. Ottengheime own and operate the bakery at 500 W. Northwest hwy. in Arlington Heights.

Scouting News

The brownies held their regular meeting last Tuesday afternoon, meeting first in the Durec basement and later playing games outdoors. Their meeting opened with the flag ceremony and with all the girls giving the pledge of allegiance and the brownie promise.

Some time was spent working on musical instruments which the girls are making and plans were made for each member to have a window-sill garden. Refreshments for the meeting were furnished by Patty Tucker.

January 27 members of cub scout dens 12 and 13 attended the monthly cub scout pack meeting at the North school in Arlington Heights. At the pack meeting the cubs receive awards for achievements which they have completed during the preceding month. Receiving awards from den 12 were Richard Hehnen, wolf badge and wolf gold arrow point, Dean Valentine, wolf silver arrow point and denner stripes; Tom Hemesath, wolf gold arrow point; and Richard Moeller, assistant denner stripe. In den 13, James Kandul received his wolf badge. Participating in the induction ceremony were Gregory Wehrheim, new member of den 12 and Jay Chaiser, new member of den 13.

Birthdays

Donna Walsh, daughter of Don and Dorothy Walsh entertained several out-of-town relatives on her eighth birthday, January 24.

Coming from Racine, to spend the day, were Donna's grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Andersen and her aunts, Miss Henrietta Jensen, Mrs. Hannah Miller, Mrs. A. H. Fuller and Mrs. Alma Nelson. Also joining in the festivities were Donna's sister, Debbie, and brother, Dale.

Also celebrating a birthday January 24 was Evans Wells Jr. It was his 11th birthday and to mark the occasion Kent Nelson, Fred Jarm and Richard Moeller joined him after school for ice cream and cake.

January 27 Art Nelson celebrated his birthday at home with his family and January 28 Art and Betty and their children were entertained with a birthday supper in Brookfield by Art's mother, Mrs. E. Nelson. Also present to extend best wishes to Art were his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. Howard and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Nelson and daughter, Roberta.

A gala birthday celebration was enjoyed by Joyce and Skeets Hoglund, Ed and Lil Kunz and Joe and Gert Dening Saturday evening when the 3 couples saw "Pajama Game" at the Schubert theater and later went to the Boulevard room of the Conrad Hilton hotel for the supper ice show and dancing. The treat was on the ladies to celebrate the men's birthdays. Skeets Hoglund's birthday was January 21, Ed Kunz's January 30 and Joe Derning's will be February 10.

Sunday relatives from Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Johnson and daughters, Betty Lou and Brenda, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Liepelt, Mr. and Mrs. Sig Leipelt and daughters, Mary Ann and Helen, and Elmer Liepelt, joined Ed and Lil Kunz to extend birthday greetings to Ed.

Convalescing

Friends and neighbors are happy to hear that Ray LeBrun is home again after spending 5 weeks in the hospital with a heart condition. He must still remain in bed but Joyce and the children, Gail, Judy and Ritchie, are happy to have him home.

Card Clubs

Beth Meigel was hostess at her home last Tuesday evening at the meeting of her canasta club. Guests were Joyce Hoglund, Gert Derning, Marie Stanke, Pearl Moeller and Lil Kunz.

Andy and Kay Bischoff entertained members of their canasta club Saturday at their home with dinner and an evening of cards. Guests were Mary Kay and Jack Crise, Bernice Long, Jack and Ginny Richardson and Bob and Arlette Klein. The meeting was also a farewell gathering for Bernice Long as she and her children left Sunday for their new home in Iowa.

Out-of-Town

Gail Webber returned Saturday from a 3-day business trip to Winona, Minn. Saturday afternoon the Webbers were surprised by a visit from Gail's nephew, Robert Schap of Denver, who was passing through Chicago on a business trip.

Vic Heurlin returned Sunday after spending a few days in St. Johns, Canada, on a business trip. Sunday evening Vic and Connie were entertained with supper at the home of George and Deedie Rich in Kenilworth.

William and Wilma Canfield enjoyed dinner Sunday in Chicago at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gations.

Thursday evening Ed and Pearl Moeller and their son, Dicky, visited friends, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Doese of Fremont, Neb., at the Drummond hotel in Chicago. Sunday the Moeller family visited Pearl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Leseberg in Itasca.

Art and Kay Sepke spent Saturday evening in Arlington Heights visiting friends, Mr. and Mrs. Wall.

Last Tuesday evening Frank and Pearl Anderson went to Des Plaines to visit friends, George and Velma Radlein, whom they have not seen in about 3 years. The Andersons recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. T. Meigel and Mr. and Mrs. R. Chaiser at a charade party.

House Guests

Weekend guests at the home of Ray and Nora Roths were Ray's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Roths and sons, Ricky and Donald of Roseville, Mich.

Spending a few days with Ray and Jean Seeber last week was Ray's mother, Mrs. J. Seeber.

Robert and Rita Chaiser entertained friends, Mr. and Mrs. Neal, and their son, Britt of Chicago, Sunday.

John Carey and little Cameron Carey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carey, former Meadowites now living in Highland Park, came to the Meadows one day last week to visit former friends and neighbors. Their first stop here was the Doyle family and Cameron enjoyed visiting with her former playmate, Susie Doyle. From there they went on to visit the Codys and Spauldings.

Ray and Dorothy entertained Fa. McCormick of Oak Forest at their home last Monday evening. Fa. McCormick officiated at the baptismal ceremony for Kim Doyle several weeks ago.

Guests of Miss Ruth Bolling and Miss Janet Hollen, spending Sunday in the Meadows recently were former neighbors of the near north side, Mrs. Lu Wood Hess and Miss Lorraine Bean. Mrs. Hess is a buyer of infants' and children's wear for Herst department store and Miss Bean is on the editorial staff of Sears and Roebuck Co.

Lutheran Women Plan Bake Sale Feb. 25

Since homemade bread and coffee cakes always seem to be the first items sold out at local bake sales, the Trinity Lutheran Womens guild has decided to specialize on these two items for their next sale. The women will hold their sale on Saturday, February 25, at the community Barn.

Starting at 9 a. m., the women hope to be completely out of baked goods by noon. Other bake items will be available in addition to the breads and coffee cakes.

Chairman of the bake sale committee is Mrs. Rose Roesler.

The successful conclusion of the Mosquito Abatement District petition signature drive in Palatine township has been announced by Charles Zanzie.

Zanzie is the president of the Northwest Cook County Mosquito Abatement council sponsoring the movement for the creation of the district.

Signatures of at least 5 per cent of the registered voters in every municipality and unincorporated area in the northwest Cook county area were needed. Signatures in Rolling Meadows and Palatine were secured previously, and last Saturday signatures from the unincorporated areas of the township were sought.

THE COMPLETED petitions from the entire area will be presented to County Judge Otto Kerner by the council. They will ask that a referendum on the creation of the Mosquito Abatement District be held, preferably at the time of the April primary election.

Maximum tax which could be levied in the district for mosquito abatement purposes would be 25 cents per $1000 evaluation.

The entire Home Owners association executive group procured signatures in the City of Rolling Meadows. Signatures in Palatine and the area to the west of the village were secured by Charles Zanzie, John S. Powers, Tom Robinson, Bill Ferris, Lawrence Smith, Chet Mayner, Bill Richer, John McKee, Bernard Pedersen and Mel Rogers.

The area to the south, east and north of the village were covered by Pete Keller, Dale Bycroft, Lee Enger, Len Fabian and George Kitterman of the Rolling Meadows Home Owners association. Excellent cooperation in the drive was received from Phillip Costello, Fairfax ave., Plum Grove area. Costello secured the signatures of more than 50 of his neighbors on a petition. (KP

News Of Prospect Meadows

Womens Auxiliary Meeting

January 26 members of the women's auxiliary of Prospect Meadows Home Owners association held their first monthly meeting of 1956. It was voted to have another spring dance and Kay Sepke again offered her services as dance committee chairmen. Working with Kay on this committee will be Rita Durec, Millie Webber, Marge Murdock and Connie Heurlin. Dollie McGivney, chairman of the fair committee, gave a report on plans for the annual Prospect Meadows fair to be held July 7 and 8. Tentative plans were also made for a talent show to be held in August in the community park.

After the business meeting the women were entertained with games and were served coffee and cake. Gift winners in the games were Ruby Polly, Jean Seeber, Mrs. Maisel and Rita Durec. Special gift for the evening was received by Irma Ehlke.

Welcome New Neighbors

Last Wednesday the welcoming committee greeted 2 new home owners in Prospect Meadows. Now living at 428 Oriole lane are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seifert. Mr. and Mrs. Seifert are originally from the northwest side of Chicago but have lived in California for the past 5 years. Mr. Seifert is employed as service manager by Lincoln Park Buick in Chicago. The Seiferts have one daughter who is married and living in Florida. Sharing their new home with them is their collie. Bonnie.

New residents of 401 Larkdale are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ottengheime and their children, Mary Beth, 10, Jo Ellen, 7 and Johnny, 2. here from Lowell. Ind. Mr. and Mrs. Ottengheime own and operate the bakery at 500 W. Northwest hwy. in Arlington Heights.

Scouting News

The brownies held their regular meeting last Tuesday afternoon, meeting first in the Durec basement and later playing games outdoors. Their meeting opened with the flag ceremony and with all the girls giving the pledge of allegiance and the brownie promise.

Some time was spent working on musical instruments which the girls are making and plans were made for each member to have a window-sill garden. Refreshments for the meeting were furnished by Patty Tucker.

January 27 members of cub scout dens 12 and 13 attended the monthly cub scout pack meeting at the North school in Arlington Heights. At the pack meeting the cubs receive awards for achievements which they have completed during the preceding month. Receiving awards from den 12 were Richard Hehnen, wolf badge and wolf gold arrow point. Dean Valentine, wolf silver arrow point and denner stripes; Tom Hemesath, wolf gold arrow point; and Richard Moeller, assistant denner stripe. In den 13, James Kandul received his wolf badge. Participating in the induction ceremony were Gregory Wehrheim, new member of den 12 and Jay Chaiser, new member of den 13.

Toll Road Purchase Of Freeway Route Approved By Judge

Circuit Judge Charles S. Dougherty cleared the way Monday for the Illinois toll highway commission to buy seven miles of right-of-way for the northwest superhighway from Cook county.

The judge turned down an injunction request from 26 civic groups in the Jefferson Park area. They had sued in an attempt to prevent the county from selling to the toll road commission property bought for a freeway.

The seven miles of the northwest expressway from Cicero and Lawrence to near O'Hare International airport will be operated as a toll road for the commission — although the rest of the highway will be free.

Toll Road Purchase Of Freeway Route Approved By Judge

Circuit Judge Charles S. Dougherty cleared the way Monday for the Illinois toll highway commission to buy seven miles of right-of-way for the northwest superhighway from Cook county.

The judge turned down an injunction request from 26 civic groups in the Jefferson Park area. They had sued in an attempt to prevent the county from selling to the toll road commission property bought for a freeway.

The seven miles of the northwest expressway from Cicero and Lawrence to near O'Hare International airport will be operated as a toll road for the commission — although the rest of the highway will be free.

Area School Administrators Attend Orientation Session

Principals of area 1 of the Cook County school system were not taking an examination at the Stuart R. Paddock school, Palatine, Tuesday, but they were given the answers for the examination that will soon be made by the state school officialdom in individual visits to the schools they represented.

The Cook county administrators in northwest Cook county met at the school at the invitation of Miss Lucy Driscoll, assistant county superintendent of schools, Division I., who said that this meeting "should serve as orientation for subsequent visits in the schools."

NOBLE PUFFER, county superintendent, opened the meeting, giving examples of the need for close cooperation between the local units, and the state office.

He pointed up the critical situation due to the possible lowered assessed valuation due to the "multipliers going down" and that the local districts cannot qualify for matching funds with the federal government.

Ray Clark, also from the state office of public instruction, discussed the difficult job of developing "new modern standards for modern schools" as well as indicating the responsibility as well as that of service."

THE NEED to strengthen leadership in primary and intermediate grades by workshops and making the best use of resources for teaching as well as increasing the stature of elementary principals was stressed by Dr. J. F. Short also from the state office of public instruction.

The junior high school was described as the "most controversial area in education" by Elden Finley who pointed out significant trends such as "compulsory attendance, working mothers, the automobile, TV and cheap reading material."

Junior hi principals from the area related some of their activities structure and "exploratory" programs.

Afternoon speakers were: Roy Clark, assistant superintendent of public instruction, chairman of northern area; Elden Finley, Frank Short, assistant superintendents of public instruction; S. E. Alkin, director of audio-visual aid; George Mathis, supervisor of health, physical and safety education. (B-7 Add to School Administrator story

George Mathis, supervisor of health, physical and safety education in the afternoon program, outlined the state requirements in physical education.

Every school to be visited must be devoting as much time to that branch as is being devoted to any one study. In kindergarten it probably means 25 minutes. In upper grades 40 minutes.

The schools of this area appear to be equipped with maps, globes and charts for visual aid. The school principals were told the state requirements by S. E. Alkire of the state office.

The team of state men who are visiting Cook county schools started their inspections this week. They visited Barrington and Wheeling schools Wednesday; go to Prospect Heights, Wilson and Elk Grove schools Thursday and Palatine Friday.

Schools to be visited February 23 and 29 are Arlington Heights, Feehanville and Schaumburg; Hanover, March 2.

Mrs. Sarah White

Funeral mass will be held today, February 2, at 10 a.m. in St. Raymond church, Mt. Prospect, for Mrs. Sarah Jane White, 111 N. Lancaster, Mt. Prospect. She will be in state at the Lauterburg and Oehler chapel in Arlington Heights and interment will be in All Saints cemetery.

Mrs. White died suddenly Monday evening in her home. She was born November 11, 1872 in Canada and was preceded in death by her husband, Ernest, in 1945. She leaves her daughter, Mildred Marion Graham, 3 grandchildren, Mrs. Phyllis Sommers, Edward W. Graham and Mrs. Shirley Hall and 4 great grandchildren.

Area School Administrators Attend Orientation Session

Principals of area 1 of the Cook County school system were not taking an examination at the Stuart R. Paddock school, Palatine, Tuesday, but they were given the answers for the examination that will soon be made by the state school officialdom in individual visits to the schools they represented.

The Cook county administrators in northwest Cook county met at the school at the invitation of Miss Lucy Driscoll, assistant county superintendent of schools, Division I., who said that this meeting "should serve as orientation for subsequent visits in the schools."

NOBLE PUFFER, county superintendent, opened the meeting, giving examples of the need for close cooperation between the local units, and the state office.

He pointed up the critical situation due to the possible lowered assessed valuation due to the "multipliers going down" and that the local districts cannot qualify for matching funds with the federal government.

Ray Clark, also from the state office of public instruction, discussed the difficult job of developing "new modern standards for modern schools" as well as indicating the responsibility as well as that of service."

THE NEED to strengthen leadership in primary and intermediate grades by workshops and making the best use of resources for teaching as well as increasing the stature of elementary principals was stressed by Dr. J. F. Short also from the state office of public instruction.

The junior high school was described as the "most controversial area in education" by Elden Finley who pointed out significant trends such as "compulsory attendance, working mothers, the automobile, TV and cheap reading material."

Junior hi principals from the area related some of their activities structure and "exploratory" programs.

Afternoon speakers were: Roy Clark, assistant superintendent of public instruction, chairman of northern area; Elden Finley, Frank Short, assistant superintendents of public instruction; S. E. Alkin, director of audio-visual aid; George Mathis, supervisor of health, physical and safety education. (B-7
Add to School Administrator story

George Mathis, supervisor of health, physical and safety education in the afternoon program, outlined the state requirements in physical education.

Every school to be visited must be devoting as much time to that branch as is being devoted to any one study. In kindergarten it probably means 25 minutes. In upper grades 40 minutes.

The schools of this area appear to be equipped with maps, globes and charts for visual aid. The school principals were told the state requirements by S. E. Alkire of the state office.

The team of state men who are visiting Cook county schools started their inspections this week. They visited Barrington and Wheeling schools Wednesday; go to Prospect Heights, Wilson and Elk Grove schools Thursday and Palatine Friday.

Schools to be visited February 23 and 29 are Arlington Heights, Feehanville and Schaumburg; Hanover, March 2.

Mrs. Sarah White

Funeral mass will be held today, February 2, at 10 a.m. in St. Raymond church, Mt. Prospect, for Mrs. Sarah Jane White, 111 N. Lancaster, Mt. Prospect. She will be in state at the Lauterburg and Oehler chapel in Arlington Heights and interment will be in All Saints cemetery.

Mrs. White died suddenly Monday evening in her home. She was born November 11, 1872 in Canada and was preceded in death by her husband, Ernest, in 1945. She leaves her daughter, Mildred Marion Graham, 3 grandchildren, Mrs. Phyllis Sommers, Edward W. Graham and Mrs. Shirley Hall and 4 great grandchildren.

Dental Statistics

Over 95 per cent of the population of the United States is afflicted with some sort of dental disorder, Dr. Michael C. Arra, director of the dental division, Cook county department of public health, announced today. Dr. Arra stressed that if parents take advantage of all the preventative measures available, their children would grow up relatively free from dental disorders.

November 30, 1955, dental inspections were given at Elk Grove school by the health department dentists. Of the 331 children inspected, 114 had no dental defects: in the remaining 217 children, 961 defects were found.

Dr. Arra said that portable dental equipment has been set up during this week at school by dentists from the Cook county department of health. Free dental care will be provided for all children unable to afford the services of a private dentist. Ernest Cavallo, superintendent, urges parents to come to school and talk with him concerning eligibility requirements for this dental service. Since dental neglect is expensive, Mr. Cavallo encourages parents to take advantage of every opportunity to help their children avoid dental diseases.

Parents interested in knowing more about the dental program should attend the Mothers club meeting February 9. A panel of experts from the health department will talk about various aspects of dental health as well as the dental care program.

The eighth grade netted a profit of $32.18 from the hot dog sale last Tuesday. They are now deep in plans for a plate luncheon to be served to students who want it Thursday, Mar. 1. The luncheon will consist of hot dog, potato chips, jello salad and carrot strips and will be served for the nominal fee. Money from all of these projects is to be used for the Springfield trip.

The magazine subscription drive is in full swing. Proceeds from this campaign will be used to pay for the science equipment for the junior high. Students from the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades are selling. Anyone not contacted but who wishes to order a magazine, is asked to call the school to make arrangements for a student to call and get the subscription or renewal. Top salesman for the drive last Thursday was Donald Miller. Annette Malone was top seller Friday. Both of these students were presented with an eight-ball by magazine chairmen, Charlotte Popp and Lester Landmeier.

Residents are reminded to attend the Cole Marionettes' presentation of the "Pied Piper of Hamlin" Wednesday, Feb. 1, at 8 p.m. The Band Boosters club is sponsoring the show.

Grade 6-1 has elected new officers: Linda Cook, president: Robert Gates, vice president: Raymond Woss, secretary: treasurer, Donna Rawlings: assistant treasurer, Avilio Palomo.

Home Bureau

The beautiful home of Mrs. Fred Busse in Mt. Prospect provided an inspirational background for the lesson "Decorating Walls" given by Mrs. Claradehl Upham, Cook county home adviser, at the January 25 meeting of the Elk Grove Home Bureau. Mrs. Upham explained the new interior paints used today and methods of applying them. Wallpaper samples were displayed and discussed as to suitability for different types of rooms.

Members and guests, Mrs. Bill Bodnarchuk, Mrs. Patrick Kane, Mrs. Ed Grewe, from the Wheeling unit, and Mrs. Lawrence Garlisch were served dessert and coffee by hostesses, Mrs. John Mecklenburg, Mrs. William Meyer and Mrs. John Oltrogge.

Mrs. Pohlman, chairman, announced that 8 members attended the annual meeting January 19 at the Conrad Hilton hotel. Mrs. Noel Foss is the new 4-H chairman on the county board. This week is the 55th annual Farm and Home Week at the University of Illinois; exhibits and demonstrations are given for "Better Living and Better Farming." Home bureau members may visit and participate in the many opportunities it offers.

The next Home Bureau meeting has been changed to February 29 so those members connected with 4-H may attend a conference. The lesson "Let's Take Fatigue out of Everyday Activities," will be given by Mrs. Robert Wagner and Mrs. Herbert Sietman at the home of Mrs. Hilmer Mahler. Hostesses will be Mrs. John Popp, Mrs. Charles Razim and Mrs. Luke Hickman.

The glove and sweater beading lessons were given Wednesday, in the farm bureau basement.

Registration for next fall's first graders will be held Wednesday, Feb. 8 at 9:30 a.m. in the all purpose room. Plans for a preschool class for these children will be discussed at this time. This class will begin April 2, the day after Easter vacation. If your child will be ready for first grade next fall, please attend this meeting Children must be 6 years old by Dec. 1, 1956.

Christine Gates and Richard Swan of Mrs. Hecht's second grade were both 8 years old January 25.

Myrtle Gilbert gave a party Friday at Spruce Inn for her daughter. Sheila, on Sheila's 12th birthday. All pupils of her class at Elk Grove school were invited to partake of hot dogs, french fries, pop and cake.

The Wilson school basketball team has a record of 4 wins and 6 losses. There are 4 more games left to play. The team hopes to obtain on or above a 500 per cent average.

Dental Statistics

Over 95 per cent of the population of the United States is afflicted with some sort of dental disorder, Dr. Michael C. Arra, director of the dental division, Cook county department of public health, announced today. Dr. Arra stressed that if parents take advantage of all the preventative measures available, their children would grow up relatively free from dental disorders.

November 30, 1955, dental inspections were given at Elk Grove school by the health department dentists. Of the 331 children inspected, 114 had no dental defects: in the remaining 217 children, 961 defects were found.

Dr. Arra said that portable dental equipment has been set up during this week at school by dentists from the Cook county department of health. Free dental care will be provided for all children unable to afford the services of a private dentist. Ernest Cavallo, superintendent, urges parents to come to school and talk with him concerning eligibility requirements for this dental service. Since dental neglect is expensive, Mr. Cavallo encourages parents to take advantage of every opportunity to help their children avoid dental diseases.

Parents interested in knowing more about the dental program should attend the Mothers club meeting February 9. A panel of experts from the health department will talk about various aspects of dental health as well as the dental care program.

The eighth grade netted a profit of $32.18 from the hot dog sale last Tuesday. They are now deep in plans for a plate luncheon to be served to students who want it Thursday, Mar. 1. The luncheon will consist of hot dog, potato chips, jello salad and carrot strips and will be served for the nominal fee. Money from all of these projects is to be used for the Springfield trip.

The magazine subscription drive is in full swing. Proceeds from this campaign will be used to pay for the science equipment for the junior high. Students from the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades are selling. Anyone not contacted but who wishes to order a magazine, is asked to call the school to make arrangements for a student to call and get the subscription or renewal. Top salesman for the drive last Thursday was Donald Miller. Annette Malone was top seller Friday. Both of these students were presented with an eight-ball by magazine chairmen, Charlotte Popp and Lester Landmeier.

Residents are reminded to attend the Cole Marionettes' presentation of the "Pied Piper of Hamlin" Wednesday, Feb. 1, at 8 p.m. The Band Boosters club is sponsoring the show.

Grade 6-1 has elected new officers: Linda Cook, president: Robert Gates, vice president: Raymond Woss, secretary: treasurer, Donna Rawlings: assistant treasurer, Avilio Palomo.

Home Bureau

The beautiful home of Mrs. Fred Busse in Mt. Prospect provided an inspirational background for the lesson "Decorating Walls" given by Mrs. Claradehl Upham, Cook county home adviser, at the January 25 meeting of the Elk Grove Home Bureau. Mrs. Upham explained the new interior paints used today and methods of applying them. Wallpaper samples were displayed and discussed as to suitability for different types of rooms.

Members and guests, Mrs. Bill Bodnarchuk, Mrs. Patrick Kane, Mrs. Ed Grewe, from the Wheeling unit, and Mrs. Lawrence Garlisch were served dessert and coffee by hostesses, Mrs. John Mecklenburg, Mrs. William Meyer and Mrs. John Oltrogge.

Mrs. Pohlman, chairman, announced that 8 members attended the annual meeting January 19 at the Conrad Hilton hotel. Mrs. Noel Foss is the new 4-H chairman on the county board. This week is the 55th annual Farm and Home Week at the University of Illinois; exhibits and demonstrations are given for "Better Living and Better Farming." Home bureau members may visit and participate in the many opportunities it offers.

The next Home Bureau meeting has been changed to February 29 so those members connected with 4-H may attend a conference. The lesson "Let's Take Fatigue out of Everyday Activities," will be given by Mrs. Robert Wagner and Mrs. Herbert Sietman at the home of Mrs. Hilmer Mahler. Hostesses will be Mrs. John Popp, Mrs. Charles Razim and Mrs. Luke Hickman.

The glove and sweater beading lessons were given Wednesday, in the farm bureau basement.

Registration for next fall's first graders will be held Wednesday, Feb. 8 at 9:30 a.m. in the all purpose room. Plans for a preschool class for these children will be discussed at this time. This class will begin April 2, the day after Easter vacation. If your child will be ready for first grade next fall, please attend this meeting. Children must be 6 years old by Dec. 1, 1956.

Christine Gates and Richard Swan of Mrs. Hecht's second grade were both 8 years old January 25.

Hear Ye

Every member of this community is invited and urged to attend the first general meeting of the community council which is being formed to put into operaton a recreational activity plan for children of all ages. The meeting will be held at Forest View school, ½ block north of Algonquin rd. on S. State rd., Monday, Feb. 6, at 8 p.m. All parents and neighbors are being asked to step forward and contribute any and all suggestions and to give a little of their time and effort to organize and supervise all of the activities planned.

Join in February 6 and assist where ever you can.

Forest View Mothers club meeting will be held next Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the school. After a brief business meeting, Mrs. Margaret Currier will be the speaker of the evening. Refreshments will be served afterwards.

Skating Party

A roller skating party was held at the Arlington roller rink Friday afternoon for the children in Mrs. Miller's and Mrs. Lawson's room. There were no casualties, but the beginners had a few sore spots the next day, however, they still want to go back for more.

Mrs. Edna Wilkins, mother of Mrs. R. C. Fisher, of Mt. Horeb, Wis. spent Monday visiting at the Fisher home.

This week the sick list includes Mrs. W. H. Grismer Sr. who is recuperating from the flu.

Saturday evening guests at the Tom Sullivan home were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grismer Jr. and sons.

Silver Wedding Anniversary

Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Steve Yergovich were surprised by relatives and friends with a party in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Edward Keller took their daughter, Charlotte, through Chinatown and they had dinner there.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sidor celebrated Mrs. Sidor's birthday by seeing the movie "Oklahoma" at the Roosevelt.

Sunday 25 relatives and friends gathered at the Robert Schwake home for dinner in celebration of Mrs. Schwake's birthday.

James Burton and son, Jimmy, spent the weekend in Potomac visiting Mr. Burton's parents.

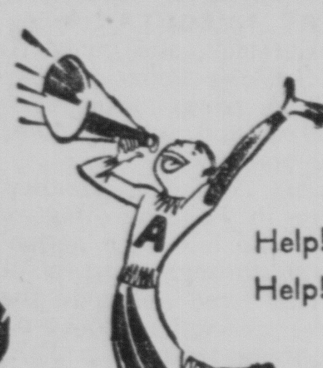
Cardinal Cagers To Travel To Downers Friday Night

KICKIN' IT AROUND



by Bob Paddock

DON BUENZOW of Palatine, reserve center for the University of Tulsa's Golden Hurricane basketball squad, hasn't seen too much action during the first half of this season, but he did play a very important part in the TU 63-62 win over Drake at Des Moines. Don tallied six points in that Drake game as Tulsa came from 18-points behind with 13-minutes to play and won. That has been Buenzow's high night thus far, but even that modest six points is considered quite a few on this TU squad which is ranked eighth in the country on defense and is only averaging 60-points a game on offense.

Don Buenzow

The 6'6, 185-pound, 21-year old senior from Palatine, is the tallest man on this Hurricane squad and helped as the Tulsans captured the Oklahoma City all-college tourney during the Christmas holidays. Last season, he was a member of the squad as it won a share of the first Missouri Valley conference cage crown ever captured by TU. This was also the first Tulsa team to ever take part in the NCAA's post-season Tournament of Champions.

Buenzow is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Buenzow of Palatine. He attended Palatine high school where he lettered in both basketball and track and won two varsity letters in the cage sport and three as a cinderman. He was captain of the basketball team and a member of the all-northwest conference team as well as an honorable mention on the All-State basketball squad. Don is a business major, but is undecided as to what profession he will follow after graduation this spring.

ARLINGTON WRESTLERS usually miss out on trophies and such, but are hoping to win an award at Palatine sectional this year. Last season Heights posted a 13-1 dual record, finishing second in Waukegan sectional, but only 1 trophy was given to the winner. This year, when awards will be given to runners-up as well, Heights doesn't have nearly as strong a team and will have to go some to even take second.

Last year when Heights could have fought for West Suburban grappling crown, there was no conference sanction. This year WSC has official varsity standings, but the Cards are way down the list.

There won't be any frosh-soph standings kept until next year, just when Heights is posting is best frosh-soph record in history. C'est la guerre!

Parents of New Trier freshman wrestlers made the trip to Arlington Saturday to watch the scheduled matches, but the north shore team couldn't get here due to icy roads. Parents stayed to watch intrasquad matches by Coach Maurice Kellogg's boys.

Visiting firemen at Arlington Tuesday were athletic director Don Griffin and his assistant Cliff Robert of Aurora East high, looking over the local school preparatory to building a new plant along the Fox River. Robert used to coach basketball at Lawrenceville, appeared a lot calmer than in those days when Arlington's Wally Grace used to officiate games for Lawrenceville.

MANY BASKETBALL FANS think of a tournament as a chance to watch favorite teams play basketball. All they can see are the games, the refs, the concessions, the parking lot spot 2 blocks away. But to the athletic director, the school administrator and state association, who wins the tournament is secondary.

Gate receipts are all-important to these officials, for it is that money that makes the tourneys possible.

Ticket sale pays for officials, lights, traveling expenses of all teams involved, including board and room if overnight trips are necessary, advertising, programs, etc. And when certain teams fail to bring a large following, gate receipts suffer. That is why, now and then, a "favorite school" is dropped from some of the holiday tourneys around the state.

Centralia tournament officials have just dropped Champaign, much to the chagrin of the few fans that followed that school to tournaments.

It is also a factor in the suburban area. Some of the largest schools will draw the fewest number of paid, adult spectators. You'll always find the men behind the scenes hoping the best drawing cards win preliminary games in the regionals and sectionals, to draw the most fans and fill the till. For it's the gate receipts that pay the bill for football, basketball, wrestling, tennis, golf, track, baseball, cross country and gymnastics.

Most school budgets cover only the salaries of those involved in coaching. Balls, adhesive tape, officials, gas and oil, all must be paid from the box office till.

FIRST ILLINOIS cage game in 1906 went to the Illini, 71-4, over Champaign high school . . . This season the Illini are averaging 90-plus per game, have hit the 100 mark 3 times . . . John "Big Thunder" Lewis averaged 33.1 yards gained on each of 33 pass catches for Michigan State last fall . . . A new Indiana prep scoring mark was set recently when Hillsboro whipped Greene, 126-63 . . . Hoping to toss away their crutches any day are Maine cagers Dick Kessler and Jim Leis.

Here are Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain's high school track records, before showing up at Kansas . . . He broad jumped 22', tossed the shot 53'4", high jumped 6'6", ran the 440 in :49 and 880 in 1:58.3.

Among standout records listed for the Michigan State Relays slated for Feb. 11 are 24' 9½" broad jump, 56'6½" shot, :30.8 300 and :07.4 75-yard dash, by N. U.'s Jim Golliday . . . Illini grad Max Hooper is working out with a newly organized air force cape team which will be touring the country . . . Down at Macomb they're thumping the drums for Western after 18 victories . . . Highland Park's 6-6 Chuck Schramm is averaging 19.9, with 6-7 Ron Nikcevick of Lane No. 1 on the bench . . . Ron has the team's individual single game for the year of 36.

Northwestern's indoor track squad will open the season Feb. 4 at Minnesota with letterman George Moyers of Hinsdale on hand for hurdles, high jump and pole vault . . . Moyers has been outstanding low hurdler 2 years, is an all-round man in duals.

Five of Indiana's swimmers are Hawaiians . . . Maine has 115 boys out for winter track, including 16 lettermen for the first meet with New Trier last week . . . Maine's swimmers lost to East Rockford for their first loss in 5 starts.

GUESTS OF HONOR at Northwestern Monday night were members of that 1931 Big Ten championship basketball team that won 16 of 17 games, the lone setback at the hands of Illinois, 34-28 . . . Wildcats previously whipped Illini 29-27 . . . Star of those days was Crane's Joe Reiff, tall in those days at 6-3, who now lives in Oak Park . . . Among frosh athletic honor rollers at N. U. is Tom Johnson of Downers Grove, an engineering major . . . Hinsdale's George Moyers made it, too . . . Fans who follow sports fortunes of Niles high will do well to watch for Hal Neimer in basketball, football and baseball (pitcher) . . . Top wrestlers at the Skokie school are undefeated Len Miresse and Jim Esbrook, plus once-defeated Henry Fuerzig.

Barrington grade school cagers reportedly lost their first game to Highland of Libertyville recently . . . Young Broncs are rated future champs.

Pro footballers have increased the height of the goal posts, but not of the cross bar, due to large number of field goals . . . We all remember Hugh Gallarneau for his football exploits, as well as Tom Harmon, but did you know Jackie Robinson was a member of that same college all-star grid squad? . . . Just for the record, LaGrange is leading the police pistol league, too.

Palatine Still Looking For First Victory

Top game in the close Northwest conference race this week will be Wauconda at Fenton Friday night. In the first round of play the Fenton Bisons beat Wauconda and back in form with 2 wins in a row after a disasterous tailspin, they may pull the trick again. The way the race stacks up Wauconda cannot afford to lose to Fenton and have much chance of finishing on top Wauconda had to play Ela-Vernon and Glenbrook, along with Fenton and Grant, in the remaining weeks of the season. With 3 out of 4 first division opponents Wauconda has their work cut out for them. Fenton has height, good scorers, and an improved passing attack. Three of the top 10 scorers in the league are Fenton players. Phil Johnson is fourth in scoring with 188, just 25 points behind the leader, Al Bathrick of Ela-Vernon. Lars Henricksen has scored 141 and Bob Heinrich 135.

FENTON'S FROSH-SOPHS are nearing the league championship with 10 straight wins and a two game lead over second place Antioch with only four games to go. If the little Bisons beat Wauconda this week they can sew up the title by winning at Antioch February 10.

This week Glenbrook will have a chance to catch up on the field by playing a postponed game at Grant Saturday night. Friday the Spartans meet Antioch at home. Glenbrook, with an easier schedule than their chief competitiors for the championship, rates a good chance to win both contests this week.

AFTER THAT they have Palatine and Grayslake, the tail end teams, before finishing at Wauconda. While Grayslake upset the Spartans last round they are not likely to surprise this time.

While this is going on Ela-Vernon, dropped into a first place tie last week by Glenbrook, will host Grayslake Friday. The following Friday Coach Norm Ladd's five will play a crucial game at Wauconda. Then Ela must close with Fenton and Grant in the final two weeks.

PALATINE is sunk in the league cellar with 10 straight losses and this past week their frosh-sophs fell into last place undisputed with a 1-9 record as Glenbrook finally won number two.

The Pirates are decided underdogs Friday when they travel to Grant to play in their new gym. February 10 they are host to league leading Glenbrook and then entertain Antioch Tuesday, February 14, in a game moved up three days to allow for the sectional wrestling tournament. In between Palatine travels to Zion on Saturday February 11 for a non-league game. The Pirates close the season at Grayslake February 24, the last chance for their first victory in 22 scheduled games.

SATURDAY NIGHT Fenton will play host to Mooseheart in another closie. Child city five has been up and down this season, with a record about equal to Fenton's 8-7. Only common opponent for the 2 schools is Marmion which edged Mooseheart by 3 in a tough battle, and lost to Fenton by 4 in an overtime.

New coaching setup at Mooseheart includes Dave Cohrs leading the varsity and Howie Allen the sophomores. Athletic director is Dale Smith. (Sp

Arlington Jr. High Splits At Mount Prospect

Arlington's Jr. high school's basketball squads gained another split Jan. 27 at Mt. Prospect Central school. Arlington won the lightweight game 49-29, but the Central five won the heavyweight affair 38-30.

For the lights Arlington ran off to a 14-1 lead the opening period, then slowed a bit for a 28-9 margin at halftime. Bob Inman's 8 baskets were a big help for Coach Ted Wissen of Heights. Both Inman and acting captain Jim Kennedy hit for 3 more buckets the third quarter as Arlington went to 46-16 going into the home stretch.

High point men for Arlington were Inman with 24 and Kennedy with 14. Leading Mt. Prospect were Peterson with 8 and Hawkansen with 6.

THE HEAVYWEIGHT affair was a different game, with Mt. Prospect leading 10-2, 20-14 and 27-21 at the quarters. Arlington failed to score a single bucket the opening stanza, with Kobi and Grams each tallying twice for Mt. Prospect.

Second quarter saw Bruce Fichte hit 3 baskets for Arlington and Grams make 3 for the winners. Esmond sank 2 for Mt. Prospect the third period with Fred Empkie doing the same for Coach Bob Spinks' Arlington five.

Fichte flurried 3 more the last quarter to take scoring honors with 16 points. McMillan scored 3 times the fourth quarter for Mt. Prospect dividing scoring honors with 13 for Grams and 6 each for Esmond and McMillan.

THE NEW SCOREBOARD at Fenton high has yet to arrive, though not for lack of hoping on the part of coaches, administration, and athletic director Frank Novatny. Joe Jones, a senior, has had the honor of operating the "temporary" board, soon to be considered the permanent one for the year. —Staff Photo

Palatine-Arlington In 1st Game Of Cage Regional

Palatine regional basketball tournament to be held February 28 through March 2 is made to order for creating fan interest. The pairings released by the state last weekend will have either Arlington or Barrington as likely to play in every tournament session.

Last year Arlington upset the Bronchos in the tourney final. The year before Barrington took the final from Arlington and went on to the quarter finals of the state tournament.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, seeded first by the coaches' ratings, meets Palatine in the first game Tuesday, February 28, at 7 p.m. This will be followed by Glenbrook seeded 3, versus Grayslake at 8:30.

Wednesday Barrington seeded number 2, opposes Libertyville and Wauconda, seeded fourth, faces Ela-Vernon, rated fifth. Semi-finals are slated for 7 and 8:30 Thursday and the final game at 8 Friday.

IF THE TOURNAMENT runs true to form the semi-finals should find Arlington meeting Glenbrook and Barrington opposing either Wauconda or Ela-Vernon. The dope is that Arlington would again meet in the final for the third straight year.

According to the seeding Arlington should win the championship, but there are just as many fans who would dispute this rating made in early January and give the edge to a Barrington team which appears to be still moving on toward a peak which may be at tournament time.

Outstanding Array Of Talent With Trotters At Heights Feb. 16

Player-coach of the great Harlem Globetrotters basketball team, coming to Arlington Heights high school gym for a game against the Chicago Majors Thursday, February 16, at 8:15 p.m., is Roscoe ("Duke") Cumberland, one of the real veterans of the world-famed aggregation.

One of the greatest all-around players and showmen the sport has ever known, the dapper Duke is in his 16th season with his beloved team. Cumberland is one of those athletes who never seems to age. He's bouncing around with all the verve, vim and vigor that characterized him when he first came up to the Trotters an ambitious rookie in 1940 out of Toledo, O., his home town.

Not one of the younger fellows today shows more pep in action than Cumberland, who steps around spryly as of yore, despite his 210-pound six foot four stature. His shooting eye is if anything, even better than in past years and any student of basketball knows he rates with the all-time greats in that department.

IN 1954 THE Harlem Globetrotters basketball team came up with one of its finest crops of new talent in years, and particularly outstanding among the "freshman" was Alvin Terrence Clinkscales.

Now in his second season, Clink is cavorting like a Globetrotter of years standing. He's exceedingly fast, having been a track star in high school and college, and his six feet 4½ inches in height aids his natural agility in rebounding superbly off both boards.

The 185-pound youth is used as a forward and center with the Trotters. He figures to remain a fixture with the team for years to come.

ANOTHER ARTIST of the hardwood who will perform for the Globetrotters will be Lee Garner. Garner is reaching the stardom predicted for him when he first reported as a rookie to the Globetrotters. When he first reported from Alcorn College of Mississippi something like four years ago, Lee surprised one and all on his agility and fine coordination.

PERFORMING between halves will be some of the greatest vaudeville stars ever to come to Arlington Heights. Tony Lavelli, accordionist, The Tong Brothers with their daring acrobatics, Miss Hawaii of 1954-55 and many others will be featured.

Tickets for this extravaganza can be purchased in advance at Beverly Lanes, Harris Pharmacy, Henderson's Pharmacy, Kindlers Ice Cream Shoppe and Lohr's Pharmacy in Arlington Heights. Mt. Prospect fans can get their tickets at either of the Golden Delicatessens or Keefer's Pharmacy and in Palatine tickets can be purchased at Palatine Drugs or Palatine Office Supply. Admission is $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for students.

Heights Loses Another Game By Fouling

Just who will get out of the callar will be decided when Arlington travels to Downers Grove Friday night. Heights and Downers are tied with York for cellar honors at present. York meets Hinsdale, tied with LaGrange in first.

That Maine game was another instance of why the Cardinals would do better at horseshoes than basketball. They'd then get credit for coming close. The Cardinals have lost to Maine twice this year, each time by exactly 2 points.

THE LOCALS also lost to Riverside by 5, to Hinsdale by 8. They lost to Elgin by 8, to Leyden by a singleton. LaGrange, York and Hinsdale all took the measure of Coach Howard Lester's boys by 11.

Heights whipped Downers by 9, Glenbard by 3. That may give some indication of what to expect this week at Downers, though the hosts have improved tremendously and are led by O'Byrne and his 169 points in 9 games for a 19 average.

THAT MAINE affair was again the result of too much fouling for Heights. Strigel improved defensively with no early fouls, but 2 quickies the second period meant 4 points for Maine as the Demons caught up.

Arlington scored 24 field goals to 21 for Maine but the winners tallied 26 of 37 free throws with Heights getting 18 of 29. Particularly costly were the 6 misses at the free throw line by Bill Randag, all first tosses which could have meant 6-10 more points. Bill usually sinks more than Friday's 6 of 9 figure.

THE WATER BUCKET was too much of an obstacle for the Heights frosh-sophs in the preliminary Friday. Several of the Klotzmen appear out of condition, running over to the water fountain "each time the whistle blows." The sophs have been urged to hop onto the cotton wagon in remaining games.

Otherwise, it was just the odds catching up with the locals in the Maine game in a season that saw the young Cardinals win 7 and 9 of 11, now lose 2 in a row in a league of fairly even teams. Bruce Bjorklund played the entire game for Heights, but is still not up to par, strengthwise, after a bout with the fu.

A complacent attitude has gripped the frosh-sophs, too, which will make any future victories difficult. Arlington beat Downers by 7 points last time. (Sp

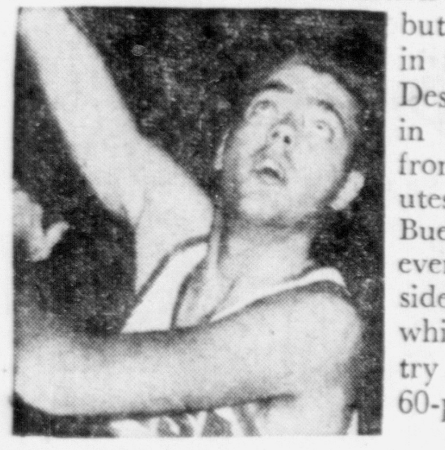
KICKIN' IT AROUND

by Bob Paddock

DON BUENZOW of Palatine, reserve center for the University of Tulsa's Golden Hurricane basketball squad, hasn't seen too much action during the first half of this season, but he did play a very important part in the TU 63-62 win over Drake at Des Moines. Don tallied six points in that Drake game as Tulsa came from 18-points behind with 13-minutes to play and won. That has been Buenzow's high night thus far, but even that modest six points is considered quite a few on this TU squad which is ranked eighth in the country on defense and is only averaging 60-points a game on offense.



Don Buenzow

The 6'6, 185-pound, 21-year old senior from Palatine, is the tallest man on this Hurricane squad and helped as the Tulsans captured the Oklahoma City all-college tourney during the Christmas holidays. Last season, he was a member of the squad as it won a share of the first Missouri Valley conference cage crown ever captured by TU. This was also the first Tulsa team to ever take part in the NCAA's post-season Tournament of Champions.

Buenzow is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Buenzow of Palatine. He attended Palatine high school where he lettered in both basketball and track and won two varsity letters in the cage sport and three as a cinderman. He was captain of the basketball team and a member of the all-northwest conference team as well as an honorable mention on the All-State basketball squad. Don is a business major, but is undecided as to what profession he will follow after graduation this spring.

ARLINGTON WRESTLERS usually miss out on trophies and such, but are hoping to win an award at Palatine sectional this year. Last season Heights posted a 13-1 dual record, finishing second in Waukegan sectional, but only 1 trophy was given to the winner. This year, when awards will be given to runners-up as well, Heights doesn't have nearly as strong a team and will have to go some to even take second.

Last year when Heights could have fought for West Suburban grappling crown, there was no conference sanction. This year WSC has official varsity standings, but the Cards are way down the list.

There won't be any frosh-soph standings kept until next year, just when Heights is posting is best frosh-soph record in history. C'est la guerre!

Parents of New Trier freshman wrestlers made the trip to Arlington Saturday to watch the scheduled matches, but the north shore team couldn't get here due to icy roads. Parents stayed to watch intrasquad matches by Coach Maurice Kellogg's boys.

Visiting firemen at Arlington Tuesday were athletic director Don Griffin and his assistant Cliff Robert of Aurora East high, looking over the local school preparatory to building a new plant along the Fox River. Robert used to coach basketball at Lawrenceville, appeared a lot calmer than in those days when Arlington's Wally Grace used to officiate games for Lawrenceville.

MANY BASKETBALL FANS think of a tournament as a chance to watch favorite teams play basketball. All they can see are the games, the refs, the concessions, the parking lot spot 2 blocks away. But to the athletic director, the school administrator and state association, who wins the tournament is secondary.

Gate receipts are all-important to these officials, for it is that money that makes the tourneys possible.

Ticket sale pays for officials, lights, traveling expenses of all teams involved, including board and room if overnight trips are necessary, advertising, programs, etc. And when certain teams fail to bring a large following, gate receipts suffer. That is why, now and then, a "favorite school" is dropped from some of the holiday tourneys around the state.

Centralia tournament officials have just dropped Champaign, much to the chagrin of the few fans that followed that school to tournaments.

It is also a factor in the suburban area. Some of the largest schools will draw the fewest number of paid, adult spectators. You'll always find the men behind the scenes hoping the best drawing cards win preliminary games in the regionals and sectionals, to draw the most fans and fill the till. For it's the gate receipts that pay the bill for football, basketball, wrestling, tennis, golf, track, baseball, cross country and gymnastics.

Most school budgets cover only the salaries of those involved in coaching. Balls, adhesive tape, officials, gas and oil, all must be paid from the box office till.

FIRST ILLINOIS cage game in 1906 went to the Illini, 71-4, over Champaign high school . . . This season the Illini are averaging 90-plus per game, have hit the 100 mark 3 times . . . John "Big Thunder" Lewis averaged 33.1 yards gained on each of 33 pass catches for Michigan State last fall . . . A new Indiana prep scoring mark was set recently when Hillsboro whipped Greene, 126-63 . . . Hoping to toss away their crutches any day are Maine cagers Dick Kessler and Jim Leis.

Here are Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain's high school track records, before showing up at Kansas . . . He broad jumped 22', tossed the shot 53'4", high jumped 6'6", ran the 440 in :49 and 880 in 1:58.3.

Among standout records listed for the Michigan State Relays slated for Feb. 11 are 24' 9½" broad jump, 56'6½" shot, :30.8 300 and :07.4 75-yard dash, by N. U.'s Jim Golliday . . . Illini grad Max Hooper is working out with a newly organized air force cape team which will be touring the country . . . Down at Macomb they're thumping the drums for Western after 18 victories . . . Highland Park's 6-6 Chuck Schramm is averaging 19.9, with 6-7 Ron Nikcevick of Lane No. 1 on the bench . . . Ron has the team's individual single game for the year of 36.

Northwestern's indoor track squad will open the season Feb. 4 at Minnesota with letterman George Moyers of Hinsdale on hand for hurdles, high jump and pole vault . . . Moyers has been outstanding low hurdler 2 years, is an all-round man in duals.

Five of Indiana's swimmers are Hawaiians . . . Maine has 115 boys out for winter track, including 16 lettermen for the first meet with New Trier last week . . . Maine's swimmers lost to East Rockford for their first loss in 5 starts.

GUESTS OF HONOR at Northwestern Monday night were members of that 1931 Big Ten championship basketball team that won 16 of 17 games, the lone setback at the hands of Illinois, 34-28 . . . Wildcats previously whipped Illini 29-27 . . . Star of those days was Crane's Joe Reiff, tall in those days at 6-3, who now lives in Oak Park . . . Among frosh athletic honor rollers at N. U. is Tom Johnson of Downers Grove, an engineering major . . . Hinsdale's George Moyers made it, too . . . Fans who follow sports fortunes of Niles high will do well to watch for Hal Neimer in basketball, football and baseball (pitcher) . . . Top wrestlers at the Skokie school are undefeated Len Miresse and Jim Esbrook, plus once-defeated Henry Fuerzig.

Barrington grade school cagers reportedly lost their first game to Highland of Libertyville recently . . . Young Broncs are rated future champs.

Pro footballers have increased the height of the goal posts, but not of the cross bar, due to large number of field goals . . . We all remember Hugh Gallarneau for his football exploits, as well as Tom Harmon, but did you know Jackie Robinson was a member of that same college all-star grid squad? . . . Just for the record, LaGrange is leading the police pistol league, too.

Palatine Still Looking For First Victory

Top game in the close Northwest conference race this week will be Wauconda at Fenton Friday night. In the first round of play the Fenton Bisons beat Wauconda and back in form with 2 wins in a row after a disasterous tailspin, they may pull the trick again. The way the race stacks up Wauconda cannot afford to lose to Fenton and have much chance of finishing on top Wauconda had to play Ela-Vernon and Glenbrook, along with Fenton and Grant, in the remaining weeks of the season. With 3 out of 4 first division opponents Wauconda has their work cut out for them. Fenton has height, good scorers, and an improved passing attack. Three of the top 10 scorers in the league are Fenton players. Phil Johnson is fourth in scoring with 188, just 25 points behind the leader, Al Bathrick of Ela-Vernon. Lars Henricksen has scored 141 and Bob Heinrich 135.

FENTON'S FROSH-SOPHS are nearing the league championship with 10 straight wins and a two game lead over second place Antioch with only four games to go. If the little Bisons beat Wauconda this week they can sew up the title by winning at Antioch February 10.

This week Glenbrook will have a chance to catch up on the field by playing a postponed game at Grant Saturday night. Friday the Spartans meet Antioch at home. Glenbrook, with an easier schedule than their chief competitiors for the championship, rates a good chance to win both contests this week.

AFTER THAT they have Palatine and Grayslake, the tail end teams, before finishing at Wauconda. While Grayslake upset the Spartans last round they are not likely to surprise this time.

While this is going on Ela-Vernon, dropped into a first place tie last week by Glenbrook, will host Grayslake Friday. The following Friday Coach Norm Ladd's five will play a crucial game at Wauconda. Then Ela must close with Fenton and Grant in the final two weeks.

PALATINE is sunk in the league cellar with 10 straight losses and this past week their frosh-sophs fell into last place undisputed with a 1-9 record as Glenbrook finally won number two.

The Pirates are decided underdogs Friday when they travel to Grant to play in their new gym. February 10 they are host to league leading Glenbrook and then entertain Antioch Tuesday, February 14, in a game moved up three days to allow for the sectional wrestling tournament. In between Palatine travels to Zion on Saturday February 11 for a non-league game. The Pirates close the season at Grayslake February 24, the last chance for their first victory in 22 scheduled games.

SATURDAY NIGHT Fenton will play host to Mooseheart in another closie. Child city five has been up and down this season, with a record about equal to Fenton's 8-7. Only common opponent for the 2 schools is Marmion which edged Mooseheart by 3 in a tough battle, and lost to Fenton by 4 in an overtime.

New coaching setup at Mooseheart includes Dave Cohrs leading the varsity and Howie Allen the sophomores. Athletic director is Dale Smith. (Sp

Arlington Jr. High Splits At Mount Prospect

Arlington's Jr. high school's basketball squads gained another split Jan. 27 at Mt. Prospect Central school. Arlington won the lightweight game 49-29, but the Central five won the heavyweight affair 38-30.

For the lights Arlington ran off to a 14-1 lead the opening period, then slowed a bit for a 28-9 margin at halftime. Bob Inman's 8 baskets were a big help for Coach Ted Wissen of Heights. Both Inman and acting captain Jim Kennedy hit for 3 more buckets the third quarter as Arlington went to 46-16 going into the home stretch.

High point men for Arlington were Inman with 24 and Kennedy with 14. Leading Mt. Prospect were Peterson with 8 and Hawkansen with 6.

THE HEAVYWEIGHT affair was a different game, with Mt. Prospect leading 10-2, 20-14 and 27-21 at the quarters. Arlington failed to score a single bucket the opening stanza, with Kobi and Grams each tallying twice for Mt. Prospect.

Second quarter saw Bruce Fichte hit 3 baskets for Arlington and Grams make 3 for the winners. Esmond sank 2 for Mt. Prospect the third period with Fred Empkie doing the same for Coach Bob Spinks' Arlington five.

Fichte flurried 3 more the last quarter to take scoring honors with 16 points. McMillan scored 3 times the fourth quarter for Mt. Prospect dividing scoring honors with 13 for Grams and 6 each for Esmond and McMillan.

THE NEW SCOREBOARD at Fenton high has yet to arrive, though not for lack of hoping on the part of coaches, administration, and athletic director Frank Novatny. Joe Jones, a senior, has had the honor of operating the "temporary" board, soon to be considered the permanent one for the year. —Staff Photo

Palatine regional basketball tournament to be held February 28 through March 2 is made to order for creating fan interest. The pairings released by the state last weekend will have either Arlington or Barrington as likely to play in every tournament session.

Last year Arlington upset the Bronchos in the tourney final. The year before Barrington took the final from Arlington and went on to the quarter finals of the state tournament.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, seeded first by the coaches' ratings, meets Palatine in the first game Tuesday, February 28, at 7 p.m. This will be followed by Glenbrook seeded 3, versus Grayslake at 8:30.

Wednesday Barrington seeded number 2, opposes Libertyville and Wauconda, seeded fourth, faces Ela-Vernon, rated fifth. Semi-finals are slated for 7 and 8:30 Thursday and the final game at 8 Friday.

IF THE TOURNAMENT runs true to form the semi-finals should find Arlington meeting Glenbrook and Barrington opposing either Wauconda or Ela-Vernon. The dope is that Arlington would again meet in the final for the third straight year.

According to the seeding Arlington should win the championship, but there are just as many fans who would dispute this rating made in early January and give the edge to a Barrington team which appears to be still moving on toward a peak which may be at tournament time.

Outstanding Array Of Talent With Trotters At Heights Feb. 16

Player-coach of the great Harlem Globetrotters basketball team, coming to Arlington Heights high school gym for a game against the Chicago Majors Thursday, February 16, at 8:15 p.m., is Roscoe ("Duke") Cumberland, one of the real veterans of the world-famed aggregation.

One of the greatest all-around players and showmen the sport has ever known, the dapper Duke is in his 16th season with his beloved team. Cumberland is one of those athletes who never seems to age. He's bouncing around with all the verve, vim and vigor that characterized him when he first came up to the Trotters an ambitious rookie in 1940 out of Toledo, O., his home town.

Not one of the younger fellows today shows more pep in action than Cumberland, who steps around spryly as of yore, despite his 210-pound six foot four stature. His shooting eye is if anything, even better than in past years and any student of basketball knows he rates with the all-time greats in that department.

IN 1954 THE Harlem Globetrotters basketball team came up with one of its finest crops of new talent in years, and particularly outstanding among the "freshman" was Alvin Terrence Clinkscales.

Now in his second season, Clink is cavorting like a Globetrotter of years standing. He's exceedingly fast, having been a track star in high school and college, and his six feet 4½ inches in height aids his natural agility in rebounding superbly off both boards.

The 185-pound youth is used as a forward and center with the Trotters. He figures to remain a fixture with the team for years to come.

ANOTHER ARTIST of the hardwood who will perform for the Globetrotters will be Lee Garner. Garner is reaching the stardom predicted for him when he first reported as a rookie to the Globetrotters. When he first reported from Alcorn College of Mississippi something like four years ago, Lee surprised one and all on his agility and fine coordination.

PERFORMING between halves will be some of the greatest vaudeville stars ever to come to Arlington Heights. Tony Lavelli, accordionist, The Tong Brothers with their daring acrobatics, Miss Hawaii of 1954-55 and many others will be featured.

Tickets for this extravaganza can be purchased in advance at Beverly Lanes, Harris Pharmacy, Henderson's Pharmacy, Kindlers Ice Cream Shoppe and Lohr's Pharmacy in Arlington Heights. Mt. Prospect fans can get their tickets at either of the Golden Delicatessens or Keefer's Pharmacy and in Palatine tickets can be purchased at Palatine Drugs or Palatine Office Supply. Admission is $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for students.

Heights Loses Another Game By Fouling

Just who will get out of the cellar will be decided when Arlington travels to Downers Grove Friday night. Heights and Downers are tied with York for cellar honors at present. York meets Hinsdale, tied with LaGrange in first.

That Maine game was another instance of why the Cardinals would do better at horseshoes than basketball. They'd then get credit for coming close. The Cardinals have lost to Maine twice this year, each time by exactly 2 points.

THE LOCALS also lost to Riverside by 5, to Hinsdale by 8. They lost to Elgin by 8, to Leyden by a singleton. LaGrange, York and Hinsdale all took the measure of Coach Howard Lester's boys by 11.

Heights whipped Downers by 9, Glenbard by 3. That may give some indication of what to expect this week at Downers, though the hosts have improved tremendously and are led by O'Byrne and his 169 points in 9 games for a 19 average.

THAT MAINE affair was again the result of too much fouling for Heights. Strigel improved defensively with no early fouls, but 2 quickies the second period meant 4 points for Maine as the Demons caught up.

Arlington scored 24 field goals to 21 for Maine but the winners tallied 26 of 37 free throws with Heights getting 18 of 29. Particularly costly were the 6 misses at the free throw line by Bill Randag, all first tosses which could have meant 6-10 more points. Bill usually sinks more than Friday's 6 of 9 figure.

THE WATER BUCKET was too much of an obstacle for the Heights frosh-sophs in the preliminary Friday. Several of the Klotzmen appear out of condition, running over to the water fountain "each time the whistle blows." The sophs have been urged to hop onto the cotton wagon in remaining games.

Otherwise, it was just the odds catching up with the locals in the Maine game in a season that saw the young Cardinals win 7 and 9 of 11, now lose 2 in a row in a league of fairly even teams. Bruce Bjorklund played the entire game for Heights, but is still not up to par, strengthwise, after a bout with the fu.

A complacent attitude has gripped the frosh-sophs, too, which will make any future victories difficult. Arlington beat Downers by 7 points last time. (Sp

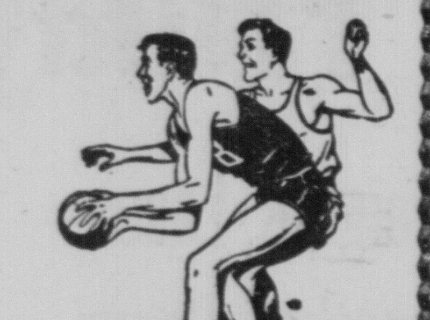
MAC SAYS



by G. A. McElroy

GLENBROOK'S DEFEAT of Ela-Vernon scrambled the northwest suburban race in basketball again with Ela, Wauconda and Glenbrook each having two defeats. As we see it Glenbrook has the best chance to finish on top even though they have 5 games to 4 for the other leaders. Glenbrook has only one remaining first division opponent, playing at Wauconda in the season finale. Others to be met in order are Antioch and Grant next weekend followed by Palatine and Grayslake before the game which may mean the championship at Wauconda.

On the other hand Wauconda has the toughest lineup with three first division opponents Fenton, Ela-Vernon and Glenbrook plus a game at Grant. Ela-Vernon's remaining games in order are Grayslake, Wauconda, Fenton, and Antioch two of whom are first division clubs. At this stage however, Antioch, Grant, and Grayslake may be just the team to decide which of the leaders wins the title for on any given night any team in the league except Palatine might whip any other.

LAST WEEK WE MADE AN ERROR in stating that Glenbrook beat Palatine in wrestling in the 1953-54 season. The truth is that Palatine won both of the last years by 1 and 4 points. This year's matches held Saturday night proved interesting but not so close with a 34-13 score.

Three Glenbrook boys had been winners in the Palatine holiday tournament. One of them, Reed, pinned John Dilks for his first defeat of the season.

Another, Pagano, was beaten by Jim McCreery who has not been beaten in dual matches. The other, Elko, was wrestled to a draw by Karl Schwenk who came through with the standout performance for the Pirates. It was the referee's decision which was protested for more than five minutes by the Glenbrook coach.

EDWARD FOX who officiated the frosh-soph section of Saturday's wrestling card at Palatine was a teammate on the Nothwestern university wrestling team with Walter Sherman of Glenbrook and John Ellis of Palatine in their college days. Fox wrestled at 120, Ellis at 145, and Sherman at 165 for the wildcats. Sherman later went on to Iowa State, into service and came back to this area, serving as assistant coach at Hinsdale prior to taking over football and wrestling at the new Glenbrook school in 1953. Fox and Russell McCarthy have been named by the state office to officiate the sectional tournament at Palatine February 17-18.

Wauconda is coming along fine in their second year of wrestling. The Bulldogs have lost only 2 matches, one last week at Crystal Lake, 31-15.

Look elsewhere in this issue for Palatine's Tuesday score, also at Crystal Lake, to see how the Pirates and Wauconda shape up for the final of the season at Palatine Saturday, February 11. This coming Friday night Palatine will be host to Elgin's wrestlers, touted as the best team in the coming Palatine state sectional tournament scheduled February 17-18.

THE DOWNSTATE PRESS makes a point of saying that DuSable's cage star, McKinley Cousen, is enrolling at Indiana this coming semester while the Chicago press states he is enrolling at DePaul. Whichever one gets him will have one of the best cagers coming out of the Chicago area this season.

In pointing out the growing supremacy of Illinois basketball particularly on the prep school level statistics are quoted which list 53 Illinois boys playing in the Big Ten this year compared with 41 from Indiana.

Also in the recent Illinois-Indiana game 8 of the 10 starters played their prep ball in Illinois. Iowa and Indiana are both concentrating on getting a goodly share of the best of the Illinois grid and cage talent and we would say Iowa has certainly done right well in this respect. Latest is John Sawin of Chicago Vocational's Chicago city champs who, as an all-state tackle, was recognized as the best high school football player this past season in the Chicago area. Sawin is reported enrolled at Iowa.

DON SCHLUNDT, Big Ten scoring leader for Indiana the past two seasons and one of the best centers in Western conference history, passed up professional basketball. It is reported he has joined the Caterpillar Tractor team of Peoria and will try to help them win their way to the Olympic games. Schlundt should be a cinch to be picked to represent U. S. in basketball.

Inverness golf club has again offered the Palatine high golf team the opportunity to play their matches and do their practicing at their fine private club just west of Palatine. The cooperation of the club officials has been a big factor in helping Palatine high build up golf interest and high class teams. This year the Northwest conference tournament will be held at Inverness on Monday afternoon, May 21.

Fenton Sophs In Steady Game To Whip Palatine

Fenton frosh-sophs played a steady game Saturday night and took advantage of Palatine's errors to win, 65-37 before a small crowd at Fenton's gymnasium.

Fenton's height and well planned tactics gave them a commanding lead of, 16-7, as the first quarter ended. The second quarter was as bad as the first for Palatine as Fenton's Bob Biefield scored nine points to give Fenton a comanding lead of, 29-11.

IN THIRD QUARTER Fenton took command, spurting to a 48-17 lead with Sell, Christainsen, Meyer, Biefield, and Volkman doing the scoring. The fourth quarter was Palatine's best. Palatine played an all freshman team in the quarter and collected a total of 20 points to Fenton's 17. Dick Welty led the attack with 7 points, but Fenton had too much of a lead as they were victorious, 65-37, for their tenth straight conference victory.

Bob Biefield kept Fenton rolling all through the game as he collected 21 points to take high scoring honors. Palatine's Bruce King took individual scoring honors for Palatine with 10 points. Fenton's 6' 5" center, Chuck Christainsen, took over fifty per cent of the rebounds which hurt Palatine considerably.

Fenton Sophs Chalk Up No. 9 Over Grayslake

by MAX ZOLLNER

Fenton's frosh-sophs remained undefeated as they marked up their ninth conference win against Grayslake, 45-35, on the Rams court Friday night.

Fenton's Bernie Sell and Chuck Christiansen copped scoring honors, notching 15 tallies apiece. Bob Meyer, Bison guard, scored 11. High man for the Rams was Beck with 11 points.

Chuck Christiansen scored all but 2 of Fenton's points in the first period as the Bisons led 7-6.

SCORING picked up in the second stanza as Fenton outscored the Rams 12-9 to lead at the half 19-15.

Grayslake kept right on the heels of the Bisons in the third period coming out on the short end of a 35-29 score.

Leading the Bisons attack were Bernie Sell and Bob Meyer with 7 and 5 points respectively. Pacing the Rams was Farm with 6.

Coach Bill Jonkheer's sophomore squad stayed ahead in the final count quarter notching 10 markers to the Rams 6.

Palatine Wrestlers Win NW 'Title' In Glenbrook Victory

by JOE GODDARD

Palatine's varsity wrestling squad came through with their third straight victory and eighth seasonal victory in 12 meets by whipping Glenbrook last Saturday, 34 to 13. Eight boys won, 4 on pins, and 1 tied to give Palatine their 34 points. One boy, John Dilks was pinned for his first loss of the season, and the other two were decisioned.

Newcomer John Wehner at 133 made his welcome a warm one by pinning his man in 1:45, the shortest time of the meet.

DAN KUSEK started the meet by Pinning Bruce Bruno a former Palatine student, and after Merl Hamilton was decisioned, Andy Anderson and Jim McCreery pinned their men to give Palatine a 15 to 2 lead. The Pirates were successful in defending this lead through the rest of the meet.

Lenard Rohde at heavyweight continued his winning streak by decisioning his man. Bob Nordin at 145 beat another ex-Palatine student, Steve Webster and Denny Lundgren at 138 beat Ray Schurwanz, another alumnus who also attended Palatine a year with the Northbrook group.

Arlington JVs Win

Arlington's JV cage squad won another game Saturday, whipping the reserve Demons in their own den, 67-62. The game was close all the way, Heights leading 16-14 the first quarter and Maine ahead 33-31 at the half. Coach "Bus" Ormsbee's five shot ahead the third period 51-45, and kept the margin to the final gun.

Tom Jacobsen was consistent for the Cardinals as he hit for 2 buckets the first period, 3 more the second, 5 the third and once the final stanza for 25 points. Wayne Haemker took his turn garnering 2 buckets each quarter for 20 points.

For Maine it was Sisulak with 16 and Hauk with 16.

Glenbrook Scrambles NW Race In Ela Win

Glenbrook changed the Northwest conference cage race into a three team affair Saturday night as they outpointed a "cold" Ela-Vernon five 57-43 to knock the Bears out of their undisputed league lead. Paced by Bob Boyd's 10 points Glenbrook racked up 25 in the final period to change a 32-30 score into a one sided rout.

Boyd, who had four field goals and 13 out of 22 free throws for the game, came through in the clutch to move Glenbrook back into the thick of the title chase. Sheldon Spalding at center used his 6 foot 5 height to good advantage against the small Ela Bears and scored 18 to go with Boyd's 23 points. The results left Ela and Wauconda with 8-2 records and Glenbrook 7-2.

WAUCONDA had to hold off a tough Antioch quintet in the final stages of the game Friday to annex a close 52-48 decision and move back into a first place tie as Ela lost Saturday to Glenbrook. Eddie Okpisz came into his own Friday for the Wauconda Bulldogs as he set the individual high for the season in the Northwest conference with 32 points.

The 6' 7" left handed pivot man dropped 12 from the field and 8 free throws. Gene Jaskot's fine pass work and rebounding was a factor in the success of the elongated Okpisz. Jaskot, who seldom shoots yet ranks second in league scoring, came through with 10 points.

Al Reckers had 14 and Tom Walsh 12 for Antioch. Wauconda led 25-23 at the half and 45-38 going into the final quarter. It was Wauconda's eighth win in 10 league games and Antioch's sixth loss in 9.

Ela-Vernon Has Easy Time Disposing Of Palatine, 54-43

by JOE GODDARD

Ela-Vernon's Bears met an easy foe last Friday in the representatives from Palatine as they downed the hapless Pirates, 54 to 43 at Palatine.

Ela, holders of first place with Wauconda and Glenbrook, opened up with a seven point first quarter lead 13 to 6 and defended this lead successfully through the remainder of the game. The starting five played the first half, were given a rest throughout the third quarter, and returned for a little action in the final period. In all 12 boys entered the game for the Bears.

THE LEAGUES leading scorer, Al Bathrick, and guard Ken Stanciu led the Bears attack with 18 and 15 points respectively. Al's brother and center, Lee, totaled nine points.

Jim Eldridge, another sophomore in Palatine's big rebuilding plan who had seen action only as a sub through most of the year, started and played the whole game as center, doing a fine job freshman team to a 44-35 victory points led sophomore Rich Wisner, who scored nine points in the last quarter, and junior Roy Hahnfeld, who had eight points. Palatine's two seniors failed to score a point in the loss.

Fenton Breaks Losing Streak By Tripping Grayslake, 64-46

by BILL RIPPERGER

Fenton's Bisons broke a string of 3 conference losses by solidly trouncing the Gryslake Rams, 64-46, Friday on the Rams' court.

Phil Johnson, captain of the Bisons, led the scoring parade with 18 points. His teammates, Bob Heinrich and Lars Henriksen, each collected 14. The best Ram effort was 13 points by Hunziker. He was followed by Peregrin with 12 and Ritta, who also had 12.

THE RAMS kept pace with Fenton during the first period and trailed only 10-7. Ritta counted 4 for Grayslake, while Henriksen got 6 for the Bisons.

Fenton really turned on the steam in the second quarter and outscored the Rams, 25-10. Johnson led this surge as he drilled in 15 of the 25 Bison points. Peregrin managed 6 points for the Grayslake five. The Bisons led at the halftime intermission, 35-17.

AGAIN, in the third period, the Fenton five went on a scoring spree, this time outscoring the Rams, 19-9. The Bison scoring was balanced, with Bob Heinrich's six points as high. Hunziker accounted for all but two of the Grayslake points.

Opening the fourth stanza the led by Peregrin, Hunziker, and Ritta, they fought back and hit for 20 points while holding the Bisons to 10. By this time, though, they were playing Bison substitutes, for Coach Novatny had cleared the Fenton bench. Fenton subs Tom Clark and Rich D'Hooge each dropped in a basket. Wes Wingate also scored for the Bisons on 2 free tosses. At the final whistle Fenton was 18 points in the lead, 64-46.

Frosh 'B' Cagers Win For Arlington

Arlington's "B" freshman cagers changed their tactics to man-to-man the second half to come from behind and whip Maine Saturday 34-22. Maine failed to score a single point the final frame, just 4 the third quarter.

Coach Bob Baker used just 5 boys for Heights, all of them making the scoring column. Arlington tied Maine the first period, 7-all, then fell behind 18-12 at the half. Heights tied things at 2-all the third period, then forged ahead.

Top scorer for Arlington was Jon Benrud with 13 followed by Dave Varnado with 10. (Sp

by G. A. McElroy

GLENBROOK'S DEFEAT of Ela-Vernon scrambled the northwest suburban race in basketball again with Ela, Wauconda and Glenbrook each having two defeats. As we see it Glenbrook has the best chance to finish on top even though they have 5 games to 4 for the other leaders. Glenbrook has only one remaining first division opponent, playing at Wauconda in the season finale. Others to be met in order are Antioch and Grant next weekend followed by Palatine and Grayslake before the game which may mean the championship at Wauconda.

On the other hand Wauconda has the toughest lineup with three first division opponents Fenton, Ela-Vernon and Glenbrook plus a game at Grant. Ela-Vernon's remaining games in order are Grayslake, Wauconda, Fenton, and Antioch two of whom are first division clubs. At this stage however, Antioch, Grant, and Grayslake may be just the team to decide which of the leaders wins the title for on any given night any team in the league except Palatine might whip any other.

Sherman later went on to Iowa State, into service and came back to this area, serving as assistant coach at Hinsdale prior to taking over football and wrestling at the new Glenbrook school in 1953. Fox and Russell McCarthy have been named by the state office to officiate the sectional tournament at Palatine February 17-18.

Wauconda is coming along fine in their second year of wrestling. The Bulldogs have lost only 2 matches, one last week at Crystal Lake, 31-15.

Look elsewhere in this issue for Palatine's Tuesday score, also at Crystal Lake, to see how the Pirates and Wauconda shape up for the final of the season at Palatine Saturday, February 11. Fenton Sophs In Steady Game To Whip Palatine

Fenton frosh-sophs played a steady game Saturday night and took advantage of Palatine's errors to win, 65-37 before a small crowd at Fenton's gymnasium.

Fenton's height and well planned tactics gave them a commanding lead of, 16-7, as the first quarter ended. The second quarter was as bad as the first for Palatine as Fenton's Bob Biefield scored nine points to give Fenton a comanding lead of, 29-11.

Palatine played an all freshman team in the quarter and collected a total of 20 points to Fenton's 17. Dick Welty led the attack with 7 points, but Fenton had too much of a lead as they were victorious, 65-37, for their tenth straight conference victory.

Bob Biefield kept Fenton rolling all through the game as he collected 21 points to take high scoring honrs. Palatine's Bruce King took individual scoring honors for Palatine with 10 points. Fenton's 6' 5" center, Chuck Christainsen, took over fifty per cent of the rebounds which hurt Palatine considerably.

Fenton Sophs Chalk Up No. 9 Over Grayslake

by MAX ZOLLNER

Fenton's frosh-sophs remained undefeated as they marked up their ninth conference win against Grayslake, 45-35, on the Rams court Friday night.

Fenton's Bernie Sell and Chuck Christiansen copped scoring honors, notching 15 tallies apiece. Bob Meyer, Bison guard, scored 11. High man for the Rams was Beck with 11 points.

Chuck Christiansen scored all but 2 of Fenton's points in the first period as the Bisons led 7-6.

SCORING picked up in the second stanza as Fenton outscored the Rams 12-9 to lead at the half 19-15.

Grayslake kept right on the heels of the Bisons in the third period coming out on the short end of a 35-29 score.

Leading the Bisons attack were Bernie Sell and Bob Meyer with 7 and 5 points respectively. Pacing the Rams was Farm with 6.

Coach Bill Jonkheer's sophomore squad stayed ahead in the final count quarter notching 10 markers to the Rams 6.

Glenbrook Scrambles NW Race In Ela Win

Glenbrook changed the Northwest conference cage race into a three team affair Saturday night as they outpointed a "cold" Ela-Vernon five 57-43 to knock the Bears out of their undisputed league lead. Paced by Bob Boyd's 10 points Glenbrook racked up 25 in the final period to change a 32-30 score into a one sided rout.

Boyd, who had four field goals and 13 out of 22 free throws for the game, came through in the clutch to move Glenbrook back into the thick of the title chase. Sheldon Spalding at center used his 6 foot 5 height to good advantage against the small Ela Bears and scored 18 to go with Boyd's 23 points. The results left Ela and Wauconda with 8-2 records and Glenbrook 7-2.

WAUCONDA had to hold off a tough Antioch quintet in the final stages of the game Friday to annex a close 52-48 decision and move back into a first place tie as Ela lost Saturday to Glenbrook. Eddie Okpisz came into his own Friday for the Wauconda Bulldogs as he set the individual high for the season in the Northwest conference with 32 points.

The 6' 7" left handed pivot man dropped 12 from the field and 8 free throws. Gene Jaskot's fine pass work and rebounding was a factor in the success of the elongated Okpisz. Jaskot, who seldom shoots yet ranks second in league scoring, came through with 10 points

Al Reckers had 14 and Tom Walsh 12 for Antioch. Wauconda led 25-23 at the half and 45-38 going into the final quarter. It was Wauconda's eighth win in 10 league games and Antioch's sixth loss in 9.

Ela-Vernon Has Easy Time Disposing Of Palatine, 54-43

by JOE GODDARD

Ela-Vernon's Bears met an easy foe last Friday in the representatives from Palatine as they downed the hapless Pirates, 54 to 43 at Palatine.

Ela, holders of first place with Wauconda and Glenbrook, opened up with a seven point first quarter lead 13 to 6 and defended this lead successfully through the remainder of the game. The starting five played the first half, were given a rest throughout the third quarter, and returned for a little action in the final period. In all 12 boys entered the game for the Bears.

THE LEAGUES leading scorer, Al Bathrick, and guard Ken Stanciu led the Bears attack with 18 and 15 points respectively. Al's brother and center, Lee, totaled nine points.

Jim Eldridge, another sophomore in Palatine's big rebuilding plan who had seen action only as a sub through most of the year, started and played the whole game as center, doing a fine job freshman team to a 44-35 victory points led sophomore Rich Wisner, who scored nine points in the last quarter, and junior Roy Hahnfeld, who had eight points. Palatine's two seniors failed to score a point in the loss.

Fenton Breaks Losing Streak By Tripping Grayslake, 64-46

by BILL RIPPERGER

Fenton's Bisons broke a string of 3 conference losses by solidly trouncing the Gryslake Rams, 64-46, Friday on the Rams' court.

Phil Johnson, captain of the Bisons, led the scoring parade with 18 points. His teammates, Bob Heinrich and Lars Henriksen, each collected 14. The best Ram effort was 13 points by Hunziker. He was followed by Peregrin with 12 and Ritta, who also had 12.

THE RAMS kept pace with Fenton during the first period and trailed only 10-7. Ritta counted 4 for Grayslake, while Henriksen got 6 for the Bisons.

Fenton really turned on the steam in the second quarter and outscored the Rams, 25-10. Johnson led this surge as he drilled in 15 of the 25 Bison points. Peregrin managed 6 points for the Grayslake five. The Bisons led at the halftime intermission, 35-17.

AGAIN, in the third period, the Fenton five went on a scoring spree, this time outscoring the Rams, 19-9. The Bison scoring was balanced, with Bob Heinrich's six points as high. Hunziker accounted for all but two of the Grayslake points.

Opening the fourth stanza the led by Peregrin, Hunziker, and Ritta, they fought back and hit for 20 points while holding the Bisons to 10. By this time, though, they were playing Bison substitutes, for Coach Novatny had cleared the Fenton bench. Fenton subs Tom Clark and Rich D'Hooge each dropped in a basket. Wes Wingate also scored for the Bisons on 2 free tosses. At the final whistle Fenton was 18 points in the lead, 64-46.

Frosh 'B' Cagers Win For Arlington

Arlington's "B" freshman cagers changed their tactics to man-to-man the second half to come from behind and whip Maine Saturday 34-22. Maine failed to score a single point the final frame, just 4 the third quarter.

Coach Bob Baker used just 5 boys for Heights, all of them making the scoring column. Arlington tied Maine the first period, 7-all, then fell behind 18-12 at the half. Heights tied things at 2-all the third period, then forged ahead.

Top scorer for Arlington was Jon Benrud with 13 followed by Dave Varnado with 10. (Sp

by JOE GODDARD

Palatine's varsity wrestling squad came through with their third straight victory and eighth seasonal victory in 12 meets by whipping Glenbrook last Saturday, 34 to 13. Eight boys won, 4 on pins, and 1 tied to give Palatine their 34 points. One boy, John Dilks was pinned for his first loss of the season, and the other two were decisioned.

Newcomer John Wehner at 133 made his welcome a warm one by pinning his man in 1:45, the shortest time of the meet.

DAN KUSEK started the meet by Pinning Bruce Bruno a former Palatine student, and after Merl Hamilton was decisioned, Andy Anderson and Jim McCreery pinned their men to give Palatine a 15 to 2 lead. The Pirates were successful in defending this lead through the rest of the meet.

Lenard Rohde at heavyweight continued his winning streak by decisioning his man. Bob Nordin at 145 beat another ex-Palatine student, Steve Webster and Denny Lundgren at 138 beat Ray Schurwanz, another alumnus who also attended Palatine a year with the Northbrook group.

Arlington JVs Win

Arlington's JV cage squad won another game Saturday, whipping the reserve Demons in their own den, 67-62. The game was close all the way, Heights leading 16-14 the first quarter and Maine ahead 33-31 at the half. Coach "Bus" Ormsbee's five shot ahead the third period 51-45, and kept the margin to the final gun.

Tom Jacobsen was consistent for the Cardinals as he hit for 2 buckets the first period, 3 more the second, 5 the third and once the final stanza for 25 points. Wayne Haemker took his turn garnering 2 buckets each quarter for 20 points. For Maine it was Sisulak with 18 and Houck with 16.

Last Second Basket Gives Maine 2 Pointer Over Cards

by PETE SWANSON

A 25 foot set shot by Bob Gruber with 4 seconds to play gave Maine a 68-66 win over Arlington Friday night on the Arlington court. The game saw the locals rally from a 7 point deficit with 1:50 left to tie the score, only to be beaten by Gruber's heroics.

With 1:50 remaining, Maine held a 66-59 margin. Baskets by Sujack and Summers cut the margin to 3 points. At this point the Blue Demons began to commit avoidable fouls. Two charging fouls were called against the visitors

Each time the Cardinal shooter hit his first shot. But each time both the bonus free throw and a rebound shot were missed.

Behind 66-65, the Cards got another chance as the result of an intercepted pass. Driving across the time line, a Cardinal was fouled deliberately and received 2 shots. After the first was missed, the second was made to tie the score at 66-all with 12 seconds left. It appeared there would be overtime until Gruber, a sophomore, took over.

OPENING QUARTER saw the visitors leading until the Cards came on late in the period. The home 5 outrebounded their opponents and John Sujack looked good setting up plays, his passing accounting for 3 baskets in the first 8 minutes.

During the second period the game was on the ragged side as both teams played "racehorse" basketball. Arlington moved out in front, 34-25, but made mistakes late in the half that allowed the Demons to get back in the ball game.

A letdown and mistakes on the part of the Cards helped Maine take the lead in the third stanza. After falling behind 46-40, the home team regained the lead at 49-47, but baskets by Gruber and Nelson put the visitors in front again at the three quarter mark.

IN FINAL STANZA the game was ragged and the defensive play of the Cards left something to be desired. Free throws helped Maine to increase its lead until the wild finish set in.

Scoring-wise, Dick Nelson with 19 points and Gruber with 18 led the winners. Ron Ashley paced Arlington with 17, while Denny Striegel, who was Arlington's best player, had 14. As in the December match between the 2 teams, the Cards had 3 more baskets but lost the game from the foul line. The Demons hit 26 of 37 charity tosses, 74%, while the Cards were hitting 18 of 29, 60%. The locals had their chances but failed to capitalize on them.

Higher Weights Stop Card Grapplers Again

Once again the higher weights proved the downfall of Arlington's wrestling team as the Cardinals fell from a 15-13 deficit after the 145-pound match to a 28-16 loss against LaGrange Saturday.

For Coach Dick Mudge it was Jerry Bonn pinning at 95, then Ralph Carlino winning an 8-2 decision over Meyers at 103. That was the same score for the 2 boys at 95 a year ago. Phil Deming, Pat Harris, Jim Clark and Jack Ebert then lost decisions.

FOR EBERT it was his first dual loss this season, a 3-2 affair that could have gone the other way. Clark is a sophomore just moved to the varsity who fought well throughout his match.

Ed Beier took a pin at 138 against a sophomore, Gilbert. Only points thereafter for the Heights cause were by Al Rose in a 4-0 decision. Rose is looking better, regaining strength daily after his Fred Steingraber also did a long bout with the flu. good job, though losing at 154.

Nashua, Swaps May Meet Again On Local Tracks

Nashua and Swaps, whose duel last August in the Washington Park match race gave racing its top thrill, head a sparking array of nominations to the $100,000 added Arlington Handicap on the grass and the $100,000 Washington Park Handicap for 1956.

The naming of Nashua and Swaps to the twin features indicated that Chicago fans may get another chance to see the star performers in action as they plan a return to the scene of their greatest triumphs of 1955.

Rex C. Ellsworth, owner of Swaps, is scheduled to compete at the Chicago tracks in 1956, while the nominating of Nashua to the two handicaps was one of the last acts of the late William Woodward Jr., before his accidental death last October.

THE COMPLETE stakes program of the 97-day coordinated Balmoral - Arlington - Washington meetings, which Balmoral launches May 14 at Washington Park, will be announced soon.

The 27th running of the Arlington Handicap again will be renewed at one mile and three sixteenths on the grass and is expected to gross in the neighborhood of $160,000. Last year's running offered a gross pot of $161,000.

The continued popularity of international competition again was evident in roster of nominees to the Arlington Handicap. There were 31 foreign-breds named, while 19 were made candidates for the Washington Park Handicap, racing's "Miracle Mile."

Nasha wound up his brief two-season career in 1955 boasting of 16 wins in 20 starts, with total earnings of $945,415, second only to Citation's $1,085,760. Nashua appears certain to eclipse that mark this year.

TOP NOMINATOR to the Arlington feature was Hasty House Farm which named nine, including the English-bred *Stan and Platan, winners of the '54 and '55 renewals. In an all-out effort to win the Arlington feature for the third time, which would give the Reuben-owned establishment permanent possession of the coveted Arlington Cup, Hasty House also has named Argentina-bedd *Mister Black and the stakes-winning Sea O Erin.

Hasty House also has made French-bred *Bryn, winner of the Prix de Port Royal, and English import *Monk Shoe, winner of the Tettenhall and the Arlington at Newberry, eligible for both races. (Sp

Golden Gloves Centers Open Tournament Play

Ten of 33 out of town Golden Gloves teams which will participate in the 29th annual Tournament of Champions in Chicago Stadium on the nights of Feb. 27, 28 and 29 will see action during this week's program.

Two members, the Memphis Commercial Appeal and Marshfield, Wis., will conclude their tournaments during this span. The Commercial Appeal opens its meet Wednesday, holds its semi-finals on Thursday and salutes its champions the following evening. Marshfield will crown its standard bearers on Saturday evening, Marshall's champions then will oppose champions from Fond du Lac and Escanaba for the right to represent Wisconsin in Chicago.

Seven other centers opened their tournaments Monday and Tuesday.

Out of town Golden Gloves fans wishing to attend the Tournament of Champions or finals March 9 may direct ticket requests to the Golden Gloves ticket manager, Tribune Tower, Chicago.

Sports Scholarship

Twenty-five members of Northwestern university's teams made the scholastic honor roll for the fall quarter as they compiled a B or better average. The group includes 18 varsity and eight freshman athletes.

Varsity athletes compiled a 2.31 (C plus) average which approximates the average for all men students. Senior athletes topped the list with a 2.45 (B minus) average followed by juniors, 2.35 (C plus); sophomores' 2.14 (C), and freshmen, 2.08(C).

No failures were recorded out of 100 grades in the senior group and only one F was received by the juniors. Grade distribution for both varsity and freshmen athletes was: 57 A's; 166 B's; 331 C's; 92 D's, and 23 F's.

There was but one scholastic failure among 80 members of the 6 winter sports teams.

Notre Dame To Oppose Loyola At Stadium

Notre Dame's first Chicago Stadium appearance of the season and the intersectional duel between Brandeis and De Paul feature the collegiate doubeheader Saturday night, Feb. 4. It will be the sixth in the series of basketball twin bills sponsored by De Paul university at the Stadium.

As always, Notre Dame is a top attraction in Chicago and its meeting with Loyola in half of the Feb. 4 doubleheader carries some added interest. In December, the Ramblers, who have yet to beat the Irish in a series that now is sixteen games old, came the closest yet to breaking the spell. Notre Dame had to go overtime on its home floor for an 85-84 victory.

COACH JOHNNY Jordan's Irish own one of the best one-two scoring punches in collegiate basketball this season. John Smyth, a graduate of De Paul academy, and Lloyd Aubrey between them are the all-time, first and second high single game scorers at Notre Dame. Aubrey set a new school record of 43 points against Butler early in January, and two weeks ago Smyth came up with a 36-point performance against Northwestern.

Other Chicagoans on the Notre Dame squad who have been playing regularly include John McCarthy, sophomore forward from Mount Carmel; and Ed Gleason, also a sophomore who prepped at St. Mel's.

BASKETBALL COACH Harry Stein has compiled a .667 record in his five years at Brandeis. Ace of his squad is Jimmy Houston, N. J., who holds most of the 6-5 senior center from Fairview, school's basketball records.

Houston, who started the present campaign with 1,187 points for three seasons, is well on his way to hit the 1,500 career mark by the time the schedule closes. Last year, he set a school single game scoring mark of 44 points against Tufts. He got 19 field goals in that contest.

Ela Frosh-Sophs Gain Revenge Over Palatine

by GEOFFREY JOHN

Ela-Vernon's frosh-soph team, seeking revenge from an earlier defeat whipped Palatine's frosh-soph team, 46-35, at Palatine last Friday night.

Ela showed great improvement from the first time the two teams met. The Pirates managed to get 3 points of Ela in the first quarter. Jim Gallagher collected five points to give Ela a, 15-3, first quarter lead.

In the second quarter Ela's defense held Palatine to five points while they collected 10. Gallagher and Vasey continually grabbed rebounds for Ela which proved to be Palatine's weakness as the game progressed. As the half ended Ela had a commanding lead of, 25-8.

THIRD QUARTER still showed no evidence of Ela's defense tiring. Ela's Robb scored 6 points to help to enlarge Ela's lead to a, 40-18, third quarter lead. The fourth quarter showed evidence of Palatine's improving.

The frosh again showed great ability as Jack Freter, John Hicks, Dick Welty, Peter John, and Bill Coates collected a total of 13 points to help Palatine total 15 points to Ela's 6. The fourth quarter splurge was not enough as Ela-Vernon was victorious, 46-33.

Again Palatine's downfall was the first half. Pal's opponents always seem to build up a lead that Palatine can not make up in their second half splurges. Palatine's Dick Welty was high scorer with nine points. Ela's Jim Gallagher collected 8 points.

Heights Sophs Lose Thriller To Maine

by PETE SWANSON

In a home game Friday night Arlington's sophs fell behind early, fought their way back to tie the game but lost out in the end. The young Cards missed late opportunities, particularly from the foul line, to tie and win the contest.

During the opening period the visitors shot well while the Cards turned cold in the latter part of the quarter. This game was close early, but the young Demons scored 4 straight baskets to break a 9 all tie and assume an 8 point margin.

THE LOCALS reduced the lead to 2 points early in the second quarter, only to see Maine move out again. The young Demons continued to shoot well, while Arlington made mistakes when it had chances to cut the lead again.

Maine cooled off in the third stanza after holding a 34-26 lead at one time. Play was ragged and both teams missed scoring chances. In fact, in the period only 4 baskets were made, 3 of these by the home team.

BOB LOCKWOOD and Jack Weber led the Cards during the final stanza, with Weber's rebound shot producing a 41-41 deadlock. Maine regained the lead, however, on 2 free tosses by Bursiek and a basket by McKee. Three times the home team missed free throws that would have tied the score Pagel's basket with 10 seconds to play gave the young Demons a 48-45 lead. After calling time out Arlington scored on a drive-in shot by Bruce Bjorklund, but the attempt to draw a foul did not succeed.

With 15 and 10 points respectively, Ball and Bursiek led the winners. Lockwood and Weber scored 13 each for Arlington, with Bjorklund adding 12. The best player for the Klotzmen was Jack Weber, who played his best game in several weeks.

CLOSENESS OF the game is indicated by the statistics. Each team scored 17 baskets and attempted 24 charity tosses. The young Demons were successful on 14 and the young Cards on 13, and this difference meant the ball game.

Pirate Frosh Defeat Ela

by GEOFFREY JOHN

Jim Wenger, who showed great shooting ability, led the Palatine freshman team to an44-35, victory over Ela-Vernon Saturday. This was Palatine's fifth victory in 10 starts.

Ela-Vernon and Palatine traded baskets all through the first quarter as it ended in an 8-8 deadlock. Palatine's Dick Knez collected six points as Palatine scored a total of sixteen points to take a commanding lead of 24-14 as the half ended.

Ela looked as if they might win the game during the third quarter. Palatine still held the lead, 31-24, as the last quarter started. Palatine's Jim Wenger scored 7 points in the last quarter to give Palatine a decisive victory 44-35.

Jim Wenger took high scoring honors with 14 points. He was closely followed by Palatine's Dick Knez and Ela-Vernon's Bergman with 10 points apiece. Palatine's fast breaking and good rebounding gave Palatine their decisive victory.

Arlington Soph Wrestlers Beat LaGrange, Have Tough New Trier On Tap Saturday

LaGrange proved weaker than expected for Arlington's frosh-soph wrestlers Saturday, 38-11. The Lions used 7 freshmen, 5 sophomores in bowing before Coach Maurice Kellogg's powerhouse.

Ironical point of the match is that LaGrange sophomores were undefeated until Saturday. Remaining 2 league meets for the locals include Maine and Hinsdale, both losers to LaGrange. Severest test for the Kellogg-men will be New Trier this Saturday.

Card sophs have lost just 2 matches this year, 33-21 to Leyden and 27-16 to Evanston. Evanston beat New Trier by 2, which may give some indication of what is expected Saturday.

ALL THE CARDS did a good job, particularly Jeff Heinze, Roger Farleigh, Mike Zucchero, Greg Rose and Jack Hoffman, all of whom took pins. Hoffman took the quickest pin of the day in 45 seconds. With Jim Clark moved up to the varsity John Amann took over at 127, looked good in spite of losing 7-5.

LaGrange gained points on a draw with Dave Schreiber at 95, decision over Bill Ferry at 103, and that decision over Amann at 127.

Card Gymnasts Defeat York

Arlington's state champion gymnasts started tuning up for the approaching state tournament by entering veterans in more events at York Wednesday of last week. The Cardinals won the meet 96-58.

Heights will play host to Proviso at 4:15 Tuesday, Feb. 7, and to New Trier at 3:00 Friday, Feb. 10. These 2 meets will provide Coach Gay Hughes with a preview of how his boys will fare in the state invitational meet. Arlington took 6 of 7 firsts against York plus all 7 seconds.

SIX DIFFERENT Cardinals copped those firsts.

On side horse, John Koeppen 1st, Dick Nieland 2nd, Ed Wilson 6th.

Horizontal bar, Bob Baas 1st, John Kimbrough 2nd, Wilson 4th.

Long horse, Nieland 1st, Bruce Robb 2nd, Mike Spalding 6th.

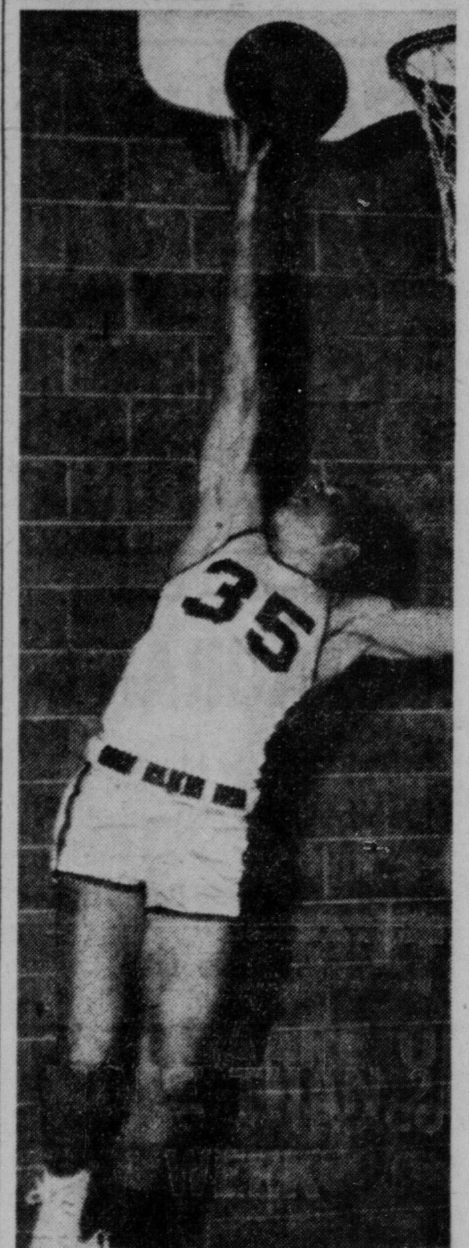
Rings, Robb 1st, Ed Holm 2nd, Tom Seward 3rd.

Tumbling, Fatovich of York 1st, Norb Flowers 2nd, Dave Peterson 4th, Bob Maierhofer 5th.

Parallel bars, Baas and Dick Kimbrough tied for 1st, Wilson 6th.

Trampoline, Flowers 1st, Maierhofer 2nd, Peterson 3rd.

Junior Guard



Lars Henrikson is a good ball handler for Fenton cagers this year, a good defensive man, quick to steal the ball in the front line. Lars, a good scorer, has been "cold" lately, but ranks second to Phil Johnson in team scoring.

Lars has been consistent, hitting in double digits in every game but 3. In the opener against Hampshire Lars tallied nary a point, hit for 7 against Palatine and Glenbrook. Otherwise he has had good nights, including totals of 20, 22, 23 and 24 points. He's particularly adept at the free throwline.

Maine Frosh Win

Maine's freshman "A" cagers were veritable Demons Saturday as they forgot about losing to Arlington earlier in the year by 27 points and burned the nets for a 66-49 victory. Both squads had about the same personnel, but Maine also had 6-4 Gebbie, whose height paid off in a million ways.

Maine outscored Arlington 18-9 the first quarter and 18-10 the third. Otherwise the scoring was even, though the winners outrebounded and outfought Coach Ken Schaller's five throughout the contest.

Last Second Basket Gives Maine 2 Pointer Over Cards

by PETE SWANSON

A 25 foot set shot by Bob Gruber with 4 seconds to play gave Maine a 68-66 win over Arlington Friday night on the Arlington court. The game saw the locals rally from a 7 point deficit with 1:50 left to tie the score, only to be beaten by Gruber's heroics.

With 1:50 remaining, Maine held a 66-59 margin. Baskets by Sujack and Summers cut the margin to 3 points. At this point the Blue Demons began to commit avoidable fouls. Two charging fouls were called against the visitors

Each time the Cardinal shooter hit his first shot. But each time both the bonus free throw and a rebound shot were missed.

Behind 66-65, the Cards got another chance as the result of an intercepted pass. Driving across the time line, a Cardinal was fouled deliberately and received 2 shots. After the first was missed, the second was made to tie the score at 66-all with 12 seconds left. It appeared there would be overtime until Gruber, a sophomore, took over.

OPENING QUARTER saw the visitors leading until the Cards came on late in the period. The home 5 outrebounded their opponents and John Sujack looked good setting up plays, his passing accounting for 3 baskets in the first 8 minutes.

During the second period the game was on the ragged side as both teams played "racehorse" basketball. Arlington moved out in front, 34-25, but made mistakes late in the half that allowed the Demons to get back in the ball game.

A letdown and mistakes on the part of the Cards helped Maine take the lead in the third stanza. After falling behind 46-40, the home team regained the lead at 49-47, but baskets by Gruber and Nelson put the visitors in front again at the three quarter mark.

IN FINAL STANZA the game was ragged and the defensive play of the Cards left something to be desired. Free throws helped Maine to increase its lead until the wild finish set in.

Scoring-wise, Dick Nelson with 19 points and Gruber with 18 led the winners. Ron Ashley paced Arlington with 17, while Denny Striegel, who was Arlington's best player, had 14. As in the December match between the 2 teams, the Cards had 3 more baskets but lost the game from the foul line. The Demons hit 26 of 37 charity tosses, 74%, while the Cards were hitting 18 of 29, 60%. The locals had their chances but failed to capitalize on them.

Higher Weights Stop Card Grapplers Again

Once again the higher weights proved the downfall of Arlington's wrestling team as the Cardinals fell from a 15-13 deficit after the 145-pound match to a 28-16 loss against LaGrange Saturday.

For Coach Dick Mudge it was Jerry Bonn pinning at 95, then Ralph Carlino winning an 8-2 decision over Meyers at 103. That was the same score for the 2 boys at 95 a year ago. Phil Deming, Pat Harris, Jim Clark and Jack Ebert then lost decisions.

FOR EBERT it was his first dual loss this season, a 3-2 affair that could have gone the other way. Clark is a sophomore just moved to the varsity who fought well throughout his match.

Ed Beier took a pin at 138 against a sophomore, Gilbert. Only points thereafter for the Heights cause were by Al Rose in a 4-0 decision. Rose is looking better, regaining strength daily after his long bout with the flu.

Fred Steingraber also did a good job, though losing at 154.

Nashua, Swaps May Meet Again On Local Tracks

Nashua and Swaps, whose duel last August in the Washington Park match race gave racing its top thrill, head a sparking array of nominations to the $100,000 added Arlington Handicap on the grass and the $100,000 Washington Park Handicap for 1956.

The naming of Nashua and Swaps to the twin features indicated that Chicago fans may get another chance to see the star performers in action as they plan a return to the scene of their greatest triumphs of 1955.

Rex C. Ellsworth, owner of Swaps, is scheduled to compete at the Chicago tracks in 1956, while the nominating of Nashua to the two handicaps was one of the last acts of the late William Woodward Jr., before his accidental death last October.

THE COMPLETE stakes program of the 97-day coordinated Balmoral - Arlington - Washington meetings, which Balmoral launches May 14 at Washington Park, will be announced soon.

The 27th running of the Arlington Handicap again will be renewed at one mile and three sixteenths on the grass and is expected to gross in the neighborhood of $160,000. Last year's running offered a gross pot of $161,000.

The continued popularity of international competition again was evident in roster of nominees to the Arlington Handicap. There were 31 foreign-breds named, while 19 were made candidates for the Washington Park Handicap, racing's "Miracle Mile."

Nasha wound up his brief two-season career in 1955 boasting of 16 wins in 20 starts, with total earnings of $945,415, second only to Citation's $1,085,760. Nashua appears certain to eclipse that mark this year.

TOP NOMINATOR to the Arlington feature was Hasty House Farm which named nine, including the English-bred *Stan and Platan, winners of the '54 and '55 renewals. In an all-out effort to win the Arlington feature for the third time, which would give the Reuben-owned establishment permanent possession of the coveted Arlington Cup, Hasty House also has named Argentina-bedd *Mister Black and the stakes-winning Sea O Erin.

Hasty House also has made French-bred *Bryn, winner of the Prix de Port Royal, and English import *Monk Shoe, winner of the Tettenhall and the Arlington at Newberry, eligible for both races. (Sp

Golden Gloves Centers Open Tournament Play

Ten of 33 out of town Golden Gloves teams which will participate in the 29th annual Tournament of Champions in Chicago Stadium on the nights of Feb. 27, 28 and 29 will see action during this week's program.

Two members, the Memphis Commercial Appeal and Marshfield, Wis., will conclude their tournaments during this span. The Commercial Appeal opens its meet Wednesday, holds its semi-finals on Thursday and salutes its champions the following evening. Marshfield will crown its standard bearers on Saturday evening, Marshall's champions then will oppose champions from Fond du Lac and Escanaba for the right to represent Wisconsin in Chicago.

Seven other centers opened their tournaments Monday and Tuesday.

Out of town Golden Gloves fans wishing to attend the Tournament of Champions or finals March 9 may direct ticket requests to the Golden Gloves ticket manager, Tribune Tower, Chicago.

Sports Scholarship

Twenty-five members of Northwestern university's teams made the scholastic honor roll for the fall quarter as they compiled a B or better average. The group includes 18 varsity and eight freshman athletes.

Varsity athletes compiled a 2.31 (C plus) average which approximates the average for all men students. Senior athletes topped the list with a 2.45 (B minus) average followed by juniors, 2.35 (C plus); sophomores' 2.14 (C), and freshmen, 2.08(C).

No failures were recorded out of 100 grades in the senior group and only one F was received by the juniors. Grade distribution for both varsity and freshmen athletes was: 57 A's; 166 B's; 331 C's; 92 D's, and 23 F's.

There was but one scholastic failure among 80 members of the 6 winter sports teams.

Notre Dame To Oppose Loyola At Stadium

Notre Dame's first Chicago Stadium appearance of the season and the intersectional duel between Brandeis and De Paul feature the collegiate doubeheader Saturday night, Feb. 4. It will be the sixth in the series of basketball twin bills sponsored by De Paul university at the Stadium.

As always, Notre Dame is a top attraction in Chicago and its meeting with Loyola in half of the Feb. 4 doubleheader carries some added interest. In December, the Ramblers, who have yet to beat the Irish in a series that now is sixteen games old, came the closest yet to breaking the spell. Notre Dame had to go overtime on its home floor for an 85-84 victory.

COACH JOHNNY Jordan's Irish own one of the best one-two scoring punches in collegiate basketball this season. John Smyth, a graduate of De Paul academy, and Lloyd Aubrey betwen them are the all-time, first and second high single game scorers at Notre Dame. Aubrey set a new school record of 43 points against Butler early in January, and two weeks ago Smyth came up with a 36-point performance against Northwestern.

Other Chicagoans on the Notre Dame squad who have been playing regularly include John McCarthy, sophomore forward from Mount Carmel; and Ed Gleason, also a sophomore who prepped at St. Mel's.

BASKETBALL COACH Harry Stein has compiled a .667 record in his five years at Brandeis. Ace of his squad is Jimmy Houston, N. J., who holds most of the 6-5 senior center from Fairview, school's basketball records.

Houston, who started the present campaign with 1,187 points for three seasons, is well on his way to hit the 1,500 career mark by the time the schedule closes. Last year, he set a school single game scoring mark of 44 points against Tufts. He got 19 field goals in that contest.

Ela Frosh-Sophs Gain Revenge Over Palatine

by GEOFFREY JOHN

Ela-Vernon's frosh-soph team, seeking revenge from an earlier defeat whipped Palatine's frosh-soph team, 46-35, at Palatine last Friday night.

Ela showed great improvement from the first time the two teams met. The Pirates managed to get 3 points of Ela in the first quarter. Jim Gallagher collected five points to give Ela a, 15-3, first quarter lead.

In the second quarter Ela's defense held Palatine to five points while they collected 10. Gallagher and Vasey continually grabbed rebounds for Ela which proved to be Palatine's weakness as the game progressed. As the half ended Ela had a commanding lead of, 25-8.

THIRD QUARTER still showed no evidence of Ela's defense tiring. Ela's Robb scored 6 points to help to enlarge Ela's lead to a, 40-18, third quarter lead. The fourth quarter showed evidence of Palatine's improving.

The frosh again showed great ability as Jack Freter, John Hicks, Dick Welty, Peter John, and Bill Coates collected a total of 13 points to help Palatine total 15 points to Ela's 6. The fourth quarter splurge was not enough as Ela-Vernon was victorious, 46-33.

Again Palatine's downfall was the first half. Pal's opponents always seem to build up a lead that Palatine can not make up in their second half splurges. Palatine's Dick Welty was high scorer with nine points. Ela's Jim Gallagher collected 8 points.

Heights Sophs Lose Thriller To Maine

by PETE SWANSON

In a home game Friday night Arlington's sophs fell behind early, fought their way back to tie the game but lost out in the end. The young Cards missed late opportunities, particularly from the foul line, to tie and win the contest.

During the opening period the visitors shot well while the Cards turned cold in the latter part of the quarter. This game was close early, but the young Demons scored 4 straight baskets to break a 9 all tie and assume an 8 point margin.

THE LOCALS reduced the lead to 2 points early in the second quarter, only to see Maine move out again. The young Demons continued to shoot well, while Arlington made mistakes when it had chances to cut the lead again.

Maine cooled off in the third stanza after holding a 34-26 lead at one time. Play was ragged and both teams missed scoring chances. In fact, in the period only 4 baskets were made, 3 of these by the home team.

BOB LOCKWOOD and Jack Weber led the Cards during the final stanza, with Weber's rebound shot producing a 41-41 deadlock. Maine regained the lead, however, on 2 free tosses by Bursiek and a basket by McKee. Three times the home team missed free throws that would have tied the score Pagel's basket with 10 seconds to play gave the young Demons a 48-45 lead. After calling time out Arlington scored on a drive-in shot by Bruce Bjorklund, but the attempt to draw a foul did not succeed.

With 15 and 10 points respectively, Ball and Bursiek led the winners. Lockwood and Weber scored 13 each for Arlington, with Bjorklund adding 12. The best player for the Klotzmen was Jack Weber, who played his best game in several weeks.

CLOSENESS OF the game is indicated by the statistics. Each team scored 17 baskets and attempted 24 charity tosses. The young Demons were successful on 14 and the young Cards on 13, and this difference meant the ball game.

Pirate Frosh Defeat Ela

by GEOFFREY JOHN

Jim Wenger, who showed great shooting ability, led the Palatine freshman team to an44-35, victory over Ela-Vernon Saturday. This was Palatine's fifth victory in 10 starts.

Ela-Vernon and Palatine traded baskets all through the first quarter as it ended in an 8-8 deadlock. Palatine's Dick Knez collected six points as Palatine scored a total of sixteen points to take a commanding lead of 24-14 as the half ended.

Ela looked as if they might win the game during the third quarter. Palatine still held the lead, 31-24, as the last quarter started. Palatine's Jim Wenger scored 7 points in the last quarter to give Palatine a decisive victory 44-35.

Jim Wenger took high scoring honors with 14 points. He was closely followed by Palatine's Dick Knez and Ela-Vernon's Bergman with 10 points apiece. Palatine's fast breaking and good rebounding gave Palatine their decisive victory.

Arlington Soph Wrestlers Beat LaGrange, Have Tough New Trier On Tap Saturday

LaGrange proved weaker than expected for Arlington's frosh-soph wrestlers Saturday, 38-11. The Lions used 7 freshmen, 5 sophomores in bowing before Coach Maurice Kellogg's powerhouse.

Ironical point of the match is that LaGrange sophomores were undefeated until Saturday. Remaining 2 league meets for the locals include Maine and Hinsdale, both losers to LaGrange. Severest test for the Kellogg-men will be New Trier this Saturday.

Card sophs have lost just 2 matches this year, 33-21 to Leyden and 27-16 to Evanston. Evanston beat New Trier by 2, which may give some indication of what is expected Saturday.

ALL THE CARDS did a good job, particularly Jeff Heinze, Roger Farleigh, Mike Zucchero, Greg Rose and Jack Hoffman, all of whom took pins. Hoffman took the quickest pin of the day in 45 seconds. With Jim Clark moved up to the varsity John Amann took over at 127, looked good in spite of losing 7-5.

LaGrange gained points on a draw with Dave Schreiber at 95, decision over Bill Ferry at 103, and that decision over Amann at 127.

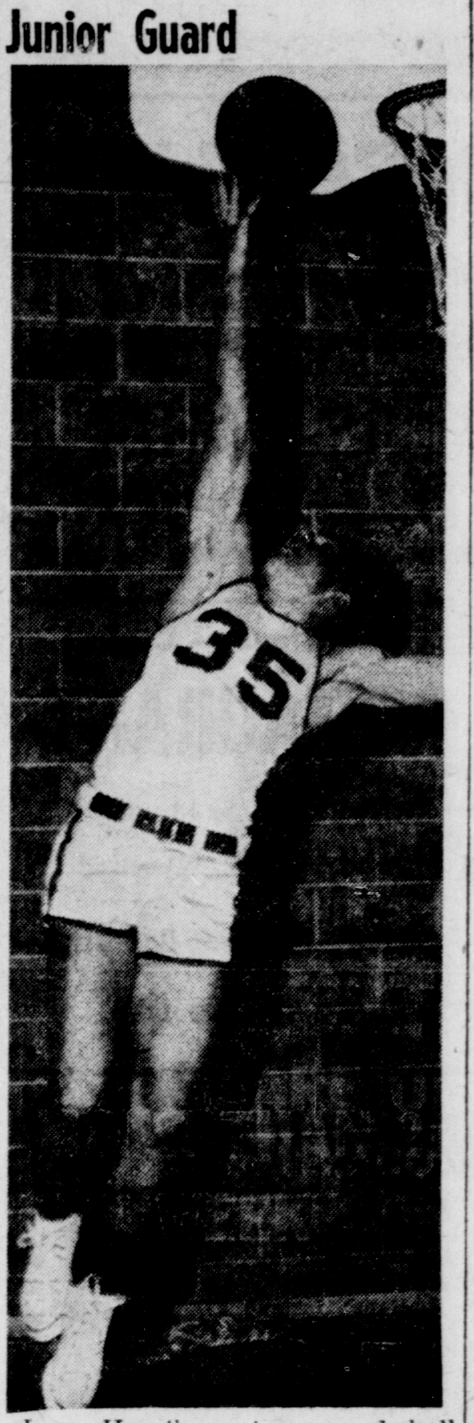
Junior Guard



Lars Henrikson is a good ball handler for Fenton cagers this year, a good defensive man, quick to steal the ball in the front line. Lars, a good scorer, has been "cold" lately, but ranks second to Phil Johnson in team scoring.

Lars has been consistent, hitting in double digits in every game but 3. In the opener against Hampshire Lars tallied nary a point, hit for 7 against Palatine and Glenbrook. Otherwise he has had good nights, including totals of 20, 22, 23 and 24 points. He's particularly adept at the free throwline.

Card Gymnasts Defeat York

Arlington's state champion gymnasts started tuning up for the approaching state tournament by entering veterans in more events at York Wednesday of last week. The Cardinals won the meet 96-58.

Heights will play host to Proviso at 4:15 Tuesday, Feb. 7, and to New Trier at 3:00 Friday, Feb. 10. These 2 meets will provide Coach Gay Hughes with a preview of how his boys will fare in the state invitational meet. Arlington took 6 of 7 firsts against York plus all 7 seconds.

Maine Frosh Win

Maine's freshman "A" cagers were veritable Demons Saturday as they forgot about losing to Arlington earlier in the year by 27 points and burned the nets for a 66-49 victory. Both squads had about the same personnel, but Maine also had 6-4 Gebbie, whose height paid off in a million ways.

Maine outscored Arlington 18-9 the first quarter and 18-10 the third. Otherwise the scoring was even, though the winners outrebounded and outfought Coach Ken Schaller's five throughout the contest.

Where's The Fire?

A monologue is a conversation between a traffic cop and an automobile driver.

Schlitz
1955 WORLD CHAMPIONS

Thanks, for making us champs!

More people bought Schlitz in 1955 than any other brand. Schlitz is today the champion of beers not only in America, but in the entire world. We helped set this record, and you helped us set it. For this we thank you very much.

When you want the best in refreshment, ask for Schlitz — the Beer that made Milwaukee famous.

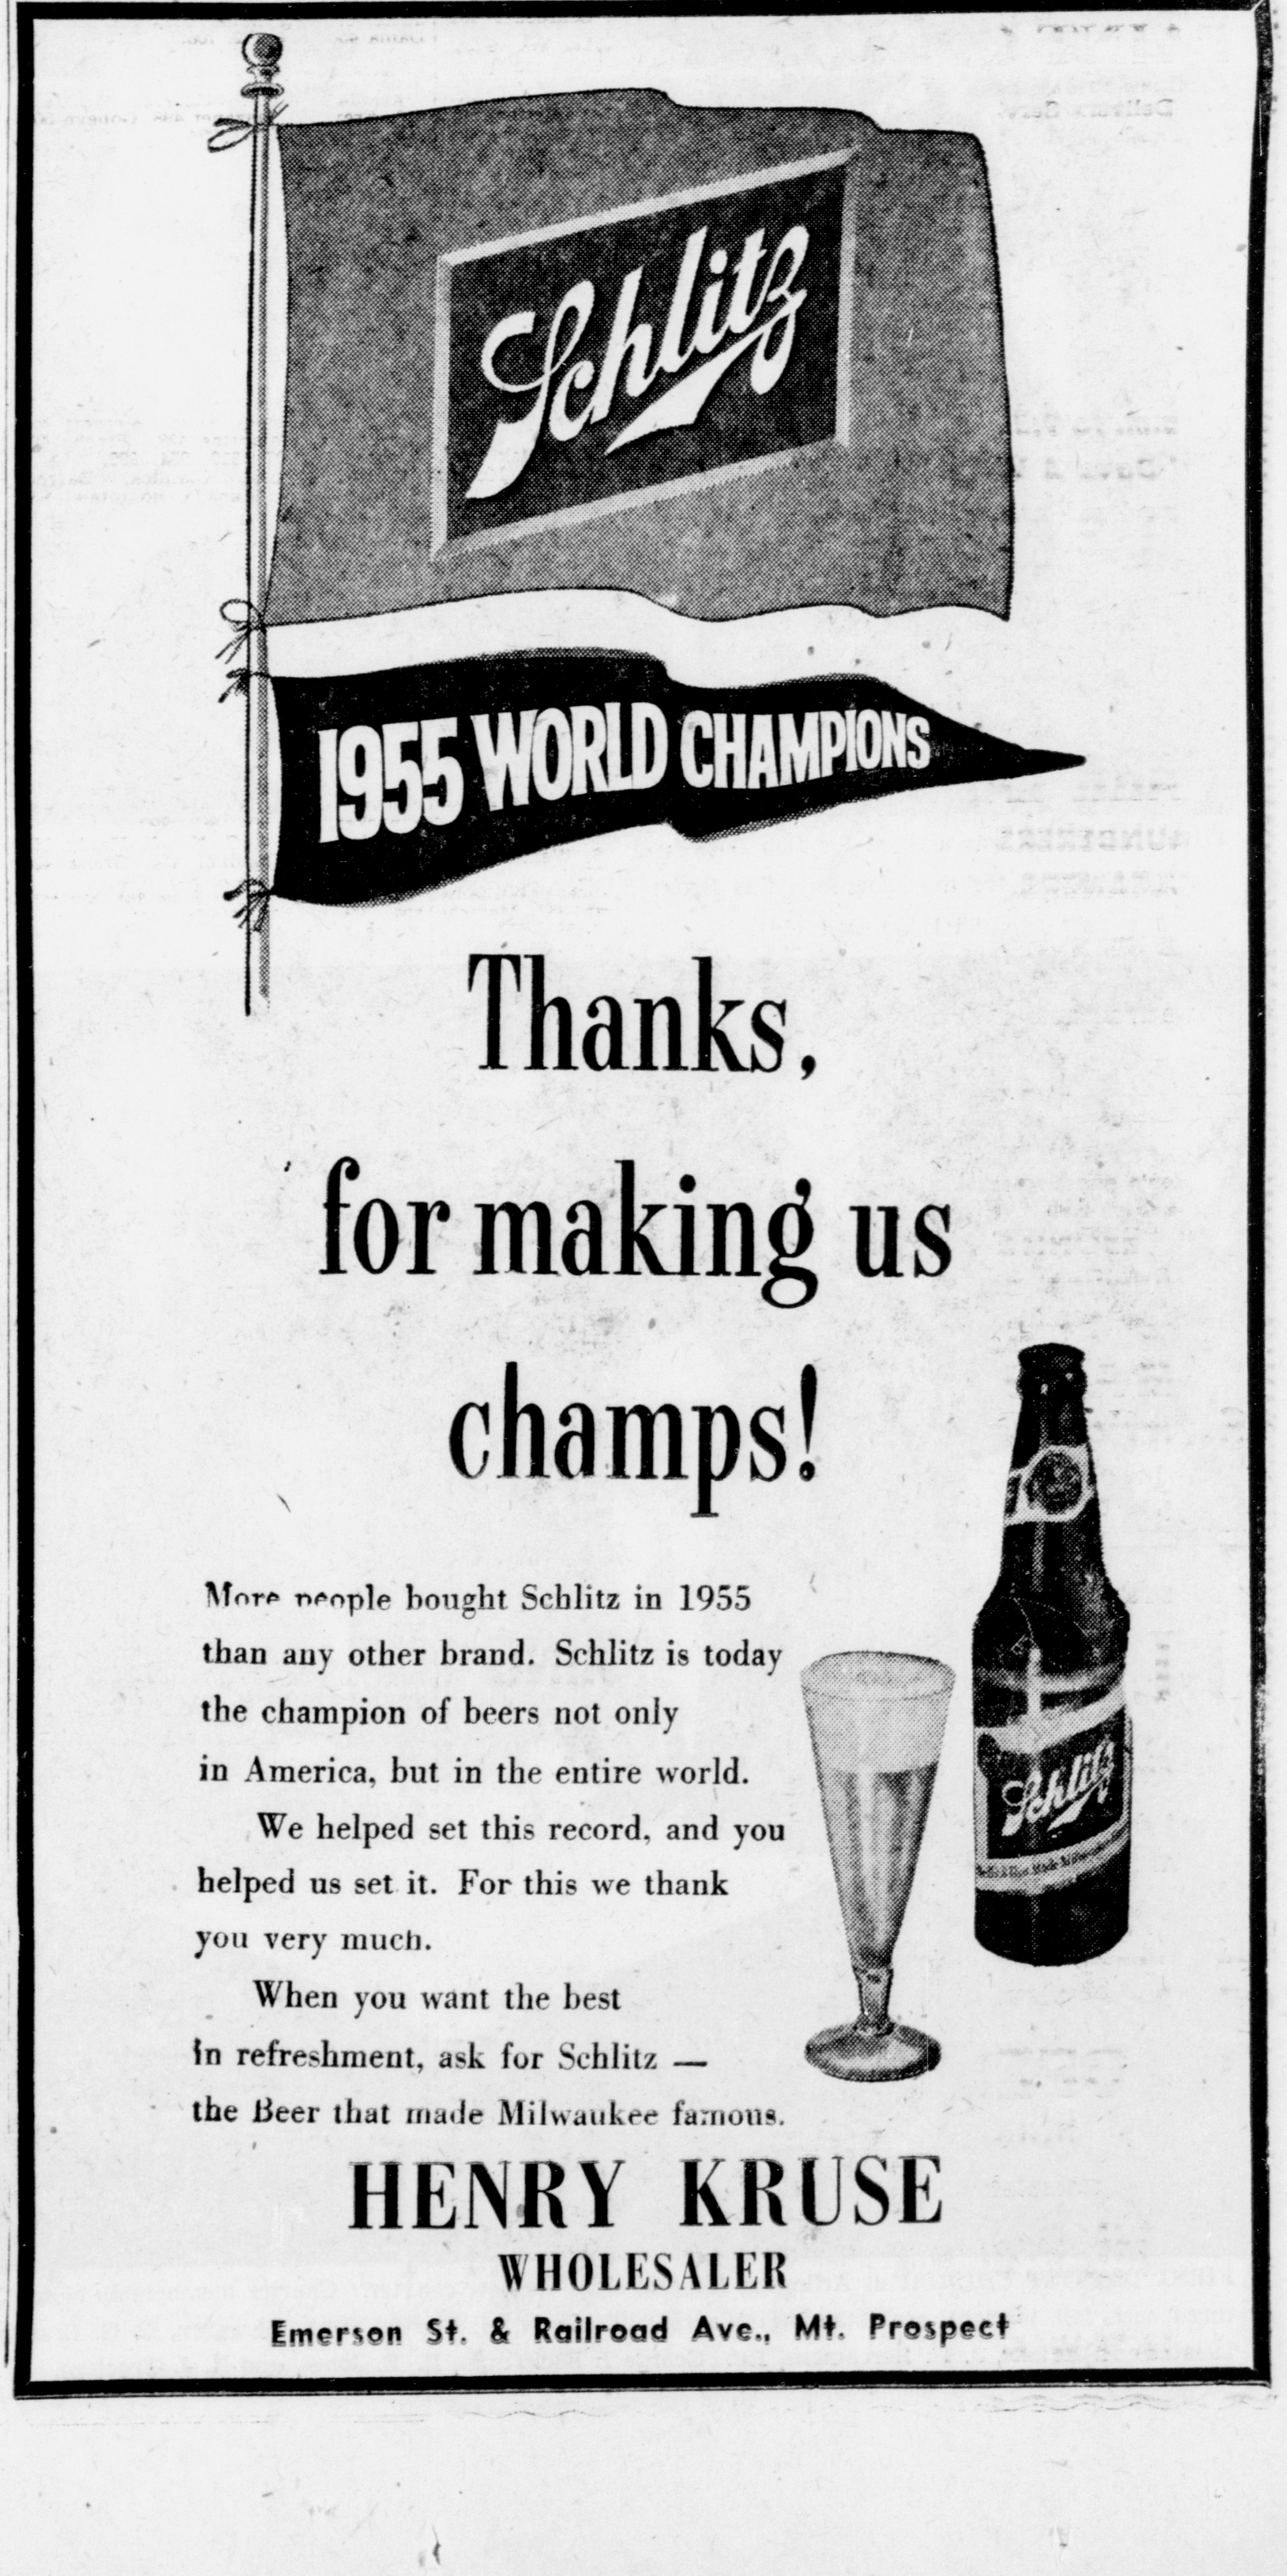
Where's The Fire?

A monologue is a conversation between a traffic cop and an automobile driver.



Thanks, for making us champs!

More people bought Schlitz in 1955 than any other brand. Schlitz is today the champion of beers not only in America, but in the entire world.

We helped set this record, and you helped us set it. For this we thank you very much.

When you want the best in refreshment, ask for Schlitz — the Beer that made Milwaukee famous.

MR. AND MRS. RUSSELL YOUNG, Palatine, after Mr. Young was presented with the Silver Beaver—highest honor a volunteer in scouting can receive from a local council.

A PERFECT SWAN is executed by Jack Freter (23) of Palatine frosh-sophs Friday night at Fenton, but Bob Elms (40) was there to grab the ball. Ready and waiting is Terry Hicks (20) for the young Pirates. Undefeatted Fenton won the ball game, however.

IN THE SHADOW OF THE STEEPLE

Executives Forsake A Life Of Business

by WILLIAM O. McGILL

We saw 2 interesting stories in the Sunday paper a few weeks ago.

One of these was about Melvin Traylor Jr., whose father had been president of the First National Bank of Chicago; the other was about William Larimer Mellon Jr., one of the heirs of the far-flung Mellon fortune. William Larimer Mellon Sr., had been chairman of the Gulf Oil Corporation.

Both of these men were in the news because they had reached the conclusion that a life of business was not for them. Melvin Traylor Jr., is now an assistant curator of birds at the Chicago Natural History Museum, while Dr. William Mellon and his wife have built and are operating a hospital in the jungles of Haiti.

WHEN THE depression struck, William Mellon was on the way to the top of the Mellon empire, working in the Mellon National Bank and for Gulf. But he was restless. Restlessness led him to purchase an Arizona ranch, but ten years of ranching did not satisfy him. Then an article on Albert Schweitzer, in Life, in 1947, struck a chord in his heart.

The Mellons visited Schweitzer. The upshot was that, at the age of 37, William Mellon began studying medicine. Gwen Mellon took up nursing and hospital administration.

Haiti was chosen as a place where such a service was drastically needed. The Mellons have built a million dollar hospital — but the ambulance entrance is built for burros.

Dr. Mellon says that he belives he is following the Schweitzer philosophy: that he has broadened a will to live into a will to love.

Melvin Traylor was a bird watcher as a boy. He majored in biology at Harvard. For many years he had been a volunteer in research at the Natural History Museum. After his service with the Marines in World War 2, family and friends convinced him that he must make his way in the business world.

AS PRESIDENT of a corporation with offices in the First National Bank building, the bright spot of his day was lunch-time—spent in the used book stores acorss the street. His private resources were not what we might have imagined them to be, but there was no real choice before him. He sought a job in the Museum, taking a "stiff pay cut in going from toy company president to assistant curator of birds."

Traylor says that several friends have confessed their envy of his choice. They seem to wish to be able to do the same sort of thing, but they cannot bear to give up what they have invested in their business and they can't bear to give up the returns it brings them.

There are problems of motivation involved here. The whole question of an individual's understanding of himself and his place in the world underlies such choices and the envy of such choices. It would not be a good thing for business if every sensitive spirit were to make a similar choice.

At the same time, it does not presage a good omen for business so long as there are people of responsibile position who envy others who make such choices. (B10

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

The little woman reminds me that this year can be divided by four, and therefore is Leap Year. Comes to my mind the thought that all spinsters and bachelors may have a new lease on life, and maybe — well, let's say for sure, — a lot of the gals who's attributes do not include pulchritude, and whose potentials as a housewife and mother have been overlooked by careless, freedom loving males, may have a chance to bring one back alive.

Habit is a pretty strong thing, though. It accounts for 90 per cent of the things we do, while only 10 per cent of our accomplishments are the result of intellectual forethought. So if you are in the market for a good male partner within the bonds of matrimony, little gal, get that 10 per cent working! If you didn't include a man in your New Year's resolution, the year is still young, so tack it on to your list and start glamourizing your physical charms and the old personality, shaking off the habits which in the past caused men to turn their eyes the other way when they met you on the street!

SOME WOMEN have a glamour and seductiveness about them that men just can't resist. Other women have to work for what they get. I don't know — but I strongly surmize — that the woman who has to work to get a man will generally work hard to keep him, and the lucky guy will be king of his household as long as they both live. I've seen gals who have nothing in physical charms to win a man, but who can turn out a meal that will make the Sphinx's mouth water — and he has seen a lot of good cooks come and go in his time. And house work!

Give me the plain girl, who doesn't take time for rouge on the cheeks or trimming toe nails and covering them with bright red goo every day. She'll keep the old homestead comfortable and clean, though it may not gleam like the home of the pretty spouse who can tease the old man into providing her with a cleaning woman a couple of times a week. And for children! The little woman who doesn't put the emphasis on face and form generally has more time to keep track of Johnny and Jinny's activities, and to keep them in line. She'll understand their problems better, and be able to help them more, because she'll have more time not devoted to clubs and tea parties.

SO GALS, if you are discouraged because you haven't yet gotten your old man, get on the ball! Doll up your attributes, and put them on display. When some acceptable guy comes along, watch for the psychological moment, then give him the works! If you are an adept crier, and your quarry is susceptable, a few heartbroken sobs will do the trick — but don't overdo it. With some guys it's dynamite — they'll grab their hats and scram — or maybe they won't even take time for their hats. But with a certain type, the sympathetic type, it works miracles. Other guys want the companionable, good fellow type of gal. A few men admire brains in a woman — about .00001 per cent — so go awfully slow here. Most guys like to throw out their chests — but if you put it on too thick they'll know you aren't sincere, and drop you like a hot brick. Use this line with discretion. Some will take it all and come up for more.

These secrets were gleaned little by little, through chance remarks by the male sex which I happened to overhear. Maybe I am somewhat of a traiter— but married life ain't so bad, boys — in fact, it's tops, with the right woman. When the right gal comes along, give her the nod. Wedding bells do have a nice tone, and with some guys, they ring all their married life. Remember, more people of marriageable age are married than single, so marriage must have some merits. If it didn't — where would you be ?

Silver Maples' Place In Sun Is Way Up North

Northern tree lovers with expensive grounds can benefit by adopting the long defamed silver maple. It is in general disrepute, especially as a street tree, but it offers several virtues as a special landscape sentinel.

This is the advice of H. I. Spellacy, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co., who says the tree deserves consideration, particularly for the more northerly climes where conditions limit shade tree selection.

It is brittle wooded, but it can add beauty and distinction to the larger property. It is excellent for background use where rapid growth is desirable and where occasional loss of branches is somewhat less than catastrophic.

The silver maple thrives in many kinds of soil and offers a pleasing form with beautiful deep silvery undersides with every passing breeze. And it lends a pleasing touch of color to the Winter landscape. It is one of the first harbingers of Spring and displays clusters of small red and yellow blossoms even before snows disappear.

On the smaller property, however, the silver maple can become a problem child. Its root system has an uncanny ability to reach

Gas To Supplant Electric Power In New Air-Cooling

"Cooling with gas" is on its way to join "cooking with gas" in the American slang of the future.

A group of engineers more interested in technical performance than in adding to the language has just given a go-ahead signal for production of a system of home air conditioning that uses gas instead of electricity as the source of power. The engineers represented 28 utility companies that spent months testing the new equipment.

Heart of the new system is an especially designed motor that burns gas instead of gasoline. Any type of gas— natural, manufactured, mixed, or liquefied petroleum —may be used.

Low operating cost is a major advantage claimed. Although actual cost will depend upon local rates, in many areas the system will cost only about half as much to run as electrical equipment. It will normally be installed in conjunction with a gas furnace for year-round air conditioning.

Production of the gas motor unit is the first result of an extensive research program being conducted by the Coleman Company, Wichita, Kan. Research into other means of cooling with gas is being conducted under Coleman sponsorship at research organizations in Massachusetts, Illinois, and Texas. (DL

Auto Installments

President Harlow H. Curtice of General Motors said automotive credit is in a healthy condition and expressed the hope that the Federal Reserve System will relax its "present restrictive policy" on consumer borrowing.

Mr. Curtice said down payments on new cars have continued to average 40 per cent of the purchase price. The average installment remains at $80, and this installment now represents 17 per cent of the average household income compared to 21 per cent a few years ago.

Statistics of General Motors Acceptance Corporation indicate, he said, that automotive credit terms have lengthened only to 28 months compared to 24½ months a year and a half ago — a "very negligible extension in the time."

A.—First be sure the freezing has not ruptured the pipe. If it has, the water should be shut off to prevent flooding. Use an electric iron. Start at the faucet end of the frozen pipe. As the thawing progresses, move the iron away from the faucet.

Q.—I'm planning to insulate an attic room. Does it matter much wheter nails or staples are used to fasten the insulation?

A.—Both fastenings are satisfactory. Generally, stapling is faster and easier. Many insulation dealers have stapling guns for rent. If nails are to be used, select a nail with a fairly large head. This will hold the flange of the mineral wool batt or blanket more securely. Whether nails or staples are used, fasten the insulation to the studs every 6 inches. This assures a tight fit. Be sure they are driven flush to the wood.

Q.—I'm planning to do my own decorating. I know I'll need advice, but are there ways to get help without actually hiring someone?

A.—Many department stores maintain a consulting service on home decorating for prospective customers. Some magazines will answer specific decorating questions. A book on the general subject, however, may be the best bet. Two authoritative books are "Decoratively Speaking," by Gladys Miller, and "The Complete Book of Home Decorating," by James E. Mayabb.

Q.—What's the outward difference between a hardwood tree and a softwood tree?

A.—A softwood tree has needles. A hardwood tree has broad leaves.

Q.—Can I remove old wallpaper without expensive equipment?

A.—Yes. One of the best ways is to add a little vinegar or paste solvent to warm water. Apply this preparation with a scrubbing brush. When the paper loosens scrape it off with a putty knife. (DL

Realtors Plan More Civic Work, Higher Sales

More intensive participation of realtors in local civic undertakings was called for during a Washington meeting of realtor leaders who predicted 1956 will be a good one for buying and selling real estate.

The report comes from Ruth C. Wendt, president of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors, who has just returned from winter meetings of the National Association of Real Estate Boards in Washington, D. C.

Installation of NAREB's 1956 president, Clarence M. Turley, of St. Louis, highlighted the Association's six-day series of meetings in the nation's capital. During the sessions, which included those for real estate board presidents, these points were made:

1. Realtors — the members of local real estate boards and of NAREB – should boost the association's build America better program of home improvement and neighborhood conservation by assisting their communities in qualifying for urban renewal aid of the federal government.

2. THOSE PLANNING to buy or sell homes may expect a good market, strengthened by a generally flourishing economy, including high levels of production, income, sales, and employment.

3. Local boards and their members were urged to begin making plans now for observance of realtor week, the March 11-to-17 period in which organizations of NAREB seek to acquaint the public with the value of dealing with "Realtors — Those Pledged to an Established Code of Ethics."

During the meetings, three government housing officials spoke on urban renewal, and ways in which Realtors can assist in bringing to reality this program in their communities. Those addressing the Realtor leaers were Albert M. Cole, administrator of the Housing Administration; and James W. Follin, commissioner of the Urban Renewal Administration.

Report Increase In Number Of Working Women

Women constituted a possibly record-breaking 688,800, or 31.3 per cent, of the 2,200,400 salaried non-agricultural workers in Cook and Du Page counties during October, the Illinois Department of Labor reported this week. This compared with 686,100 average during the peak employment year of 1953, which was 30.8 per cent of 2,225,000 such workers.

At the same time, unemployment of both sexes dropped to a two-year low of 60,000 in October for the two-county Chicago area, compared to an average of 47,400 in 1953. In October, 1954, unemployed totaled 141,000.

Two-thirds of the employed women were in non-manufacturing jobs, including 127,700 in retail trades, 105,000 in service and miscellaneous, 62,500 with government jobs, and 57,900 in real estate, insurance, and finance. The largest group of women in manufacturing was 47,100 in communications equipent.

GOVERNMENT employes of both sexes in the two counties, including state and local, were up to 226,500 from 223,200 in October, 1954.

Durable goods manufacturing provided most of the increase in employes of both sexes from 2,472,200 to 2,543,900 during the year, accounting for 57,200. The October, 1955, total included 685,400 in this category.

Steel mills were up from 78,900 to 89,100; communication equipment from 89,000 to 95,000; trucking, from 70,800 to 73,600; iron and steel foundries, from 12,500 to 15,600. Meat products employment was down from 38,300 to 34,800 and department stores 46,800 to 45,800.

Exam March 12 For Merchant Marine

Representative Marguerite Stitt Church (R), 13th District, Illinois has annouced competitive examinations for entrance to the Merchant Marine academy at Kings Point, Long Island, New York, will be held Monday, March 12, in civil service centers throughout the United States and its possessions.

All candidates must be single, between the ages of 17 and 21, American citizens, and in excellent physical condition. The minimum educational requirement is a high school diploma, although high school seniors who are assured of being graduated by June 30, 1956, are eligible to take the examination.

The 4-year course, equivalent to a college education, leads to a bachelor of science degree. Graduates receive licenses as merchant marine officers and commissions as ensigns in the naval reserve.

Interested young men should write immediately to the Maritime training officer, Maritime administration, U. S. department of commerce, Washington 25, D. C.

In Alaska

Army PFC Robert C. Gilmore Jr., son of Mrs. Agnes N. Gilmore, 221 Forest View, Wood Dale, recently arrived in Alaska and is now a member of the 53d infantry regiment at Fort Richardson.

Military personnel stationed in the Alaskan territory undergo intensive training while guarding the northern approaches to the U. S.

Private first class Gilmore entered the army in October 1953 and received basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

In Kansas

Ensign James K. McNeeley, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. McNeeley, 502 N. State, Arlington Heights, received his commission and coveted "Wings of Gold" of the naval aviator in ceremonies held at the naval air station, Hutchinson, Kan. January 20.

Ensign McNeely specialized in multi-engined land based patrol bombers and is being transferred to a transport squadron in Barbers Point, Hawaiia.

He graduated from Arlington Heights high school prior to entering the navy in July of 1948.

VA Benefits Are Tax Free

Payments for veterans administration benefits are tax-free and need not be reported on Federal income tax returns, VA and the bureau of internal revenue said.

In addition, Robert D. Beer, VA's regional manager for Illinois, said dividends and proceeds from GI insurance policies are exempt from taxation and need not be reported as income.

Included among the tax-free VA payments are:

EDUCATION and training allowances for veterans of the Korean conflict period who are in school or training establishments under the Korea GI Bill.

Subsistence allowances paid to World War II veterans training under the original World War II GI Bill.

Subsistence payments made to disabled World War II and Korean conflict veterans training under Public Law 16, the Vocational Rehabilitation Act.

Disability compensation and pension received by veterans for service-connected and non-service-connected disabilities.

GRANTS to seriously disabled veterans for homes designed for "wheelchair living."

Grants for motor vehicles to veterans who lost their sight or lost the use of their limbs.

World War I emergency officers' retirement pay.

VA death benefits to families of deceased veterans also are exempt from taxation. They include death compensation and pension, indemnity and all GI insurance payments. (WUS

In Georgia

Pvt. James C. Roberts of 46 S. Ridge ave., Arlington Heights graduated last week from the communications specialist course, one of the many courses offered at the Southeastern signal school, Camp Gordon, Ga He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Roberts.

The communications specialist course, 8 weeks in length, trains enlisted personnel to receive and process messages for distribution by teletype or other electrical means of communication.

About Your Health

When a person falls into what is called a simple faint, a state of temporary unconsciousness is endured, which is not necessarily serious. However, when the person does not return to consciousness immediately, the condition may not be a simple faint at all, but one of the symptoms associated with many diseases, such as diabetes, uremia, meningitis or brain abscess the educational committee of the Illinois state medical society cautions.

These "blackouts" are scientifically known as syncopes. And should they occur frequently, or repeatedly, the victim should be carefully examined by a physician. Some persons faint more easily than others. A stalwart man may faint at the sight of blood. On the other hand a person trained in first aid can assist in a tragic accident without blanching. A normal person may faint because of a painful injury or because of an emotional shock.

SIMPLE FAINTING is caused by lack of blood in the brain brought about by inadequate distribution of the blood. Momentary shock, which may or may not be emotional, excessive fatigue inadequate ventilation, overly heated room, and standing too long in one position are all factors involved in the improper distribution of blood to the brain, which is the seat of consciousness.

A person does not faint when lying down but usually falls into a faint while standing or sitting down. A feeling of weakness, a blurring of vision, a failure of circulation so that the face becomes pale, and the presence of cold perspiration are symptoms, appearing either singly or collectively, that precede a fainting spell. There may be dizziness and a feeling of lightheadedness.

SO SPONTANEOUS are all our movements that seldom do we think of our sense of balance which is controlled by numerous reflex sensations coming to the brain from various sites in the body. And anything that inerferes with the coordination of the various senses naturally blocks off their function message to the brain.

The victim of a faint should be kept lying down. If this is not possible, he should sit down, lowering his head between his knees. The color of the face is an indication, to a degree, of the blood supply to the brain. Thus, if the head is lowered, the blood returns to the brain more quickly and evenly and the paleness of the skin disappears. However, if the face seems to be extremely flushed, it may be wiser to keep the head raised.

INHALATION of smelling salts, the application of cold water, or the drinking of a half teaspoonful of aromatic spirits of ammonia in water are all of benefit to the victim of a simple faint because of their stimulating effect.

The person should be kept quiet until he has fully recovered a feeling of normal well-being. If permitted to get up and walk about too soon, complications may develop, particularly if the person had a bad fall while fainting. If the person does not regain consciousness immediately, or appears to fall into another faint, a physician should be summoned at once.

Simple fainting is associated only with a fleeting or temporary state of unconsciousness. If the condition is prolonged, more serious involvement can be suspected.

Our Saviour Guild To Hold Bi-Monthly Meeting Tuesday

The bi-monthly meeting of Our Saviour Womens guild will be held in Dryden School Tuesday at 8 p.m. Mrs. Vern Heim, recently elected president of the organization, will conduct the meeting.

The Rev. James H. Fresh, assistant executive director of the Lutheran Home Finding society of Chicago, will be guest speaker. Pastor Fresh addressed the group on the society's work with dependent children at a guild meeting last summer, and is returning at the enthusiastic invitation of the members to continue his talk, which he will supplement with illustrative slides.

Also beginning their year's term of office in the guild with this meeting are Mrs. Robert McReynolds, vice president; Mrs. Harry Wickstrom, secretary, and Mrs. Kenneth Stevens, treasurer. Mrs. John Pfingsten will conduct the devotional service at the opening of the meeting, and the members of Circle I of the guild will serve the refreshments.

ELECTIONS of officers in the 3 circles of the guild during January have resulted in the following roster of chairmen for the coming derson, chairman, Mrs. William Anderson, secretary-treasurer; circle II, Mrs. Theodore Meyer, chairman, Mrs. Norman Blackwell, secretary-treasurer; circle III, Mrs. Gust Hermanson, chairman, and Mrs. Roy Anderson, secretary-treasurer.

Circle I, which carries on the Altar guild work of the church, will this year also devote some of its meetings to a study of the program of the United Lutheran church in America throughout the world. Circle II will study and support the work of the Chicago Lutheran seminary at Maywood, Carthage college, church-sponsored college in Carthage, Ill. and the projected home for the aged of the Illinois synod.

Circle III will undertake a program of evangelism in coordination with the evangelism committee of the church council, will sponsor the cradle roll, conduct the nursery for pre-schoolers during the morning worship services, and support the Nachusa home for children and the Lutheran Home Finding society.

Holy communion will be celebrated at Our Saviour church next Sunday at the 11 a.m. service. The Rev. John P. Petersen, pastor, will conduct the service. Pastor and Mrs. Petersen have returned to Arlington Heights from Davenport, Ia., where they spent a brief vacation.

A group of new members will be received into the congregation soon, and persons desirous of becoming part of Our Saviour church should contact Pastor Petersen either at the Sunday services or by calling him at his office any morning. The telephone number is CLearbrook 5-1012.

THURSDAY, FEB. 2, 1956

Speaker At Palatine

The effectiveness of scientific prayer in solving everyday problems will be the topic of a lecture on Christian Science to be given in Palatine Sunday. February 5 by James Harry McReynolds of Dallas, Texas, it was announced today.

A member of The Christian Science board of lectureship, Mr. McReynolds will speak under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Barrington, in Palatine township high school auditorium at 3 p.m.

Mr. McReynolds' subject will be "Christian Science: The Way of Obedience to Divine Law." The lecture is free, and local members have invited the public to attend.

Currently on an extensive lecture tour, Mr. McReynolds has devoted his full time to the practice of Christian Science healing for many years. During World War I he served as a captain in the infantry. After the war, he engaged in business in Louisiana and later in Dallas. A former member of the Christian Science committee on publication for the State of Texas, he has been a teacher of Christian Science since 1940. (Ch

Wm. H. Robinson Community Youth Service Speaker

William H. Robinson, associate executive secretary of the social welfare department of the Church Federation of Greater Chicago, will be the guest speaker for the annual community youth service in the Arlington Heights high school area this year. The service is at 7 p.m. this Sunday, February 5, at Rolling Meadows Community church on Kirchhoff rd. Robinson was formerly executive director of the youth service bureau and served as Illinois state representative for Chicago's 20th district.

All protestant churches in the local high school area, willing to cooperate in such youth activities sponsored by the United Christian Youth Movement, have been invited to send delegations of young folks and interested adult leaders, friends and parents. General theme will be "Our Citizenship Under Christ."

DOUGLAS TROUT, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, has served as advisor to the area committee in charge of securing the speaker. George Mink, assistant pastor at the Community church of Rolling Meadows, is leading the group of young folks preparing the order of worship and enlisting the participants. Miss Juanita Kramer, director of Christian education at the South church, Mt. Prospect, is advisor to the group arranging for the social hour to follow the service. Edwin I. Stevens, South church pastor, has been counsellor to the entire planning group and has planned publicity.

Attendance of both 7th and 8th grade youth and all high school young folks is being sought and separate social hour plans are being made for these 2 age levels. Rev. R. Nelson Ringsmuth is pastor of the host church. (B7

Our Saviour Guild To Hold Bi-Monthly Meeting Tuesday

The bi-monthly meeting of Our Saviour Womens guild will be held in Dryden School Tuesday at 8 p.m. Mrs. Vern Heim, recently elected president of the organization, will conduct the meeting.

The Rev. James H. Fresh, assistant executive director of the Lutheran Home Finding society of Chicago, will be guest speaker. Pastor Fresh addressed the group on the society's work with dependent children at a guild meeting last summer, and is returning at the enthusiastic invitation of the members to continue his talk, which he will supplement with illustrative slides.

Also beginning their year's term of office in the guild with this meeting are Mrs. Robert McReynolds, vice president; Mrs. Harry Wickstrom, secretary, and Mrs. Kenneth Stevens, treasurer. Mrs. John Pfingsten will conduct the devotional service at the opening of the meeting, and the members of Circle I of the guild will serve the refreshments.

ELECTIONS of officers in the 3 circles of the guild during January have resulted in the following roster of chairmen for the coming derson, chairman, Mrs. William Anderson, secretary-treasurer; circle II, Mrs. Theodore Meyer, chairman, Mrs. Norman Blackwell, secretary-treasurer; circle III, Mrs. Gust Hermanson, chairman, and Mrs. Roy Anderson, secretary-treasurer.

Circle I, which carries on the Altar guild work of the church, will this year also devote some of its meetings to a study of the program of the United Lutheran church in America throughout the world. Circle II will study and support the work of the Chicago Lutheran seminary at Maywood, Carthage college, church-sponsored college in Carthage, Ill. and the projected home for the aged of the Illinois synod.

Circle III will undertake a program of evangelism in coordination with the evangelism committee of the church council, will sponsor the cradle roll, conduct the nursery for pre-schoolers during the morning worship services, and support the Nachusa home for children and the Lutheran Home Finding society.

Holy communion will be celebrated at Our Saviour church next Sunday at the 11 a.m. service. The Rev. John P. Petersen, pastor, will conduct the service. Pastor and Mrs. Petersen have returned to Arlington Heights from Davenport, Ia., where they spent a brief vacation.

A group of new members will be received into the congregation soon, and persons desirous of becoming part of Our Saviour church should contact Pastor Petersen either at the Sunday services or by calling him at his office any morning. The telephone number is CLearbrook 5-1012.

World Day of Prayer

Wm. H. Robinson Community Youth Service Speaker

William H. Robinson, associate executive secretary of the social welfare department of the Church Federation of Greater Chicago, will be the guest speaker for the annual community youth service in the Arlington Heights high school area this year. The service is at 7 p.m. this Sunday, February 5, at Rolling Meadows Community church on Kirchhoff rd. Robinson was formerly executive director of the youth service bureau and served as Illinois state representative for Chicago's 20th district.

All protestant churches in the local high school area, willing to cooperate in such youth activities sponsored by the United Christian Youth Movement, have been invited to send delegations of young folks and interested adult leaders, friends and parents. General theme will be "Our Citizenship Under Christ."

DOUGLAS TROUT, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, has served as advisor to the area committee in charge of securing the speaker. George Mink, assistant pastor at the Community church of Rolling Meadows, is leading the group of young folks preparing the order of worship and enlisting the participants. Miss Juanita Kramer, director of Christian education at the South church, Mt. Prospect, is advisor to the group arranging for the social hour to follow the service. Edwin I. Stevens, South church pastor, has been counsellor to the entire planning group and has planned publicity.

Attendance of both 7th and 8th grade youth and all high school young folks is being sought and separate social hour plans are being made for these 2 age levels. Rev. R. Nelson Ringsmuth is pastor of the host church. (B7

Speaker At Palatine

The effectiveness of scientific prayer in solving everyday problems will be the topic of a lecture on Christian Science to be given in Palatine Sunday. February 5 by James Harry McReynolds of Dallas, Texas, it was announced today.

A member of The Christian Science board of lectureship, Mr. McReynolds will speak under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Barrington, in Palatine township high school auditorium at 3 p.m.

Mr. McReynolds' subject will be "Christian Science: The Way of Obedience to Divine Law." The lecture is free, and local members have invited the public to attend.

Currently on an extensive lecture tour, Mr. McReynolds has devoted his full time to the practice of Christian Science healing for many years. During World War I he served as a captain in the infantry. After the war, he engaged in business in Louisiana and later in Dallas. A former member of the Christian Science committee on publication for the State of Texas, he has been a teacher of Christian Science since 1940. (Ch

Even The Beggars Are Organizing Now In Many European Cities

by BILL DILLINGHAM

In this competitive age, even the beggars are organizing!

Some European cities are already off-limits to "new" beggars. A man who is not in the panhandler's union of a particular area is not allowed to practice his profession. If he tries to in London, for instance, union men would give him "a bunch of fives" (a fist).

Not long ago in Hamburg, Germany the police broke up an organization that practiced a social security system for its members.

BEGGARS LIVED in a club house and were assigned areas of the city in which to "work." Names and addresses of stores were turned into the central office when the shopkeepers were known to give. Hundreds of small business places in Hamburg were classified under "never," "sometimes" and "usually." New and desperate beggar faces were rotated. Begging was turned into merely "collecting."

The organization was working on a plan to categorize all of the thousands of stores and private homes in and around Hamburg. A housewife who gave a poor man a meal would thereafter get a request from a new face every ten days. The organization was making money, members were opening bank accounts, and Hamburg's huge population didn't notice the difference.

ODDLY ENOUGH, several newspapers of that city favored the organization. They pointed out that members were not permitted to get drunk or corrupt themselves, and the general health standards of the men had been raised tremendously. Also, arresting the club officials didn't stop begging in Hamburg.

A panhandler in Belgium, after he had been arrested nine times, gave an interview to a press reporter in which he claimed that there are only three reasons why people hand out money to beggars.

The most common, he said, is that the person is psychologically "pushed" into it, much the same as one might reluctantly tip a disliked waiter. Secondly, because the giver believes that some divine power is watching, and thirdly because a genuine sympathy for the downcast is felt. People responding to this last reason, he added, were unfortunately too few. Editor: I heard this one in Switzerland some time ago:

WHEN A DIPLOMAT says "yes" he means "maybe." When he says "maybe" he means "no." And when he says "no" he's no diplomat!

And when a lady says "no" she means "maybe.". And when she says "maybe" she means "yes." And when she says "yes" she's no lady!

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

One of the sins committed in the name of high fidelity is the practice of some disc firms of making recordings which stress stunning wide-range sound at the expense of the music. Often, a symphony or tone poem has such a dynamic range that the recording engineers "overcut" the sensitive microgrooves, which leads to distortion when you play it back on average equipment. We feel that the music lover is not a "sound bug," but a person for whom music furnished daily inspiration and beauty. Clean, natural sound reproduction, to be sure, is an admirable modern pleasure to be had from a recording played on hi-fi components of proper engineering; but the ideal is to listen to the music, not the sound.

This is why we praise Columbia for its 12-inch album of the Haydn 96th ("Miracle") and 102nd Symphonies performed by the New York Philharmonic unreh Dr. Bruno Walter. First of all, these low scores are among the finest creations from Haydn's gifted pen: warm, eloquent, enchanting music, radiant and witty, buoyant and eloquent without bombast. Dr. Walter, one of the great conductors of our century, interprets them with loving attention and communicativeness. The sound is flawlessly natural. The result: a magnificent album worth cherishing for its constant delight.

ARTUR RUBINSTEIN, who recently played with our Chicago Symphony Orchestra under Dr. Fritz Reiner, recorded the concerti he performed at these concerts for RCA-Victor; albums of the Rachmaninoff Second Concerto and the magnificent Rhapsody on a Theme by Paganini will soon be at your community platter shop. Harry Zelzer, head of Allied Arts and the man who has done more for any other individual, will present Rubinstein in recital at Orchestra Hall on Sunday afternoon, March 11.

Don't miss this program by one of the pianistic titans of our generation. He is sure to program either the Beethoven "Pathtetique" or "Appasionata" Sonata, both of which he recently recorded on the 12-inch Victor disc LM-1908: this is dramatic, poetic piano interpretation in the grand manner.

In "pop" vein, we cite Mercury's 45-rpm platters by Ralph Marterie and his big band in "The Grass Is Green" and "Where the Wind Blows;" the gifted new young singer Len Dreslar in "These Hands" and "Chain Gang;" Sarah Vaughan's superactive pairing of "Mr. Wonderful" and "You Ought to Have a Wife:" and The Gaylords' pert warbling of "Molly-O" and "Vino-Vino."

Scores Again

Jerry Spears, Northern Illinois State College ace percussionist, has written another hit song — "Palm Springs Special." Recorded by his Rhythm Aces, the tune appears to be well on its way to top hitland rating.

Because of the wide publicity on their previous record, "Ease That Squeeze" a traffic congestion novelty, the boys were flown to the fabulous El Mirado at Palm Springs, Calif. to rub elbows with stars of screen, stage and television.

Their experience at the desert resort inspired the boys to write the new hit. Although many well known song writers inhabit Palm Springs, it took this collegiate band leader to come up with the first tune on this internationally known resort.

Jerry, who calls Prospect Heights home, was a top drummer at Arlington Heights high school 4 years. (Bill

Band Concert

The Northwestern university band concert on Sunday, Feb. 12, will feature music ranging from marches and Latin-American rhythms to operatic arias and a tribute to Abraham Lincoln.

Free and open to the public, the 29th annual winter concert will be held at 4 p.m. in Cahn auditorium, Sheridan rd. at Emerson st., Evanston. (Bill

Even The Beggars Are Organizing Now In Many European Cities

by BILL DILLINGHAM

In this competitive age, even the beggars are organizing!

Some European cities are already off-limits to "new" beggars. A man who is not in the panhandler's union of a particular area is not allowed to practice his profession. If he tries to in London, for instance, union men would give him "a bunch of fives" (a fist).

Not long ago in Hamburg, Germany the police broke up an organization that practiced a social security system for its members.

BEGGARS LIVED in a club house and were assigned areas of the city in which to "work." Names and addresses of stores were turned into the central office when the shopkeepers were known to give. Hundreds of small business places in Hamburg were classified under "never," "sometimes" and "usually." New and desperate beggar faces were rotated. Begging was turned into merely "collecting."

The organization was working on a plan to categorize all of the thousands of stores and private homes in and around Hamburg. A housewife who gave a poor man a meal would thereafter get a request from a new face every ten days. The organization was making money, members were opening bank accounts, and Hamburg's huge population didn't notice the difference.

ODDLY ENOUGH, several newspapers of that city favored the organization. They pointed out that members were not permitted to get drunk or corrupt themselves, and the general health standards of the men had been raised tremendously. Also, arresting the club officials didn't stop begging in Hamburg.

A panhandler in Belgium, after he had been arrested nine times, gave an interview to a press reporter in which he claimed that there are only three reasons why people hand out money to beggars.

The most common, he said, is that the person is psychologically "pushed" into it, much the same as one might reluctantly tip a disliked waiter. Secondly, because the giver believes that some divine power is watching, and thirdly because a genuine sympathy for the downcast is felt. People responding to this last reason, he added, were unfortunately too few. Editor: I heard this one in Switzerland some time ago:

WHEN A DIPLOMAT says "yes" he means "maybe." When he says "maybe" he means "no." And when he says "no" he's no diplomat!

And when a lady says "no" she means "maybe.". And when she says "maybe" she means "yes." And when she says "yes" she's no lady!

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

One of the sins committed in the name of high fidelity is the practice of some disc firms of making recordings which stress stunning wide-range sound at the expense of the music. Often, a symphony or tone poem has such a dynamic range that the recording engineers "overcut" the sensitive microgrooves, which leads to distortion when you play it back on average equipment. We feel that the music lover is not a "sound bug," but a person for whom music furnished daily inspiration and beauty. Clean, natural sound reproduction, to be sure, is an admirable modern pleasure to be had from a recording played on hi-fi components of proper engineering; but the ideal is to listen to the music, not the sound.

This is why we praise Columbia for its 12-inch album of the Haydn 96th ("Miracle") and 102nd Symphonies performed by the New York Philharmonic unreh Dr. Bruno Walter. First of all, these low scores are among the finest creations from Haydn's gifted pen: warm, eloquent, enchanting music, radiant and witty, buoyant and eloquent without bombast. Dr. Walter, one of the great conductors of our century, interprets them with loving attention and communicativeness. The sound is flawlessly natural. The result: a magnificent album worth cherishing for its constant delight.

ARTUR RUBINSTEIN, who recently played with our Chicago Symphony Orchestra under Dr. Fritz Reiner, recorded the concerti he performed at these concerts for RCA-Victor; albums of the Rachmaninoff Second Concerto and the magnificent Rhapsody on a Theme by Paganini will soon be at your community platter shop. Harry Zelzer, head of Allied Arts and the man who has done more for any other individual, will present Rubinstein in recital at Orchestra Hall on Sunday afternoon, March 11.

Don't miss this program by one of the pianistic titans of our generation. He is sure to program either the Beethoven "Pathtetique" or "Appasionata" Sonata, both of which he recently recorded on the 12-inch Victor disc LM-1908: this is dramatic, poetic piano interpretation in the grand manner.

In "pop" vein, we cite Mercury's 45-rpm platters by Ralph Marterie and his big band in "The Grass Is Green" and "Where the Wind Blows;" the gifted new young singer Len Dreslar in "These Hands" and "Chain Gang;" Sarah Vaughan's superactive pairing of "Mr. Wonderful" and "You Ought to Have a Wife:" and The Gaylords' pert warbling of "Molly-O" and "Vino-Vino."

Scores Again

Jerry Spears, Northern Illinois State College ace percussionist, has written another hit song — "Palm Springs Special." Recorded by his Rhythm Aces, the tune appears to be well on its way to top hitland rating.

Because of the wide publicity on their previous record, "Ease That Squeeze" a traffic congestion novelty, the boys were flown to the fabulous El Mirado at Palm Springs, Calif. to rub elbows with stars of screen, stage and television.

Their experience at the desert resort inspired the boys to write the new hit. Although many well known song writers inhabit Palm Springs, it took this collegiate band leader to come up with the first tune on this internationally known resort.

Jerry, who calls Prospect Heights home, was a top drummer at Arlington Heights high school 4 years. (Bill

Band Concert

The Northwestern university band concert on Sunday, Feb. 12, will feature music ranging from marches and Latin-American rhythms to operatic arias and a tribute to Abraham Lincoln.

Free and open to the public, the 29th annual winter concert will be held at 4 p.m. in Cahn auditorium, Sheridan rd. at Emerson st., Evanston. (Bill

WHY CALL O'DAY REALTY?
A Good Question

We have a good answer: Look for the "Sold" signs. And something else — something you won't realize until you experience it. The sold sign is only half the job. The closing is the essential part. It can be smooth and harmonious — or it can be a nightmare of delays and misunderstandings and can even fall through. Don't chance it — call a reputable Realtor whose experience protects you.

Call O'Day Realty

A Good Question

We have a good answer: Look for the "Sold" signs. And something else — something you won't realize until you experience it. The sold sign is only half the job. The closing is the essential part. It can be smooth and harmonious — or it can be a nightmare of delays and misunderstandings and can even fall through. Don't chance it — call a reputable Realtor whose experience protects you.

Death Notices

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Clarence Rittmueller, who died 3 years ago February 8.

Not dead to us who loved him,
Not lost, but gone before;
He lives with us in memory
And will forevermore.
God, hold your loving arms about him,
Keep him in your tender care;
Make up for all he suffered,
And everything that was unfair.
Father, Mother,
Sisters and Brothers.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish in this way to thank all our wonderful friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and thoughtfulness during our recent bereavement.

Some Auto Costs Can Be Deducted From Income Tax

Chicago Motor Club reminded motorists to deduct certain car expenses when itemizing deductions on "long form" income tax returns.

Items which all motorists may deduct include:

1. State automobile license fees.
2. State gasoline taxes (five cents a gallon in Ill.; four cents a gallon in Ind.).
3. Personal property tax.

4. DRIVERS LICENSE fees ($1.00 in Ill.; $1.25 in Ind.).
5. Casualty losses, not reimbursed by insurance or other means, if not due to willful negligence.
6. Interest paid on automobile loans.
7. Municipal vehicle tax fees.
8. State and city sales taxes on autos.

IF YOU USE your car for business, you can include these additional automobile expenses:

1. Chicago Motor Club dues.
2. Automobile insurance.
3. Depreciation.
4. Gasoline, oil and lubricating expenses.
5. Repairs.
6. Washing and polishing costs.
7. Garage rent, parking charges and tolls.

The costs of driving to and from fixed places of work are not deductible for income tax purposes. If you use your car partly for business and partly for pleasure, the items in the second group are deductible only in proportion to the amount of business use. (G

Death Notices

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Clarence Rittmueller, who died 3 years ago February 8.

Not dead to us who loved him,
Not lost, but gone before;
He lives with us in memory
And will forevermore.
God, hold your loving arms about him,
Keep him in your tender care;
Make up for all he suffered,
And everything that was unfair.

Some Auto Costs Can Be Deducted From Income Tax

Chicago Motor Club reminded motorists to deduct certain car expenses when itemizing deductions on "long form" income tax returns.

Items which all motorists may deduct include:

1. State automobile license fees.
2. State gasoline taxes (five cents a gallon in Ill.; four cents a gallon in Ind.).
3. Personal property tax.

4. DRIVERS LICENSE fees ($1.00 in Ill.; $1.25 in Ind.).
5. Casualty losses, not reimbursed by insurance or other means, if not due to willful negligence.
6. Interest paid on automobile loans.
7. Municipal vehicle tax fees.
8. State and city sales taxes on autos.

IF YOU USE your car for business, you can include these additional automobile expenses:

1. Chicago Motor Club dues.
2. Automobile insurance.
3. Depreciation.
4. Gasoline, oil and lubricating expenses.
5. Repairs.
6. Washing and polishing costs.
7. Garage rent, parking charges and tolls.

The costs of driving to and from fixed places of work are not deductible for income tax purposes. If you use your car partly for business and partly for pleasure, the items in the second group are deductible only in proportion to the amount of business use. (G

Graded Markets Discount Low-Quality Eggs Here

Most graded egg markets in Illinois heavily discount the price they pay for dirty, cracked and low-quality eggs, according to an egg market survey by the University of Illinois.

Because quality buyers cannot sell these eggs at a premium, they cannot afford to pay producers premiums for them, reports Jim Rous.., egg marketing specialist at the College of Agriculture.

Graded buyers report that it takes more time and effort to grade and sort a case of low-quality eggs. Also, they do not have good outlets for these eggs.

MANY GRADED buyers would prefer to have the producers of low-quality eggs take their product to other markets.

The heavy discount for low-quality eggs explains why many producers prefer the current-receipt market to a graded market.

On checking the grading slips of two neighboring producers last September, Roush found that one producer was getting 9 cents a dozen over the local current-receipt price because he produced and marketed a high proportion of top-quality eggs. His neighbor was actually getting 2 cents less than the current-receipt price because too many of his eggs fell into the low-quality classification.

LOWER RETURN on the graded market will force the low-quality producer to improve his quality or sell his eggs to the current-receipt buyer. Roush says that graded buyers hope that these producers will work to improve their quality. But, if they don't, the buyers don't want their eggs.

Some areas of the state have no graded markets. Graded buyers seek out areas where they can obtain producer cooperation in supplying a large quantity of high-quality eggs throughout the year, reports Roush. If graded markets are desired, local conditions should be developed to attract graded buyers. (Fm

Sign Up For '56 AC Program

All farm owners and operators are reminded that sign-up for the 1956 agricultural conservation program is now in progress. This statement was issued by Carl M. Bormet, chairman of the local ASC committee.

This is the program, explained Mr. Bormet, under which the government shares with farmers the cost of carrying out various soil conservation practices. Assistance may be obtained for such beneficial projects as the application of limestone and rock phosphate, the construction of sod waterways, standard terraces, diversions, flumes or chutes and toe wall outlets, tile outlets, contour stripcropping, contouring, intertilled crops, removal of brush from pasture land, pasture development, additional legumes on cropland, green manure seeding, tree planting and forest improvement.

In all instances an official request for any of these practices must be on file with the ASC committee before the practice is started. Such requests may be filed at any time at the county ASC office, 201 N. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights.

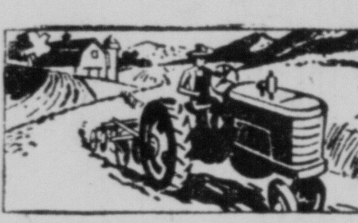
However, it is to your advantage to file a request during the initial sign-up period which extends to February 17, 1956.

You do not have to comply with allotments in order to be eligible for this program. (Fm

DOWN ON THE FARM

with Your Farm Adviser

CARL F. MEES



Each year I get many inquiries about how to kill quack grass. Quack grass can be killed, but usually everything else is destroyed with it. In case you have areas of this pest and want to destroy it, the following two chemicals will do the work.

Maleic Hydroxide — 10 pounds per acre, apply when grass is 6 to 8 inches tall. Will kill other plants too.

Dalapon — apply 8 pounds per acre. Apply in spring when grass is 6 to 8 inches tall. Wait three to four weeks before you plant anything else in the area for this chemical sterilizes the soil.

Should you desire to treat the grass in October you will need to apply Dalapon at the rate of 20 pounds per acre, but wait until back on the soil. The chemical will break down sufficiently during the winter so it will no longer be damaging in the spring. Both of the above chemicals cost around $2.50 per pound. While it would be costly to treat large acreages, Quack grass usually grows in small areas, so it may be practical to treat these areas.

I RECEIVED the following horticulture briefs from the University of Illinois recently. I thought the information was interesting and probably would be helpful to some of you.

You need some winter color in the plantings around your farmstead to relieve the drabness of winter. Do you have evergreens and other plants with winter color mixed in with the other plantings around your house? If not, plan to plant several in April. You can use evergreens like the yews, junipers and pines. Also plant some red and yellow twig dogwoods and winges euonymus.

PLAN NOW for a spring tree planting. Here are some tips to help you select and locate trees:

A. Use fast-growing trees only if they are sturdy and long lived.

B. Slow-growing trees are not slow if properly planted and fertilized annually.

C. Round-crowned trees fit in best with low one-story homes.

D. Do not plant trees in a straight line.

E. Large-growing trees are usually placed 15 to 25 feet away from the house.

F. Place some trees around the farm buildings. Some good trees are hackberry, green ash, sugar maple, red oak, pin oak and thornless honey locust.

Do not let the fancy colored pictures and descriptions of trees and shrubs in nursery catalogs carry you away. Before you order any plants, be sure they will fit into your landscape scheme. Also check to see whether they are adapted to your soil conditions and are hardy in your area. (Fm

Law On The Farm

Easements

An easement is a right to use another's property for a particular purpose. For example, a right-of-way over your neighbor's farm to your farmstead might be an easement. Power companies and oil companies obtain easements by direct purchase or by condemnation for their high power and pipe lines.

Easements usually arise by means of a deed or as a result of continued use for 20 years. However, there are situations where a landowner cannot get from his property to a highway without crossing the land of others. His land is landlocked and, if no one will grant him a right-of-way easement, the courts will do so.

EXAMPLES of easements that may be acquired by long use are (1) a right-of-way, (2) the right to flood an upper owner's land with a dam, and (3) the right to change the flow of surface waters on the land of lower owners. It is important to keep in mind the fact that the other fellow can prevent these easements. He can do it by stopping the illegal use of his land at any time previous to the end of the 20-year period — or he can expressly give his consent to such use of his land. The law holds that, so long as he consents to the use, a mere license exists that may be terminated at any time and the 20-year prescriptive period does not apply.

Public or semipublic agencies needing easements in private property first try to get them through agreement with the owner. If the owner is willing to donate the easement, or will accept what is offered and transfer the right, nothing needs to be done beyond completing the formalities of transfer. If the owner refuses to convey the right, the agency may begin an eminent domain proceeding (sometimes referred to as a "condemnation" proceeding). Also, when an owner for some reason is not able to consent, is not a resident of the state, or his name or residence is unknown, eminent domain may be used.

ONCE AN EASEMENT has been acquired, it will pass to subsequent owners of the land and can be lost only by abandonment, adverse use or specific conveyance. Therefore, one purchasing land should ascertain whether or not he will be subject to an easement of any kind. Illinois courts have placed a strict construction on the extent of easements and have held that they are limited by the way in which they were used during the prescriptive period. For example, if an owner acquires a 10-foot easement of way across the north end of a neighbor's pasture, 20 feet from the fence, he has a right to use only that lane and has no right to cross at any other place or to widen the lane.

Whether or not an easement exists in a particular case is often difficult to determine. If substantial property rights are involved, the question should be referred to legal counsel. (Fm

East Maine Home Bureau Meets Jan. 24

"Decorating Walls" was the subject of the January 24 meeting for members of East Maine Home Bureau. The lesson was given by the assistant home advisor, Mrs. J. Coulter.

Mrs. H. Hans has joined the group as a new member.

The 15th annual meeting of Cook county Home bureau held at the Conrad Hilton hotel January 19, was attended by Mrs. A. Rudd, Mrs. A. Redich, Mrs. H. Long and Mrs. M. Bartrum. This was an all-day affair with a "breath of spring" luncheon served at noon.

Next month will be "secret pal valentine" party at 11:30 a.m. February 16 at the home of Mrs. Doris Wilke, Ballard rd.

Ag. Journalism Career Day Set For February 18

High school students can learn of "opportunities by the dozens" at the agricultural and home economics journalism Career Opportunity Day on February 18 at the University of Illinois.

Dean Louis B. Howard of the college of agriculture and director F. S. Siebert of the school of journalism, in announcing the special day, say some of the nation's top agricultural and home economics journalists will discuss the kind of jobs available in this field.

The speakers will also tell what type of training is needed in order to qualify for these jobs.

Dean Louis B. Howard of the college of agriculture and director F. S. Siebert of the school of journalism, in announcing the special day, say some of the nation's top agricultural and home economics journalists will discusss the kind of jobs available in this field.

The speakers will also tell what type of training is needed in order to qualify for these jobs.

SCHEDULED speakers include Lane Palmer, associate editor, Farm Journal; Ted Mangner, farm program director, radio station KMOX, St. Louis; Ralph Yohe associate editor, Pairie Farmer; Bill Anderson, farm program director, television station WTTV, Bloomington, Ind.; Helen Hostetter home economics editor, Kansas State College; R. Lyle Webster, director of information, U.S. Department of Agriculture; Cliff Lant, farm editor, Moline Dis-Pietersom-Dunlap Advertising agency, Milwaukee; and Herb Schaller, editor, Better Farming Methods, representing specialty publications.

Students attending Career Opportunity Day will have a chance to talk with these speakers and ask questions about jobs and training following the talks.

The program starts at 9 a.m. in Gregory Hall on the University of Illinois campus. Registration and a movie of the 1955 Illinois-Michigan football game will open the day's events. (Fm

Drive Carefully When Roads Are Icy

Snappy weather calls for snappy driving. Be sure your safety arithmetic adds up right when you're at the wheel, says O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Watch for road-surface conditions, and add more following distance when it's clippery. Be more prompt in applying brakes, and add more distance for stopping. Don't forget that your brakes, lights, tires and windshield wipers need special and regular attention during the winter.

Along with these special precautions, here are a few things you should carry with you in the car: a short-handled shovel or spade, a tow rope or tow chain and a sack of dry sand. Also, make sure your flares, markers and skid chains are all ready for duty. Carry a good flashlight and an ice scraper to remove ice and frost from your windshield.

And, for good measure, take plenty of extra care when you are driving. (Fm

New Compounds Aid Poultry Parasite Control

An advantage of the new piperazine compounds in treating poultry for large roundworms is their low toxicity, says Dr. R. E. Bradley of the University of Illinois college of veterinary medicine.

Nicotine sulfate has been widely used in the past to control internal parasites in poultry. But it is somewhat unpalatable, and chickens sometimes go off feed and in laying flocks egg production drops.

You can get piperazine compounds in water-soluble forms and give them to poultry flocks in the drinking water. Piperazines kill large roundworms but usually do not affect egg production. They are safer to use than some other compounds.

DR. BRADLEY warns, however, that piperazines are not wonder drugs. They do not appear to be effective against some other internal parasites, such as cecal worms. You should not give the drug indiscriminately or without having a diagnosis made to confirm the fact that treatment is needed.

How often to use piperazine will depend on the circumstances and history at each farm. Good poultry management is as important as treatment in controlling worms.

Although you may kill all the worms in your chickens, the yard and litter will still be infested with worm eggs, which constantly reinfect the birds. Planned rotation of poultry yards will greatly reduce infestation and probably do a great deal to control certain other poultry diseases. (Fm

Mrs. Gappert Elected Chairman Of Wheeling Home Bureau Unit

Mrs. O. W. Gappert was elected 1956 chairman of Wheeling Home Bureau unit when members met in December. Other officers elected were Mrs. E. C. Wiegand, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. F. C. Fabian, vice chairman.

Appointed officers are Mrs. F. J. Henry, project chairman; Mrs. L. D. Yeast, librarian; Mrs. E. Grewe, 4-H chairman; Mrs. G. W. Sanders, flower chairman and Mrs. R. V. Seeburg, publicity chairman.

Mrs. G. W. Sanders, retiring chairman, and 13 members from Wheeling unit, attended the 15th annual meeting of the Cook County Home Bureau January 19 at the Conrad Hilton hotel in Chicago. Principal speaker of the meeting was D. Gale Johnson, agricultural economist of the University of Chicago. He spoke on his visit to Russia last summer as a member of the American Farm group exchanging visits with similar Soviet farm groups.

Wheeling unit was awarded the blue ribbon for sending monthly reports in punctually, paying dues on time and being 100 per cent in all assigned duties.

The reguar monthly meeting was held January 26 in the Farm Bureau building. Mrs. Claradel Upham, home advisor, gave a lesson on "Decorating Walls." Hostesses were Mrs. E. S. Lindquist and Mrs. W. E. Fritz. (AM

Let Pneumatic Grain Conveyors Haul Feed

Pneumatic grain conveyors are joining the long list of labor-saving equipment in use on many Illinois farms.

Pneumatic (forced air) systems have several advantages over mechanical conveyors, according to R. W. Kleis, agricultural engineer at the University of Illinois college of agriculture. Kleis uncovered the advantages while studying electric power as a means of reducing farm chore labor.

Pneumatic conveyors are more simply constructed than conveyors using belts, chains or augers. Just a blower at the feed supply and a pipe to the feeding area complete the system. There are fewer things to go wrong with a pneumatic conveyor and its one moving part.

The pipe is sheet steel, which is lightweight and flexible. It's fairly inexpensive, even for long-distance conveying. The system can be waterproofed. You can set it up for a lower first cost than mechanical equipment of equal length, Kleis ads.

THE ONE DRAWBACK is the pneumatic conveyor's more costly use of power. But this disadvantage is outweighed by its convenience and simplicity.

Here are some other findings Kleis reports about penumatic conveyors:

Ground feed is broken up even more when blown through a pneumatic conveyor. Take this point into consideration when you grind feed to be handled pneumatically.

You'll get no increase in efficiency by sloping the conveyor pipe one way or another. It's best to give the pipe a little slope toward the discharge end, though, to allow moisture drainage.

Kleis has consolidated his findings in a publication, "Operating characteristics of pneumatic grain conveyors." You can get a free copy by writing to the University of Illinois college of agriculture, Urbana. Ask for Bulletin 594. (Fm

Elk Grove Home Bureau Has Lesson On Decorating Walls

Elk Grove Home Bureau met January 25 at the home of Mrs. Fred Busse in Mt. Prospect and heard Mrs. C. Upham, home advisor, give a lesson on decorating walls.

Graded Markets Discount Low-Quality Eggs Here

Most graded egg markets in Illinois heavily discount the price they pay for dirty, cracked and low-quality eggs, according to an egg market survey by the University of Illinois.

Because quality buyers cannot sell these eggs at a premium, they cannot afford to pay producers premiums for them, reports Jim Roush, egg marketing specialist at the College of Agriculture.

Graded buyers report that it takes more time and effort to grade and sort a case of low-quality eggs. Also, they do not have good outlets for these eggs.

MANY GRADED buyers would prefer to have the producers of low-quality eggs take their product to other markets.

The heavy discount for low-quality eggs explains why many producers prefer the current-receipt market to a graded market.

On checking the grading slips of two neighboring producers last September, Roush found that one producer was getting 9 cents a dozen over the local current-receipt price because he produced and marketed a high proportion of top-quality eggs. His neighbor was actually getting 2 cents less than the current-receipt price because too many of his eggs fell into the low-quality classification.

LOWER RETURN on the graded market will force the low-quality producer to improve his quality or sell his eggs to the current-receipt buyer. Roush says that graded buyers hope that these producers will work to improve their quality. But, if they don't, the buyers don't want their eggs.

Some areas of the state have no graded markets. Graded buyers seek out areas where they can obtain producer cooperation in supplying a large quantity of high-quality eggs throughout the year, reports Roush. If graded markets are desired, local conditions should be developed to attract graded buyers. (Fm

Sign Up For '56 AC Program

All farm owners and operators are reminded that sign-up for the 1956 agricultural conservation program is now in progress. This statement was issued by Carl M. Bormet, chairman of the local ASC committee.

This is the program, explained Mr. Bormet, under which the government shares with farmers the cost of carrying out various soil conservation practices. Assistance may be obtained for such beneficial projects as the application of limestone and rock phosphate, the construction of sod waterways, standard terraces, diversions, flumes or chutes and toe wall outlets, tile outlets, contour stripcropping, contouring, intertilled crops, removal of brush from pasture land, pasture development, additional legumes on cropland, green manure seeding, tree planting and forest improvement.

In all instances an official request for any of these practices must be on file with the ASC committee before the practice is started. Such requests may be filed at any time at the county ASC office, 201 N. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights.

However, it is to your advantage to file a request during the initial sign-up period which extends to February 17, 1956.

You do not have to comply with allotments in order to be eligible for this program. (Fm

DOWN ON THE FARM

with Your Farm Adviser

CARL F. MEES

Each year I get many inquiries about how to kill quack grass. Quack grass can be killed, but usually everything else is destroyed with it. In case you have areas of this pest and want to destroy it, the following two chemicals will do the work.

Maleic Hydroxide — 10 pounds per acre, apply when grass is 6 to 8 inches tall. Will kill other plants too.

Dalapon — apply 8 pounds per acre. Apply in spring when grass is 6 to 8 inches tall. Wait three to four weeks before you plant anything else in the area for this chemical sterilizes the soil.

Should you desire to treat the grass in October you will need to apply Dalapon at the rate of 20 pounds per acre, but wait until back on the soil. The chemical will break down sufficiently during the winter so it will no longer be damaging in the spring. Both of the above chemicals cost around $2.50 per pound. While it would be costly to treat large acreages, Quack grass usually grows in small areas, so it may be practical to treat these areas.

I RECEIVED the following horticulture briefs from the University of Illinois recently. I thought the information was interesting and probably would be helpful to some of you.

You need some winter color in the plantings around your farmstead to relieve the drabness of winter. Do you have evergreens and other plants with winter color mixed in with the other plantings around your house? If not, plan to plant several in April. You can use evergreens like the yews, junipers and pines. Also plant some red and yellow twig dogwoods and winges euonymus.

PLAN NOW for a spring tree planting. Here are some tips to help you select and locate trees:

A. Use fast-growing trees only if they are sturdy and long lived.

B. Slow-growing trees are not slow if properly planted and fertilized annually.

C. Round-crowned trees fit in best with low one-story homes.

D. Do not plant trees in a straight line.

E. Large-growing trees are usually placed 15 to 25 feet away from the house.

F. Place some trees around the farm buildings. Some good trees are hackberry, green ash, sugar maple, red oak, pin oak and thornless honey locust.

Do not let the fancy colored pictures and descriptions of trees and shrubs in nursery catalogs carry you away. Before you order any plants, be sure they will fit into your landscape scheme. Also check to see whether they are adapted to your soil conditions and are hardy in your area. (Fm

Law On The Farm

Easements

An easement is a right to use another's property for a particular purpose. For example, a right-of-way over your neighbor's farm to your farmstead might be an easement. Power companies and oil companies obtain easements by direct purchase or by condemnation for their high power and pipe lines.

Easements usually arise by means of a deed or as a result of continued use for 20 years. However, there are situations where a landowner cannot get from his property to a highway without crossing the land of others. His land is landlocked and, if no one will grant him a right-of-way easement, the courts will do so.

EXAMPLES of easements that may be acquired by long use are (1) a right-of-way, (2) the right to flood an upper owner's land with a dam, and (3) the right to change the flow of surface waters on the land of lower owners. It is important to keep in mind the fact that the other fellow can prevent these easements. He can do it by stopping the illegal use of his land at any time previous to the end of the 20-year period — or he can expressly give his consent to such use of his land. The law holds that, so long as he consents to the use, a mere license exists that may be terminated at any time and the 20-year prescriptive period does not apply.

Public or semipublic agencies needing easements in private property first try to get them through agreement with the owner. If the owner is willing to donate the easement, or will accept what is offered and transfer the right, nothing needs to be done beyond completing the formalities of transfer. If the owner refuses to convey the right, the agency may begin an eminent domain proceeding (sometimes referred to as a "condemnation" proceeding). Also, when an owner for some reason is not able to consent, is not a resident of the state, or his name or residence is unknown, eminent domain may be used.

ONCE AN EASEMENT has been acquired, it will pass to subsequent owners of the land and can be lost only by abandonment, adverse use or specific conveyance. Therefore, one purchasing land should ascertain whether or not he will be subject to an easement of any kind. Illinois courts have placed a strict construction on the extent of easements and have held that they are limited by the way in which they were used during the prescriptive period. For example, if an owner acquires a 10-foot easement of way across the north end of a neighbor's pasture, 20 feet from the fence, he has a right to use only that lane and has no right to cross at any other place or to widen the lane.

Whether or not an easement exists in a particular case is often difficult to determine. If substantial property rights are involved, the question should be referred to legal counsel. (Fm

Arkansas Artificial Breeders' Assn., Fayetteville, Ark., has just purchased the Guernsey sire, Rosewood A. Governor, from W. H. Odlum, Roselle, according to the American Guernsey cattle club.

This richly bred young bull is out of the high-producing cow, Clearland Butterfat Flash, that has twice been classified Very Good for type, and has a production record of 13,988 pounds of milk and 775 pounds of fat, made on two times daily milking for 365 days, as a junior four-year-old in the Herd Improvement Register. He is sired by Rosewood Royal Aristocrat. (Fm

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "From whence did that man come?" Omit "from," as "whence" means "from what place."

The proper plural form of "Kinfolk" is "kinsfolk," and not "kinfolks."

Do no say, "Each of the men only have five dollars." Say, "Each of the men has only five dollars."

Distinguish between "fermentation" (a chemical change of an organic substance) and "fomentation" (the application of a warm substance, such as wet cloths).

The commonly-used phrase, "each and every," is redundant, and should be avoided.

"Means" is singular or plural, according to the context. "No other means is possible." "Various means are possible."

Words Often Mispronounced

Wainscot. Pronounce wain-skutt, accent first syllable.

Succinct. Pronounce suks-sinkt, accent second syllable.

Deventure. Pronounce dee-ven-tyur, accent on second syllable.

Gyrate. Pronounce jie-rait, accent on first syllable.

Jewelry. Pronounce in three syllables, and not jool-ry.

Hundredth. Pronounce the e as in dread, not hun-derdth.

Words Often Misspelled

Ascent (act of rising); assent (to consent). Repertoire: observe the second r, and the oire. Courageous, eous; contagious, ious. Moccasin; two c's, one s. Tableau; observe the eau. Monetary; ary, not ery.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Emulation; ambition of endeavor to equal or excel. "His emulation of the great man was immediately noticed by all."

Futility; uselessness. "He soon realized the futility of his efforts."

Commemorate; to celebrate the memory of. "It is a tribute to a man who we commemorate."

Vituperative; abounding in abusive words. (Pronounce a vie-tyu-per-ai-tiv, accent second syllable). "Some of our columnists' writings are vituperative."

Medicative; possessing curative qualities; healing. "Many of our plants have medicative properties."

Brush Shelters On Ice Will Mean Homes For Fish After Melting

When the ice is strong enough to hold you is the time to build brush shelters for fish in ponds and lakes. It's easy to cut a pile of brush, wire it together, weight it down with rock or old iron, place over a deep spot and let it sink when the ice melts. Next summer and next winter the fish will concentrate at these brush shelters and the fisherman can have himself a ball.

Crappie and bluegill particularly seem to school up around brush piles to feed. They aren't always in the brush pile but ice fishermen have found that if they aren't there one day they will be the next or even if not one hour, they [illegible] be the next. In clear water [illegible] often possible to look down through the ice and see the fish lying in the brush pile. Considerable time can be saved under these conditions. If a quick look doesn't locate fish in one brush pile [illegible]erman can go on to the next one.

BRUSH SHELTERS do the best job in ponds or lakes with very little natural vegetation. They provide food and lodging for young fish and half-grown fish. The brush gives little water animals a place to multiply furnishing attractive food for these young fish. The larger fish come to catch the small fish and the fishermen come to catch the big ones.

Probably the best kind of brush to use is osage orange frequently growing volunteer to the disgust of the farmer. Live brush is better than dead stuff as it will last longer. Even discarded Christmas trees furnish good brush pile material.

A GOOD DESIGN for brush piles includes the crisscross of flexible poles across the top and bottom, wired together so the brush will stay put and not break loose to float away. The brush pile should include both larger logs and fine branches with enough open space to allow for a hook dangling in the depths of the submerged pile. The fisherman will frequently find that he has to put his bait right in front of the fishes mouth as fish are even lazier than fishermen at times. (Sp

Aluminum Foil Over Presdwood Creates A-1 Heat Reflector

Aluminum foil's reflective qualities make it useful as a radiator backer.

For best results, cover a piece of Masonite Presdwood the size of the radiator with the foil. A good way to attach the foil is to fold the edges over the back and use a stapling gun. The foil-covered panel will reflect heat into the room and keep the wall clean.

Since aluminum foil also is an excellent reflector of light, it is useful in home photography. Cover a Presdwood panel in a similar manner and use it to reflect soft light on the photo subject. (G

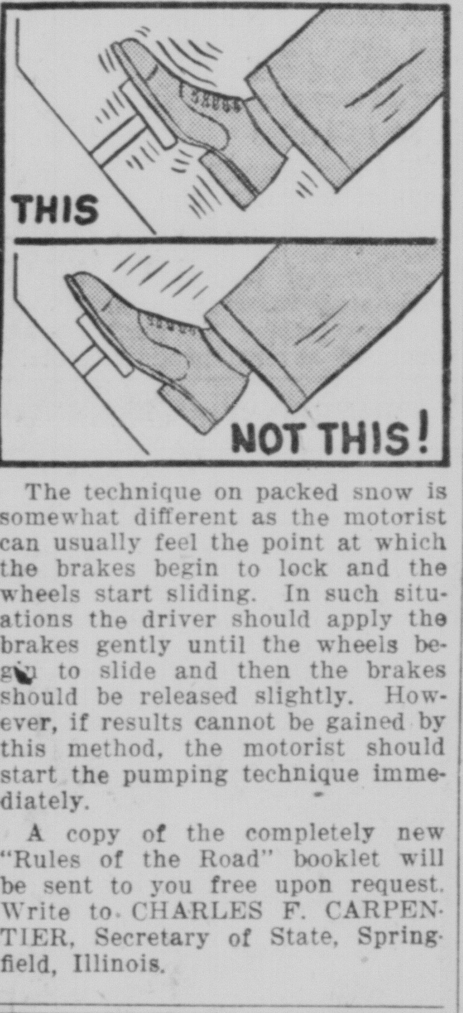
Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

An important function of driving during the winter season is bringing a vehicle to a stop in as short a distance as possible.

It has been established that braking distances can be measurably reduced by pumping brakes so they are alternately applied and completely released. Also, by pumping the brakes the driver is aided in retaining steering control of the vehicle. A survey revealed that few motorists are aware of this and do not realize that a sliding or spinning wheel provides no directional control whatsoever.

When driving on glare ice the motorist should make a series of very rapid brake applications to bring the vehicle to a stop. The brakes should be fully applied for an instant and then completely released for an instant. This should be done as rapidly as possible.



The technique on packed snow is somewhat different as the motorist can usually feel the point at which the brakes begin to lock and the wheels start sliding. In such situations the driver should apply the brakes gently until the wheels begin to slide and then the brakes should be released slightly. However, if results cannot be gained by this method, the motorist should start the pumping technique immediately.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

4H CLUB

Bakery Tour And Handicraft Lessons For Up And Doing 4-H

Up and Doing 4-H club meeting was held January 17 at the home of Merrielie and Sandra Moehling. This is the season's fifth meeting and was well attended.

Sharon Luczak and Kathleen Branka gave a talk on Handicraft. Sharon Garlisch demonstrated "Winter Arrangements," Judy Moehling talked on "Through the Eyes of an Artist" and Sandra Busse with Charlotte Keller, covered "Pictures on Your Wall." Refreshments and some recreational games made this a complete and happy meeting.

A tour was undertaken January 25. This venture in domestic science took the group to Burney Brothers bakery in Chicago where members were given educational brochures, many of the booklets through the compliments of the American Institute of Baking. The tour took the group through the various branches that make up baking, from the flour storage bins to the finished product. Refreshments served by the Burney Brother's was appreciated by everyone present.

Faster Milking

You can milk your cows faster and with less work in elevated stalls than in any other type of milking setup.

Purchases Cow

Arkansas Artificial Breeders' Assn., Fayetteville, Ark., has just purchased the Guernsey sire, Rosewood A. Governor, from W. H. Odlum, Roselle, according to the American Guernsey cattle club.

This richly bred young bull is out of the high-producing cow, Clearland Butterfat Flash, that has twice been classified Very Good for type, and has a production record of 13,988 pounds of milk and 775 pounds of fat, made on two times daily milking for 365 days, as a junior four-year-old in the Herd Improvement Register. He is sired by Rosewood Royal Aristocrat. (Fm

Lessons In English

by W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "From whence did that man come?" Omit "from," as "whence" means "from what place."

The proper plural form of "Kinfolk" is "kinsfolk," and not "kinfolks."

Do no say, "Each of the men only have five dollars." Say, "Each of the men has only five dollars."

Distinguish between "fermentation" (a chemical change of an organic substance) and "fomentation" (the application of a warm substance, such as wet cloths).

The commonly-used phrase, "each and every," is redundant, and should be avoided.

"Means" is singular or plural, according to the context. "No other means is possible." "Various means are possible."

Words Often Mispronounced

Wainscot. Pronounce wain-skutt, accent first syllable.

Succinct. Pronounce suks-sinkt, accent second syllable.

Deventure. Pronounce dee-ven-tyur, accent on second syllable.

Gyrate. Pronounce jie-rait, accent on first syllable.

Jewelry. Pronounce in three syllables, and not jool-ry.

Hundredth. Pronounce the e as in dread, not hun-derdth.

Words Often Misspelled

Ascent (act of rising); assent (to consent). Repertoire; observe the second r, and the oire. Courageous, eous; contagious, ious. Moccasin; two c's, one s. Tableau; observe the eau. Monetary; ary, not ery.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Emulation; ambition of endeavor to equal or excel. "His emulation of the great man was immediately noticed by all."

Futility; uselessness. "He soon realized the futility of his efforts."

Commemorate; to celebrate the memory of. "It is a tribute to a man who we commemorate."

Vituperative; abounding in abusive words. (Pronounce a vie-tyu-per-ai-tiv, accent second syllable). "Some of our columnists' writings are vituperative."

Medicative; possessing curative qualities; healing. "Many of our plants have medicative properties."

Raucous; disagreeably harsh; strident. (Pronounce rah-kuss, accent first syllable). "Anne has a raucous voice."

Brush Shelters On Ice Will Mean Homes For Fish After Melting

When the ice is strong enough to hold you is the time to build brush shelters for fish in ponds and lakes. It's easy to cut a pile of brush, wire it together, weight it down with rock or old iron, place over a deep spot and let it sink when the ice melts. Next summer and next winter the fish will concentrate at these brush shelters and the fisherman can have himself a ball.

Crappie and bluegill particularly seem to school up around brush piles to feed. They aren't always in the brush pile but ice fishermen have found that if they aren't there one day they will be the next or even if not one hour, they [illegible] be the next. In clear water [illegible] often possible to look down through the ice and see the fish lying in the brush pile. Considerable time can be saved under these conditions. If a quick look doesn't locate fish in one brush pile [illegible]erman can go on to the next one.

BRUSH SHELTERS do the best job in ponds or lakes with very little natural vegetation. They provide food and lodging for young fish and half-grown fish. The brush gives little water animals a place to multiply furnishing attractive food for these young fish. The larger fish come to catch the small fish and the fishermen come to catch the big ones.

Probably the best kind of brush to use is osage orange frequently growing volunteer to the disgust of the farmer. Live brush is better than dead stuff as it will last longer. Even discarded Christmas trees furnish good brush pile material.

A GOOD DESIGN for brush piles includes the crisscross of flexible poles across the top and bottom, wired together so the brush will stay put and not break loose to float away. The brush pile should include both larger logs and fine branches with enough open space to allow for a hook dangling in the depths of the submerged pile. The fisherman will frequently find that he has to put his bait right in front of the fishes mouth as fish are even lazier than fishermen at times. (Sp

Aluminum Foil Over Presdwood Creates A-1 Heat Reflector

Aluminum foil's reflective qualities make it useful as a radiator backer.

For best results, cover a piece of Masonite Presdwood the size of the radiator with the foil. A good way to attach the foil is to fold the edges over the back and use a stapling gun. The foil-covered panel will reflect heat into the room and keep the wall clean.

Since aluminum foil also is an excellent reflector of light, it is useful in home photography. Cover a Presdwood panel in a similar manner and use it to reflect soft light on the photo subject. (G

Oil companies spend millions of dollars finding new ways of increasing the power and efficiency of modern gasolines. As a result, gasoline today is 50 per cent more efficient than gasolines of thirty years ago.

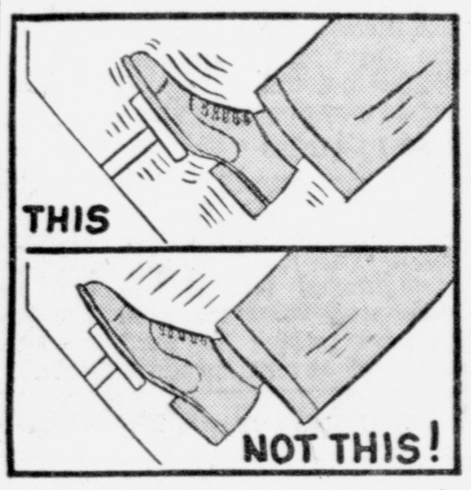
Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

An important function of driving during the winter season is bringing a vehicle to a stop in as short a distance as possible.

It has been established that braking distances can be measurably reduced by pumping brakes so they are alternately applied and completely released. Also, by pumping the brakes the driver is aided in retaining steering control of the vehicle. A survey revealed that few motorists are aware of this and do not realize that a sliding or spinning wheel provides no directional control whatsoever.

When driving on glare ice the motorist should make a series of very rapid brake applications to bring the vehicle to a stop. The brakes should be fully applied for an instant and then completely released for an instant. This should be done as rapidly as possible.



The technique on packed snow is somewhat different as the motorist can usually feel the point at which the brakes begin to lock and the wheels start sliding. In such situations the driver should apply the brakes gently until the wheels begin to slide and then the brakes should be released slightly. However, if results cannot be gained by this method, the motorist should start the pumping technique immediately.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

"Our Aim: To Fear God, Tell The Truth, and Make Money," — H. C. Paddock, 1898-1935

Happenings 10, 20, 30, 40, And 50 Years Ago This Week

50 Years Ago

February 2, 1906

South Barrington — A grand basket social will be given in Dis. No. 43 Feb. 2. The chief part of the program will be given by the children, but we hope that everybody will spell, both old and young. Girls will be imported from the neighboring towns and all the buxom lassies of South Barrington will be present. So boys, there is a chance for you all, if you bring your pocket books.

Schaumburg — The Jolly Club visited August Hattendorf Sunday. They were glad to see each other and laughed so much, dat em de buk den andern morgen noch wei de.

Roselle — Geo. Franzen, successor to J. C. Hattendorf at Roselle is well pleased with the way business is moving, a continuous line of farmers coming and going, keep him and his men busy.

Itasca — August Tonne put up a wind mill for Hy. Kueker at Putten Hill last week and sold another mill to John Quirk, which he expects to erect this week.

The reason eggs have fallen in price so suddenly, is because E. D. Jacobus' chickens are working over time and flooding the egg market. This seems strange to us. Coxie evidently has not found the nests yet.

Arlington Heights — Tardiness is still an evil in our school and will be while there is a case to report. Parents please help the teachers in this matter. No man or woman can reach that degree of success whih his or her other qualities would win, if the quality of punctuality is lacking.

Palatine— Florida is too dull and lazy a country for a man of E. R. Converse' active nature. He can't stand around and loaf, but must keep busy at something, not from necessity but for pleasure.

Dr. Jos. L. Black is a quiet, reserved gentleman, who has eminent success as a physician and surgeon. Many of his patients are enthusiastic in his praise. He has recently pulled through some extreme cases of pneumonia.

Charles Wente will commence drilling a 6-inch well for the Bowman Dairy Co. soon. He expects to have to go down 125 feet. Several contractors were here this week, looking over the location preparatory to making bids for building the new bottling factory, which is to be 40x200 feet.

February 4, 1916

London, Feb. 3 — Fifty-four persons were killed and 67 injured in the Zeppelin raid on Monday night. The official statement issued on Tuesday says 220 bombs were dropped on many towns and in rural districts.

Arlington Heights — Mrs. J. D. Sugart, of Hyde Park, visited her daughter, Mrs. Charles Paddock, Tuesday.

Mrs. Elfeld entertained several lady friends at a quilting bee at her home Tuesday afternoon.

The high school boys basket ball team last Tuesday evening, assisted by George Kost and Lyman Nichols, put up the highest score against "The Redskins", a team from Chicago, that has ever been scored against any team here in the Heights. With a 70 to 18 score dangling to their belt, the boys naturally feel a little jubilant. The visiting team was a bunch of husky fellows averaging about 135 pounds, but our boys were much too fast for them.

Kost and Nichols need no introduction to the lovers of the sport, but the younger fellows — Teach, Dodge, Wilke, Allison and Peter, certainly surprised their friends by the way they outclassed their opponents.

Robbers visited Hugo Feldton's Monday afternoon, between two and four o'clock. Everybody is getting afraid to say, "What should we do in the evening, if they come by day already?" Dats ova-tow Schlim.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for collector of the township of Wheeling, subject to the verdict of the non-partisan voters at the polls, Tuesday, April 4, 1916. — H. C. Paddock.

Is the C.P. & W. Ry. going to be revived? That is the inquiry that is being heard all along the line. Some dopsters claim that the present rumors are without foundation. They state that "electric" line has been "talked" at various times during the past 20 years. Even a few poles were erected at one time. It is extremely hard to run down the rumors with any degree of certainty.

The pending negotiations for the old railroad are about completed so Wauconda officials claim. They likewise state that they as yet can not see the hands of the Insull interests.

The Chicago Daily News in last Saturday's issue in a signed story, linked up the rehabilitation of that railroad with the probable building of a half million dollar tabernacle at Towers Park, near Wauconda, by Paul Rader.

It is claimed by one Palatine official, that a large part of the rumors is "bunk" in so far as the Insull name is linked up with the project. He states that a proposed electric line from the Logan Square elevated terminal to the Soo Line tracks, thence north thru Des Plaines towards Wheeling has been secured. Where it will go from there nobody knows.

John Russel, for 20 years secretary of the Des Plaines Mutual Insurance Co. and school treasurer of Wheeling township over ten years, passed away Saturday, Jan. 30. Mr. Russel's parents were among the early settlers of Wheeling township. He was born in Arlington Heights and has lived here all his life.

After months of guess work upon the part of Palatine people as to how long the Dearn farm would be held intact, 56 acres of it have been sold and will shortly be opened for subdivision sale. A hundred thousand dollars was paid for the tract, which means $2,000 an acre for the Northwest highway which bisects the tract lowers the acreage.

Mrs. Mathilda Gathman, 85 years old, a resident of Cook county for 67 years, died Sunday at the home of her son, Henry O. Gathman in Itasca.

Unless you have been keeping a record you probably didn't know that we have had snow on the ground for 53 consecutive days. Since December 14, there has been snow under foot and unless some thawing weather is in the offing, a record of 84 sleighing days in 1908 will be nearly equalled. According to Dr. B. T. Best, the next longest record of consecutive days that snow was on the ground was in 1904 when there were 72 days of sleighing. But we have had much heavier snows, he says. In 1918, four feet of snow fell, while this winter to date there has been about 18 inches of snow.

The village boards of Arlington, Mt. Prospect and Palatine have taken no steps to adopt as official the eastern standard time which will go into effect in Chicago March 1.

Once again Libertyville Wildcats demonstrated their basketball supremacy by sweeping last week through their opposition to the championship of the tenth annual conference tournament.

The fate of the Arlington Heights recreational park project will probably be known within the week. The petitions asking the park board to purchase the property are now being circulated.

Miss Emma Wilke, proprietor of the Emerald Shop at Arlington Heights, is spending this week in New York City where she is inspecting the latest in women's wear and buying her spring and summer stock.

The opinion of Attorney Hugo J. Thal given to the village board of Arlington Heights two months ago that the recently enacted state law covering the withdrawal of unsubdivided lands from municipalities was unconstitutional, proved to be correct last week when Judge Blatt rendered a decision in favor of the village of Arlington Heights which was represented by Mr. Thal and against Dr. George W. Green who owns 64 acres within the village, which has been assessed for the big sewer.

Factory construction in Arlington is not limited to one or two firms. Arlington Seating Company is completing a 77x135 addition to be use for fabricating steel. The E. W. A. Rowles Co. is placing a roof on an addition 86x96 which will be used as a warehouse for finished products. The first of the trusses of the Mayfair Products $150,000 building are in place and being covered with roofing boards. The walls of the Grigsby-Allison radio parts factory building are now rising from the foundation.

Turning to commercial construction, Hieber, Muller and Senneberger aremaking plans for the opening of their display room. A second Davis street structure that is awaiting its roof is the Lattof building on East Davis Street. Arlington Elevator and Coal Co. is erecting a new office building, 20x70 on Northwest hwy.

William Busse Jr., president of Mt. Prospect State Bank, died at his residence, 106 S. Emerson, Mt. Prosepct.

Enlarged school facilities at Mt. Prospect have become more than a necessity. Not only do the present school facilities fail to meet minimum educational needs of the community, but the school is unable to properly comply with the basic requirements set forth by the state law with respect to physical education in order to qualify for its share of financial assistance from the state.

Olaf Andersen, 25, and Miss Lorraine Groh, 22, both of Palatine were killed early Saturday morning when their car hit a Northwestern freight train crossing Rand rd. north of Des Plaines.

Undaunted by the cold weather and snow of January, the officers of the Mt. Prospect Golf league met on the 20th to discuss ways and means to make the 1946 season a success.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

from Patty McArdle

Dear Peg:

"Pride goeth before a fall" or "much talk goeth before a virus," which all translated means simply that a week ago I sat playing bridge and talking about how healthy we have been all winter — naturally, making it sound like I, as a good and watchful mother, was completely responsible for the blooming health of our family. It was the following day, that the school nurse called at noon and said that I should come after Megan, as she was complaining of a sore throat and had a fever. I could scarcely believe it — why hadn't I just been saying how healthy we all were! I remained skeptical and when she climbed into the car, in front of the school building, I questioned her. "What's this about a sore throat? You didn't say anything about it this morning — it must have developed quite rapidly." Sensing that Mother's attitude was not one of complete sympathy, she hastened to defend herself.

"Well, I had it this morning, but I didn't say anything about it — we were in too much of a hurry!"

THAT FIGURED. Between 8:15 and 8:30 a. m. we look like a bunch of hounds before the hunt, running around, yelping at each other, not sure of the starting time and knowing the gun will go off any minute. Example: Do you have your penny for milk? Put your kitchen and get it. Put your boots on, Bridget. Do you have your penny form ilk? But your boots on Bridget! Where's my scarf you were playing with last night? Put your boots on, Bridget! Get your Polio Fund dime card off of my dressing table." Megan races past, down the steps, while I, mumbling something about naughty girls who won't put their boots on, stoop to put Bridget's boots on.

Well, there's been no yelping, no hurrying, no starting lines or gun blasts for us the past week. We're a bunch of sick hounds. The morning after I brought Megan home, she developed a higher fever, "upchucked" and felt generally miserable. By the next day, all symptoms had developed into a healthy, big chest cold with a fever that continues to linger. By Tuesday morning, I had the same thing and Bridget, who has fared best of all, just sort of goes up and down with fever and symptoms.

THE GIRLS ARE IN pretty good spirits by now, but I couldn't feel worse. As I sit here, writing to you, I sniff for a couple of minutes, then I blow for a couple of minutes. Then, I shut my watery, red eyes and try to think for a couple of minutes — but no use, my brain is watery too. With all this, I have a deep, rattling cough and oh well, just name it and I've got it!

Fortunately, Nell can take over at nursery school, so all I have to do is drive the children there and home again and I have two hours between trips. Since I've felt so poor the last few mornings, I've just made a cup of tea and sat in the living room with the children, watching television for those two hours. I must say it has not been wasted time. I saw, for the first time, the "Kapusta Kids" (puppets) on Tennessee Ernie's show, heard a talk about India, how to make a round face oval and how to make oxtail ragout — all on Arlene Francis' Home Show. I usually left about the time Rosemary settled down her Romper Room for their first cartoon.

Thank goodness the weekend is here. Bob doesn't know it yet, but his poor, sick wife is going to leave him and the almost-recovered children, crawl into her bed and pull the Kleenex in after her — to stay until Monday morning!

My love,
Patty

LAST WEEK'S HEADLINES

Resume of front page news that appeared in various editions of Paddock Publications and other newspapers of the area that will keep readers informed on headline news of their neighbors.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Double sessions in the village junior high school can be avoided if construction of a new junior high school starts this spring, declared the president of the board of education of elementary schools. Voters were to go to the polls Saturday to vote on a $1,050,000 bond issue that would finance construction of a new grade school, a new junior high school and an addition to the present junior high school.

Illinois Bell reported that the number of telephones in the Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows and Mt. Prospect areas zoomed from 12,500 a year ago to more than 15,800 at year's end.

ROLLING MEADOWS

An ordinance levying a ½ cent city sales tax was introduced at city council meeting and referred to committee for study. A lengthy zoning ordinance for the entire city was also introduced and sent to committee.

The aldermen approved the idea of formation of a mosquito abatement district and appropriated $259 as Rolling Meadows' share in the creation of a district.

PALATINE

A permit to organize has been granted the Palatine Savings and Loan association. It will open for business April 2 in the Palatine State Bank building.

High school board members told the Palatine plan commission members that additional classroom will be needed within 2 years and that by 1962, with an anticipated enrollment of 1,600, a new building must be ready.

The village board turned thumbs down on a proposed shopping center on U.S. 14 by refusing to annex the land to the village and took the first step toward putting an $80,000 sewage disposal plant improvement bond issue on the April ballot.

MT. PROSPECT

A subdivision of 150 within the city limits of Des Plaines was allowed to change from the Mt. Prospect to the Des Plaines grade school district in a decision of the county board of school trustees.

The same board denied the petition of property owners on the east side of Rand rd., north of Central, who have been seeking to disconnect from the Mt. Prospect district.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS

The elementary school board accepted a bid of $75,120 from a Wauconda firm to design and construct a new 6-room school in the Schaefges subdivision. Later in the year an additional 6 class rooms may be added to the school.

WHEELING

At a special meeting of the village board the trustees approved drilling of a new well in the Wolfson subdivision. It will be financed by a $100 tap-on fee to be paid with each building permit. The village engineer estimated that the project would cost $60,000.

Wheeling organizations promised support to 40 teen-agers who requested chaperones for special activities.

BENSENVILLE

The Milwaukee Road reported on the proposed installation of gates at Bensenville's 4 crossings. In a letter to a civic group which requested that crossing gates be installed, a Road official said that the gates might cost as much as $60,000 but the railroad did not offer to pay for the gates.

DES PLAINES

The city council indicated its intention to retain the Thacker st. underpass at a meeting Monday night. The job in Thacker will be straightened and it will cost an estimated $5,000 to alter the underpass, which is used by students of several grade schools.

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

Campbell St.

I was unhappily surprised to read — to be very frank — the stupid suggestion in last week's Editor's Column about raising the speed limit on W. Campbell st. A check made with radar and not obvious, wired electrical timers would confirm, I'm sure, that the present average speeds over W. Campbell are closer to 40 mph than the posted 20 mph. Have you considered these facts:

1. Raising posted limits will raise actual speeds. now excessive.
2. W. Campbell is a 2-lane residential street indistinguishable to small children from other less travelled streets in the neighborhood.
3. There is not, as you state, sidewalk along the entire length of W. Campbell.
4. Assuming that it is about 2 miles from Wilke rd. to downtown Arlington, it would take 6 minutes to negotiate the distance at 20 mph. It would take only 4 minutes at 30 mph. May I ask what these 2 saved minutes are to be used for?

Warm Feelings

While coming off Northwest hwy. on to State rd. and heading north toward Miner st. Saturday, January 21 about 5:10 p.m., we found ourselves behind an Arlington Heights squad car.

Suddenly, the red rotating signal began flashing; the squad stopped in the middle of the intersection and the driver got out, and stopped traffic.

WONDERING what was happening, my husband and I looked in the direction of the police officer. Here there were 2 little girls, the oldest couldn't have been more than 5, waiting to cross State rd. The police officer escorted the 2 little girls across the street, got back into his squad car and drove away.

Being newcomers to this town (all of 3 months) and having 2 school age daughters of our own, it gave us great satisfaction to know that the police here have such a fine sense of duty.

Actually, I can't put into words the warm feeling we took home with us.

Helpful Youths

Last night (Sunday) around 6:30 p.m. my daughter, her three small children and I were driving back to Oak Park from Fox River Grove, Illinois.

As we entered Mt. Prospect, we found we had a flat tire, with no tools, nothing but a spare tire.

You will remember it was near zero weather and very dark- so my daughter bravely stood outside the car, hoping some one would stop.

Only a few minutes elapsed when we saw a car drive down the highway and stop some little distance ahead of us then turn and come back to where we were, and a young lad came up and asked what our trouble was.

We explained and he said he worked at the Sinclair Station in the center of town and would go get a jack and come back and fix our tire for us- and he added "now get in the car and keep warm, it's a cold night".

Very gratefully we got inside and in not more than 10 minutes these lads returned and in a few more minutes had our tire changed. We asked what we owed them, and could hardly believe it when they told us they belonged to a "Hot-Rod Association (or Society) and one of their rules was to help anyone they could on the highway, for which they received "points"

We tried to insist that they take $2 or $3 just because we were so grateful, but they jumped in their car and were off.

One hears and reads so much about the terrible things our "teen-Agers" today are responsible for, I thought it only proper I should in some way express my thanks to these two young men who were so kind to us. Would you please print this in the hopes that one of them will see it and know how grateful we are to them.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Charles A. Sterling

Honor Pioneers

I wonder how many people in Arlington Heights know such names as Klehm, Mors, Flentie, Goedke, Best, Volz, Garms, and Militzer. They should know 2 or 3 of these names, but I doubt very much if they know the many services they performed to make our city so fine a place to live in. They are responsible for our streets, water, schools and parks.

ONE NAME in particular — George Klehm. He planted and cared for, free of charge, all the trees in the older part of our city and the trees in the parks and school grounds. His name is revered in the memory of older residents. But why can't his name be kept before all our people, by dedicating a park or street in his name?

We have streets honoring a few of the people who had vision — Sigwalt, Davis, Miner and Kennicott. Why not change a few names like Fernandez and Kaspar? Why can't the above named citizens have a playground or even one of our nameless small parks given their name?

WHY Dryden school? Why not Volz, Militzer or Garms who fought tooth and nail for our grade and high schools. New schools are to be built — time for the school boards to give them a name instead of a street designation.

It isn't my intention to start a controversy. The Fence Post contains too much of animosities, reprisals and name calling in practically every issue. This note is intended to bring to the attention of proper officials something that is just and honorable, and history later on may commemorate their names in a similar manner.

Traffic Puzzle

In reviewing the traffic situation of the past year in Arlington Heights and previewing the picture in the coming year, there are definite indications that traffic is a matter of first importance for the city officials and private citizens. As more and more traffic problems will arise.

AT THIS time it appears highly desirable to me that a committee or commission be appointed. The commission should be composed of both city officials and private citizens. Such a commission can take positive action on many of the complaints and requests filed by the individual citizen.

As you know, there are special warrants for the erection of stop signs and traffic signals. I note that more and more stop signs are being installed until we will reach a position whereby the stop sign itself has no meaning. Then like many towns during the past few years it will be necessary to withdraw many stop signs. There are special warrants for four-way stop signs and here again Arlington Heights may be creating problems rather than eliminating problems.

The major highways and the railroads will continue to present problems to the village. More and more, we should strive to mobilize sufficient public opinion to achieve the desirable traffic improvements. An organization which includes Arlington Heights citizens will aid in getting concerted action for proven remedies, since such an organization must solicit professional assistance.

THE ARLINGTON Heights police department has been doing an excellent job in bicycle safety in cooperating with the schools in these programs. Coordination of effort is extremely essential There is no one panacea for the problem but preferably a balanced program utilizing the three E's —enforcement, education, and engineering.

A public support organization will enable the enforcement, engineering, and educational agencies to apply proven remedies in a realistic and conservative manner. Much can be accomplished and accomplished quicker with organized support behind all agencies working to promote highway improvements. Many factors which a public support organization can assist and expedite are as follows: More rigid driver controls, better highway conditions, more driver education, stricter law enforcement, and a general step-up and expansion of public safety educational activities.

Such a group will produce more effective results than each agency working independently. I would be interested in discussing this matter further with you since the time is drawing relatively near for such action.

The Lions Club, the PTA, the Chamber of Commerce and many other civic organizations would be interested in serving on such a commissiion and I feel more positive results then could be achieved through such an active commission. Some of it would make the task easier for the city officials and on a whole improve traffic conditions immensely in Arlington Heights.

In the long run it would prevent much sorrow and suffering as well as economic waste resulting from traffic accidents and traffic congestion.

Bravo, Mr. Editor!

It is very encouraging to the many of us who have been disturbed by the continued annexations to our already overloaded sewer and water facilities, that our editor commented on this very important matter so pointedly in the January 19 edition of the Herald.

TO MANY of us, it strikes a wrong note that the same firm of engineers represent both the village and the promoters seeking annexations — sort of like an attorney representing both the prosecution and the defense, which would be unusual to say nothing of unethical.

Apparently, if left to the village engineers and the promoters we soon will be surrounded by mosquito breeding reservoirs, followed by an inevitable enormous new sewer assessment. As one old resident put it: "Here's where I came in — I've already paid for 3 separate and distinct sewer systems; and here's where I get out — I'm selling and going elsewhere to live!"

NO ONE wants to slow the wheels of progress, but, surely, a measure of restraint should be exercised by our planning commission and the village trustees.

Take a lesson from Palatine and refuse further annexations until we can digest what we've thus far swallowed!

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

There is no doubt about it. Everything is relative and also depends on how you look at it. Everything also depends on from which side of the fence you are grazing too. This may sound cryptic and just slightly disconnected but let us enlarge on this earth shaking theory that we have dredged up.

For instance, take the Florida trip from which we have just returned browned and lazy. To Floridians, it is the middle of winter. Therefore as it is the middle of winter, they bundle themselves up to the eyeballs in sweaters, gloves, mittens, wool slacks and huddle forlornly over their little gas heaters.

The visitors to this tropical paradise are the ones who start shedding their garments as they step into the airport from the plant and hop right into their shorts and halters. The next thing on the docket for natives of other parts is to run to the beach and proceed with the tanning and burning process. After all, we must show something for it to the home folks when we get back.

If we should arrive back in the middle of February, people get the idea that we didn't go to Florida at all but secretly snuck off to Siberia for a little skiing.

No native of this tropical peninsula considers going in the ocean in winter. The water may register 75 degrees all it wants to. Winter is no time for frolicking in the waves. They consider us visitors to their shores as being just a snitch above the idiot class to be as undressed as we are.

As we looked appreciatively at the poinsettias in bloom, they kept a running chatter about the royal poinciana that won't bloom until summer. As we admired the lovely tropical hibiscus and coyly ran around with one tucked in our ear uncomfortable but so rakish, they kept spouting off about the night blooming jasmine that is the sweetest smell of all. It seemed too long a visit just to see some flower that they claim is poisonous anyway.

We hope that their chamber of commerce never hears of the one traitor to the cause that we heard. This viper that said chamber is harboring informed us strictly on the quiet that there is a rainy season in August and September that causes the shoes to mildew while still on the feet and brings on some little itsy bitsy bugs that they call no-see-ums.

It seems that even paradise has its little drawbacks. [illegible] happy to have missed this horrible time. We are so happy that if given the opportunity to go back tomorrow, we would be on our way, rain, sandflies and all.

South Barrington — A grand basket social will be given in Dis. No. 43 Feb. 2. The chief part of the program will be given by the children, but we hope that everybody will spell, both old and young. Girls will be imported from the neighboring towns and all the buxom lassies of South Barrington will be present. So boys, there is a chance for you all, if you bring your pocket books.

Schaumburg — The Jolly Club visited August Hattendorf Sunday. They were glad to see each other and laughed so much, dat em de buk den andern morgen noch wei de.

Roselle — Geo. Franzen, successor to J. C. Hattendorf at Roselle is well pleased with the way business is moving, a continuous line of farmers coming and going, keep him and his men busy.

Itasca — August Tonne put up a wind mill for Hy. Kueker at Putten Hill last week and sold another mill to John Quirk, which he expects to erect this week.

The reason eggs have fallen in price so suddenly, is because E. D. Jacobus' chickens are working over time and flooding the egg market. This seems strange to us. Coxie evidently has not found the nests yet.

Arlington Heights — Tardiness is still an evil in our school and will be while there is a case to report. Parents please help the teachers in this matter. No man or woman can reach that degree of success whih his or her other qualities would win, if the quality of punctuality is lacking.

Palatine— Florida is too dull and lazy a country for a man of E. R. Converse' active nature. He can't stand around and loaf, but must keep busy at something, not from necessity but for pleasure.

Dr. Jos. L. Black is a quiet, reserved gentleman, who has eminent success as a physician and surgeon. Many of his patients are enthusiastic in his praise. He has recently pulled through some extreme cases of pneumonia.

Charles Wente will commence drilling a 6-inch well for the Bowman Dairy Co. soon. He expects to have to go down 125 feet. Several contractors were here this week, looking over the location preparatory to making bids for building the new bottling factory, which is to be 40x200 feet.

London, Feb. 3 — Fifty-four persons were killed and 67 injured in the Zeppelin raid on Monday night. The official statement issued on Tuesday says 220 bombs were dropped on many towns and in rural districts.

Arlington Heights — Mrs. J. D. Sugart, of Hyde Park, visited her daughter, Mrs. Charles Paddock, Tuesday.

Mrs. Elfeld entertained several lady friends at a quilting bee at her home Tuesday afternoon.

The high school boys basket ball team last Tuesday evening, assisted by George Kost and Lyman Nichols, put up the highest score against "The Redskins", a team from Chicago, that has ever been scored against any team here in the Heights. With a 70 to 18 score dangling to their belt, the boys naturally feel a little jubilant. The visiting team was a bunch of husky fellows averaging about 135 pounds, but our boys were much too fast for them.

Kost and Nichols need no introduction to the lovers of the sport, but the younger fellows — Teach, Dodge, Wilke, Allison and Peter, certainly surprised their friends by the way they outclassed their opponents.

Robbers visited Hugo Feldton's Monday afternoon, between two and four o'clock. Everybody is getting afraid to say, "What should we do in the evening, if they come by day already?" Dats ova-tow Schlim.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for collector of the township of Wheeling, subject to the verdict of the non-partisan voters at the polls, Tuesday, April 4, 1916. — H. C. Paddock.

Lost — Auto tire weed chain, Monday, Jan. 10 on trip in Wheeling township from Arlington Heights to Hillside thence to Brick school house, South and East to Mrs. Piepenbrink's, then back to Mt. Prospect. Finder please notify the owner, H. C. Paddock for suitable reward.

John Russel, for 20 years secretary of the Des Plaines Mutual Insurance Co. and school treasurer of Wheeling township over ten years, passed away Saturday, Jan. 30. Mr. Russel's parents were among the early settlers of Wheeling township. He was born in Arlington Heights and has lived here all his life.

After months of guess work upon the part of Palatine people as to how long the Dearn farm would be held intact, 56 acres of it have been sold and will shortly be opened for subdivision sale. A hundred thousand dollars was paid for the tract, which means $2,000 an acre for the Northwest highway which bisects the tract lowers the acreage.

Mrs. Mathilda Gathman, 85 years old, a resident of Cook county for 67 years, died Sunday at the home of her son, Henry O. Gathman in Itasca.

Unless you have been keeping a record you probably didn't know that we have had snow on the ground for 53 consecutive days. Since December 14, there has been snow under foot and unless some thawing weather is in the offing, a record of 84 sleighing days in 1908 will be nearly equalled. According to Dr. B. T. Best, the next longest record of consecutive days that snow was on the ground was in 1904 when there were 72 days of sleighing. But we have had much heavier snows, he says. In 1918, four feet of snow fell, while this winter to date there has been about 18 inches of snow.

The village boards of Arlington, Mt. Prospect and Palatine have taken no steps to adopt as official the eastern standard time which will go into effect in Chicago March 1.

Once again Libertyville Wildcats demonstrated their basketball supremacy by sweeping last week through their opposition to the championship of the tenth annual conference tournament.

The fate of the Arlington Heights recreational park project will probably be known within the week. The petitions asking the park board to purchase the property are now being circulated.

Miss Emma Wilke, proprietor of the Emerald Shop at Arlington Heights, is spending this week in New York City where she is inspecting the latest in women's wear and buying her spring and summer stock.

The opinion of Attorney Hugo J. Thal given to the village board of Arlington Heights two months ago that the recently enacted state law covering the withdrawal of unsubdivided lands from municipalities was unconstitutional, proved to be correct last week when Judge Blatt rendered a decision in favor of the village of Arlington Heights which was represented by Mr. Thal and against Dr. George W. Green who owns 64 acres within the village, which has been assessed for the big sewer.

Factory construction in Arlington is not limited to one or two firms. Arlington Seating Company is completing a 77x135 addition to be use for fabricating steel. The E. W. A. Rowles Co. is placing a roof on an addition 86x96 which will be used as a warehouse for finished products. The first of the trusses of the Mayfair Products $150,000 building are in place and being covered with roofing boards. The walls of the Grigsby-Allison radio parts factory building are now rising from the foundation.

Turning to commercial construction, Hieber, Muller and Senneberger aremaking plans for the opening of their display room. A second Davis street structure that is awaiting its roof is the Lattof building on East Davis Street. Arlington Elevator and Coal Co. is erecting a new office building, 20x70 on Northwest hwy.

William Busse Jr., president of Mt. Prospect State Bank, died at his residence, 106 S. Emerson, Mt. Prosepct.

Enlarged school facilities at Mt. Prospect have become more than a necessity. Not only do the present school facilities fail to meet minimum educational needs of the community, but the school is unable to properly comply with the basic requirements set forth by the state law with respect to physical education in order to qualify for its share of financial assistance from the state.

Olaf Andersen, 25, and Miss Lorraine Groh, 22, both of Palatine were killed early Saturday morning when their car hit a Northwestern freight train crossing Rand rd. north of Des Plaines.

Undaunted by the cold weather and snow of January, the officers of the Mt. Prospect Golf league met on the 20th to discuss ways and means to make the 1946 season a success.

LAST WEEK'S HEADLINES

Resume of front page news that appeared in various editions of Paddock Publications and other newspapers of the area that will keep readers informed on headline news of their neighbors.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Double sessions in the village junior high school can be avoided if construction of a new junior high school starts this spring, declared the president of the board of education of elementary schools. Voters were to go to the polls Saturday to vote on a $1,050,000 bond issue that would finance construction of a new grade school, a new junior high school and an addition to the present junior high school.

Illinois Bell reported that the number of telephones in the Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows and Mt. Prospect areas zoomed from 12,500 a year ago to more than 15,800 at year's end.

ROLLING MEADOWS

An ordinance levying a ½ cent city sales tax was introduced at city council meeting and referred to committee for study. A lengthy zoning ordinance for the entire city was also introduced and sent to committee.

The aldermen approved the idea of formation of a mosquito abatement district and appropriated $259 as Rolling Meadows' share in the creation of a district.

PALATINE

A permit to organize has been granted the Palatine Savings and Loan association. It will open for business April 2 in the Palatine State Bank building.

High school board members told the Palatine plan commission members that additional classroom will be needed within 2 years and that by 1962, with an anticipated enrollment of 1,600, a new building must be ready.

The village board turned thumbs down on a proposed shopping center on U.S. 14 by refusing to annex the land to the village and took the first step toward putting an $80,000 sewage disposal plant improvement bond issue on the April ballot.

MT. PROSPECT

A subdivision of 150 within the city limits of Des Plaines was allowed to change from the Mt. Prospect to the Des Plaines grade school district in a decision of the county board of school trustees.

The same board denied the petition of property owners on the east side of Rand rd., north of Central, who have been seeking to disconnect from the Mt. Prospect district.

PROSPECT HEIGHTS

The elementary school board accepted a bid of $75,120 from a Wauconda firm to design and construct a new 6-room school in the Schaefges subdivision. Later in the year an additional 6 class rooms may be added to the school.

WHEELING

At a special meeting of the village board the trustees approved drilling of a new well in the Wolfson subdivision. It will be financed by a $100 tap-on fee to be paid with each building permit. The village engineer estimated that the project would cost $60,000.

Wheeling organizations promised support to 40 teen-agers who requested chaperones for special activities.

BENSENVILLE

The Milwaukee Road reported on the proposed installation of gates at Bensenville's 4 crossings. In a letter to a civic group which requested that crossing gates be installed, a Road official said that the gates might cost as much as $60,000 but the railroad did not offer to pay for the gates.

DES PLAINES

The city council indicated its intention to retain the Thacker st. underpass at a meeting Monday night. The job in Thacker will be straightened and it will cost an estimated $5,000 to alter the underpass, which is used by students of several grade schools.

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

Campbell St.

I was unhappily surprised to read — to be very frank — the stupid suggestion in last week's Editor's Column about raising the speed limit on W. Campbell st. A check made with radar and not obvious, wired electrical timers would confirm, I'm sure, that the present average speeds over W. Campbell are closer to 40 mph than the posted 20 mph. Have you considered these facts:

1. Raising posted limits will raise actual speeds. now excessive.

2. W. Campbell is a 2-lane residential street indistinguishable to small children from other less travelled streets in the neighborhood.

3. There is not, as you state, sidewalk along the entire length of W. Campbell.

4. Assuming that it is about 2 miles from Wilke rd. to downtown Arlington, it would take 6 minutes to negotiate the distance at 20 mph. It would take only 4 minutes at 30 mph. May I ask what these 2 saved minutes are to be used for?

Warm Feelings

While coming off Northwest hwy. on to State rd. and heading north toward Miner st. Saturday, January 21 about 5:10 p.m., we found ourselves behind an Arlington Heights squad car.

Suddenly, the red rotating signal began flashing; the squad stopped in the middle of the intersection and the driver got out, and stopped traffic.

WONDERING what was happening, my husband and I looked in the direction of the police officer. Here there were 2 little girls, the oldest couldn't have been more than 5, waiting to cross State rd. The police officer escorted the 2 little girls across the street, got back into his squad car and drove away.

Being newcomers to this town (all of 3 months) and having 2 school age daughters of our own, it gave us great satisfaction to know that the police here have such a fine sense of duty.

Actually, I can't put into words the warm feeling we took home with us.

Helpful Youths

Last night (Sunday) around 6:30 p.m. my daughter, her three small children and I were driving back to Oak Park from Fox River Grove, Illinois.

As we entered Mt. Prospect, we found we had a flat tire, with no tools, nothing but a spare tire.

You will remember it was near zero weather and very dark- so my daughter bravely stood outside the car, hoping some one would stop.

Only a few minutes elapsed when we saw a car drive down the highway and stop some little distance ahead of us then turn and come back to where we were, and a young lad came up and asked what our trouble was.

We explained and he said he worked at the Sinclair Station in the center of town and would go get a jack and come back and fix our tire for us- and he added "now get in the car and keep warm, it's a cold night".

Very gratefully we got inside and in not more than 10 minutes these lads returned and in a few more minutes had our tire changed. We asked what we owed them, and could hardly believe it when they told us they belonged to a "Hot-Rod Association (or Society) and one of their rules was to help anyone they could on the highway, for which they received "points"

We tried to insist that they take $2 or $3 just because we were so grateful, but they jumped in their car and were off.

One hears and reads so much about the terrible things our "teen-Agers" today are responsible for, I thought it only proper I should in some way express my thanks to these two young men who were so kind to us. Would you please print this in the hopes that one of them will see it and know how grateful we are to them.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Charles A. Sterling

Honor Pioneers

I wonder how many people in Arlington Heights know such names as Klehm, Mors, Flentie, Goedke, Best, Volz, Garms, and Militzer. They should know 2 or 3 of these names, but I doubt very much if they know the many services they performed to make our city so fine a place to live in. They are responsible for our streets, water, schools and parks.

ONE NAME in particular — George Klehm. He planted and cared for, free of charge, all the trees in the older part of our city and the trees in the parks and school grounds. His name is revered in the memory of older residents. But why can't his name be kept before all our people, by dedicating a park or street in his name?

We have streets honoring a few of the people who had vision — Sigwalt, Davis, Miner and Kennicott. Why not change a few names like Fernandez and Kaspar? Why can't the above named citizens have a playground or even one of our nameless small parks given their name?

WHY Dryden school? Why not Volz, Militzer or Garms who fought tooth and nail for our grade and high schools. New schools are to be built — time for the school boards to give them a name instead of a street designation.

It isn't my intention to start a controversy. The Fence Post contains too much of animosities, reprisals and name calling in practically every issue. This note is intended to bring to the attention of proper officials something that is just and honorable, and history later on may commemorate their names in a similar manner.

Traffic Puzzle

In reviewing the traffic situation of the past year in Arlington Heights and previewing the picture in the coming year, there are definite indications that traffic is a matter of first importance for the city officials and private citizens. As more and more traffic problems will arise.

AT THIS time it appears highly desirable to me that a committee or commission be appointed. The commission should be composed of both city officials and private citizens. Such a commission can take positive action on many of the complaints and requests filed by the individual citizen.

As you know, there are special warrants for the erection of stop signs and traffic signals. I note that more and more stop signs are being installed until we will reach a position whereby the stop sign itself has no meaning. Then like many towns during the past few years it will be necessary to withdraw many stop signs. There are special warrants for four-way stop signs and here again Arlington Heights may be creating problems rather than eliminating problems.

The major highways and the railroads will continue to present problems to the village. More and more, we should strive to mobilize sufficient public opinion to achieve the desirable traffic improvements. An organization which includes Arlington Heights citizens will aid in getting concerted action for proven remedies, since such an organization must solicit professional assistance.

THE ARLINGTON Heights police department has been doing an excellent job in bicycle safety in cooperating with the schools in these programs. Coordination of effort is extremely essential There is no one panacea for the problem but preferably a balanced program utilizing the three E's —enforcement, education, and engineering.

A public support organization will enable the enforcement, engineering, and educational agencies to apply proven remedies in a realistic and conservative manner. Much can be accomplished and accomplished quicker with organized support behind all agencies working to promote highway improvements. Many factors which a public support organization can assist and expedite are as follows: More rigid driver controls, better highway conditions, more driver education, stricter law enforcement, and a general step-up and expansion of public safety educational activities.

Such a group will produce more effective results than each agency working independently. I would be interested in discussing this matter further with you since the time is drawing relatively near for such action.

The Lions Club, the PTA, the Chamber of Commerce and many other civic organizations would be interested in serving on such a commissiion and I feel more positive results then could be achieved through such an active commission. Some of it would make the task easier for the city officials and on a whole improve traffic conditions immensly in Arlington Heights.

In the long run it would prevent much sorrow and suffering as well as economic waste resulting from traffic accidents and traffic congestion.

Bravo, Mr. Editor!

It is very encouraging to the many of us who have been disturbed by the continued annexations to our already overloaded sewer and water facilities, that our editor commented on this very important matter so pointedly in the January 19 edition of the Herald.

TO MANY of us, it strikes a wrong note that the same firm of engineers represent both the village and the promoters seeking annexations — sort of like an attorney representing both the prosecution and the defense, which would be unusual to say nothing of unethical.

Apparently, if left to the village engineers and the promoters we soon will be surrounded by mosquito breeding reservoirs, followed by an inevitable enormous new sewer assessment. As one old resident put it: "Here's where I came in — I've already paid for 3 separate and distinct sewer systems; and here's where I get out — I'm selling and going elsewhere to live!"

NO ONE wants to slow the wheels of progress, but, surely, a measure of restraint should be exercised by our planning commission and the village trustees.

Take a lesson from Palatine and refuse further annexations until we can digest what we've thus far swallowed!

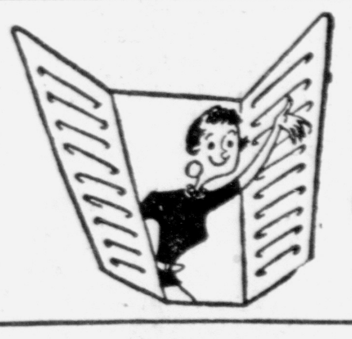
JUST AROUND THE CORNER



from Patty McArdle

Dear Peg:

"Pride goeth before a fall" or "much talk goeth before a virus," which all translated means simply that a week ago I sat playing bridge and talking about how healthy we have been all winter — naturally, making it sound like I, as a good and watchful mother, was completely responsible for the blooming health of our family. It was the following day, that the school nurse called at noon and said that I should come after Megan, as she was complaining of a sore throat and had a fever. I could scarcely believe it — why hadn't I just been saying how healthy we all were! I remained skeptical and when she climbed into the car, in front of the school building, I questioned her. "What's this about a sore throat? You didn't say anything about it this morning — it must have developed quite rapidly." Sensing that Mother's attitude was not one of complete sympathy, she hastened to defend herself.

"Well, I had it this morning, but I didn't say anything about it — we were in too much of a hurry!"

THAT FIGURED. Between 8:15 and 8:30 a. m. we look like a bunch of hounds before the hunt, running around, yelping at each other, not sure of the starting time and knowing the gun will go off any minute. Example: Do you have your penny for milk? Put your kitchen and get it. Put your boots on, Bridget. Do you have your penny form ilk? But your boots on Bridget! Where's my scarf you were playing with last night? Put your boots on, Bridget! Get your Polio Fund dime card off of my dressing table." Megan races past, down the steps, while I, mumbling something about naughty girls who won't put their boots on, stoop to put Bridget's boots on.

Well, there's been no yelping, no hurrying, no starting lines or gun blasts for us the past week. We're a bunch of sick hounds. The morning after I brought Megan home, she developed a higher fever, "upchucked" and felt generally miserable. By the next day, all symptoms had developed into a healthy, big chest cold with a fever that continues to linger. By Tuesday morning, I had the same thing and Bridget, who has fared best of all, just sort of goes up and down with fever and symptoms.

THE GIRLS ARE IN pretty good spirits by now, but I couldn't feel worse. As I sit here, writing to you, I sniff for a couple of minutes, then I blow for a couple of minutes. Then, I shut my watery, red eyes and try to think for a couple of minutes — but no use, my brain is watery too. With all this, I have a deep, rattling cough and oh well, just name it and I've got it!

Fortunately, Nell can take over at nursery school, so all I have to do is drive the children there and home again and I have two hours between trips. Since I've felt so poor the last few mornings, I've just made a cup of tea and sat in the living room with the children, watching television for those two hours. I must say it has not been wasted time. I saw, for the first time, the "Kapusta Kids" (puppets) on Tennessee Ernie's show, heard a talk about India, how to make a round face oval and how to make oxtail ragout — all on Arlene Francis' Home Show. I usually left about the time Rosemary settled down her Romper Room for their first cartoon.

Thank goodness the weekend is here. Bob doesn't know it yet, but his poor, sick wife is going to leave him and the almost-recovered children, crawl into her bed and pull the Kleenex in after her — to stay until Monday morning!

My love,
Patty

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

There is no doubt about it. Everything is relative and also depends on how you look at it. Everything also depends on from which side of the fence you are grazing too. This may sound cryptic and just slightly disconnected but let us enlarge on this earth shaking theory that we have dredged up.

For instance, take the Florida trip from which we have just returned browned and lazy. To Floridians, it is the middle of winter. Therefore as it is the middle of winter, they bundle themselves up to the eyeballs in sweaters, gloves, mittens, wool slacks and huddle forlornly over their little gas heaters.

The visitors to this tropical paradise are the ones who start shedding their garments as they go into the airport from the plant and hop right into their shorts and halters. The next thing on the docket for natives of other parts is to run to the beach and proceed with the tanning and burning process. After all, we must have something to show the poor homefolks when we get back.

If we should arrive back in the middle west pale, people might get the idea that we didn't go to Florida at all but secretly snuck off to Siberia for a little skiing.

No native of this tropical peninsula considers going in the ocean in winter. The water may register 75 degrees all it wants to. Winter is no time for frolicking in the waves. They consider us visitors to their shores as being just a snitch above the idiot class to be as undressed as we are.

As we looked appreciatively at the poinsettias in bloom, they kept a running chatter about the royal poinciana that won't bloom until summer. As we admired the lovely tropical hibiscus and coyly ran around with one tucked in our ear uncomfortable but so rakish, they kept spouting off about the night blooming jasmine that is due sometime in June. It seemed too long a visit just to see some flower that they claim is poisonous anyway.

We hope that their chamber of commerce never hears of the one traitor to the cause that we heard. This viper that said chamber is harboring informed us strictly on the quiet that there is a rainy season in August and September that causes the shoes to mildew while still on the feet and brings on some little itsy bitsy sand flies that are smaller than any screen.

It seems that even paradise has its little drawbacks. We are so happy to have missed this horrible time. We are so happy that if given the oportunity to go back tomorrow, we would be on our way, rain, sandflies and all.

The Editor's column

by STUART R. PADDOCK

Residents of new subdivisions will have the opportunity to get their names upon the voting lists March 13, which will be general precipct registration day.

The predicted voting strength of some of those areas may upset more than one apple cart being pushed by legislative candidates.

Hanover township cast only 450 votes at the last primary. We are told that the new subdivisions have increased the possible vote to 2500. Some Rolling Meadows residents think that city has the balance of power in senatorial district No. 3.

We suggest that it will be foolhardy for any of the 6 senatorial candidates or the 12 candidates for the legislature whose names will appear in the Republican column, to order a new auto on the strength of their salaries as a legislator.

Campaign rumors are so startling that we hesitate to repeat them in this column. We do know that party endorsement never meant less than it will at the April primary.

An old time politician told us Tuesday that the winning senator in district 3 would have to get 1500 votes.

Cook county zoning board holds 3 rezoning hearings Friday. The first is at Des Plaines city hall at 5 p.m. covering an acre of land at Devon ave. and River rd.

Hearing No. 2 and the most important of that evening's sessions is at 7 p.m. at Mt. Prospect village hall. The applicant asks for a 74-acre heavy industry district on both sides of Higgins rd., west of Mt. Prospect rd.

We do not know how many objections will be entered, but if the project becomes a reality, School District 59 will be collecting taxes from that area in place of providing additional school rooms to serve residents of a possible subdivision.

The third hearing is at Arlington Heights village hall at 8 p.m. to consider business zoning at Hintz and Elmhurst rd. and at Elmhurst and Vera lane.

A group of newspaper men recently omitted the United States from the list of countries enjoying press freedom.

We note that Circuit Judge Russell A. Keeney of DuPage county recently issued an injunction which places a curb on the free discussion of the toll road project.

We agree with a Chicago editorial writer who said Sunday, "It is a sad state of affairs when citizens are forbidden from joining together and publishing their grievances against a branch of their own government."

If such injunctions are not questioned in the courts, we can see some disgruntled reader of Paddock Publications getting an injunction against the Fence Post, God forbid.

President Eisenhower recently voiced his opinion of the articles being written by retired generals and admirals. It is our guess that a lot of municipal officials feel the same way about some of the criticism that is thrown their way by the man on the street who thinks he knows how the village board should operate.

Illinois Supreme Court has killed that part of HB 257 which would have removed justices of the peace from the town board. Such an elimination would only be the entering wedge to eliminate that office altogether.

The next "victims" slated to get the ax are the assessors, township collectors and township road commissioners.

All except three counties in the state lost their collectors several years ago. If the efforts of the "do gooders" succeed, home township rule will be a thing of the past.

It was a pleasure Tuesday noon to listen to the heads of 3 elementary schools of this area discuss their problems in general, with particular emphasis upon the need for parental guidance if the juvenile delinquency problem is to be licked.

We kept silent, but here is our suggeston: Require every parent to take a course in parental guidance before her child will be accepted in the kindergarten or primary grade.

A mother tells us that such a suggestion is not realistic. The parents should start their studies before the baby arrives. A father says, "The best remedy is the use of the rod from the time that the child is able to walk."

We can hear mothers say, "No, never." If the parents can't agree on childhood discipline what chance has the child?

As we write this, the boys of a fifth grade class in Arlington Heights are presenting a petition to their teacher asking for longer recess.

We were asked this week how soon spring weather would arrive. Referring the inquiry to Dr. Best, who has kept a weather temperature chart many years, we learn that in 1955 the first 8 days the temperature ranged from a low of 13 degrees to a high of 34.

Then the bottom of fine weather fell out. On Feb. 9 and 10 there was a drop of 54 degrees, from 44 above zero to 10 below. So, folks, spring is not very near.

This week's "Way Back When" quotes Dr. Best on weather conditions 20, 48 and 52 years ago.

Fire Benefit Dance Dedicated To The Irish

The festive "Dancing Dollars" celebration of the Rolling Meadows fire equipment drive will be green in more ways than one.

Not only will the dollars themselves be green, but the "Monte Carlo" type event will be held on the greenest of days, March 17, St. Patrick's Day.

Main feature of the Dancing Dollars celebration, to be held in the Palatine Fire hall, will be a gigantic gift presentation. Tickets will go on sale this week through the 4 cooperating organizations in the fire equipment drive. Members of the Lions, Jaycees, Junior Woman's club and the Home Owners' association will receive their tickets for the presentation starting next week.

FIRST PRIZE will be an asphalt drive. Second prize is a tile kitchen, with many other similar prizes for added interest.

All types of "Monte Carlo" type games will be featured at the Dancing Dollar celebration. Members of the 4 sponsoring organizations will man the various tables and booths. All proceeds from the event will be used to purchase fire equipment for the city.

There will be no admission charge to the Dancing Dollars event. Music will be available for dancing and singing as well as the various games and booths to keep everyone attending in true happy St. Patrick's Day spirits.

School Needs Pianos

An appeal for pianos to be used in class work has come from the Kimball Hill school in Rolling Meadows. Pianos found suitable for the school will be picked up. Anyone wishing to donate a piano is asked to call the Kimball Hill school at CLearbrook 3-7510.

Newcomers Night Planned At Barn

The Women's association of the Community church of Rolling Meadows is presenting a "Welcome Newcomers" night tonight at 8 p.m. in the Barn.

An interesting program is promised by Jane Kissel, representative of the Martin-Senour Co., who will present a "Home Color Fashion Show." This will be a demonstratiion and discussion of color harmony with fabrics and paints in the home furnishing field. An added attraction will be a song fest program directed by Alva and Robert Higgins, local residents, whom many of us have enjoyed at previous events, and by great demand we bring them back this week.

The regular business meeting will be omitted and refreshments will follow the program.

Junior Hi Dance Class Has New Advisor

The Tuesday evening Junior Hi dancing classes, which never see an attendance of less than 50 youngsters, will have a new advisor in charge temporarily.

Due to the heavy press of seasonal business, the club's regular advisor, John Woods, will not be able to supervise the classes for 2 months.

Volunteering to take his place to lend a helping hand, Bud Broeske will take charge. Helping Broeske will be Bob Ristow. Dance classes are held from 7 to 9 p. m. each week.

Wheeling Twp. Dems To Sponsor Dance

A 21-inch television set, table lamp and toaster will be featured gifts Saturday, Feb. 4, when the Regular Democratic organization of Wheeling township holds a dance at Buffalo house in Buffalo Grove.

Music for dancing will be by the Glo-Notes. Tickets may be obtained at the door or by contacting Jack Clark, committeeman, CL 3-4784.

Vote On Plan To Split PTA

Members of the PTA of consolidated school district 15 will vote on a proposal to split the present organization into 3 separate PTAs at their next unit meetings.

The proposal to create autonomous PTA groups for each school has been adopted by the PTA executive board but a majority of PTA members voting on the proposal must approve it before it becomes effective.

If it is approved, it will go into effect with the next school year. Mrs. Eugene Robinson, district director of The Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, has approved the new by-laws.

FEBRUARY meetings of the unit organizations will start at 7:30 p.m., instead of the usual 8:00 p.m., in order to read the new by-laws and conduct the voting. The regularly scheduled meetings will follow.

Paddock unit will meet Monday, Feb. 6 the Kimball Hill unit Tuesday, Feb. 7 and the Oak st. unit Thursday, Feb. 9.

Mrs. Robert Applehans, chairman of the committee which wrote the new by-laws, said the essential change is that each school will have its own PTA.

Each school PTA will have its own officers, its own committees and its own treasury. It will determine its own method of raising funds and will present its own monthly program.

About 700 or 800 members are expected to be in each school PTA. It is planned that all children from one family will attend the same school next year, which has not been the case in Palatine this year.

EACH SCHOOL PTA will have a member of the Northwest Suburban Council of the PTA.

There also will be an advisory board, which will serve as a guidance group for all school PTAs in the district. Funds for this organization will be provided by the PTA, which will continue to operate in the gymnasium lobby of Palatine High school.

Within the near future other schools will be built in the district and eventually these schools will have their own PTAs, Mrs. Applehans said.

Other members who served on the by-laws revision committee were Mrs. Abiathar White, E. S. Castor, Mrs. Lester Traub, Mrs. William Fremon and Mrs. Frederick Hodgdon.

Full Hospital Board Elected; Pick Site Next

The erection of the Northwest Community hospital became a step nearer realization Monday evening when a full board was elected by the members. Participating were those who have made individual contributions to the project.

A definite decision on the site of the hospital is expected in order that the application for federal funds can be filed in Springfield by that date.

The agenda for the evening included approval of changes in the by-laws, a report on the site committee, financial statement by the treasurer, report of the nominating committee, election of board trustees who met after the adjournment of the membership meeting.

While subscriptions to the building fund near $100,000, actual payment of pledges are not sufficient to purchase a site. The Financial Development committee and Building and Grounds committees are meeting this week to prepare a report for presentation to the executive committee February 9.

The by-laws of the hospital association provide for a board of 33 members, (11 for each year). Elected for the 3-year term are:

Barrington—Martin H. Schreiber, Nicholas Lattof, Esther Larson.

Mt. Prospect—L. George O'Day, Louis G. Langpop, Walter Kirchhoff.

Joseph Brandt and Edward Haseman who were among the original incorporators, were elected honorary trustees for a term of 3 years.

Charles J. Walters was elected president. Vice chairmen named are: Stuart R. Paddock, Palatine; George O'Day, Elk Grove; Fred Lockwood, Barrington; Ted C. Seiler, Wheeling.

Other officers are: Carl Hammerl, treasurer; Kenneth Hartman, acting secretary.

Chairmen of committees are: Nicholas Lattof, financial development; Carl Hammerl, finance; Donald D. Florence, building and grounds; Leroy Garr, legal.

Robert Griffith, public education; Jack Hughes, nominating; Charles J. Walters, executive committee; Hugh Nichols, joint committee on accreditation, Dorothy Wagner, Womans auxiliary.

Added to present 2-year members are L. B. Andersen, Wheeling; Earl K. Riley, Arlington Heights; Fred S. Lockwood, Barrington; Robert L. Chyrchel, Prospect Heights.

Holdover 2-year members are William Gerbosi, Maurice Pendleton, Richard Bronwell, Stuart Paddock, Carl Hammerl, Charles J. Walters and Ted Seiler.

Three additions were made to board members whose terms expire in January 1957. They are Tom H. Hildebrand, vice president, International Harvester, Arlington Heights; Raymond E. Salzman, member of firm of Milburn Bros., Mt. Prospect, and Charles M. Newgent, treasurer Ekco-Alcoa Containers, Inc., Barrington.

One year holdover members are Leroy Garr, Robert Griffith, M. Russell Bramwell, Lillian J. Peters, Dorothy Wagner, Elizabeth Johnston, Robert Balfour and Marjorie Boswell.

Farm Equipment Show To Feature Movies

Stavros Farm Equipment will hold its annual "John Deere Day" at the Wheeling school Thursday, Feb. 9 at 7:30 p.m. There will be 6 color movies, including a preview of the latest developments in the farm machinery field called "What's New for '56?"

Three New School Sites To Go To Voters

New Building Needed Sept. 1 To Provide 18 Classrooms

Palatine and Rolling Meadows voters will go to the polls this month to decide on 3 sites for elementary schools and on plans for a new low-cost school on one of the sites.

The board of education of community consolidated school district 15 tentatively acquired the sites this week. The sites, according to Superintendent Marion Jordan, are in the Reskins addition, on the eastern edge of Palatine, in the Pleasant Hills subdivision, in the mushrooming southern part of the village and in Rolling Meadows. Two of the sites will be purchased and 1 donated.

The school will be erected on the Pleasant Hills site and Jordan said that he hoped the school would be open for 650 pupils by next fall.

The contract has been tentatively awarded to Hill Schools, Inc. This firm has developed a new type of low-cost construction involving the use of cement panelwalls. The school will contain 18 classrooms, a play room, offices, a kindergarten and library.

Construction is expected to begin in March if the voters approve. Jordan said that the final cost figures have not been worked out yet. Each classroom will have a heating and ventilating unit, along with acoustical tile ceiling and running water.

Gray M. Sanborn, president of the board of education, explained that the board's decision was influenced by the fact that the new type of construction will cost at least 40 per cent less than a school of conventional construction. He said that the cement roof decks and cement panel walls will make the building almost fireproof.

THE 9.3 ACRE site would be purchased from D & J Suburban Builders, developers of Pleasant Hills, for $15,500. David Slosberg, one of the partners in the D & J firm, said that D & J is contributing $90,000 to the school board for the new school, which will have a kindergarten and 6 grades.

The 15 acre site in the Reskins addition would be purchased from Charles Reskins for $18,000. The site is on the north side of Chicago ave., 400 feet east of Rohlwing rd. Jordan said that the Rolling Meadows site is "16 to 18 acres" and will be donated by the developers, Kimball Hill.

Mothers March For Peak $1684

Averaging more than $1.10 per home, Rolling Meadows marked up a total of $1,684.11 in the March of Dimes drive.

Sponsored by the Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's club, it was the most successful charity campaign ever staged in the city.

The climax to the polio campaign was Tuesday night when more than 70 women canvassed the city in a "Mothers' March on Polio." This brought $1,109.36 to the fund.

IN ADDITION to the Mothers' March, coin cards were sent to residents and distributed to local school children. These cards were collected by Mrs. Joseph Katkus, 1956 Rolling Meadows March of Dimes chairman, through her capacity as welfare chairman of the Junior Womans club.

A balloon sale was held as a part of the drive. Members of the Junior Hi fellowship and Guys and Dolls teen club participated in selling the balloons, which brought $189 to the polio fund.

Appreciation has been expressed by the Junior Womans club to police Lt. Cy Campbell and special policeman John Macior. They helped count the money received during the Mothers' March and escorted Mrs. Katkus to the bank for the safe deposit of the funds.

A LOUDSPEAKER toured the city during the Mothers' March urging residents to turn on their porch lights and welcome the "mother" to their home. Manning the loudspeaker were George Schmidt, Joe Katkus, Lucille Doyle and Andy Spillios.

Acting as area captains for the Mothers' March were several members of the Junior Womans club.

They were Frances Edwards, Annette Guaglianone, Alice Farquhar, Loretta Platter, Norma Hines, Elva Rumrey, Alice Boyle and Lucille Doyle. Committee members assisting Mrs. Katkus in the campaign were Donna Anderson, Marge Schmidt and Donna Piehl.

A list of the "Marching Mothers" will be published in the paper next week to give all of the volunteers and members of the Junior Womans club the credit they deserve.

At the closing of the drive, Mrs. Katkus stated, "It is a wonderfully warm feeling to live in such a cooperative community. I can't thank everyone enough."

Two Weeks Left To Purchase City Vehicle Stickers

Less than 2 weeks remain for residents to purchase their 1956 Rolling Meadows vehicle stickers before they will be found in violation of the wheel tax ordinance by local police.

Vehicle stickers are $3 for passenger automobiles. Stickers may be purchased at city hall, 2207 Campbell st. during regular business hours of city clerk, Eda Zimmerman.

Regular business hours of the city hall are 12 noon to 8 p.m. on Monday; 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday; and 9 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday. There are no business hours on Wednesday.

What Do We Expect From Schools?

"What Do We Expect From Our Schools?" will be the subject of February unit meetings of Consolidated school district 15. Meetings will be held at the Oak st. and Paddock schools in Palatne and the Kimball Hill school in Rolling Meadows.

Parents and school authorities at each school will comprise panel groups to discuss the theme of what is needed and wanted from the school system. Each group will have a moderator.

At these meetings the new bylaws of the PTA, setting up separate PTAs for each school, will be read and voted upon. To take care of this business each meeting will start at 7:30 p.m., a half hour earlier than usual.

The Paddock meeting will be held Monday, Feb. 6, the Kimball Hill meeting Tuesday, Feb. 7 and the Oak st. meeting Thursday, Feb. 9.

AT THE PADDOCK school the panel will consist of Howard Meadors, Rodger Taggart, Mrs. Carl Peterson, Mrs. Genevieve Hoglund and Mrs. Mildred Andersen. Don Fyfe will act as moderator.

The Kimball Hill panel will consist of Lester Traub, Mrs. Hoglund, Mrs. Andersen and one other member yet to be named. Joseph Kiszka, school principal, will be moderator.

At the Oak st. school the panel will be composed of Richard Lacher, Jackson Boughner, Mrs. Robert Green and Mrs. Robert Angley. Bob Brown, school principal, will be moderator.

Masonic Fellowship Changes Meeting Place

The newly-formed Masonic Fellowship club of Rolling Meadows has been successful in securing a regular place for their monthly meetings.

Meetings will be held on the third Wednesday of each month at the Palatine A.F. and A.M. Lodge.

The next meeting of the group will be on February 15 at 8 p.m. at the Palatine Lodge.

Members of the club are reminded of the invitation extended to them for the special 3rd degree ceremony at the Barrington Lodge. This will be held on Tuesday, February 7. Anyone interested in attending the event is asked to call Bob Binnie, CLearbrook 5-1282, or Tom Miller, CLearbrook 5-3882.

February Is Navy Sign-Up Month

February has been proclaimed "Navy Sign-Up Month" in Arlington Heights. In proclaiming the month, Mayor Albert W. Goedke urged all citizens to assist in stimulating interest and focusing public attention upon the patriotic purpose of "this campaign to provide adequate manpower for the largest and finest Navy in the world."

The proclamation notes that "It is important to the welfare of our nation that we ensure that the Navy is adequately manned at all times and ready to meet any emergency requiring its services" and notes that many additional volunteers are now urgently needed to bring the Navy up to authorized strength.

The headquarters for the chief of Naval Air Reserve Training is at Glenview and the Navy's largest recruit training center is at Great Lakes, Ill.

Fresh Paint

A thin film of turpentine on the surface of a can of paint will prevent a "skin" forming; then a piece of aluminum over the top will provide airtight seal.

There Is A Big Month For Junior Hi

Three big nights have been planned for the members of the Rolling Meadows Junior Hi fellowship this month. Tomorrow evening the club members will have a dance party in the community barn. From 7 to 10 the teenagers will dance to the latest records brought by the members themselves.

On Friday, February 10, the club will view the popular feature film "The High and the Mighty." Cost of the movie will be only 15 cents, with an additional 5 cents for coke. This will run from 7 to 10 p.m.

The main party of the month will be held on Friday, February 17. It will have Valentine's Day as its theme. Special games and entertainment are being planned by the club members. Members of the Junior Hi Mothers club will serve refreshments for the ever-hungry youngsters.

Locked Out?

Two sets of keys are quietly nestled in the desk of city clerk Eda Zimmerman at city hall, 2207 Campbell st.

Some resident must be short their car and house keys—somewhere. One set of keys was found on January 7 at the corner of George and Dove sts. They are car keys apparently for a Ford automobile. Another set of keys was found in the driveway of city hall last Saturday. Upon identification, Mrs. Zimmerman will gladly return the wandering keys to their proper owners.

Chief Warns: Better License Dog

New residents of the city have received a warning from Rolling Meadows police chief Tom Ullock.

Complaints are being received by the police from residents south of Kirchhoff rd. of dogs running loose in that area. Under city ordinances, dogs must be kept under control on their owner's property and on a leash when being walked along the street.

Dogs picked up by the police department running free will be impounded. Their owners will be subject to a regular dog license fee of $2 for males and $3 for females to redeem them. In addition they will be billed for pound charges at $2 per day as well as paying a fine levied by the police magistrate.

As an important safety feature of the city dog ordinance, all owners must show proof of rabies innoculation for their dogs before a license can be issued.

Inhalator Revives School Workman

The Arlington Heights inhalator squad has again answered an emergency call in the city of Rolling Meadows. Last Monday they revived Fremont Hooper, 209 N. Dunton st., Arlington Heights, a workman at the Kimball Hill school construction project. Hooper had been working on the roof of the new school addition when he felt faint. Crawling down a ladder, Hooper managed to get inside the school to co-workers before collapsing.

After being revived by the inhalator squad, Hooper was taken to Resurrection hospital by Black's Ambulance service. He was later discharged from the hospital.

Tickets Going Like Wildfire For Lions Gay Skating Party

Residents are urged by the local Lions club to get their tickets for the coming skating party very soon. Ticket sales are nearing the end of the 400 limit set by the club for the skating party on Monday, February 13. Tickets are still available temporarily at Jim's Service station or may be had by calling Paul Fackler at CLearbrook 3-3675.

The club has rented the entire Arlington Roller rink for the skating event. Tickets are 75 cents each. Clamp-on skates are included free of charge, but shoe skates will cost 25 cents for rental. An organist has been engaged to play from 9 p.m. to midnight, but actual skating will begin at 8:30 p.m.

'Save Your Pennies' Is Women's Plea!

"Save your pennies" is the plea this week from members of the Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's club. The club has announced a bazaar on Friday, March 2. The bazaar will be held at 7 p.m. in the community Barn.

Homemade items, novelties and household items will be featured at the sale. Candy and cookies will also be sold. Each club member is asked to contribute 3 items to the sale.

In charge of the sale is Ways and Means Committee chairman Loretta Stapleton. Her committee members working hard to promote the bazaar are Marie Young, Monica Glass, Mercedes Brezinski, Marge Schmidt, Jo Allen, Marge Rypkema and Loretta Platter.

Solicitors Must Have Permits: Chief

Residents were reminded this week by police chief Tom Ullock that solicitors in the city are still required to have permits.

Residents should ask all salesmen for their solicitor's permit for their own protection.

Solicitors in the city are required to take out 30-day permits with the police department. Part of the permit application consists of fingerprinting. Misrepresentation or objectionable conduct will result in the revocation of permits.

SOLICITORS are premitted to sell from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., Monday through Saturday, only. No silicitation is permitted on Sunday.

Complaints have been received regarding the attempted sale of encyclopedias in the city through misrepresentation. The saleswoman states she is "from the school" and asks to talk to the parents. It is not until sometime later that the parents finally realize the saleswoman is not from the local school but is merely selling books.

Identification should be sought from any stranger before admitting them to your home, and a solicitor's permit should be requested from any salesperson.

300 Scouts, Parents See Dramatic Flag Ceremony

A group of more than 300 parents, Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts traveled to Glenview Naval Air base Sunday.

There they witnessed the presentation of new troop and American flags to Cub Pack 68 and Boy Scout Troop 68 by the color guard of the naval base.

This was the first flag presentation of the type ever held at the Glenview base. The color guards of the Scout troop and Cub pack accepted the flags from the Navy men. In full uniform the boys of both scout organizations marched in formation.

AN INSPIRING TALK was given on the importance of the flag by an officer of the base. The scouts, their parents and guests were escorted to the base theater where they saw a special movie on Antarctica. Following the movie the Cub Scout and Boy Scouts were marched to the area where jet planes were landing. With the adults they watched the planes in operation. They also watched the repair of jet planes in one of the base hangars.

The outing was planned with the cooperation of the Glenview personnel by Cub Pack chairman Ray Walker. Walker this week announced he will soon leave the Cub Scout organization because of the press of his many other community activities. "The excellent attendance and conduct of the boys made this last big event even more important to me," stated Walker.

Visitors

The Chester Valenziano's of 3007 Hawk Lane, were pleasantly surprised by a visit from Mrs. Valenziano's brother, Jerry Blaesing and his wife, Marie, who are home on furlough. The both are members of the U. S. Air Force, stationed at West Palm Beach, Fla. It has been 2 years since the 2 families have seen one another.

Scott Robert Reeves was very pleased as he saw his grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Reeves of Carbondale, Penn., for the first time. She arrived on January 22 and returned to Pennsylvania on January 25. This visit was one which she will remember as it was the first time she had seen her only grandchild and also the first time she had seen her son's new home. Mrs. Reeves visited the Robert Reeves' of 2803 Sigwalt st.

Mrs. Stanley Dalton and her 3 children, Johnny, Mary Chris, and Jill, from Lake Bluff, visited with Fran Edwards of 3205 Fremont and her 2 children, Karen and Bobby, on January 30. A special party luncheon was prepared for the children, which they enjoyed very much.

Christening

On Sunday, January 29, Patrick Michael Hourigan, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hourigan, 3207 Fremont, was christened at Our Lady of the Wayside in Arlington Heights. Father O'Hara officiated at the baptismal ceremony. The baby's godmother was Edna Hourigan and Charles Febel acted as godfather. Following the christening service, a buffet supper was served to the following guests: Edward Johannes, Lois and Ray Downey, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hourigan, Mr. and Mrs. James Hourigan and famiy, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Febel and family, all of Chicago.

Home Demonstrations

A Yardley Plastic demonstration was held in the home of Betty Anderson, 3200 Fremont, on Friday, January 27. Those attending were: Jean Finn, Vivian Lopata, Sue Wiegard, Clair Lazarus, Lil Behlke, Marge Loveless, Dorothy Brettner, Donna Anderson, Dee Becker, Ann Huffman, Jeanne Alderson, Barbara Fahn, and Donna Alexander, all from Rolling Meadows, and Mrs. Alfred Anderson of Chicago. Following the demonstration refreshments were served to the guests.

Ruth Williams, 2902 Dove st., was hostess to a group of her friends and neighbors at a Stanley home demonstration on January 24. On hand to take part in the games conducted by the demonstrator were Julie Reynolds, Arlene Pina, Marge Schmidt, Emmie Macior, Virginia Brighton, and Jacque Grady. Door prizes were won and refreshments were served to the guests following the demonstration.

Church Meeting

The Missionary Circle from the Arlington Heights Evangelical Free church met at the home of Doris Rowan, 2106 Jay Lane, Wednesday night, January 25. They spent the evening making bandages and cutting pictures from magazines for scrap books that are to be sent to the missionaries. The ladies who attended this meeting were: Mrs. Bethel Will, Arlington Heights; Mrs. Betty McAllister, Virginia Terrace, and Mrs. Lizzie Funk, Miss Pearl Funk, Mrs. Eileen Sill, and Mrs. Emma Preston from Rolling Meadows.

Engagement

Orville and Esther Cartwright of 2401 Meadow Drive, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jill Ann, to Charles Bartel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bartel of Chicago. Jill is a graduate of Immaculata high school in Chicago and also graduated from nurses' training at Ravenswood hospital. She is now working as a registered visiting nurse in Chicago, and because of her irregular hours has been residing there. Charles is presently working as an accountant at Motorola and is a DePaul graduate. They plan to have a fall wedding.

New Arrival

The female population of Rolling Meadows last week was increased by one as Laurel Ann Lieser chose 9:30 a.m. on January 28, as the hour and date of her arrival at Resurrection hospital. She checked in with a birth weight of 8 pounds 7 ounces, and measured 21 inches in length. Her older sister, Susan, aged 4, gazes longingly at her mommy's new dolly. They are the daughters of Edith and "Chick" Lieser, 2202 George st.

Flying School

Pat Louis, 2107 Wing st., was a widow for the past 2 weeks while her husband, Al, a pilot for Capitol Airlines, attended school in Washington, D. C., in order to qualify for flying "Viscount" planes.

Office Party

Armella and Dan Maguire, 2303 Campbell, enjoyed a much needed night out last Saturday when they attended a Chicago and North Western railroad party which was held at a private club in Chicago. Dan is an employee of the Chicago and North Western railroad.

Operations

A serious leg operation was performed on Nancy Borel of 2705 Meadow Drive, last Friday, January 27, at Resurrection hospital. Her husband, James, advised that as far as they can tell, the operation was a success. Leona Gobeyn, her thoughtful neighbor, is taking care of her 3 children.

Last Monday, January 30, was a crucial day in the Croutch household, for on that date Billy, who is just 8 years old, underwent a very serious and rare operation at Resurrection hospital, Chicago. The main artery from the heart was pinched, thus preventing the blood from flowing from the heart through the body as it should. After heavy medication, Billy was packed in ice and his body temperature dropped enabing the operation to be performed with the body and heart functioning very slowly. After a 5-hour ordeal, the operation was over and pronounced a success. Recuperating will be a slow process and he will be in the hospital from 10 days to 2 weeks. A get well card sent to him in the hospital from his little friends would certainly help cheer him up. He is the son of Lorraine and Bill Croutch of 2205 Bluebird lane. His sister, Karen, and grandmother, Mrs. Gertrude Croutch, are anxiously awaiting his return home.

Blood Donors

Another plea is being made for more blood donors. Last week 3 men from Rolling Meadows went to St. Francis hospital, Evanston, and replaced 3 pints of blood for the account of a Rolling Meadows resident. Billy Croutch was administered 2 pints of blood from the blood bank at Resurrection hospital. In order to replace this blood, 4 donors will be needed. Anyone who wishes more information or woud like his name placed on the "walking blood bank" list, should contact Don Dahlquist at CLearbrook 3-0889.

Card Club

Marjorie Becker of 2703 Sigwalt, was hostess last Thursday evening, January 26, for a local card club. After an evening of playing cards, refreshments were enjoyed by Arlene Fluger, Linda Tyl, Lois Savage, Marie Bresemann, Joyce Reeve and Lil Westphal.

Stork Shower

A surprise stork shower for Helen Horcher of 2319 Walter ave., Northbrook, was held at the home of Armella Maguire, 2303 W. Campbell. The shower was attended by 17 gals from Northbrook and Chicago, all of whom work in Northbrook at Anetsberger Brothers. They had all worked together for more than 8 years before their respective marriages. The buffet table was attractively decorated with a stork and flower centerpiece. The shower was held on Thursday, January 26.

Baptism

Gary Allen Swanson, who was born on April 2, 1954, was christened January 5, at a private baptismal service after the regular morning worship service at the Rolling Meadows Trinity Lutheran church. Vicar Frederick Koehler officiated at the ceremony. The godparents were Roy and Mary Jane Sahlstrom of Elmhurst, Ill. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Swanson, 2103 School Drive.

Birthdays

Elodie Ann, who was 2 years old on January 25, entertained a group of her little friends and their mothers at a birthday party on that date. On hand to enjoy the ice cream and cake, and partake in the singing of songs were Karen Marie Young and mother, Marie; Judy Brandt and mother, Marge; Mary Lou Martin and mother, Lou; DeAnne Doroba and mother, Lorraine; Linda Rowan and mother, Doris; Gail McAlister and mother, Betty; and last but not least, Elodie Ann's big sister, Evelyn. Helen Boeff was also present to offer a helping hand. Each little guest was presented with a Mickey Mouse toy and coloring book as a party favor. Elodie Ann is the daughter of Ed and Em Preston, 2404 Sigwalt.

The fourth birthday of Nancy Maseng was quite an eventful one which she will remember for some time. On Saturday, January 28, she was guest of honor at a party given by her parents. Her little neighborhood friends who attended were David Manago, Marcia Reddy, Kathy Mrozek, Sandra, Carmen and Jimmy Bell, Karen Bryant, Kay Ehard, Laurie Sydow, and her little sister, Mari. On Sunday, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hagen, and her 2 aunts, Mrs. Nancy Hansen, who is Nancy's namesake and shares the same birth date with her, and Mrs. Mary Hansen, with their families gathered at Nancy's home for a family "smorgasbord." On Monday, her mother took her to Chicago where she was a guest on "Lunchtime Little Theatre," a TV children's program, accompanied by Mrs. Nancy Ringsmuth and son, Robin. After the television program they enjoyed a special luncheon in downtown Chicago. Nancy is the daughter of Leif and Betty Maseng of 2604 George st.

The Mickey Mouse theme was carried out at the luncheon birthday party for Karen Marie Young. She was 3 years old Wednesday, January 25. Her little guests were Diane Dahlquist, Johnny Thompson, Janet and Nancy Meyer, Gary Brankin, Elodie Preston, Alan and Judy Brandt, Edward Jaske Jr. and Sharon and Randy Farquhar. She is the daughter of Marie and Bill Young, 2505 Sigwalt.

On Tuesday, January 24, Kathy Hansen, daughter of Loretta and Bob Hansen, 2204 Eastman, observed her fourth birthday with a party in her honor. Her grandmother and cousins came from Chicago for the party, and several of her little neighborhood friends also attended.

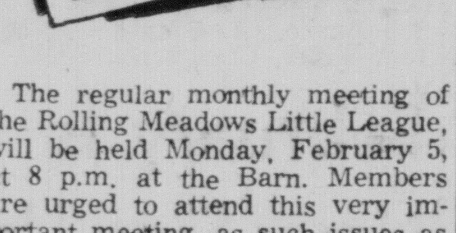
Deanie Badour, son of Alan and Lois Badour of 2200 Robin lane, celebrated his third birthday on January 29, with a party in his honor. On Saturday evening, January 28, his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bromann of Palatine, and some family friends, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Notz and their 3 children, Bobby, Susan, and Kathy, helped in celebrating a little early. On Sunday his relatives were on hand to help him celebrate at a family party. Guests were Grandma and Grandpa Bromann of Palatine, paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Badour, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pollitz and children, Linda and Johnny, of Arlington Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Smith and son, Mickey, of West Chicago, an Uncle Arthur Bromann and a friend, Miss Lois Arndt, both of Chicago.

Women's Bowling

This week's bowling standings were:

	Won	Lost
Hedlin's Richer Milk	37	26
Parkway Liquors	34	29
Bowen Hardware	29½	33½
Jim's Service Station	25½	37½

Hedlin's Richer Milk team has held first place for almost 2 months now. Under Captain Mario Wolff, the team seems to have decided to stay there permanently The other girls in the league are hoping Marion, Pat Tessendorf, Mae Hickey, and Lucy Kunz will all hit a good slump soon—but it hasn't happened yet!



The regular monthly meeting of the Rolling Meadows Little League, will be held Monday, February 5, at 8 p.m. at the Barn. Members are urged to attend this very important meeting, as such issues as the 1956 Franchise; the lease for Rolling Meadows Little League Field; and sponsors for the four teams for the 1956 season, will be discussed.

The date for counting the Queen contest ballots has been set for Monday, February 13.

MANY NEW residents have shown a desire to become better acquainted with Little League, so for the next few issues, this column will carry information about our organization that will be of interest to all who are Little League enthusiasts.

The following are the first 2 articles of the constitution:

Article 1: This organization shall be known as the Rolling Meadows Little League.

Article 2 (a): The objective of the Rolling Meadows Little League shall be to implant firmly in the boys of the community the ideals of good sportsmanship, honesty, loyalty, courage and reverence, so that they may be finer, stronger and happier boys and will grow to be good, clean, healthy men.

(b) The objectives will be achieved by providing supervised competitive athletic games. The supervisors shall bear in mind that attainment of exceptional athletic skill or the winning of games is secondary, and the molding of future men of prime importance.

Hi Folks! We'll be visiting with you from this space every other week. Hope you'll enjoy reading news of your friends and neighbors and will find the various bits of information helpful to your better living as members of this community.

BILL SIEGAL, owner of the new ARLINGTON HOUSE restaurant formerly known as Simson's, is a young man who has made a career of the restaurant business. He holds a degree from Michigan State University in Hotel and Restaurant Administration and before opening up ARLINGTON HOUSE served stints as manager of the famous Schulers restaurant in Marshall, Michigan and as an executive with the Fred Harvey chain. We can count on BILL SIEGAL to make ARLINGTON HOUSE, located on the northwest corner of Rand rd. and Euclid just outside of Arlington Heights, one of the finest eating places in Chicago's Northwest suburbs.

CLARENCE HENDRICKSON of WILLSON and FLORENCE Realtors, Arlington Heights, tells me 1955 was the biggest year in the over 25-year history of the office. However, CLARENCE expects this year to be even bigger because the mortgage market has loosened up again and more people will be able to buy houses with smaller down payments. To make the picture even brighter for home buyers, he predicts prices on existing houses will remain firm although new construction will probably increase in cost . . . If you're looking for a new house, WILLSON and FLORENCE have many fine homes available in all price ranges.

Clarence Hendrickson

When you're ready to buy a home it'll be to your advantage to apply for an FHA mortgage. It is particularly desirable in that it will enable you to get a maximum loan from your bank. This advice is offered by ROLLIE FRANZEN, Veep of the ARLINGTON HEIGHTS NATIONAL BANK. And, according to ROLLIE, it normally takes only 2 to 3 weeks to process an FHA home mortgage loan. For those of you who are already home owners and wish to improve and modernize your property, you can get a convenient FHA home improvement loan set up in 24 to 48 hours. Why not go in and discuss these FHA loans with one of the loan officers of the ARLINGTON HEIGHTS NATIONAL BANK.

By now most of you have probably noticed the unusual electric clock atop FURNITURE TOWN at Vail and Campbell Aves. in Arlington Heights. This attractive, highly accurate timepiece which keeps revolving and stays lit 24 hours a day can be seen from a three-block radius. MOREY LERMAN, boss-man of FURNITURE TOWN, got the idea to install the timepiece because so many people were constantly coming into his store asking for the time in connection with avoiding parking meter violations and meeting train schedules . . . MOREY hopes the presence of the big clock in the center of town proves to be a great convenience to the community.

Nine years ago DICK MICHALSKI and BOB PETERSEN started the ARLINGTON MILK company as a modest, two-man operation with 1 route and 1 truck. Today their organization employs 42 people and has 24 routes with as many trucks. Covering an estimated 960 miles per day, ARLINGTON MILK serves thousands of satisfied customers all the way from Palatine's city limits west to Chicago's city limits east between the wide expanse of Touhy Ave. and Dundee Rd. And each driver, incidentally, is a resident of the area in which he works. The reason for the enviable success story of ARLINGTON MILK? Outstanding quality and service!

HARRY KNAACK of HARRY H. KNAACK MOTOR SALES, located next to the Village Hall in Arlington Heights, was telling me the other day there are a lot of people who would give anything to own a luxurious new Buick, but kinda feel it's out of their price class. The fact of the matter is that if you can afford one of the three so-called low-priced automobiles you can afford a Buick. HARRY explains that your old car is worth so much more when traded in at his Buick agency the actual cash difference is comparatively slight. Those of you who have been hoping for the day when you can move into the Buick class would do well to drop over right quick to HARRY H. KNAACK MOTOR SALES show-room and look into the matter.

Wonder how many of you know that the LORRAINE-ANNE SHOP of Arlington Heights which specializes in ladies', children's and infants' wear also carries apparel for small boys. TILLIE MENSCHING and JERRY SHEAHEN, mgr. of LORRAINE-ANNE, showed me some other examples of the store's unusually wide range of fine merchandise which includes, in addition to women's dresses, suits and coats, separate departments for millinery, bras and girdles, sweaters, handbags, sportswear and costume jewelry. As JERRY pointed out to me, LORRAINE ANNE carries just about everything in wearing apparel for "girls" between 6 and 60.

Bug War Petitions End Successfully; Tell Plans

The successful conclusion of the Mosquito Abatement District petition signature drive in Palatine township has been announced by Charles Zanzie.

Zanzie is the president of the Northwest Cook County Mosquito Abatement council sponsoring the movement for the creation of the district.

Signatures of at least 5 per cent of the registered voters in every municipality and unincorporated area in the northwest Cook county area were needed. Signatures in Rolling Meadows and Palatine were secured previously, and last Saturday signatures from the unincorporated areas of the township were sought.

THE COMPLETED petitions from the entire area will be presented to County Judge Otto Kerner by the council. They will ask that a referendum on the creation of the Mosquito Abatement District be held, preferably at the time of the April primary election. Maximum tax which could be levied in the district for mosquito abatement purposes would be 25 cents per $1000 evaluation.

The entire Home Owners association executive group procured signatures in the City of Rolling Meadows. Signatures in Palatine and the area to the west of the village were secured by Charles Zanzie, John S. Powers, Tom Robinson, Bill Ferris, Lawrence Smith, Chet Mayner, Bill Richer, John McKee, Bernard Pedersen and Mel Rogers.

The area to the south, east and north of the village were covered by Pete Keller, Dale Bycroft, Lee Enger, Len Fabian and George Kitterman of the Rolling Meadows Home Owners association. Excellent cooperation in the drive was received from Phillip Costello, Fairfax ave., Plum Grove area. Costello secured the signatures of more than 50 of his neighbors on a petition. (KP

Trinity Lutheran Women Organize

Committee organization for the coming year highlighted the January meeting of the Trinity Lutheran Womens guild. The meeting, held on Tuesday, January 24, was the first one presided over by new guild officers headed by Mrs. Edward Westphal, president.

Committee chairmen announced by Mrs. Westphal were: Membership, Malita Wieder; Altar, Marion Birt; Program, Rose Roesler; Social, Shirley Kruser; Welfare, Ruth Derezotes; Publicity, Shirley Hahn; and Nursery, Linda Tyl. Youth Council representative of the Guild will be Nessie Bartels.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Hudak, 3105 Dove ct. Acting as co-hostess was Mrs. Alfred Milo. Refreshments were served by the hostesses to the overflow attendance. More than 30 women attended the meeting, the largest attendance to date, giving the guild an added spur to their new-year activities.

Girl Scout News

There's a new Brownie troop coming.

A new troop for 2nd grade girls has been formed. Tentative meeting time for the new troop will be Wednesday, 4:15 p.m. at the Kimball Hill school. The new Brownie troop leader will be Lorrie Palow. Lorraine Sager will act as troop co-leader. Member of the troop committee will be chosen from mothers of the Brownies.

Girls who have not been registered officially with the other 2 second-grade Brownie troops will form the nucleus for the new troop. The new troop marks the 9th Girl Scout and Brownie troop in Rolling Meadows.

BROWNIE TROOP 357 has been really busy on community service projects.

The troop held a "linen-closet shower" for the family of Marshall Hansen. The Hansen family lost most of the contents of their linen closet in the New Years Eve fire in their home on Campbell st. The 24 girls in the troop voted to take 25 cents apiece from their troop treasury for the "shower" gifts. Their gifts included dish towels, bath towel sets, washcloths, soap and other linen closet items.

The busy 2nd grade girls under the leadership of Grace Nordlund and Irene Wever are working on another service project. The troop has puchased terrycloth bibs. The Brownies are decorating the bibs with their own designs in textile paints. Upon completion the bibs will be given to the children's ward of Resurrection hospital.

IMPORTANT notice for the girls of troops which have been meeting in room 21 of Kimball Hill school. Since room 21 is the temporary school gymnasium and has no tables or chairs for troop work, meetings have been transferred to a more suitable room.

All meetings formerly held in room 21 will now be held in room 23, which is the school music room.

ONE YEAR OLD!

That was the happy event Troop 37 celebrated on January 24 with a troop birthday party.

Under the leadership of Betty Anderson and Dee Yarbrough, the third grade Brownies played games and sang Brownie songs. Their mothers were invited to the happy event. Troop committee mothers Lilian Carlson, Marge Kitterman and Lorraine Van Wazer served the party refreshments of ice-cream and cup cakes.

Social and service work have kept the Girl Scouts of troop 302 busy recently.

The troop held a box-social on Thursday, January 26. Guests for the event were members of Boy Scout troop 68. The box-social, for which the girls prepared the lunches, was held between 5 and 7 p.m. Dancing was a part of the social festivities. On the more serious side, the 7th and 8th grade girls of the troop have started work on their child care badges.

With the help of their leaders Carol Kees and Shirley Sponsler, the girls are progressing very well. Additional help in the important badge work is being given by Carol Arrowsmith of Sigwalt st., a high school student specializing in service work.

GIRL SCOUT and Brownie leaders are meeting tonight at 8 p.m. at the home of Ruthmary Zupan, new neighborhood association chairman.

Mrs. Zupan has recently completed the special training course held for neighborhood chairmen by the Northwest Cook County Council. Information and techniques learned in the course are designed for the assistance of troop leaders, and the meeting will be devoted to that subject.

Last Tuesday 4 leaders and coleaders from Rolling Meadows started their 10 lesson troop leadership course offered by the council. The four women will attend the training class each Tuesday for 10 weeks. Leaders participating in the new class are Bobbie Larson, Irene Wever, Lorraine Sager and Lorraine Anderson. (K

Lutheran Women Plan Bake Sale Feb. 25

Since homemade bread and coffee cakes always seem to be the first items sold out at local bake sales, the Trinity Lutheran Womens guild has decided to specialize on these two items for their next sale. The women will hold their sale on Saturday, February 25, at the community Barn.

Starting at 9 a. m., the women hope to be completely out of baked goods by noon. Other bake items will be available in addition to the breads and coffee cakes.

Chairman of the bake sale committee is Mrs. Rose Roesler.

They Splash Their Way To Fun, Frolic

Splashing their way to fun, members of the Guys and Dolls teen club last Saturday held a swimming party.

The New Lawrence hotel pool in Chicago was the site for the splash party of the club. The group met at the Barn and traveled to Chicago for the swimming period which lasted from 6:30 to 9:30 p. m. Acting as chaperones for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wasko.

Where'd The Road Go?

The lawn that has been called "the most beautiful in Rolling Meadows" by many residents doesn't look that way anymore.

Last Saturday evening, a car drove across the lawn and walks of Joe and Sina McGovern, at the corner of Wilke rd. and Grove st. Police theorize the damage was probably done by someone while intoxicated. The route taken by the car in rutting the lawn indicated a deliberate attempt rather than an accidental wandering from the road.

While Mr. McGovern was at home at the time the damage must have occurred, he did not hear anything. Police are hoping someone saw the damage attempt and will report to them.

February Meeting Place For Bible Class Is Changed

Members of the Roling Meadows Women's Bible class will change the meeting place for their first monthly meeting. Meeting place for the month of February will be the home of Mrs. Lee Hultgren, 2308 South st. Meetings are held each Monday at 7:30 p.m.

The first meeting of each month is followed by a brief social period at which the hostess for the month serves refreshments to her guests. This makes the first monthly meeting an especially opportune time for new members to join the group. The first meeting this month will be February 6.

Conducting the class and serving as teacher-moderator is Mrs. Eileen Wortheimer who has a background of training in Bible-study work. The class is currently studyin the Gospel of St. John. (K

FOR THE ANSWER TO THIS QUESTION

My family is great for Winter sports: skating, skiing, tobogganing. My son cut a girl badly with his skate runner. I've heard about Comprehensive Personal Liability Insurance — that it pays medical expenses of people you injure whether you are liable or not. Will it cover my entire family for only $10?

En Masse Junior Hi Fail To Shout Victory For Arlington Heights

More than 60 members of the Junior Hi fellowship cheered their loudest last Friday night in a vain effort to bring victory to the Arlington high school basketball team.

In spite of exciting play and close scores, the Arlington team dropped 2 games to Maine Township.

The club members were admitted to the game without charge through the cooperation of the high school and arrangements made by Mr. Grace of the school. In spite of the double loss by the local school, club members thoroughly enjoyed the exciting evening and have voiced their appreciation for the oportunity to attend the games.

Accompanying the youngsters to the game were Bill Motisi, Harold Smith, Art Setzer, Bud Broeske and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bycroft, who were in charge of the group. Transportation for the many young people was furnished by Mrs. Borgardt, Mr. Newberg, Mr. Broderick, Mrs. Hvid, Mr. Hoppock, Mrs. Barrett and Mr. Hahn. (K

Special Registration Period Announced For Three Days In March

While local voting registration has been closed temporarily, a special period of pre-primary registration will be held.

City Clerk Eda Zimmerman announced this week special registration days will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 1, 2 and 3. Her office will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on March 1, from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. on March 2, and from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. on March 3. Registration in Rolling Meadows is expected to be especially heavy.

All new residents of the city must register in person either at city hall during the March special registration or at the county building in Chicago in the interim. Residents of the city moving to another location within the city can re-register by mail. Special forms for this registration are available at the city hall.

Unit 8 Folks Invited To Learn About Their City

Better knowledge of city government was the aim of Joseph and Claran Stecker, 3200 Hawk lan, when they planned an open house meeting at their home.

The meeting to which they have invited their neighbors will be held tomorrow at 8:30 p. m. Present to explain city government functions and to answer questions will be Mayor John Northcote and City Attorney John Doyle.

New to the city, the Steckers expressed a desire to learn more about their municipal government. Feeling many of their neighbors in unit 8 south of Kirchhoff rd. must feel the same way, Mr. and Mrs. Stecker arranged the open house meeting. Any resident of the new unit, and especially residents of Hawk lane, have been assured of a welcome by the Stecker family.

Association News

If the lack of social news this week is due to the fact that husbands are behind closed doors struggling with their income tax, the coming associaton meeting should certainly be of interest. Agent George Moudry of the internal revenue department will speak on the proper completion of income tax forms and will answer questions anyone might have. It is hoped that all will avail themselves of this opportunity. The meeting will be held at the VFW hall, Tuesday, Feb. 7, at 8 p.m.

Hopes were revived this past week for the possible completion of the street lighting program throughout the Greens area. The association received word from the Public Service company of Northern Illinois that plans are being prepared and negotiations are under way with the proper village authorities.

Members of the association are pleased to learn that their representative, Walter Dahl, 1111 N. Belmont, was named chairman of the committee to draw up an enabling ordinance on the village manager form of government. This committee is made up of representatives from 11 civic and property owner groups throughout Arlington Heights.

Bowling

Bowling league members were busy Sunday making up games that were missed during the holiday season. The 2 leading teams, the Rales and the Hot Dogs, retained their first and second place positions, respectively, each winning 3 games and losing 3. The Hot Dogs are hopeful of whittling down the Rales' 5 game lead. These teams are tied for first place for the high 3 game team series with a total of 2680 points. The fourth place Jokers are breathing down the necks of the third place R-F's, with their ½ game difference.

Hostesses

Trudy Rateike, 1117 Pine ct., entertained 11 ladies of the Palatine unit of the Home Bureau, Thursday. As a former resident of Palatine she became active in the group, has served in the capacity of president and is now workin gas their publicity chairman. This was their special craft day and they were kept busy basket weaving and glass etching.

Isobel and George Fisher, 616 Oakton, gave a dinner party Jan. 21 with Pat and Don Smiley of Arlington Heights as honored guests. Invited to meet the Smileys were Alice and Earl Nichols and Beth and Ned Shanahan.

Square dancing was the main feature of the evening at the Ray Epsky home, 913 Olive, Saturday. Their basement provided plenty of room for 30 of their friends from Chicago to revel in the square dancing, playing of games and singing.

Vacation

The cold spell that hit Florida a couple of weeks ago had come and gone by the time Ann and Oscar Josetti and their 2 oldest children arrived there to spend their 2-week vacation. Traveling down the west coast they stopped in St. Petersburg, visiting the Sunken Gardens an dsight-seeing. An efficiency apartment in the Carnaval de Venice at Lauderdale-By-the-Sea was their temporary home for a week and while there they visited friends in Ft. Lauderdale. In Winterhaven they enjoyed watching the water skiers and seeing Cypress Gardens. Much to the delight of the children, Jimmy and Kathy, they made a trip to storyland in Florida and to fairyland, in Rock City, Tenn., both places having a display of life sized story book characters. In spite of the wonderful trip, their home, 1156 N. Hickory, was a welcome sight, according to Ann.

A Year Older

Birthdays were shared this past week by both children and grownups. Saturday afternoon Cindy Lees celebrated her sixth birthday by inviting some of her friends to lunch. The table centerpiece for her party, consisting of a tom tom, bow and arrow and Indian dolls, along with other similar decoratios, created a real Indian atmosphere for the children to enjoy. Cindy's mother, Martha, played the role of "big chief" to her temporary tribe, namely: Stephen Lynch, Laura Kaye, Billy Sherden, Gary Peterson and Cindy's brother, Craig.

There was a double reason for celebrating in the Gerrard household, 1165 N. Hickory, Friday. The Gerrards' twin daughters, Bonnie and Heather, reached the age of 4 and the afternoon birthday party given in their honor was shared by friends from the neighborhood. On hand to enjoy the ice cream, angel cake and candy were Laura Reed, Joyce Gran, Chris Johnson, Debbie Coughlin and Glen Shannon.

Cake and coffee were served to the Clarendon ct. neighbors Sunday evening by Viva and Paul Hembd. This was also a double celebration honoring Jeanne Thorsen and Junius Zolp, whose birthdays were January 26 and January 31 respectively.
